MONEY WAITING THE BOOM.

The fact that money is being withdrawn from investment in the United States and Australia because values there are on the downward grade, would be very much to Hawaiian advantage if annexation should come within the next few months. As Minister Blount hints and the New York Sun says, Hawaii will have a tremendous boom the moment the American colors are hoisted here for good. Now with millions of idle capital locked up on the neighboring continents what could be more natural than that much of it should find its way to a place where values will be on the rise and will be certain to reach as great an altitude as they ever did in the most favored sections of Western America. To the cautious capitalist whose money has been taken from banks and stock companies and is drawing him no further interest, the temptation to take a "flyer" here will be very great. From experience at home he will know that if Hawaii had nothing more than a good climate and an ordinary commerce, the group would boom on those alone for at least a couple of years; but when he realizes the immense groundwork of prosperity in the sugar, coffee, small fruit, vanilla, cocoa, ramie and sisal products; the enormous trade that will center at these "cross-roads of the Pacific" when the Nicaragua canal shall have been dug and the cable laid; the wonderful sanitary and scenic attractions of the "Paradise and the Inferno," as our edenic and volcanic charms are designated, he will not be likely to hold himself back from large investments. Under annexation Hawaii could not fail to be the Mecca of unused dollars and pounds sterling, the goodly influence of which it would feel in the increase of sugar and coffee plantations, the development of the latent resources of the soil, the construction of railways and public works, the building of homes and the general rehabilitation of business in Honolulu, Hilo, Lihaina and in many new towns, led by Pearl City, which would be conjured up by good times and ample immigration.

We expect to see all these good things come to pass in the near future. That they are not visionary or problematical is proved by the history of every attractive region and commercial entrepot between Buffalo and Puget Sound which has been subject, in turn, to the bold western advance of the American home-builder and capitalist. These pioneers of progress follow the flag wherever it goes, and they bring prosperity with them. They are visibly waiting now for fate to fix the American status of this fruitful archipelago.

Mr. Blount has begun to draw from his budget of amusing reminiscences of Hawaii. Among them is a story that one of the correspondents here tried to settle the revolution on the line of New York practical politics, his idea being that the ex-Queen could be bribed to come out for annexation by promise of a life gratuity. The correspondent, Mr. Blount says, claimed to have fixed up one insurrection in Venezuela for cash and was sure that the Hawaiian trouble would also yield to the gold cure. The name of this enterprising journalist does not appear, though suspicion rests upon Wm. Shaw Bowen of the World. It is worth remarking in the same connection that the scheme which is thus credited to a visiting newspaper man is the same one which the imaginative Nordhoff laid at the door of President Dole and Minister Stevens and which, but for the interference of the Georgia diplomat, would have brought the Herald correspondent into unpleasant contact with the law.

We hope that the old band will not fail to accept Mr. Thurston's offer. The chance to go the World's Fair, with all expenses paid and the opportunity present to make private musical engagements in the cities then and thereafter to be visited, is one that deserves to be followed up. No one who knows the superiority of the band to the general run of "brass and boom" organizations in Chicago and San Francisco can doubt that our Hawaiian musicians would line their pockets well. They would be as much the age in America as was the crack

Mexican band which visited that country a few years ago. Meantime, they could do a great deal by their conduct and appearance and by their mastery of the most delicate of civilized arts to remove any false impressions which may exist in the United States about the Hawaiian habits, modes of life and dress and aspects of character.

Lately a local paper noted the significance of a Washington despatch to the San Francisco Examiner, rather favoring the prospect of Hawaiian annexation, as coming from Mr. T. T. Williams who had been known in Honolulu as an anti-annexationist, while here investigating the annexation sentiment last year. It happens that Mr. Williams has not been the correspondent of the Examiner at Washington for some time, having been a month ago reported to be enjoying himself at Golden Gate Villa. Bulletin.

The memory of our interesting contemporary is again at fault. The Star said that the correspondence had been "written by S. S. Chamberlain, who succeeded T. T. Williams as Washington agent of the Examiner." It will be remembered that Mr. Chamberlain was a Royalist sympathizer while here, hence the importance of his admission that the monarchist cause is doomed.

The plan to have a fine exhibit of Hawaiian products, curios and the like at the mid-winter fair is one which commends itself to public good sense. Anything not too expensive, which will keep alive the prevailing interest in these Islands abroad, will yield advantages to all residents here—the Jew and the Gentile, the Royalist and Republican, the native and the haole—counted as one. There is no politics in the proposed display, and this is a fact which we should like to see emphasized by the appointment of an exhibition board, to contain representatives of all Hawaiian parties. In a non-partisan movement like this one, which is designed to benefit the whole country, there is as much room for the professed Royalist as there is for the friend of annexation.

HAWAIIAN finances were so widely bruited a while ago by the unfriendly tongues of Claus Spreckels and Charles Nordhoff as to draw a large measure of attention in America to the facts involved. As a consequence, Mr. Damon's weekly statements have been republished by summary in New York, Chicago and other cities with the result that Hawaiian credit has been materially improved and the prophets of evil silenced. Some of the leading journals compliment the showing in terms which ought to be very gratifying to Mr. Damon, as they certainly are to the Annexation party. The feeling is very general now in the United States that Hawaiian finances are being managed with consummate skill.

It is altogether likely that the Atlantic passage between New York and Queenstown will soon be reduced to five days. This will insure an average run of 600 miles per diem, a rate of speed which, if developed in a steamer plying between San Francisco and Honolulu, would put these Islands within three and a half days' journey of the coast. One of the good results of the Annexation boom would be local business enough on this group to warrant the employment of much faster vessels than those now in use. It is by no means impossible in the future to have the best types of the ocean racer on the Hawaiian route and in profitable employment going and coming.

Where News is Suppressed.
A telegram from Buenos Ayres, dated August 27th, states that the Chief of Police on that day summoned the editors of all the newspapers in the city to his office at midnight and forbade them to publish any political or military news in the future. The writer, when working on the Buenos Ayres Herald some four years ago during the last revolution there, remembers that and all other newspaper offices in the city being absolutely taken possession of by the police. For nearly a week all publication was stopped and for a long time after the first impression of each issue had to be sent to the jefe politico for his approval before the balance could be run off.

Colonel W. H. Hallett and Lieutenant Coffin of the English army, stationed in India, are in San Francisco and leave for the Orient on the next China steamer. They will be remembered as paying an extended visit here a short time since.

Wampole's

Tasteless

OF

Cod Liver Oil.

It aims to cure Consumption, Hits the Mark, too, and it most effectively breaks up Colds, Coughs, Hoarseness and all Throat and Lung troubles that cause this disease.

It is natural logic to conclude that if WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION OF COD LIVER OIL has power to prevent Consumption, it surely is able to cure these lesser emergencies.

This vigor-making, fat producing preparation is Absolutely Tasteless, in so far as Cod Liver Oil is concerned. All you notice is a delightful flavor of Wild Cherry and Anise.

But the purest Norwegian Cod Liver Oil is there all the same. It is a great blood enricher. Best of all it is a natural food that in its stomachic effects, actually assists its own assimilation.

In Pulmonary or Bronchial troubles it is unequalled. No one doubts the value of Cod Liver Oil, but not every one is able to take it.

WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION

removes the nauseous objection and actually makes Cod Liver Oil palatable.
