OUR BUSINESS MEN AND WHO THEY ARE

A BIRDSEYE VIEW OF HANAIEI VALLEY.

(Continued from last week) Up, out of Kalihiwai Valley, we find ourselves on a vast plain of pasture land comprising a thousand or more acres. Here we see one of the most extensive stock ranches on Kauai. It is known as the Princeville Plantation, the property of Hon. A. S. Wilcox, and is under the management of Mr. W. F. Sanborn, whose beautiful residence we found nestled on the hill side as we dropped down the Hanalei hill into Hanalei valley, the most fertile and extensive valley on Kauai.

Here we spent a delightful night, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Sanborn, from whose charming hospitality, we found great difficulty in taking our leave. In addition to managing this large and extensive stock ranch, Mr. Sanborn has charge of hundreds of acres of rice land which is also a part of the Princeville Plantation holdings. He is at present engaged in conducting experiments growing different grasses which if successful, will mean much to the Kauai stock growers.

Like many other of Kauai's leading men, Mr. Sanborn takes great interest in sports, and his college days' experiences make him a valuable asset to the local sports. He was the most prominent member in the Kilauea team during this series, and will probably enter into the soccer team which is to be formed in Kilauea.

Hanalei:

On arriving in Hanalei, we find a number of prosperous looking Oriental business houses, including Lin On, See Wo and Chock Chin.

Hanalei Hotel:

After delving for several hours among the grandest scenery that nature ever produced, we head our way toward the Hanalei Hotel, where we are most cordially received by Mrs. Deverill, who hustles us right off for a dip in a surf its equal of which yet remains to be discovered. We return to the hotel where we find that in the meantime, a tempting dinner including plover pot-pie, has been carefully prepared under the personal supervision of our charming hostess, whose prowess as a chef, is too well known to "everybody," to require additional comment.

In addition to looking after the details of the hotel, Mrs. Deverill is postmistress, notary, humane officer and agent for the Inter-Island S. S. Co. Her hotel enjoys a good patronage of tourist trade, being situated on one of the best bathing beaches on Kauai. It is, for this reason also, the setting for many delightful picnic parties from Honolulu and different points on this island.

Hanalei Garage:

Hon. J. K. Lota, has the only garage here and as a consequence does a prosperous business. His big cars are kept constantly busy. Mr. Lota, besides being proprietor of this garage, is identified with the Wainiha Hui, being one of its officers. He also enjoys the distinction of representing his district as its Supervisor.

KALIHIWAI YOUNG LADIES' HOSTESSES AT PICNIC PARTY

KALIHIWAI, September 3.—Misses Helen Akana and Julia Mahikoa, were hostesses at an enjoyable picnic party here to-day, having as their guests, several members of the Kilauea baseball team, and six other young ladies besides the hostesses.

A boat, manned by the gentlemen of the group, conveyed the party up the river until they had reached a suitable spot for landing, when they disembarked and indulged in a regular old-time picnic. A plunge in the cool, refreshing mountain water was the first number on the program and not one of the party reneged. Following the swim, a tooth-some lunch was spread, which all declared to be the best they had ever eaten.

Considerable time was spent by the girls, after luncheon, in making pretty leis for the young men. Among those present were Misses Julia Mahikoa, Daisy Hopps, (of Molokai,) Julia Kai, Amy Mahikoa, Mary Ann Kelai, Deborah Mahikoa and Miss Helen Akana. Messrs. George Akana, Robert Mahikoa, Master Kanaloa, Mr. Wood, (Kilauea's favorite player.)

NEW PRESIDENT NAMED FOR MCBRYDE SUGAR CO.

J. P. Cooke has been formally appointed to succeed the late H. P. Baldwin as president of McBryde Sugar Co. The appointment of Mr. Cooke is a move natural to expect since his connection with business interests were so closely allied to those in which Mr. Baldwin was chiefly concerned.

The Isenberg Monument and Memorial

We owe our readers an explanation and apology. Through the courtesy of the Rev. Hans Isenberg we have been told that our correspondent of last week gave very scant credit to Mrs. C. M. Cooke who performed the chief act of dedication, because that lady was also a one third donor of the beautiful monument. We therefore passed on this information to our correspondent who has replied in the letter printed below, and which, we do not doubt, will be fully satisfying to all interested.

EDITOR, "THE GARDEN ISLAND"
Dear Sir:

I thank you for information received in regard to "The Isenberg Monument and Memorial." This information is the more welcome because it gives me opportunity to publicly express regret for having, all unwittingly, paid poor tribute to an estimable lady whose sympathetic and practical benevolence, I now learn, so largely helped to forward the good work to successful conclusion.

I have not the happy fortune of personal acquaintance with Mrs. C. M. Cooke, but I have lived long enough in Hawaii Nei to fully realize with what high regard and esteem this community holds her name and person. Therefore I will venture to say, that to Mrs. Cooke the failure to make proper mention of her full share in a worthy undertaking will matter little, if any, for to one of her broad and generous mind it is certain that "virtue is her own reward."

