THEY HIRED A KAHUNA.

DEEP AND SERIOUS PLOT OF TWO WATERFRONT NATIVES. Charm that was Used to Ananaa a Certain Man—An Interesting Find—Black Pig.

Someone has tried to ananaa someone on the waterfront. A strange find, indicating positively the work of a Kahuna, was made there this morning. THE STAR does not want to take chances of being a party to possible mischief by telling just where the find was made or indicating the person aimed at. The stuff was among rocks at the pier office end of the Pacific Mail dock at noon. Quite a number of people viewed it. It was placed there by the persons who brought from the bay.

The truck was in a double or rather in a multiple covering. About the entire package there was neatly tied a cotton cloth. Immediately inside was a flour sack. Within this receptacle were the articles offered to the sea to accomplish the death of a certain man. On top, in separate tin leaf packages were taro and sweet potatoes, raw. A red cloth wrapper contained the surprising and most realistic part of the charm. This was a very small and a very black pig, an infant. Around its neck were two strips of cloth—one red and one white. At the bottom of the bag was a black stone. This was perhaps only a weight. Everything had been wrapped with great care. The entire bundle was thrown some distance into the bay and was found at low tide this morning. It was the work of two natives and a serious part of an elaborate personal enterprise in which they are interested. The conversation at which it was decided to employ a kahuna was overheard.

A COLONEL TO DEPART.

MR. VON WERTHERN WILL SOON LEAVE HAWAII FOREVER. A Veteran Soldier—Served in Several Armies—In the United States and Hawaii.

Colonel von Werthern will leave Honolulu by the Peru tomorrow. He goes back to the States not to return. His family will accompany him. Their objective point is San Francisco, though they may ultimately return to the South, where the Colonel lived many years ago. Harry von Werthern, one of the political exiles, is a son of the Colonel.

Colonel von Werthern is well known in Honolulu. He arrived here just before the '87 trouble, and has been more or less conspicuous since, or at least until a couple of years ago. In his life he has been a military man and a politician. He served in the army in Germany and Italy. When the Civil War broke out he entered the United States army and proved himself a competent and brave soldier, from all accounts.

After the war he settled in New Orleans and became a politician. He was a leader in the party that lost the election in Nov. '76. Prior to that he had held good offices under the State government.

It is said that he came to Hawaii with the expectation of entering the Consular service. He failed in this and has since lived a very quiet life. He is getting along in years now, but fortunately has money to ease the burdens of travel and a change of conditions.

THE COMMITTEE.

Men Who Made Provisions for the Successful Dinner.

The committee on "High Jinks" appointed by Company D a few weeks ago deserve great credit for their work. They collected the funds, prepared the programs, issued the invitations, secured all such things as eatables, drinkables and music, decorated the hall, received the guests, and laid the plans for the entire entertainment. Without their duties were performed fully and well. The committee was Sergeant Crozier, Corporals Effinger and Burnett, and Privates Tucker and Clay.

MAY NEED MORE ROOM.

PROSPECTS OF A FLOOD OF IMMIGRATION VERY SOON. There Are 900 Portuguese Now About Us—Chinese Probably Coming—Kalaheko Station.

The Quarantine Committee of the Board of Health will likely be soon put to their wits end for means of taking care of the large number of laborers that are expected at this port, until they can be sent out upon the plantations. The first shipment of Portuguese, 900 in number, are expected next week and really may arrive any day. A ship-load of Chinese are reported to be now on their way to Honolulu and may reach here about the same time.

It is that case the old Kakaheko station will have to be again called into service. Most of the buildings of the old Immigration Station, however, have been leased to natives and Chinamen. The Quarantine Committee is already casting about for a way out of the emergency, in case it arises.

Six hot baths for $1 at J. Ashworth's model barber shop, No. 80 King street.

LOST A HOUSE.

The Doublet of a Chinese Falls Into Nuanuu.

