FILIPINO SHOTS HIS COUNTRYMAN

There had a murder Saturday night, a Filipino named Valentine Ipong being killed. Juan Pacero, a fellow countryman of the dead man, is under arrest and is charged with the crime.

The shooting took place in the Filipino camp near the dance hall, and appears to have resulted from an argument over the ownership of a pipe which Valentine had found at the baseball park. Juan claimed the pipe, but Valentine refused to give it up.

After this preliminary argument, Valentine went inside the dance hall. Juan went away but soon returned with a hatchet, and it is alleged that he attempted an assault on Valentine with that weapon but was seized by the arms by bystanders.

Valentine was held by other spectators, although he made desperate efforts to get at the other man. Finally he was released, and immediately started out to find Juan. When he came up with the latter, it is alleged, Juan opened fire with a 32-calibre revolver, emptying the gun of its live shots.

Valentine fell, mortally wounded. The police were summoned and arrested Juan. Valentine was rushed to the hospital, but died within fifteen minutes after reaching there.

The shooting occurred about 10:30 Saturday night.

It is claimed that both of the men had been drinking.

Both men had been employed as laborers on the plantation.

Yesterday the assailant confessed to the shooting, and let it be understood that he considered he had done so in self defense, indicating that that will be his plea in court.

A coroner's jury examined many witnesses and finally came to a verdict to the effect indicated above.

The case will come to trial before the November term of the Circuit Court.

Kaulukou Announces.

A. G. Kaulukou, tax collector at Lihue, has announced himself as a candidate for nomination on the Republican ticket for treasurer of Kauai county. His opponent will be the present county treasurer, Harold Morgan. In explanation of his early announcement, Mr. Kaulukou states that he wants to be "in time", so that the voters may have no question regarding his intentions.

One reason for Mr. Kaulukou entering the race for county treasurer is, perhaps, the assumption that under a Democratic Territorial treasurer, Democrats will probably be given all the positions as assessors on Kauai.

Telephone Changes

Most of the telephone numbers were changed yesterday morning, and the new card is in full effect. Some confusion resulted at first, and it will doubtless be sometime before everybody is used to the new numbers; but the superintendent of the company believes that in the change a great improvement has been made.

THE GARDEN ISLAND now has a private line, the number being 22L.

Lieutenant W. C. Rose, U. S. Army, stationed on Oahu, has been visiting the Knudsen, at Waikeke.

FLAG RAISING AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

There will be flag-raising exercises at the new Kauai High & Grammar School next Monday, October 12, patrons and friends of the institution being cordially invited to attend.

Among the features will be songs and recitations by the teachers and pupils, an address by Hon. Ches. A. Rice and probably addresses by others.

The flag to be raised over the school building was presented by the Department of Public Works.

The Kauai High & Grammar School now has 34 pupils and is getting along finely.

TRYING TO KNOCK OUT PRIMARY LAW

Honolulu, Oct. 5—Republican and Democratic party leaders almost literally shudder with apprehension at the thought of what may, might, could, would or should happen if the new direct primary law succumbs to the various attacks which are being made upon it through the courts.

It is admitted frankly that if this law is knocked out and the primary results of September 12 are held null and void, Hawaii in politics and government will be in vast and almost incalculable confusion. Just what would happen to the various county governments and the legislature no one seems to know. It is thought that some kind of a special election would have to be held, but whether that would be necessary before or after the November election date is a wise-acres in law and politics do not agree.

Meanwhile one candidate, Delegate Kuhlto, has taken time by the forelock and filed a new set of nomination papers under the old law, so if the primary law is knocked out he will still have some standing.

But the other legislative candidates, not realizing, perhaps, the danger to their interests if the direct primary law is punctured by the supreme court, have taken no steps to file new papers. Under the law such papers must be filed thirty days prior to the general election, and of course this was the action taken under the old convention system. After the conventions had nominated their candidates, the candidates would duly file nomination papers and their names would go on the general election ballots.

Last Saturday night, October 4, was the last date on which nomination papers could be filed, under the old law, by candidates from the outside islands for the legislature or for delegate, which explains the haste made late Saturday afternoon to get the Kuhlto nomination signed by the requisite number of voters.

Municipal candidates have plenty of time yet in which to hand in the nominations in case they wish to do so. However, a good many candidates may not take the trouble to comply with the provisions of the old law.

TWO ATTACKS MADE.

Two separate lines of attack are being made on the primary law, one of them the friendly test case brought by Robert W. Breckons, vice-chairman of the Republican party, in the form of a mandamus suit, and the other the mandamus suit brought by George A. Davis on behalf of petitioners who allege the unconstitutionality of the direct primary law. Both suits, it is expected, will be hastened to a decision by the supreme court.

It was reported today that Attorney Davis is also filing quo warranto proceedings, or proceedings to oust, though this it is said, would be an unusual legal method of getting at the required result inasmuch as primary candidates nominated on September 12 are not yet in office. However, this may be directed against City Clerk Kalanokalani, who received a majority of all votes in the primary cast for his office and thus under the primary law was elected outright.

There are a lot of questions to be settled by these various attacks, friendly or otherwise, on the primary law, and it is generally believed that the law will be upheld by the supreme court. Whether it is knocked out or not, several troublesome questions will be settled by the supreme court decision.

LIHUE BASEBALL LEAGUE STARTED

The special series in the new baseball league started off quite satisfactorily Sunday afternoon. The first game was a straight go between the Germans and the Japanese, and resulted in victory for the former to the tune of 9 to 1. Henry Waian pitched for the Japanese, while young Elmhorst twirled the sphere for the victors. The Germans really had the best of the argument from the start.

The second game started late, on account of which it had to be called in the first half of the eighth. It was between the Huleias and Filipinos, and at the end of the seventh stood 9 to 14. In the first half of the eighth, the Filipinos had two men down and had made five runs, tying the score, when the game was called on account of darkness.

Technically, the game should have gone to the Huleias, the score at the end of the seventh innings standing; but both sides agreed to call it a tie and play it off next Sunday morning at ten o'clock. So there will be another game.

The series starts out very well, and it looks as though there may be some good ball before it is over. The principal idea in pulling it off at this time is to keep up baseball practice, so that a line may be kept constantly on men to make up a team to go to Honolulu during the Carnival.

Makes Knife Play.

Lorenzo Todo, Filipino, will be tried in the Koloa court during today on the charge of vagrancy. He went down to Camp 7, of the Mc Bryde plantation, and made a knife play, for which he was arrested. The police state that a woman was at the bottom of the trouble. The knife taken from the prisoner was an ugly looking dagger.