LILUÉ GAMBLING JOINT YIELDS RICH RETURNS

About mid-night last Tuesday night, Deputy Ellis and four or five of his assistants, raided a gambling joint in one of the Lihue camps and succeeded in landing eighteen of the thirty or more sports. Bail was secured from the eighteen to the amount of one hundred and eighty dollars which was forfeited next day the County thereby becoming duly possessed of the jack-pot.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE WAINIHA HUI

The Wainiha Hui held its regular annual meeting at the Hui Hall, Wainiha, Thursday Sept. 7th.

Originally this Hui consisted of 71 equal shares—but through process of time, by transfer and inheritance, these shares have been variously combined and broken up, until now there are over 200 participants varying in ownership from 933 to a dozen shares. As these minor interests run through all kinds of irregular fractions the calling of the roll and making up the attendance is a matter of complicated mathematics, requiring a good deal of time, and no small amount of patience and energy. On this particular occasion the combined energies of the committee of 3 finally solved the problem and reported an attendance of 56 549-2197 although everyone looked wise, as though they understood fully how this result was arrived at, no one ventured to question it, for fear he might be called upon to make the fractional additions—Only the members of the committee knew how uncertain the ground was beneath the apparent accuracy of these figures—This being a generous quorum, with a large margin of safety, the Hui was now declared to be duly in session for all legitimate business, prayer was then offered by the president, who rejoiced in the mercy of the Lord who had brought together so many full shares and so many small pieces and who would surely hold them all together in this annual meeting in the spirit of unity and courtesy as became brethren for brethren they were thought of various skins.

Meantime the pig was in the imu, a shapely mound, with steaming cracks, and suggestive fragrance, and during the prayer, the word was passed quietly in through the open door "ua moa ka puua"—"the pig is cooked, adjourn!" Whereupon a resolution was passed to that effect and the ground was cleared for action. Not since the Tower of Babel have mortals seen such confusion nor such a heterogeneous combination of pig and poi and portliness.

After lunch there was a marked falling off in the interest and a marked reluctance in the resumption of business. Reports of the officers showed the company affairs to be in good condition. The Treasurers report showed dividends paid during the year $1518.29 expenses $665.18, balance on hand $5536.00.

Sundry land allotments were reported favorably by the directors and approved by the meeting. Several new applications were discussed, and amended, and approved and condemned, with ever increasing warmth and volubility until there was a hopeless tangle of acres and rods and perches and poles, so that the whole matter was finally referred back to the directors, with power to act and the door was opened for fresh air to clear the hall.

Supervising Principal of schools H. H. Brodie, returned Saturday from a trip to the coast. Contractor L. M. Whitehouse came up from Honolulu on the Hall Saturday. Eddie Fernandes of moving picture fame arrived Saturday and exhibited some very good films to an appreciative audience at the Hall Saturday night. Mrs. Josephine Chamberlaine, Principal of the Kilauea School, and who has been visiting California friends during her vacation returned on the Seira. Miss Lottie Jordan, one of Lihue's popular school mams was a returning passenger on the Hall Saturday. Mrs. Hodge, Principal of the Kekaha School, returned from Honolulu, Saturday morning.

RECEPTION TO MR. AND MRS. MIA

A reception was given at the Japanese School Lihue by the patrons of the school for Mr. and Mrs. Mia on Sunday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Mia have recently come to Lihue, on appointment from the Japanese Consul in Honolulu, to conduct this school. They have served some years in a similar capacity on Maui and give every indication of being satisfactory. Various short speeches were made in Japanese and Mr. Isenberg bespoke a large measure of success for the new teachers, who had been so carefully chosen.

At the close cake and ice-cream of excellent quality, as well as packages of Japanese cakes, were dispensed to the crowd, whose interests were divided between these good things and the day fireworks which were shot into the air to great height.

A FRIGHTENED HORSE CREATES EXCITEMENT

About half past two o'clock Thursday afternoon, a horse belonging to Sugar Boiler Schultz, and attached to a light sulky, became suddenly frightened and dashed down Main street toward THE GARDEN ISLAND office which place, in spite of the efforts of the "devil" to stop him, he passed at a Nancy Hank speed. As the frightened animal passed Elite Avenue, John Malina, the famous polo player, sizing up the situation, charged with his trusty lariat and succeeded in securing a hold on one of the fast fleeing legs. At this point evidently John seemed more engrossed with the possible five spot in store for him rather than the business at hand, for as the rope became taut, it slipped from his hands and disappeared in the trail of the pursued.

Nearly a block below Elite Avenue, the horse connected with the curbing, and came to a stand. Malina came up with another rope which he used to a better advantage as the horse was standing still. When the horse was extricated from the wreck, the damage sustained was comparatively small, being a very slight cut on one fore leg, and a little burn on the right hind hock, the latter resulting from the rope in some manner becoming rapped around it. The sulky was slightly damaged, a shaft being broken.

It seems that Mr. Schultz had driven up to the butcher shop, alighted and a Japanese had slipped the bridle off preparatory to putting on the halter, when the horse suddenly shied and was away and gone before he could regain control of it.
