A throne is an uncomfortable seat. A good rocking-chair beats it all hollow. -Guterson News.

So does the big armchair that President Do'e uses.

Now another man has invented a bullet-proof coat that really stops bullets. The only drawback to the invention is that it stops the activity of the wearer at the same time. As a protection to life and a stimulator to bravery it is almost equal to R. W. Wilcox's tank armor, invented in 1889.

A DISPATCH states that the comet medal of the Astronomical Society of the Pacific has been awarded to one of the professors of the Lick Observatory for his discovery of an unexpected comet on the negatives taken of the eclipse in April, 1893. This is pretty rough, in fact almost as bad as some political rewards, to give another fellow a medal for something he really didn't discover but only found.

BY POPULAR VOTE.

By a two-thirds majority the House of Representatives has voted that an amendment to the Constitution providing for the election of United States Senators by popular vote, shall be submitted to the legislatures of the States for ratification as provided by law. For years the question of electing the Senate by the direct vote of the people has been periodically discussed, but, heretofore, has taken no definite shape. The proposed amendment is one which will meet with much opposition from the conservative and wealthy classes, as it is almost certain to meet with the hearty approval of the middle and lower classes. The discussion will probably bring prominently to the front the question of the tendency of republican forms of government to centralization and will certainly do more good than harm, even if it is finally rejected by the State legislatures.

DEMOCRAT'S DISAGREE.

Now that the Democratic Administration has come out squarely in favor of the extreme free-trade doctrine of admitting free raw materials, it is hard to see how a compromise that will last can ever be patched up with the progressive wing of the party. The latter claims the evolution of the country under the policy of protection has raised new conditions, in which both Democrats and Republicans are alike interested, that will not allow anything less than a policy of "a modified tariff" to be followed. This is alleged to be demanded by both the Democratic party and the country at large; and the Democratic leaders of the liberal wing declare they will fight it out on this line, if it splits and defeats the party at the next election.

THE BOSS BOBS UP.

Boss Buckley has again laid his gentle hand on the head of Democracy in San Francisco and proposes to lead it, as of yore, to victory and spoils. It was not understood by the rank and file of the local Democracy that Buckley was to do anything of the sort until after the results of the Assembly district elections on the night of July 24th; it was then learned with much patriotic disgust that the Boss had played some of his old, old tricks on the Democracy of the city by the sea and had secured control of the primaries. In consequence there is much gloom at the democratic headquarters, as the rank and file is not in it a little bit with Boss Buckley in the lead. The chances of a sure Republican victory are in consequence being daily increased as good democrats bolt the party in preference to playing the game of "lamb" to Buckley's "Shepherd."

AS AMERICANS SEE US.

If Americans in Hawaii needed to be reminded at the present time of their duty either by word or example the following from the speech of Senator Anthony Higgins on June 14th would certainly have the desired effect. The Senator from Delaware was at the time commenting on the unfavorable political outlook in the United States and referring to Americans in Hawaii, said: "Mr. President, in this dark picture there is one bright spot that gleams out on the sky like the North Star, shining with no borrowed light, drawing its luster from no sun, a lesson of courage and statesmanship worthy to be learned by the men, who, sitting in this chamber, direct the destinies of the American Republic. I refer to that noble band of Americans in Hawaii; the picket guards, the outpost of American interests in Hawaii standing there by themselves, loyal to the country of their origin; loyal to the ideas which carried them there, not to be seduced and not to be driven, even by the resistless power of that Republic for whose interests they have stood, and whose rulers with folly predestinate, strove to overthrow them."

PUBLIC OPINION.

Too many of the courts leave the spirit of the law and run into the woods after the letter thereof.—Dallas News. The trouble with Governor Wallie of Colorado is that every time his hands are full his head is empty.—New York World. When the people of Illinois get a whack at Alford they will make such a wreck of him as has not been seen in politics for many a day.—Globe-Democrat. As often as the occasion arises the fact is demonstrated that law is the supreme thing in this country, and whatever antagonizes it is sure to be defeated.—St. Louis Republic. Henry George is proposing the single tax as the panacea for all present ills. Henry says has the single tax on hand in times of emergency like this.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch. When Hill voted against the tariff bill he simply declined to share the responsibility for the tremendous defeat that his party is certain to encounter in the fall elections.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat. Chicago needs to learn a great many things from New York before she can be a truly first-class city—how to preserve her peace and hold down her mobs, to begin with.—New York Republic. The New York World wants to know why so many women like to argue about questions they know nothing about. It is for the same reason that so many men do the same thing, I daresay.—Albany Press.

REV. MR. GARVIN WILL REMAIN.