During the high wind Tuesday, a little store-house at the King street bridge was blown over on its side. Yesterday two Chinamen endeavored to set it up. When nearly in position a puff of wind turned it back again. House and Chinamen, this time, tumbled in Nuanuu stream together. Fortunately the water was not deep and the Mongolians made land, though drenched and covered with mud. The house is still in the stream.

Stowaways in Prison.

The three Japanese stowaways brought down from Hawaii by the W. G. Hall have been sent to Oahu in prison for thirty days. The charge is having no lawful means of support.

PERSONAL.

J. N. Wright will leave by the Alameda for the coast.

Jas. F. Morgan, who is ailing somewhat, will leave by the Hall tomorrow for a Kona trip. Harry Armitage will be in charge of the auction and commission house.

B. J. Hoffacker, manager of Spreckelsville, Mr. Olesen and family of Maui, and Captain C. F. Giffard of the whaler Alice K. are among those who have taken passage by the Peru.

Hatchicks Mounted.

One of the new Hatchicks field guns was taken from the Aloha to the old barracks Wednesday and mounted. Everything was adjusted and Capt. Pratt fired a salute shot with a primer.

A Severe Fall.

On Tuesday while Mr. E. Benner of Castle and Cooke's was working in the oil warehouse he accidentally fell down the elevator shaft, a distance of fifteen feet. At first he thought he was none the worse for his tumble; but has since found that the strain was very great and he is now laid up. Injuries are not serious.

That Choice Realty.

Several possible purchasers have viewed the Hassinger lot today. This fine property is in the hands of the Safe Deposit Company, and unless sold entire will be divided into lots.

Will Take Passengers.

The C. D. Bryant, Captain Jacobsen, will leave for the coast on Saturday. The Bryant has excellent passenger accommodations. Her cabins are best quality, and special attention is given to the comfort of guests. Several passengers have already booked to go by the Bryant. A few more will be taken. The Bryant is a smooth sailor and makes good time.

Company D will resume regular weekly drills beginning with next Wednesday evening.

The H. S. Tregloan license case will be heard in the District Court this afternoon.

G. H. Mumm & Co. Ahead.

The following list shows the importations of champagne into the United States for the years 1893 and 1894; by which it will be seen that Mumm & Company's Extra Dry is far in the lead of all other brands, as taken from the official statistics of the New York custom house:

CO. D WAS THE HOST.

PROVIDES A FINE ENTERTAINMENT AT THE DRILL SHED. The Election and High Jinks—The Same Lieutenants—Speeches and Music—A Popular Post.

The Election and High Jinks—The Same Lieutenants—Speeches and Music—A Popular Post.

THE ELECTION. HE answers to roll call in the army of Company D, N. G. H., at 7:30 Wednesday evening, numbered about 80. Captain W. C. Wilder, jr., opened the meeting and re-read the general orders calling elections for first and second lieutenants in the Company. Adjutant Pratt conducted the election.

Nominations for first lieutenant closed with the name of J. Walter Jones, the present incumbent. He was elected by the ballot of the secretary, the announcement being received with a tremendous yell. Lieutenant Jones thanked the boys for their action and promise to discharge the obligations of the office to which he had been recalled to be best of his ability.

Lieutenant J. L. Torbert was the only nominee for the second lieutenantcy, and he also went in with a whoop and hurrah. Lieutenant Torbert made a neat two-minute speech in which he referred to the good feeling existing between the officers and men of Company D.

He expressed the belief that the same would be continued. "I again thank you, etc.," said he in concluding.

From there the Company fell out and waited in the main hall for the arrival of the staff, line and field officers, and the hour for the beginning of the "High Jinks."

Across the middle of the hall the big flag of the American League was stretched. It was slightly raised at the center, and in this place one of the old cannon with a pile of solid shot were placed. The tables formed the letter "E." Decorations were profuse, consisting of flags, bunting and flowers. The tables were covered with green ferns.

