

POETRY.

The following beautiful lines from the Philadelphia Gazette, are attributed to the editor, who has recently lost a loved and accomplished companion. Their touching simplicity cannot fail to reach the heart of every one, who from bitter experience can sympathize with the author.—Hampden Post.

I see the still!

Remembrance faithful to her trust,
Calls thee in beauty from the dust;
Thou comest in the morning light—
Thou'rt with me through the gloomy night;
In dreams I meet thee as of old,
Then thy soft arms my neck enfold,
And thy sweet voice is in my ear;
In every scene to memory dear,
I see thee still!

I see the still;

In every hallowed token round;
This little ring thy finger bound—
This lock of hair thy forehead shaded,
This silken chain by thee was braided;
These flowers, all withered now like thee,
Beloved, thou didst cull for me;
This book is thine—here didst thou read;
This picture, ah! here, indeed,
I see thee still!

I see thee still!

Here was thy summer noon's retreat,
This was thy favorite fire-side seat,
This was thy chamber, where each day,
I sat and watched thy sad decay;
Here on this bed thou last didst lie,
Here on this pillow thou didst die!
Dark hour! once more its woes unfold—
As then I saw thee pale and cold,
I see thee still!

I see thee still!

Thou art not in the tomb confined,
Death cannot claim the immortal mind.
Let earth lose o'er its sacred trust,
Yet goodness dies not in the dust.
Thee, oh beloved 'tis not thee,
Beneath the coffin's lid I see;
'Thou in a fairer land art gone—
There let me hope, my journey done,
To see thee still!