The Evangelist to Preach to the Masses at Harmony Hall. Pleasure is taken in announcing to the public that at the urgent request of a number of citizens of Honolulu, the evangelist, T. D. Garvin, has decided to prolong his stay in the Islands. During the time he remains in this city he will preach every Sunday (beginning August 6th), at 9:45 a. m., and 7:30 p. m., in Harmony hall on King betw'n Fort and Alakan streets. The seats will be free.

The Gospel will be preached in its primitive simplicity. All who have no regular church home will find a very cordial welcome and will be benefited by the attendance. Non-churchgoers are kindly urged to bear the new method of telling the "Old, Old Story of Jesus an' His I." by which the bible becomes a new book easily understood. Original charts and diagrams will be used to illustrate the lectures on the bible and church history. This movement contemplates a place of worship for the people, where all classes may feel at home. Come and see, and hear.

SPENDING A PLEASANT SUMMER.

A Clubman's Cheerful Chat About His Place on the Seashore. "I learn something new every day about these being risks in all respects," said the clubman cheerfully. He was sitting in the reading room of his club, waiting for his boat to come, and he looked as if he had lost his best friend. "Is it your pondering over the tricks that keeps you away from home so late?" asked his friend, glancing at an empty glass and a pile of cigar ashes. "Home?" said the other cryptically. "I haven't a home."

"Gracious!" exclaimed his friend sympathetically. "What have you done with the clubman's strike the bell in a desperate way. 'It's home,' he answered in a triple voice. His eyes were not wild, and his hair was properly arranged, so that there was no reason to suspect him as that sort of sudden mental light heartedness, something strange and outlandish in his manner."

"I have been the victim of a 'bunko game,'" he said, with a theatrical gesture. "I have been hoodwinked by my homeward-bound family. The gold brick game, the green goods game, the thimble-rig game—I have been a victim of them all."

"That's not the way to spend your summer," said his friend, sitting down easily and carefully studying this new form of insanity. "You had better enroll the other way. It's the worst sort of game, now, just like this. My family has gone for the summer to the New Jersey coast. We have rented a nice place down there, and they enjoy it very much when it doesn't rain. In the wind doesn't blow hurricanes, or the fog isn't so thick that you can see it into blocks, or it isn't so cold that you freeze to death in your winter flannels."

He stopped to meditate over the charms of the climate there. "You had better enroll the other way," he said, "for, as I told you, it's a good place when none of those things happen—and sometimes they don't happen."

"That's not my intention," he said, though. "I did not think much about that when I took the place. Well, they charged me a lot of money for that, and they made me a lot of trouble. You see, I had a fine arrangement that is. If we give up the place at the end of a month, we keep right on paying our commutation rates—in fact, it is all paid up and out of our part of this beautiful arrangement. You pay in advance."

"Oh, there is another thing about this commutation ticket. It begins with the calendar month, and as we went down there in the middle of a month I had the pleasure of being 'held up' every day for $1.50 until the 1st."

"But how about losing your home?" "Oh, what I have been telling you about the commutation ticket is only preliminary to the bunko game. You see, we come to the family." Again he rang the bell despondently.

"When I took the place—charming home by the sea, they advertised it—there was to be, of course, a change in the time table, a summer schedule. Well, the summer schedule has gone for nothing, and you see the result. I am what I am, a horrible example. I can't catch an early afternoon boat, I don't get there at all. I am a very busy man. I have succeeded in catching it three times this season. If I do catch it, this is the programme the next day: Two hours late at my office, time enough when I reach to say good afternoon to every one, to sign a check for some summer resort expense, grab my hat, both for the elevator, run like a deer for my boat and motor, and that's the way it goes. It's a beautiful life. I am such a stranger to my wife that she has fallen into the habit of calling me 'Mr.' as she used to do before we were engaged. I have to beg my oldest boy to shake hands with me, my oldest girl, the apple of my eye, doesn't know me at all and won't speak to me. My 2-year-old baby, who never could abide strangers, yells his lungs out when he sees me, and our colic won't let me come into the yard unless my wife comes out to protect me. That is the sort of a summer I am spending. I have lost 15 pounds, and I feel like a dead man. I feel like a week ago, and my mind is rapidly failing."

"For a few minutes he gazed down the room in a vacant way. "Well," he said wearily, "I think I'll go to bed. I have a permanent room here now. Tomorrow I'm going to have my photograph taken to send to my wife. She wants to know how I look. It's only natural, you know. A wife is interested in her husband. I write her every day, and when she gets the photograph she will feel less lonely. See here," he said, holding a bright look crossing his face, "you don't want to rent a 12 room cottage on the New Jersey coast, do you? No? It's a real nice place when it doesn't rain, fog, or the wind doesn't blow hurricanes, or the fog isn't so thick that you don't want it. You haven't a family, do you? No? Well, he said sadly.—New York Tribune."

