ROAD BUILDING INST. TAMMANY DISCUSSED BY MR. BRIGGS

Good Roads, Good Streets Important to Development of the Country

GOOD ROADS JUST BEGINNING TO PAY

Dirt Roads Should Be Taken Care of and Returns Will Be Great

By A. E. Briggs.
Good streets and good roads are so important to the development of a town or a country that good citizenship of any community can largely be judged by interest in the improvement of highways.

Next to the building of its schools St. Tammany parish has never done another bit of work so good as that of 100 miles of good road which now distinguish this parish. The returns from that road are just now beginning to show up. In Mandeville where I have observed it the difference was shown last summer in a considerable number of cars brought to town by the summer visitors. This summer the number has been greatly increased. New Orleans people who summer here are talking about the advantage for motoring of being on this side of the lake. Our good roads ought to pay big dividends to the parish another summer as the knowledge of the spreads.

It is necessary, however, for our towns to build highways which are the equal of the gravel road. The shell roads in Covington and Slidell are objectionable because of the lime dust and furthermore because of the unevenness which rapidly becomes the feature of a shell road after it is laid. Unless some method is used to allay the dust and bind the road shells ought to be abandoned for a good dirt or gravel road.

Probably the cheapest method of building a good shell road would be to sprinkle it with road oil. I think this method will be found to be cheaper than present methods of letting the shells grind to powder to be blown away by the winds to the great annoyance of travellers and of nearby dwellers and also carried off by the wash of heavy rains. A No. 5 road oil contains about 50 per cent of asphaltum, which is sprinkled on the street at the rate of one gallon or less to the square yard.

MRS. RUTH COLLINS CONEY.

Died, at Columbia, Miss., on Monday, September 4, 1922, at 4 o'clock a. m. Mrs. Ruth Collins Coney, aged 71 years, eldest daughter of H. B. Collins and Sophie Neville.
In the passing away of our young friend the hearts of those who knew and loved her are filled with sorrow and sympathy—sorrow for the beautiful young life cut so young and just when it was about to blossom in motherhood had come to brighten that life. Those who were near and dear to her had watched her through an illness covering a period of two years and felt sure that she had almost entirely recovered, when God in His infinite wisdom called her just after her little babe was laid in her arms. Ruth was a girl of unusual beauty and sweetness of disposition. She leaves to mourn her loss her husband, father, mother, sister, brother and her little son.
The funeral took place from the residence of Mrs. VanZant and the Methodist Church at Columbia, Miss. Loving friends had filled the church with flowers and ferns and then followed all that remained of this lovely girl to its last resting place.
Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Collins, father and mother of the deceased, live at Orvil, in this parish, and have the sincere sympathy of their many friends.

MONEY IN HAND FOR SEWERAGE AND WATERWORKS.

Mayor Robt. W. Badon, City Attorney J. Monroe Simmons and Mr. J. O. Zurbellen, cashier of the Commercial Bank & Trust Co., went to New Orleans yesterday with the sewerage and waterworks bonds of Covington and delivered them to the Interstate Trust & Banking Company, receiving payment at that time for them, delivery being made by the Commercial Bank & Trust Company. The money is now in the city treasury, and as soon as possible work will begin on construction.

ACTS 21, 73, 105 AND 106.

Constitutional Amendments To Be Voted On At Congressional Election November 7th, 1922.
ACT NO. 21
Senate Bill No. 5
By Mr. G. H. Covillion
A JOINT RESOLUTION
Proposing an amendment to Section 4 of Article X of the Constitution of the State of Louisiana, relative to revenue, taxation and exemption.
Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of Louisiana two-thirds of all the members elected to each House concurring, That Section 4 of Article X of the Constitution of the State of Louisiana, be amended by adding to the last paragraph a section so as to read as follows:
"The Legislature shall pass no law postponing the payment of taxes except in case of overflow, general conflagration, general destruction of crops, or other public calamity; and may provide for payment of such postponed taxes based on a reassessment of the properties affected, for the particular year in which such calamity occurs, to be made before the postponed tax is due."
Section 2. That the above amendment shall be submitted to the electors of the State of Louisiana for approval or rejection at the General Election for Congress to be held in November, 1922, and that the Secretary of State be directed to insert upon the ballot the following question:

