WAITING ON ANNEXATION.

The light which has been cast on Hawaii by the American press since the January troubles began has served to dispel some of the illusions that have kept people from coming here.

Ordinarily the correction of the old fancies would be followed by an influx of people who would like to live in a land so different from that which their fancy had painted and so near their ideal of what a country should be.

We say a permanent government, that does not mean an oligarchy or a republic any more than it does a monarchy. It means a government the flag of which will protect all who come beneath its folds.

Those who oppose this consummation stand in their own light. They object to their own prosperity and resist the approach of good times.

HOW ABOUT THE BRITISH?

There are those who say that England has no wish to possess the Hawaiian Islands. They argue thus because England does not oppose the existing American movement.

THE BERING SEA COMMISSION.

The high court of arbitration which has just begun its sittings in Paris, and which will determine the merits of the controversy as to the jurisdiction in the Bering Sea, and the right to regulate the killing of seals in the waters and on the islands of that sea, is an imposing body.

Salisbury or Gladstone will agree to depart.

Apply this lesson to the case of Hawaii, and the logic of history does the rest. At this time the United States is complete master of the Hawaiian situation.

THE FUTURE.

There will be no republic with the consent of the American residents of Hawaii, who, if they have not all the power they need to decide what the future form of local government shall be, have the strength to determine what shape it shall not take.

In case the United States shall, under President Cleveland, decline the proffer of the islands, then the Provisional government will keep its ground until another quadrennial election shall have been held in America, in the hope that annexation will then be granted.

Talk about a republic is idle. So is the plan to have an oligarchy. The revolution was fought out for the sake of getting decent and stable government and that end will not be surrendered now to suit anybody's whims or add to anybody's wealth.

The Holomua takes occasion to say that "a continuance of the Provisional government is impossible," that it is being "tolerated" and that people will soon refuse to pay taxes to it.

Puck hits the annexation nail on the head when it says:

By taking a good thing when we can get it, we only pay a delicate tribute to the worthy English idea of good form. So, if it be found wise to put a few more pages of United States into the geography book, we shall order it done, and the order will be carried out with that promptness and efficiency which have secured respect for American decrees in the past.

True for you!

A ROYALIST organ in this city announces that "all prospects for annexation are virtually at an end." Indeed! No one else seems to have the news, but as the same paper foresaw the early arrival of the Australian fleet and the prompt restoration of the "Queen," perhaps it will be as well to take its present statement with the usual sack of salt.

THREE of the press correspondents left for the States this noon, and the remaining one, Mr. Naughton of the Examiner, will soon go to visit his old home in New Zealand.

THE Adams started for Honolulu just too late to bring returns from the reception in the United States of the flag-lowering news. One week more will tell the story which, we premise, will be worth reading.

Sea this claim was opposed by both England and the United States. England affirms, however, a willingness to enter into a convention by which seal-killing shall be regulated and their extermination prevented.

Arbitrators—on the part of the United States, Associate Justice John M. Harlan and United States Senator John T. Morgan; on the part of Great Britain, Lord Hannen and Sir John S. D. Thompson; on the part of France, Baron de Courcel; on the part of Italy, Marchese Emilio Visconti-Venosta; on the part of Sweden, Judge Gregoro W. W. Gram.

The present interest in this country in the personnel of this court of arbitration centres about the American members. Associate Justice Harlan is a large fine-looking man, a native of Kentucky, and now in his sixtieth year.

The other American arbitrator is Senator John T. Morgan, of Alabama, who has served long on the Senate Committee on Foreign Affairs, and has always taken a prominent part in the debates as to measures affecting the relations of the United States with other governments.

The senior American counsel is Mr. Edward J. Phelps, of Vermont. Mr. Phelps is in his seventy-second year, but he does not look nearly so old.

Mr. John W. Foster, the American agent, prepared the case on the American side. He is a native of Indiana. During the war he served in the army under General Grant, and became a Colonel.

Of the British counsel, Sir Charles Russel and Sir Richard Webster are both leaders of the English bar, and there are few cases of note in which either one or both do not appear.

Aim at the Drake

And you are bound to hit some of the ducks. This is precisely the same with

Wampole's Tasteless Preparation

OF

Cod Liver Oil.

It aims to cure Consumption, Hits the Mark, too, and it most effectually breaks up Colds, Coughs, Hoarseness and all Throat and Lung troubles that cause this disease.

It is natural logic to conclude that if WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION OF COD LIVER OIL has power to prevent Consumption, it surely is able to cure these lesser emergencies.

This vigor-making, fat producing preparation is Absolutely Tasteless, in so far as Cod Liver Oil is concerned. All you notice is a delightful flavor of Wild Cherry and Anise.

But the purest Norwegian Cod Liver Oil is there all the same. It is a great blood enricher. Best of all it is a natural food that in its stomachic effects, actually assists its own assimilation.

In Pulmonary or Bronchial troubles it is unequalled. No one doubts the value of Cod Liver Oil, but not every one is able to take it.

WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION

removes the nauseous objection and actually makes Cod Liver Oil palatable.
