SHACKLETON WILL BUY A NEW SHIP

Polaris and Aurora Likely to Be Used for Work in the Antarctic.

LONDON, February 6.—Sir Ernest Shackleton has practically decided to purchase a new ship called the Polaris of 650 tons, built in Norway for Arctic work. She will be renamed the Endurance and will be employed on the Weddell Sea side of the Arctic, under command of Capt. J. K. Davis, who is in charge of the Mawson expedition.

In the lower panel at the left is seen a heavily-loaded sledge to be propelled across the ice by means of an airship propeller, while at the right is an air-propelled water boat which will form part of the equipment of Shackleton.

DRYLAND ALFALFA TO BE TRIED HERE

J. F. C. Hagens stated yesterday that H. Hackfeld & Company have sent for five pounds of seed of the new yellow-flowered dry land alfalfa and will give this forage crop a thorough trial on their Lanai and Kauai properties.

This variety of alfalfa, which was described in the last year book of the department of agriculture, was originally imported from Bokhara, by Professor Hansen of the South Dakota experiment station. The legislature of that State passed a law that no seed should be sold outside of South Dakota until after February 15, 1914, and the experiment station has set the price at five dollars per pound for the limited surplus it now offers.

This new dry land alfalfa is reported to have marvelous drought-resistance qualities. It is hoped that it will prove as well adapted to Hawaiian arid lands as it has to the dry plains of western South Dakota.—Advertiser

Weigh Yourself

Ever mindful of the convenience and pleasure of the public, Manager Rohrig has established in the Lihue Store a weighing and measuring scale, of the latest pattern. Heretofore when men wished to find out how much they had gained since the last time, or mother wished to weigh the babe, it was necessary to go to the warehouse to find out the exact number of pounds and ounces. Now all this can be found out right in the store, and in the easiest and neatest possible manner.

"Pittsburgh Perfect" the strongest, most durable Fence

If a fence stands erect, even and firm under the hardest wear, tear and abuse—that's real strength. If it continues to give perfect service, year in and year out, no matter what—that's real durability. These are the supreme tests of actual fence value—realized in its fullest development only in "Pittsburgh Perfect" Fence.

Only Open Hearth wire is used in "Pittsburgh Perfect" Fence because it is tougher, stronger, more durable like old time iron wire than any other fence wire made. Lead annealing gives it additional toughness and prepares it for receiving the thick, heavy, pure zinc galvanizing. The secret of the great strength of "Pittsburgh Perfect" Fence fabric is which electrically welds each wire at every contact point, and produces a solid wire fence, perfectly spaced and balanced, resisting all strains and shocks with its whole surface.

Death Of Mrs. Kualu

The remains of Mrs. Emily Kaitaau Kualu, 27 years old, who died in this city February 17, will be shipped to Waimea, Kauai, on the steamer Kinan this afternoon for interment. Rev. John A. Aki-na of Kauai to-day conducted funeral services at Silva's undertaking establishment. Mrs. Kualu, whose death was due to tuberculosis, was well-known both on Kauai and in Honolulu, having had many friends in this city.—Star-Bulletin, Feb. 24.

Makaweli Happenings

E. R. Adams, manager of the Seattle branch of Alexander & Baldwin, was a visitor on Kauai last week. Mr. Adams was here seven years ago and was much impressed with the rapid development of the country since that time. He was accompanied by T. M. Church, of Honolulu. Ernest Richardson, who was injured in a soccer game at Lihue over four weeks ago, is just now able to get about on crutches. Mrs. D. K. Hayselden left for Honolulu last Tuesday en route to Hawaii.

All the Makaweli "tourists" who were in Honolulu during Carnival week, have returned. Your correspondent was pleased to observe that during the past two weeks every wagon or carriage met on the road at night, in this section carried lights in a conspicuous place—some even tying a lantern to the shafts. Whether this is the result of dark nights or the advice of some one in authority, we do not know. At any rate it is a mighty good practice and should be "encouraged."

Immigration Man Here

M. J. Moore, of the United States Immigration Service, Honolulu, arrived on Kauai last week on business connected with his bureau and returned Saturday night to the city. He was accompanied by a Chinese interpreter, and spent most of his time on the Makaweli and Waimea side of the island.

Better than home-made New Zealand butter at Silva's Elecle store. Advt.

M. A. Silva, formerly connected with the immigration service, and well-known on Kauai, has opened a store at Huntington Park, Los Angeles, and is reported to be doing well. For a number of years Mr. Silva was employed in the Portuguese section of the immigration business.

Mrs. Pauline D. K. Kuttman, of E. W. Jordan & Co., selected the material for and assisted in designing the beautiful costume worn by Mrs. Kula, Kauai's Princess, in the Floral Parade. The French Cruiser Moncalm arrived at Honolulu last Tuesday night from Hongkong. She is on her way to Mexico.

T. M. Church, of Alexander & Baldwin, Honolulu, and E. R. Adams, formerly of Honolulu and now of Seattle, came over in the last Kinan and toured Kauai from Makaweli to Hanalei.

Owing to the recent retrenchment policy of the Board of Supervisors, a large number of laborers have been thrown out of employment at Honolulu Natives and Portuguese are, for the most part, affected.

More Estimates

The estimate of Ewa plantation, Oahu, for 1914 is 31,000 tons, last year's yield having been 29,820. Oahu Sugar Company's estimate is 29,500 tons, against 28,141 manufactured last year. Honouliuli's estimate for 1914 is 7,400 tons, against 7,001 last year.

If you once use New Zealand butter, sold at Silva's Elecle store, you will have it all the time. Advt.
