Tuesday, August 4

London—All great European powers, except Italy, together with most of the secondary powers, are now engaged in mobilizing troops for emergencies.

—Italy's neutrality began today. The government (British) has assured France that the British fleet will not permit the German fleet to attack the French coast which is now virtually unprotected, though Great Britain is not pledged to contribute its army for continental war purposes.

—The most important development today has been the demand of Germany or Belgium that the German troops be allowed to cross its territory to French frontier. This was in the nature of a twelve-hours ultimatum. The promise was made that Belgian integrity would not be impaired and that at the end of the war Belgium would be compensated. Belgium refused. The German diplomats are seeking British neutrality by offering to refrain from using the German navy against the French coast as the price of that neutrality.

—Great enthusiasm prevails in London, with the war spirit dominant in the air. Englishmen and Frenchmen marched before Buckingham Palace with flags and singing songs.

—The British fleet is completely mobilized and ready for action. According to an announcement made by the British admiralty at 9 o'clock this morning, the admiral in command waits only the word to begin proceeding against the German fleet in the North Sea.

—Army will be mobilized today, according to official announcement.

Seattle—A million dollars has been placed by the government at the disposal of Seattle banks to prevent financial flurry.

Paris—The German ambassador was given his passports this morning and left here at 10 o'clock.

—General Joffre has gone to the front.

Brussels—German forces have invaded Limburg, Holland, and placed the district under martial law.

Washington—Secretary Daniels, of the Navy, has been authorized by the Senate to establish naval lines for the purpose of carrying freight, mail and passengers between European, South American and North American ports.

MEXICO APPEARS AGAIN

Saltillo—General Carranza has ordered 70,000 Constitutionalists to march into Mexico City today.

Special Wireless, Monday p. m.

The German troops have occupied the Belgian town of Arlon, across the border.

—British army mobilizes tomorrow. Navy ready for action.

—London Times editorially blames the Kaiser for precipitating the war.

—Bonar Law says Protestants and Catholic volunteers will defend Ireland in order that the regulars may go to war. Australia offers troops to the home government.

—The Russian Baltic fleet is reported defeated.

THE WAR BEGINS.

London—Land and sea forces of Germany and France clashed yesterday, while three columns of Russian troops have invaded Germany.

A German army 20,000 strong crossed the French border Sunday from the direction of Saarbrury, in Lorraine. They were met at Cirey by the French forces and driven back, suffering heavy loss.

—Another German army of 100,000 men has begun the invasion of southern France, near Villersrupt, crossing the independent territory of the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg, despite protests.

—Up to this morning no formal declaration of war had been made by either France or Germany, despite the fact that hostilities have actually begun.

—The Fortress at Longuey is believed to be the objective point of the German invasion. Heavy firing was heard in the North Sea last (Sunday) night. It is believed that the French and German fleets have met for the first naval battle.

—A French fleet, twelve vessels strong, passed Gibraltar yesterday, entering the Mediterranean.

—From Berlin comes the report that the German cruiser Augsburg is bombarding the Russian naval port, Libau, on the Baltic, and that a German cruiser is also engaged in a sea fight in the same neighborhood with a Russian cruiser.

—Libau is in flames.

—A French aviator was brought to earth by German gunners yesterday.

—All French reservists in the United States have been ordered home.

KUHIO AND FRIDAY DESHA COMPLETE TOUR OF KAUAI

Like The Prize-Fighter Who Has Not Made Good And Disappoints His Friends, He Tries To Explain And Appeals For "Just One More Chanst."

Delegate J. K. Kalaniana'ole arrived at Nawiliwili by the Kinau last Wednesday morning and returned to Honolulu Saturday night, after making a quick canvass of that part of Kauai between Hanalei and Kekaha. He was accompanied by Rev. Stephen L. Desha, who is his first lieutenant in the campaign; and John P. Hale, also, of Hilo who was formerly a member of the House of Representatives.

Accompanying the party from Honolulu was County Clerk J. M. Kaneakua, and after landing the party repaired to Kaneakua's house in Lihue for breakfast. After breakfast Kuhio, Desha and Hale left in an automobile for Wainiha. On the way they stopped and talked to gangs of road laborers and even individuals whom they met.