Her Exalted Mission.

Because men have held the balance of power ever since history began, women fancy that to be equal to their fathers, brothers and husbands they must emulate their example. When the era of self respect sets in, women will understand the exalted mission so well as to be literally the reversal of those of men, from whom all goodness and greatness will emanate. Men will leave the work of factories and shops to the sex best adapted to it. In a Christian civilization men will be the breadwinners and women the breadmakers. Women will take part in the government of the world, but their womanhood will not be ground out of them by physical labor, inasmuch as the work which will be demanded of women which interferes with a noble motherhood. Because America has more breathing room and is less bound by traditions, women have better chance for development here than elsewhere. American men will need to women whatever they really want to give generously. It is women themselves who stand in their own light, but the signs of the times are hopeful, and I venture to predict that the story of woman's work told at the Columbian exposition will lead to results of infinite benefit to the public.—Kate Field's Washington.

Mrs. Henrotin.

Mrs. Henrotin of Chicago, the new president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, is an intelligent and brilliant woman, with marked executive ability. She is likely to leave her impress on the federation when she quits the office. The important body of women over which she presides is too young to have done much more than to organize itself, thoroughly and in a manner to be handled. It is accepted that Mrs. Henrotin will consider that the time has come when the federation is ready to take up some special line of work, and it is likely that the public school system will be the object of its special study and effort.—New York Times.

Yours Sincerely.

Louise of Washington—Do you know that ever since I have known you you have reminded me so much of one of my best friends at home. The resemblance is quite striking. Your nose and mouth, for instance, are precisely like hers. She's an awfully pretty girl too. (Lola of New York)—Really, you flatter me.

Louise—Yes, indeed, she is regarded as one of the greatest beauties in Washington. And interestingly it's rather remarkable, too, for Marie hasn't a single good feature in her face.—Life.

Hungry Higgins—They is two things I never wear, winter nor summer. "Wary Watkins—Wat air they?" "Well, one is a sock." "And the other?" "The other sock, of course."—Indianapolis Journal.

The blood of the arctic explorer remains at a normal temperature, though he breathes air that will freeze mercury, and in India, where the temperature of the air is 115 to 130 above zero, the temperature of the blood is still 98 degrees F.

HOMES AT PEARL CITY.

The Oahu Railway and Land Company offer the public

ANOTHER GREAT OPPORTUNITY.

To secure homes in one of the most delightful localities to be found in the Paradise of the Pacific.

As a healthy resort Pearl City has already established an enviable reputation. Many good citizens in this community have experienced the wonderful effect produced by a few days sojourn in that dry, cool atmosphere, and give grateful testimony to the relief they have almost instantly gained from severe and long continued attacks of asthma. Physicians acquainted with the climate of Pearl City recommend it as a natural sanitarium.

The Water Supply Is Ample.

and can be increased to meet the needs of a population equal to the largest city in the Islands.

Prof. A. B. Lyons, of Oahu Coll. give us our authority for stating that the water supply is the purest yet discovered in this country.

Special Inducements To Early Settlers.

For ninety days from date we will sell lots of SPECIAL TERMS favorable to business settlers. For a term of three months from date, number and all building materials will be supplied, and delivered at Pearl at much lower price than ever before obtained.

For further particulars, call at this office, or any of the lumber dealers in this city. Those who now own lots as well as those who propose to become residents of that growing city, will do well to embrace this opportunity. Those who avail themselves of this offer, within the time named, will be entitled to, and will receive the following benefits:

For a term of ten years, this Company will carry such residents and their families from Pearl City to Honolulu in the morning (arriving a little before seven o'clock), and from Honolulu to Pearl City in the evening (leaving Honolulu station a little after five o'clock), for ten cents each way, a rate less than one cent per mile. The rates on all other passenger trains running during the day or night will be 1 1/2 cents per mile first class and 1 cent per mile second class.

A good school is about to be opened in the Peninsula, in the fine large, new school-house erected by Mr. J. T. Waterhouse. Residents living at Pearl City and those having homes on the Peninsula will be allowed to ride free on regular trains between Pearl City stations and from the Peninsula.

Those who want to continue to send their children to schools in Honolulu, can have transportation on all regular trains to and from Pearl City, for the purpose of attending school at five cents each way for each pupil. This is equal to 2 1/2 to 30 miles ride for ten cents.

