EXPERT INSPECTS HOSPITAL SITES

Dr. Sinclair And The Local Tuberculosis Hospital Committee Confer.

Dr. A. N. Sinclair, superintendent of Leahi Home for Incurables, Pathologist and superintendent of the Tuberculosis Bureau of the Territorial Board of Health, came over in the Kinau Wednesday morning and returned to Honolulu in the W. G. Hall, sailing Friday evening.

The object of his mission was to look, with the local committee, over sites which have been suggested for the Sam Mahelona Hospital for the Cure of Tuberculosis. In that work he had quite a strenuous time of it, but left feeling that he had gained quite a clear knowledge of the local situation.

While here Dr. Sinclair was the house guest of Dr. and Mrs. Putman, of Lihue.

The local committee on the proposed hospital, it will probably be remembered, consists of Chas. H. Wilcox, Miss Mable Wilcox, E. H. W. Broadbent, H. D. Wishard and F. A. Alexander. On Wednesday that committee accompanied Dr. Sinclair through the Kapaa region and examined the various sites which had been suggested. On Thursday the entire committee and the specialist went to the Makaweli-Waimea side and examined available sites there and around Kekaha.

On Friday a return trip was made to the plateau above Kapaa, where the site which had originally impressed Dr. Sinclair was gone over again.

As a result of the investigations it is probably safe to say that the site above Kapaa will be recommended.

Dr. Sinclair stated that he felt reasonably certain of being able to procure from the Legislature the money needed for maintenance, inasmuch as the subject of hospitals for the treatment of tuberculosis was just now very much in the public mind; and, furthermore, on account of the splendid donation by Hon. and Mrs. Albert Wilcox for buildings, the task was rendered much easier on Kauai.

There are those on Kauai who have felt that a site on the lee side of the island, and very high on the mountains should have been chosen, and authorities agree that the contention has real merit. The specialist seemed to feel, however, that the Kapaa site, so called, possessed suitable conditions, and had the further advantage of accessibility. The latter is an important factor, it is claimed, when it is considered that the afflicted cannot, under the law, be compelled to enter any hospital.

CHILDREN TREATED

The school children of Hanamaulu, Lihue, the German School and the Kauai High School were treated to a matinee in Hale Hooni at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, when the films "Neptune's Daughter" and "Mary Pickford" were put on. Something over 300 children were entertained, and they had one, royal, good time.

Ou Card Party

Invitations have been sent out for a card party to be given at the Lihue Boarding House next Saturday evening under the auspices of the Ou Club.

A WARM PRIMARY NEXT SATURDAY

The Primary Election for the selection of candidates to be balloted upon in May for county offices will be held in all the precincts of Kauai, during the regular election hours, next Saturday.

The candidates for supervisors are as follows: Waimea—Joseph A. Akina, T. Brandt and David Kanaiaupuni Hayselden, all Republicans.

Koloa—W. D. McBryde, Lihue—H. D. Wishard, Kawaihau—S. W. Meheula, Fred Mendes, Lawrence J. Mudson, and Joe Rodrigues, Republican; and Lewis Hanohano, Democrat.

Hanalei—A. Menefoglio, McBryde, Wishard and Menefoglio are running to succeed themselves, and as they have no opposition will probably be elected handily in the primary. In order to be so elected they will have to have a majority of the votes then.

Sharp contests for supervisor are looked for in the Waimea and Kawaihau districts. In the former, the majority of guesses seems to be in favor of Mr. Brandt, although the other two men are admittedly very strong. The situation in Kawaihau is even less easy to determine, and it will probably not be until the last vote is counted that the high man will be known. Even then, he will have to run against Hanohano in May, for the latter, being alone in the field on the Democratic ticket, is certain of nomination.

For sheriff there are two candidates in the field—W. H. Rice, Jr., Republican, and Joseph I. Democrat. There is no doubt at all of the final election of Rice, and he has a fighting chance of winning out in the primary by getting a majority of all the votes.

J. M. Kaneakua, for clerk; C. Maser, for auditor, and S. K. Kaeo, for county attorney, have no opposition and will probably be elected in the primary, if a sufficient vote is cast—unless, indeed something extraordinary occurs to upset calculations.

A very keen fight will take place between A. G. Kaulukou and Harold Morgan, both Republicans, for the office of county treasurer. Both have strong friends, and the race at this writing seems to be "neck and neck."

This is the first primary for county officials on Kauai under the new system of holding the county elections in May. Officials elected at this time, or in May, will take office the first day of July and will serve for two years.

"Bob" Shingle Calls

R. W. Shingle, president of the Waterhouse Trust Company, accompanied by Mr. Diecken, a prominent wool buyer of California, paid a flying visit to Kauai on Friday, coming up on the W. G. Hall and returning by the same vessel at evening, the Hall being held a couple of hours at Ahukini in order that the visiting gentlemen might make the desired connection. Visits were made to Mr. Gay's home and other places at the Makaweli end of the island.