STATEMENT FROM THE NEW ORLEANS GREAT NORTHERN

To Our Patrons:
Since completion of improved highways in Saint Tammany and Washington Parishes, every foot of the New Orleans Great Northern Railroad Company's line has been paralleled with motor bus passenger service, with the exception of the line between Covington and Polson, where there is practically no passenger business.
The Railroad Company built its line through a virgin territory with its own funds and maintaining it at its own expense. The bus lines operate over the improved public highways without cost to them, which were built and are being maintained at the expense of the public, including the Railroad Company.
The Railroad Company last year paid $113,000.00 taxes in Saint Tammany and Washington Parishes. In comparison, the bus lines paid practically no taxes.
The Railroad Company, under the laws, is required to operate separate compartments for the white and colored people. It is also required to maintain separate toilets for the sexes of both races. There are no such regulations governing the operation of bus lines. White and colored people are handled in the same compartment with no toilet facilities for either.
The Railroad Company is spending considerable money each year in an endeavor to develop the territory that it serves agriculturally. The motor bus lines are not doing anything in this direction, but are really beneficiaries of this work.
The Railroad Company's passenger traffic is all local. If the bus lines continue to take this business away from the railroad, the Railroad Company will have to discontinue some of its passenger trains. We believe that it is to the best interest of the territory that we serve that the people patronize the passenger trains rather than the bus lines, as discontinuance of passenger trains will mean a curtailment of mail and express service as well as passenger service.

MEETING OF GAME AND FISH ASSOCIATION.

There will be a meeting of the St. Tammany Game and Fish Association Saturday (to-night), Sept. 9th, at 7:30 o'clock at the courthouse. Conservation Agent J. L. Watkins informs us that in a recent interview with Commissioner Alexander he was assured by him that if the Association would get together and make proper arrangements he would have three or four million young trout planted in the main streams of St. Tammany parish. This looks like a good opportunity for the Association to get a supply of fine game fish for our streams and we hope that these arrangements can be made. If you are interested you are urged to attend the meeting.
Missouri and a resident of Covington for the past two years.
In the passing away of our young friend at the promising age of 18 years, and just as he was entering his senior year at high school, his classmates and many friends were deeply grieved. He was associated with all of the activities of the school, and had endeavored to be helpful to all by his many fine traits of character.
It was most pathetic on last Monday morning when the entire high school, with Prof. A. J. Park, paid their last sad respects to one whom they expected and hoped to greet in his place on the opening day. The funeral was largely attended and took place from the residence of his brother, and the Methodist Church, Rev. John F. Foster officiating at a most touching and beautiful service. Lovely flowers covered the grave as it last taken to one who was so young to die but will live in the memory of those who love and mourn him.

MANDEVILLE IS AROUSED OVER KILLING OF L. R. YOUNG

Emile Vial Charged With Murder By Twenty-six Mandevillians

EMILE VIAL, JR., ALSO ARRESTED

Eleven Buckshot Enter Victim One Passing Thru the Brain

Emile Vial was re-arrested in New Orleans at 2700 Conti St., by New Orleans authorities upon orders from St. Tammany authorities. He is charged with murder and with this charge he cannot secure bond.
Emile Vial, Jr., was arrested Thursday evening upon information filed and was placed in the parish jail. He is charged with being an accessory to the crime.
(By Staff Correspondent)