Equal inducements for those desiring to secure homes in this country have never before been offered to the public. This Company has been requested from abroad to name the price of all their unsold land in that locality. Should a clearance sale be made to a syndicate, no opportunity like the present would again occur for the purchase of homes at Pearl City.

Honolulu, August 1, 1894. MR. CUSTOMER DEAR SIR:

In reply to yours of 30th ult. we would say that we have all the goods you ask for. In most of the cases the prices you quote are our regular prices, but on some of the items our prices are lower than you mention, and we shall of course give you the benefit of the reduced rates.

Razors and Strops—We are glad you have decided to try our new "set blade" razors, and patent swing strops, as in the country ever man has to do his own shaving and as shaving becomes a pleasure with these "tools" we know you will have a large demand for them. In regard to Lawn Sprinklers we will say that we have sent a very simple one, which cannot wear out or get out of order, the price you see is low, and they will do good work.

Pocket Knives—We send what you order in this line and will say that we have lately received a fine assortment of cutlery which we have almost instantly gained from severe and long continued attacks of asthma. Physicians acquainted with the climate of Pearl City recommend it as a natural sanitarium.

Clauss Knives, have sold them for a year, either in sets or single bread knives. Our stock of Butcher and Hunting Knives is also complete.

Soap—As you did not say how many bars you wished to the 100 lbs., we are sending one case each 42-50-60 and 70 bars to you. We carry a heavy stock of this article and, as you will notice, it is a first grade Laundry Soap, and we have put it in at a very low figure.

We regret that you got "nipped" on that "bargain" in Fence Wire and note that in future you will come to us and get a first class article. We thought when you told us of your "bargain" that before it had been up long you would see you had a "sell."

In closing let us say that we have a large and varied stock of Hardware, Ship Chandlery, Paints, oils, and leather, and when filling your orders will always charge the lowest prices.

Truly Yours, E. O. Hall & Son, LIMITED.

CASTLE & COOKE,

FOR SALE A BIG IDEA

Two first class second hand pianos, one upright, one square. Tuning and repairing done. W. M. OSBORNE, 392-1mo 202 Queen Street.

We are making a new department in our advertising and in the future will try and impress upon your minds through this paper that whatever may be going on with others, we will continue to be in it so far as goods and prices are concerned. We have already raised a little flutter in the Oil Market by selling Standard Oil Company's Pearl Oil at $1.00 per case delivered. We can't keep it. We can afford to sell it for that and its to your advantage to buy it at that figure, it is not necessary to burn it all in lamps. Oil Stoves are today the most useful and generally used article in Honolulu. They save time, fuel and trouble, can cook almost anything on them; and when its done—that ends it, your fire is turned down and out; no extra heat, lingering fires. We carry an immense stock of them, all sizes, styles and prices—they are the housewife's friend always ready.

Cooking utensils are another thing that have received considerable attention. You can make no mistake by examining ours before purchasing—you can always find what you want in a complete line. From week to week it is our intention to suggest a few specialties in our line that it would be well to keep track of. Remembering at the same time that whatever we offer, the prices throughout the house will always be as low as any offered in Honolulu.

Notice—Call at our store and get the New Tramway Time Table, the most useful and complete one ever issued. We present them with our compliments.

A Complete Cure by HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA. This is from Mr. D. M. Jordan, a retired farmer, and one of the most respected citizens of Otsego Co., N. Y.

"Fourteen years ago I had an attack of the gravel, and have since been troubled with my Liver and Kidneys gradually growing worse. Three years ago I got down so low that I could scarcely walk. I looked more like a corpse than a living being. I had no appetite and for five weeks I ate nothing but bread. I was badly emaciated and had no more color than a marble statue. Hood's Sarsaparilla was recommended and I thought I would try it. Before I had finished the first bottle I noticed that I felt better, and after the second bottle I began to feel hungry. After I had taken three bottles I could eat anything without hurting me. Why, I got so hungry that I had to eat 3 times a day. I have now fully recovered, thanks to Hood's Sarsaparilla. I feel well and am well. All who know me marvel to see me so well." D. M. JORDAN.

IS WORTH FOLLOWING UP

We have an idea that there is considerable artistic taste lying dormant in our midst, which only requires bringing out.

With this in view we have imported some very instructive little Hand Books on ART, such as:

The Art of Sketching in Nature, The Art of Landscape Painting in Water Colors, The Art of Flower Painting, System of Water Color Painting, Marine Painting in Oils, and many others on different topics. There is no better educator than a class study of nature, and in order to instruct a beginner to start in the right direction in his efforts to reproduce what he sees in nature, we suggest a perusal of these little treatises.