At Wainiha a meeting was held in the office of the Wainiha Hui, in the afternoon, and was attended by a number of natives living in the neighborhood. After this meeting was over, the party dropped back to Hanalei where a meeting was held in the old native church. When the party passed through Hanalei way, runners were sent out to gather up an audience and they succeeded in mustering a pretty fair crowd (a good many, however, being Rice sympathizers.) At the close of the meeting the audience rose and sang "Hawaii Pono!" as a special compliment to Kuhio.

Leaving Hanalei for Kapaa, the party had considerable auto trouble, finally breaking down near Kilauea. They started out to walk, but were luckily overhauled by another machine and taken to Anahola, where they secured a big auto and continued on to Kapaa, arriving there, however, an hour late.

At Kapaa a few people were found standing around in Chinatown, and the meeting was opened in front of the coffee shop there, gradually a crowd of fifty or more assembled, some being Rice people from Lihue, who had gone over in autos to hear what the Delegate had to say. There were a few Hawaiians, but the majority seemed to be Portuguese, etc.

Vaudeville Show

Fernandez has secured the services of the famous Aflague Sisters for a tour of Kauai, in the latest songs and dances of the day. Their dates will be as follows: Hale Hooni, Lihue, August 6, 7 and 8; Koloa hall, August 10 and 11; Elele hall, August 12; Waiimea, August 13 and 14. Other places to be announced later. The serpentine dance contains 100 yards of silk dress. Russian dance; fancy dances. Most thrilling and exciting photo films and selected reels. Advt.

Here Prince Kuhio dwelt principally upon the planks in Republican platforms of former years which endorsed his work in Washington, and read these various planks, from his second term up to two years ago. He also laid stress upon the fact that some of the men responsible for those laudatory planks in the platforms were now against him, and asked why. "Do you think that is right?" he asked.

Desha, in his remarks, was sarcastic and personal, and did not make a good impression at all.

After the meeting the party adjourned to the residence of J. M. Kaneakua where they spent the night. After breakfast Thursday morning they left in one of Kula's autos for Waimea.

A small meeting was held at Kekaha, where the line of talk was pretty much the same as elsewhere. Returning to Waimea, a meeting was held that evening in front of the court house, attended by about 200 persons—haoles, Hawaiians, Chinese, etc. This was the biggest meeting up to that time, Kuhio spoke entirely in Hawaiian, as he did at most of his meetings on that side of the island.

On Friday, the Prince and party addressed a party at the roadside in Hanapepe and at night appeared in the Kula hall in Koloa. At the latter place there was a fair sized audience-mixed. All the way over from Kekaha, individuals and groups of men were talked to wherever they could be found.

A big crowd gathered at the Nawiliwili landing Saturday afternoon, the regular attendance being augmented by many haoles and Hawaiians who came especially to hear the speeches of Kuhio and Desha. The speeches were delivered from the roadside in front of the Nawiliwili saloon. Kuhio repeated the old story about the endorsements he had received in the past, and declared that he had done everything in Congress that any mortal man could do. He specified in several instances, with a view to showing that his work had been peculiarly handicapped, but affirmed that he had nevertheless made good.

Kaneakua All Right

J. M. Kaneakua, county clerk of Kauai, who is now in the city, states that Rice is very popular throughout all Kauai, where his candidacy is regarded with pride by practically all classes of voters. He will poll almost a solid vote. Kaneakua says, although the Hawaiians are not saying a great deal publicly about what they intend to do. They will all flock out to hear Kuhio, but the voting results will show how tired they are of a Delegate who is only strong enough to work for himself at election times. —Advertiser.

COOKE FOR RICE

"You may state in THE GARDEN ISLAND that I am for Charles A. Rice for delegate to Congress and am working and intend to work for him tooth and nail."

This statement was made in the office of THE GARDEN ISLAND Saturday afternoon by J. P. Cooke, head of Alexander and Baldwin, agents for Makaweli plantation, the McBryde Sugar Company and the Kauai Railway Company.

In view of rumors to the effect that Mr. Cooke was lukewarm on the candidacy of Mr. Rice, he was asked for a flat-footed, unqualified statement of his position for the information of his friends on Kauai, and he dictated the above reply.

Continuing, Mr. Cooke said: "I am unqualifiedly opposed to Kuhio, for I believe that his usefulness at Washington is done. In Charles A. Rice, we have a man who can represent the Republican party and all interests of this Territory acceptably and well, and I want to see him elected."

