TELEGRAPHIC NOTES. Two Albuquerque banks have failed. Bolivia is liable to begin war against Peru.

A smallpox epidemic prevails in Nicaragua. Electric harbor buoys have been placed off Chicago.

The indictments against the Home-Stealers have failed. About £12,000 of public money went down in the Victoria.

Admiral Tryon is held solely responsible for the loss of the Victoria. Twenty-six lives have been lost by a steamer explosion on the river Volga.

The Socialists have adopted resolutions praising Governor Atgeld of Illinois. The Silver League is preparing to oppose the unconditional repeal of the Sherman law.

The remains of Mrs. Georgie Drew Barrymore have been sent east from Santa Barbara. A Los Angeles judge has declared the deportation clause of the Geary act constitutional.

While descending a staircase at the house of the Earl of Dysart Mr. Gladstone fell, spraining an ankle. Mme. Demorest, the magazine publisher, has been robbed in Chicago of $3,000 worth of diamonds.

There has been a decrease of nine millions in the American circulating medium during the past year. The First National Bank of San Diego has resumed business and the Consolidated National will soon follow suit.

Howell Osborne was thrashed in a New York restaurant by an ex-bunco steerer whose character he had exposed in Paris. During the Chicago races Wildwood ran a mile and seventy yards in 1:44.3/5, cutting the world's record by half a second.

Senator Sherman advocates the repeal of the law bearing his name, but desires that the parity between gold and silver be maintained. Archbishop Satolli says the report is true that Russia would probably acknowledge the spiritual authority of the Pope, and adds that a movement to include all the Catholic bodies of the world is progressing favorably.

PERSONAL. T. W. Hubron and wife are home again. Larry Dee will return on the next through steamer.

L. Severance of Hilo, and daughter, returned from the coast to-day. Miss Mary Alexander, of Maui, returned on this morning's steamer.

Miss Margaret Hopper, daughter of F. Hopper, was a passenger by the Australia. Mrs. A. Willis, wife of the Bishop of the Anglican Church, returned from the Coast this morning.

S. E. Damon, son of the Minister of Finance, who has been attending college, is home on a visit. Mrs. Walter G. Smith and family of Coronado Beach will leave for Honolulu about August 1st.

Thomas J. King of the California Feed Company is home again after a short business trip to San Francisco. The Duke of Newcastle and valet, Gambier Bolton and W. J. Cooper, all of London, England, are at the hotel.

M. D. Garratt and wife of San Francisco are at the Hawaiian Hotel, and so is George Grottofeud of the same place. The happiest man in town is T. E. Krouse of the Arlington Hotel, whose better half returned from the coast to-day.

W. C. Peacock and wife returned by the Australia and will shortly move into their elegant new residence at Waikiki. Dr. M. F. Grossman, the Hotel street dentist, was a passenger on the Australia. He was accompanied by Mr. J. E. Grossman, a relative.

Dr. J. Brodie, who practiced medicine in Honolulu for a number of years, returned to-day and will resume the practice of his profession in this city. George H. Paris of the Gazette Company is at his desk again. During his absence Mr. Paris visited the World's Fair and Southern California.

Harbor Commissioner W. H. Brown and wife will entertain Miss Kate McGrew of Honolulu at the Del Monte for a few days. Miss McGrew is a daughter of Dr. McGrew, the well-known Anatomist of Honolulu. — Monterey Cor. Examiner.

Tried for Assault and Battery. Joe Coelho was tried in the District Court this morning on a charge of assault and battery committed on Poon Yuen last Monday. After the testimony of eight witnesses had been taken, Judge Foster reprimanded the defendant and allowed him to go free.

DIED IN HIS PRISON. John Sontag Expires at Fresno—His Wounds Described. FRESNO, July 3.—John Sontag breathed his last in the County Jail at 1:35 o'clock this afternoon. For the last four hours he was unconscious, and the only indication that he was alive was his spasmodic gasps for breath. Earlier in the morning his suffering was intense. He had been under the influence of an opiate, and the effect had worn off, and from daylight till the doctor came at 9 o'clock he suffered greatly and frequently wished to know if the doctor had come. He was in the full possession of his senses at this time, and when toward 11 o'clock he began to sink into a stupor his lips were sealed forever as to any confession. He never spoke after 10 o'clock.