W. H. Hindle, the outside representative of the Mercantile Reference Agency and R. G. Dun & Co., made the rounds of Kauai last week, returning to Honolulu Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. H. Wilcox, of Lihue, were returning passengers by the Kinau on Wednesday morning.

Attorney S. E. Hannestad, of Lihue, will leave March 27 for his old home on Maui and two weeks later will sail for Philadelphia to take a position with the law department of the State of Pennsylvania. As far as is now known, the arrangement is a permanent one.

Mr. Hannestad has resided in Lihue about fifteen months, and in that time has developed an excellent "small town" practice. He thinks, however, that there are larger and more important possibilities in eastern fields.

Mr. Hannestad is a prominent member of the Kauai Chamber of Commerce and a member, officer and enthusiastic worker in all of the local social organizations.

SALARIED MEN TO GET FINE BONUS

Officers of Lihue plantation, drawing from $50 and upward per month, were made especially happy last week by the conclusion of the company to pay them a bonus of eighteen per cent on their salaries for the past year.

The total to be paid out to each man will amount to quite a little sum, as will be readily seen by figuring. For instance, an officer drawing $100 a month, or $1,200 a year, will receive $216.00 extra in his "bonus stocking," while a man drawing only $50 a month will get $108.00.

This bonus is figured and allowed upon a basis of the profits of the company for the year. A bonus is also paid to laborers and salaried employees drawing less than $50 a month, but that is figured upon a basis of the price of sugar above $70 a ton, and is more or less uniform throughout the Territory.

It is needless to say that there is "joy in the camp" of the larger salaried employees of the plantation (of whom there are quite a number) this week on account of the unexpectedly large bonus.

MR. FORBES OVER PROPOSED ROAD

Charles R. Forbes, superintendent of public works, who arrived on Kauai last Wednesday morning returned to Honolulu Saturday night apparently well satisfied with the results of his mission.

The main purpose of his visit was to go over the lines being established by the surveyor of his department of the proposed railroad between the Waipouli homesteads and Ahukini—particularly the sections crossing government lands.

As already explained in these columns, two routes are being surveyed from and near the point at which the proposed new railroad will tap the track of the Lihue plantation. When the surveys are completed, they, together with the recommendations of the surveyor, will be submitted to the Lihue Plantation Company and the government for a final decision as to which route will be chosen.

Mr. Forbes seemed well pleased over recent developments in this matter, and confident that his hopes for adequate shipping facilities for the homesteaders will soon be realized.

A PLAN TO SAVE COUNTIES MONEY

An agitation has been started to have the county act so amended by the present Legislature as to provide for the appointment of attorneys of the Territorial Attorney-General's office to handle the business of the counties of Hawaii, Maui and Kauai, in place of those counties electing their own attorneys as at present.

It is claimed that the attorneys of the counties outside of Honolulu have the veriest simonies; that they really have work only a few days at a time three or four times a year, and that the balance of the time their services are of no value to the public at all.

The county attorneys draw from $1,800 to $2,400 a year apiece, plus certain amounts for "expenses," a total cost to the three counties of between $6,000 and $8,000. It is figured that one of the attaches of the Territorial Attorney-General's department could attend to the whole business at a cost of not over $1,000 a year per county, and perhaps much less than that figure.

The further point is made that such an arrangement would take the office and business of county prosecutor out of politics, which has come to be regarded as of great importance, for many reasons.

If the county act is so amended, it is hoped by the proponents of the idea that the amendment may go into effect the first of next July, so that the elections of county attorneys in May next may not be found necessary.

WORK OF CANNERY TO BEGIN SHORTLY

Albert Horner, Sr., and Albert Horner, Jr., arrived in Lihue during the week from Honolulu, the former returning to the city Saturday night and the latter remaining over here to take the management of the new cannery which will be erected in the near future near Kapaa.

It has practically been decided that the cannery will go on the lot near the sea at Kapaa—the tract originally thought of and which the Land Board o.k'd. a year ago. Mr. Honor, Sr., stated before leaving for Honolulu that unless something entirely out of calculations happened, that site would be used and that work would very shortly begin. He added, however, that a further talk over the matter would be had at Honolulu, either yesterday or today.

Albert Horner, Jr., has made a special study of pineapple canning and marketing, and is well up on all details of the business. It is predicted that he will make a success of the enterprise from the start.

There will be a considerable quantity of pineapples ready for canning the coming summer, and the plan is to have the cannery ready in ample time to receive them. Until there are railway facilities, a motor truck will be used to transport the fruit to the cannery.