At 8:30 the seats around the tables were occupied. The guests were: Adjutant-General Soper, Major Potter of the President's staff, Lieutenant-Colonel Fisher, Major McLeod, Post-Adjutant Pratt, Surgeon C. B. Cooper, Ordinance Officer Captain Carstenberg, Quartermaster Captain Ashley, Sergeant Major Ed. Towse, Hos. Steward Hough, Drum Major King, Quartermaster Sergeant Smith, Captain Zeigler, Company F; Good, Company K; Camara, Company C; Smith, Company A; Wall, Company B; and Lieutenants King, Company E; Ludewig and Burgett, Company F; Kenake and White, Company B; Rowald, Company A.

The President was not well and could not be present. After the inner man had been sated, and the Government band had played several selections, Toastmaster W. G. Ashley called upon Captain Wilder, Company D, for a toast and asked Adjutant-General Soper to respond. Captain Wilder proposed the toast "Our Guests" to which the Colonel replied in fitting terms. "Marching Through Georgia" was then played, the Company joining in the chorus. The toast "To the Volunteers" was offered in a short address by Lieutenant Jones, Company D, and was responded to by Lieutenant Colonel Fisher. "Rally Round the Flag Boys" was played and sung with a will.

Private Timmons was down for an oration, and spoke at some length on the relations of the militia to the state and on annexation. The next toast was the signal for long applause. It was "To Annexation," by Lieutenant Torbert, Company D. In response, Major Potter, of the President's staff, spoke feelingly and logically of the subject introduced. Toastmaster Ashley's toast, "To the Press," was responded to by Mr. W. H. Cony, of the Advertiser. Private Westley then sang "The P. G. Volunteers" accompanied by Mr. Ordway with his guitar. Private Ramsey's poem was a corker, bringing forth rounds of long applause. He made the hit of the evening.

Singing of "Aloha Oe," followed by the "Spanish Cavalier," contributed by Corporal Clark, and then came a complete and at the same time successful history of the Company by Corporal J. A. Kennedy. This paper covered all of the principal events in the Company's life from January, 1893, down.

Private Tucker's "Prophecy" came next and was well received. The toastmaster proposed "Berger and his Band." Professor Berger responded with his musical production, "National Guard of Hawaii."

Other toasts during the evening were: "To the Regulars," responded to by Captain John Good, Jr.

CAPTAIN CAMPBELL MAKING A TRIP WITH THE WAIALEALE. Several Big Vessels Taking On Sugar—The Wilder—Rock on Which the Pele Struck—Notes.

The Iwalani sailed at 2 p. m. for Kilauea. The Ke Au Hou will sail at 5 p. m. for Makaweli. The Waialeale sailed at 9 a. m. for Maui and Hawaii. The King Cyrus took the sugar brought down by the Iwalani. The W. G. Hall will sail at 10 a. m. tomorrow for Maui and Hawaii. The Peru falls due tomorrow from Yokohama on her way to San Francisco. H. B. M. S. Nymph will sail tomorrow morning for Esquimaux. She could not get away today. The Aloha has moved from the railroad to Brewer's wharf, where she is discharging her cargo of merchandise. The dredger moved away from Sorenson's wharf today to give place to the S. G. Wilder. The latter goes there to discharge her ballast. Captain C. J. Campbell took the Waialeale out today on her route to Lahaina and Honokaa. Captain Smyth, though up and around, is under a physician's care and could not go out. When the Pele struck on the rock of Kauai Saturday night Captain McAllister was himself on the bridge. Every sailor in the Islands knows the precise location of the rock upon which the steamer struck. But the night was dark, and the Captain as well as the crew say they thought they were at least five miles out from shore. On account of the rough weather on the West side the Kaala has been unable to land her freight at two or three points. After the wreck of the Pele was reported yesterday, Capt. Brown was telephoned the following instructions: "Take no chances. Stand off Kahuku and wait for smooth weather." The Kaala will likely finish up this afternoon and return home tonight.