Mandeville, Sept. 7.—On Tuesday evening, Sept. 5, the town was quite disturbed about 6 o'clock due to the shooting and killing of Lew Reynolds Young. Emile Vial, proprietor of a soft drink stand, was arrested and charged with the murder. Vial used a double barrel shot gun loaded with buckshot, eleven of which struck the body, one piercing the brain, death being instantaneous. The shooting took place at the corner of Lake and Girod Streets.
Reynolds was a resident of the town for about a year and had acquired a reputable name, both as a citizen and a sportsman. He spent most of his early years in the West and was an intimate friend of "Buffalo" B. Cody and Texas Red. The name of Reynolds was idolized at the 101 Ranch in Oklahoma. He was the only American who ever challenged England for the champion title of sharpshooter. In the contest Reynolds proved the victor. He was known over the world as a crack marksman, but his ability along this line was of no avail in the attack that caused his death.
The victim's remains were sent to New Orleans, Wednesday morning, and funeral services were held at the home of C. D. Adorno, 2326 St. Ann Street, interment being made in St. Louis Cemetery No. 2. Two lodges of New Orleans, the Elks and Moose, paid tribute to Reynolds.
Emile Vial, who killed Lew Reynolds Tuesday afternoon, wrote the last chapter of his attempt in recent years to be Mandeville's bad man.
A few years ago he killed a negro. Mandeville overlooked it because they knew Emile was hot-tempered and hasty.
He shot another negro not long ago, and cut off an ear. Emile was never arrested.
Last Spring Vial announced that he was quitting the fishery business and was going to open up a restaurant and make a specialty of crab sandwiches. They took. So the summer has brought prosperity to Emile Vial.
Perhaps it is because everybody has seen more of Emile this summer, perhaps they did not see enough of him before to get really acquainted. Although he is a native and now 45 years of age, it is remembered that he has been liberal of threats toward negroes and whites in the past.
Those who had known Emile most intimately believed he might do what he said. Therefore when the coroner's jury held an inquest Wednesday witnesses were hard to get and those who saw had bad memories. The verdict was brief to the effect that "Lew Reynolds Young met his death at the hands of Emile Vial." But the story could not be kept from traveling even more rapidly, for Mandeville has avenged even better than a newspaper, if that is possible.
The coroner's jury did not bring a verdict of manslaughter, but Vial was arrested and charged with manslaughter and released Wednesday night on $2000 bond signed by Bay Smith.
In the quiet way in which Mandeville makes up its mind its leading citizens got together Thursday morning. For Mandeville has avenged even better than a newspaper, if that is possible.
The meeting ended with an indictment or information sworn to and signed by all the 26 charging Emile Vial and his son, Emile Vial, Jr., with deliberate murder of Lew Reynolds Young. Those who signed and swore to the indictment were James Band, H. A. Hewitt, Ernest Prieto, Geo. M. Glockner, Zach Sharp, Jr., W. A. Griffin, Dr. R. B. Paine, H. H. Levy, Steve Jossa, Eddie Glockner, Jasper Leconte, A. E. Briggs, A. Gardache, Louis Pizetto, W. S. Fassman, Geo. F. Bierhorst, C. A. David, L. L. Stockton, Jos. Pugh, P. Gerber, H. P. Borey, Walter Campos, J. Bagur, Henry Vautrain, John Grot-haus, Emile Dubourg.
It is said the dispute was over a trivial debt Vial owed Lew Reynolds, which the latter went to Vial's place to collect, and after some words Vial knocked Reynolds down. Reynolds was a small man and drew a gun in his defense and Vial ran. Reynolds put up his gun in his hip pocket and started leisurely to go out. In the meantime Vial, Jr., brought his fat-

PARK IMPROVEMENTS ASSURED.

The Women's Progressive Union, at a meeting called Thursday at the request of the Board of Health, arranged to apportion the town among its members, who as a clean-up squad will urge citizens to burn all combustible material on their premises, and to place the incombustible material, on Thursday, the 14th, on the sidewalks available to the town wagons. This material will be dumped in the dump-hole in the park. Thus the double purpose of cleaning the town and improving the park will be accomplished. The Park Commissioners will add to the filling all rotten logs and trash in the park, and will follow this up with a plow and road scoop and break up the ridge bordering the dump and cover up the filling, thus ending one of the most unsightly spots in the entire community. The clean-up is timely in view of the approaching parish fair, and wholehearted co-operation is expected of every citizen.
The town and parish boards of health will, at the same time, thru a co-operative arrangement, notify merchants to stop throwing trash in sight of the public roads and streets in violation of the health laws.