Evans watched him die without much sign of emotion. Sontag's mother has remained by his prison bed almost incessantly for the past week. She would hardly leave him to take her sleep, and came again soon. She never lost hope. Others saw two days ago that all hope was gone, but she refused to believe it, and when any one came to look at him she would ask in a piteous voice: "Do you think he will die?"

She would talk to him and of him as though he were a small boy. She won the esteem of the people here by her devotion and care for her son. When at last the end came she seemed almost heartbroken, and could scarcely believe he was dead, although he lay before her.

News that he had breathed his last soon reached the streets, and a curious crowd gathered in front of the jail and were clamorous to be let in to see him, but all were refused. In a few minutes the dead was carried out through the crowd and was driven hurriedly to the Coroner's office and the door locked. The crowd soon arrived and appeared beside themselves to get in. It must be remembered that no opportunity has ever been given the people here to see Sontag, and they grew desperate with the prospect that they never would be permitted even to see his dead body.

They went around to the alley and tried to get in at the rear door. Sontag baffled the officers while alive, and baffled the surgeons when he was dead. The search for the bullet was a long one. It had entered his arm, crushed the bone just below the shoulder. For two hours search was made in every part of the body which the bullet could possibly have entered. Probes were tried, tweezers and knives brought into use until the body of the bandit was almost dissected, and still no trace was found, except a small piece of lead picked out of the arm below the fracture.

It was nearly 11 o'clock when the doctors at last satisfied themselves that they had solved the mystery of the bullet. There had been a small wound near the left shoulder blade, but it had never been supposed for a moment that the bullet which crushed his right shoulder had found exit there, yet such was the case. The bullet had crushed the bone of the arm just below the shoulder, passed under both shoulder blades, but not fracturing any bones, entered the cavity of the chest and came out on the opposite side of the body.

whole military garrison of Paris are deemed inadequate to cope. Three or four persons have been killed and many wounded in the several desperate encounters between the mob and soldiers and police.

Several streets where battles have taken place look as they did in the dark days of 1871. No glass remains unbroken; no lampposts or kiosks are standing; dozens of streets and omnibuses lie in ruins where they have been upset for barricades. Even the pavement in some spots has been torn up to furnish weapons and barriers for the mob. These facts would be terribly ominous in Paris under the most ordinary circumstances. There is, however, no danger of revolution or more widespread disorder here than has already occurred.

GRECE A REPUBLIC. A Story That King George Has Abdicated. PARIS, July 3.—The startling news has been received here that a revolution has occurred in Greece; that King George has abdicated, and that the people of Athens, backed by the soldiery, have proclaimed Greece a republic.

The event was so sudden and unexpected that the particulars of it are as yet but mere rumors. No official verification of it can be obtained at this hour, but, considering the dissatisfaction prevalent for some time, and the impulsive character of the people, it is not regarded as improbable.

A cablegram similar to the above was received in this city to-night by a prominent Greek. Several Greeks were seen in regard to it, but they had no information to give. While surprised, they thought it not improbable. Their countrymen, they said, have long been hoping and planning to make their country an independent republic.

Hot Baths at Short Notice. John Ashworth, the well-known barber at 513 King street, has been making some much needed improvements to his bath house in the rear of the shop. They consist of a furnace for heating water and a large tank for storing the water when heated. By an ingenious system of piping a stream of water is constantly flowing through the furnace to the tank and back again, thus insuring a continuous supply. Mr. Ashworth is now prepared to furnish hot baths at a moment's notice, from 6 A. M. to 8 P. M.

Doing a Fine Business. Messrs. Port-r and Orday, who have recently opened a new furniture store on Hotel street, are already doing a good business. This can easily be accounted for from the fact that their stock is entirely new, and has been picked out by Mr. Orday himself to suit the wants of this market. Their assortment of reed and cane furniture has never been equalled in this city and must be seen to be appreciated.
