

A Vanished People.

On the shores of Brittany there is a mysterious relic of forgotten ages, which escapes the notice of most travelers.

Far out in the dreary Morbihan Sea—across which legend tells us Arthur sailed with his knights in pursuit of the dragon—rises a little island. It can be reached in a boat from the coast only in a calm sea.

Crossing a grassy slope on which they browse, the traveler finds himself at the foot of a hill, in the face of which has been excavated a great tunnel or cave, floored, walled and roofed by huge flat rocks.

The surface of these rocks is covered with sculptured, coiled and waved figures possibly representing serpents. There are other heiroglyphics, but they have as yet never been deciphered.

The tunnel leads to a domed chamber, also formed of these enormous inscribed rocks. There is an altar and a sacrificial stone on which it is conjectured that human victims were offered.

Some archaeologists say that this cavern was the work of the worshippers of the serpent god, or Ho, a race that has passed into oblivion.

The unlearned traveler only knows that the mysterious cavern antedates all history; that the rocks of which it is built came from the mainland, a distance of more than a hundred miles inland.

Even with our modern engineering knowledge and machinery it would require vast labor and skill to bring these enormous blocks of stone, and place them so securely as to defy the wear and friction of ages.

How were they brought here by men who had perhaps few mechanical appliances, nothing but the strength of their bodies and their faith in their strange god?

The race who built this temple are dust. Even their name ages ago perished from the earth. Their religion is vanished. These stones are the monument of their indomitable resolution that defies the flight of years.

Aim at the Drake Aim at the Drake And you are bound to hit some of the ducks. This is precisely the same with Wampole's Tasteless Preparation OF Cod Liver Oil.

It aims to cure Consumption, Hits the Mark, too, and it most effectually breaks up Colds, Coughs, Hoarseness and all Throat and Lung troubles that cause this disease.

It is natural logic to conclude that if WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION OF COD LIVER OIL has power to prevent Consumption, it surely is able to cure these lesser emergencies.

This vigor-making, fat producing preparation is Absolutely Tasteless, in so far as Cod Liver Oil is concerned. All you notice is a delightful flavor of Wild Cherry and Anise.

But the purest Norwegian Cod Liver Oil is there all the same. It is a great blood enricher. Best of all it is a natural food that in its stomachic effects, actually assists its own assimilation.

In Pulmonary or Bronchial troubles it is unequalled. No one doubts the value of Cod Liver Oil, but not every one is able to take it.

WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION removes the nauseous objection and actually makes Cod Liver Oil palatable.