BATON ROUGE SUNDAY NEWS SUPPORTS JUDGE CLAY ELLIOTT FOR COURT OF APPEAL BENCH

Duty of Judge Ellis To End His Term As District Judge and Dispose of Case of Six Italians

(From Hammond Vindicator)
Below we reproduce a very strong editorial from the Baton Rouge Sunday News relative to the race for Court of Appeal between Judge Clay Elliott and Judge Robert S. Ellis. The editorial speaks for itself in clearly distinguishing the fact that Judge Elliott is the logical man for the position in question. We commend it to the careful consideration of our readers. It summarizes the issue as follows:
The race for the Court of Appeal between Judge Clay Elliott and Judge Robert S. Ellis is exciting considerable interest, both candidates having warm friends here.
In view of the fact that this Court handles civil cases only, we believe that Judge Clay Elliott is best qualified to hold the office, inasmuch as he has specialized in civil law, is a law student, and has enjoyed for over thirty years, an extensive practice.
He is a native of the Florida Parishes, a man who has risen in his profession solely through his own efforts and highly esteemed by a large circle of friends. He was elected to the State Senate and afterwards District Judge, serving his constituents faithfully, and fearlessly.
Judge Ellis is now holding the office of District Judge in his District, his term of office not expiring until the latter part of 1924. He presided at the noted trial of the six Italians, which is now on a second appeal to the Supreme Court; the first verdict of guilty having been set aside by the Supreme Court because of the failure of Judge Ellis to charge the jury in writing as required by law. Two prominent citizens in Tangipahoa parish have been indicted by the grand jury for perjury in connection with the second trial of these Italians. They have not been tried.
If Judge Ellis is elected to the Court of Appeal he is required by law to resign as District Judge, if he is not elected he may retain his office of District Judge until the end of his term.
Judge Ellis having presided at the trial of the Italians, in our belief, under the duty to retain his office of District Judge until this noted case has been finally disposed of and the guilty parties punished.
Therefore, in the interest of the administration of the civil law, by the Civil Court of Appeal, we favor a civil lawyer for that court, Judge Clay Elliott. In the event of the retention of the criminal law, we favor the retention of Judge Ellis in the District Court until the end of his present term.—Advertisement.

A. OF C. DINNER LAST MONDAY ENJOYED BY A NUMBER

Mr. Davis and Mr. Mackie Give Interesting Talks About the Bridge

BUILDING OF BRIDGE BELIEVED ASSURED

Detailed Committee Reports Will Be Submitted In Near Future

One of the most enjoyable lunches yet given by the Covington Association of Commerce took place last Monday evening at the residence of Mrs. L. Fox, on Theard Avenue, and to say the least we believe it was one of the most delicious lunches we have had the pleasure of attending, a fact which it vouches for the twenty-odd guests attending.
Mayor Robt. W. Badon acted as toastmaster and called upon Rev. John F. Foster to ask blessings upon the splendid repast.
Mr. E. G. Davis was called upon to give some information as to what had been accomplished by the bridge committee of the Association of Commerce. Mr. Davis told of how skeptical he was when first assuming the duties assigned him, and how, upon investigation, the proposition of bridging the lake really became a simple one after all. He told of letters they had received from big men in big affairs in the city of New Orleans, and how they were lending their assistance to the proposition. Mr. Davis said that every man who had been approached by the committee had agreed to lend whatever assistance they could in putting the plan over. Mr. Davis said that when the proposition was first spoken of he had figures in his mind as high of seventeen million dollars, but upon investigation it resolves itself down to something like five million dollars—which, he believes will be a simple matter to raise.
Mr. H. A. Mackie spoke of his visits to Col. Dent, U. S. Engineer, in New Orleans, as well as other reputable engineers to whom he had spoken, and after telling Col. Dent of the plan as laid out, how he immediately became an enthusiast and booster for the causeway. Col. Dent said that one of the most storm-resisting causeways that could be built would be of earth with retaining walls and sloping beaches. This plan is best because of the fact that Galveston has not been able to resist storms with a massive concrete wall on account of the terrific impact of water against the wall, whereas big waves coming up a sloping beach are broken before reaching the retaining wall. Mr. Mackie also told of his visit to Mr. Walter Parker of the New Orleans Chamber of Commerce, and how he, too, was among the doubtful ones, until the plan was outlined to him in detail, and when he presented how he grasped the simplicity of the plan. Mr. Mackie said that when they left Mr. Parker he was a booster and worker for the proposition.
The reports of the committees are about complete and will be submitted to the Association of Commerce in full in the near future.
Members of the committees are very enthusiastic over the progress they have made and all predict that the bridge is almost a sure thing when final action is taken.