Asked what he would do in case Rice should be defeated in the primaries, Mr. Cooke shrugged his shoulders doubtfully. "I would even then under no circumstances support Kuhio, and I would not support McCandless. In fact I guess I would be left about as many others would be left—high and dry. But it will not come to that. Rice will be the nominee of the Republican party, and he will be elected."

Mr. Cooke had been visiting at Makaweli and McBryde plantations during the week, and returned to the city Saturday night.

A Corn Husking

A regular old time husking party where corn was husked, red ears found, girls kissed, apples eaten and seeds named was held at the Glassyer homestead last Saturday night. The attractive bungalow was tastefully decorated with ferns, corn and lanterns. After the husking, the floor was cleared and dancing was enjoyed till a late hour. Among those who enjoyed the Glasseyer's hospitality were: Misses Helen von Arnswaldt, Lani Hutchinson, Joy Noble, Mattie Jordan, Esther Hofgaard, Rita Lee, Ella Lee, Esther Padgett, Ethel Padgett, Addie Whittington, Miliard Deas, Janet Hastie, Eva Hastie, Marion Hastie, Velma Strayne, Francis Piller, Messrs. Anser, Mahlum, Banham, Deverill, H. Fassoth, Baldwin, Joe Fassoth, Murdoch, Akina, Brown, Dillingham, Eby, Ecklund, McBryde and Kamanuawai.

Executive Committees

The following have been named members of the executive committee of the R publican party: Ex-officio, Lorrin Andrews, chairman.

First district, J. M. Ross; second district, G. K. Iona; third district, G. P. Cooke; fourth district, R. W. Breckons and L. M. Juud; fifth district, E. J. Crawford and A. D. Cooper; sixth district, W. H. Rice, Jr.

Mr. Lydgate To Coast

Rev. J. M. Lydgate sailed by the Kinau Saturday afternoon for Honolulu and will get away early next week for a short pleasure turn in California. He will likely be away a little over a month.

Attorney S. E. Hannestad, of Lihue, was a passenger in the Kinau Saturday afternoon for Honolulu. He will probably return tomorrow morning.

BASEBALL

The game of baseball at Koloa Sunday afternoon between the home team and the Kawaihaus was dreadfully one-sided. It must be said that the playing of the Koloas was away off standard. Kuhlmann, of the home team, struck out 18 men, but he had very poor support. Koani, of the Kawaihaus, struck out only 9 men, but his support was excellent. The score was as follows:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	Total
Kawaihaus	4	3	0	4	0	0	1	1	2	15

Daily Wireless News

Beginning with today, and continuing for three months at least, THE GARDEN ISLAND will issue a daily (Sundays excepted) "extra" at about 12 o'clock noon, which will contain all the latest war news up to about 9 o'clock that morning (which is evening in Europe), news of other parts of the world and of Honolulu.

This extra will be delivered to every part of Kauai which can be reached on the day of publication at the rate of $1.20 a month.

Subscribers to THE GARDEN ISLAND, or others, wishing to subscribe for this "wireless extra", at $1.20 per month, should telephone their orders into the office, or write at once in order that a connected story of the progress of the great war may be obtained. Ring up 24 L and ask for Wireless Extra Manager.

Hanamaulu Rice Club

A Charles Rice club was formed at Hanamaulu last Thursday evening with fifty members, only ten voters of the neighborhood being absent from the meeting, and they were accounted for as being unavoidably detained. Speeches were made and enthusiasm ran very high.

Lihue Tennis Finals

The last round of the Lihue Tennis Club's men's singles was finished last Wednesday, S. E. Hannestad defeating K. C. Hopper for the final honors. The first three sets were played off on Thursday, July 23, when Hannestad took two out of three without a nuy trouble. The fourth and final set played Wednesday was also won by Hannestad, who took all six games with ease.

Cane Field Fire

Fire started in the Lihue cane near the Hanamaulu road Wednesday afternoon and burned over quite a little patch. It happened that the field was being cut at the time, so that no damage resulted. The fire was probably started accidentally by some of the cane cutters.

Dr. Derby

Dr. Derby, the dentist, will return to Lihue next Monday, the 10th.

Advt.

Superintendent Kinney has written a letter to another homesteader at Waipouli in the effort to secure a site for the proposed new school house, but probably without success, as the party in question has not the land to spare. The department is trying very hard to get a satisfactory lot up there in order that the school may be opened in September.
