

THE HAWAIIAN STAR. PUBLISHED EVERY AFTERNOON EXCEPT SUNDAY BY THE HAWAIIAN STAR NEWS-PAPER ASSOCIATION, LTD.

WHAT a blessing that so far no downright cracks have been developed in the Legislature.

It is scarcely probable that the question of immersion will be finally settled in Honolulu this week.

The customs people might do worse than to charter Bishop Willis' telescope and use it with a cathode ray attachment.

Elaborate statements of the fate of the project to increase the duty on California wines will be sent to the Coast. The scheme is dead as Julius Caesar.

HOSHINO was what might be called a bold operator. Right in the atmosphere of a remorseless hunt for opium he was quietly and on quite an extensive scale handling the drug in entire security.

It is planned by some of the pineapple growers to produce a brandy from surplus crop. It is believed the liquor would find a ready sale in the United States. The Hawaiian pineapple itself is one of the most popular fruits that reaches the American market. It is in demand either fresh or canned.

The Colony of Victoria pays a bounty of $10 per acre on flax grown in the Colony, besides special bonuses paid on linseed oil and flax fiber. The administration is seeking to economize by fixing a minimum yield which shall entitle growers to the bounty, and the growers are complaining bitterly. They say if the stuff would not grow it is all the more needful that they have the bounty.

DEBT HOLDERS.

The alarm has been raised that the Senate act on consolidation of public debt contemplates a loan from London at 4 1/2 with a respectable commission added. This may or may not be the case. Most likely the facts will be brought out at some stage of the progress of the act. The hue and cry is that money may be had at the same figure from the United States and such being the case Hawaii's national policy insists upon use of that supply point. Additional argument or comment is to the effect that if a trifle more is added for interest a considerable loan would be taken up in Honolulu, saving exchange and providing, in the interest payments, more money for general circulation.

TAXES.

The question of increasing revenue by getting more money from the taxpayers, or classes of them, is still under consideration by a committee of the Senate. It is settled that the levy is not to be greater. No final conclusion as to method of valuation has yet been reached. It is certain that property of the value of several millions practically escapes penalty. The puzzle, then is the best means of making the assessment roll what it should be. Two suggestions are being deliberated upon. One to drop the effort to lay upon growing crops direct and to place a specific tax on production of sugar and rice. The fault is found that other great corporations will continue to escape lightly. To meet this difficulty the bold stroke of getting right at stock certificates is urged. All phases will be most carefully considered and an agreeable and satisfactory reform may be expected.

STREETS.

Work is now again in full blast on the restoration of Judd street and upper Liliha and Nuuanu avenue are to receive attention. In the district of Honolulu there are ninety-five miles of roads and streets. Economy is the watchword in their management, and the careful distribution of funds at times causes vexatious delays and permits disagreeable and inconvenient conditions. It is due to the department to say that the business of providing and keeping up thoroughfares was never better handled. The act for improvement of streets in Honolulu will in all likelihood soon become a law and means will be provided for operation of the new statute. Fort street, which may fairly be called the main thoroughfare, should first receive attention. It is to be widened, but this is not enough. The Legislature should take other steps and arrive at the determination that Fort as well as other streets in the center of town should be spared further structures of tin. The end desired can only be reached by a careful revision of the fire limit or building law.

Notes of the Game.

Rule 19 of chapter 2 of Mr. McKinley's "Book on Politics" states that when one candidate has taken a majority of the tricks, and has four aces and a pocketful of trump left, it is not according to Hoyle for the other candidates to play partners.

ALASKA REFRIGERATORS.

TO MEET THE DEMAND FOR FIRST CLASS REFRIGERATORS.

Built Within the Means of Everybody and Finished in the Same Manner as High Priced Boxes.

There no longer exists in the minds of the public any doubt that the Alaska Refrigerator does produce dry, cold air in its provision chamber. A practical use for many years in various countries and climates has proved beyond question that its theory is correct.

The peculiar and scientific construction of the Alaska creates a thorough and constant circulation by which all vapors arising from foods in the provision chamber are condensed in the ice pan, and run off with the melting ice.

Most refrigerators are so constructed that vapors from various kinds of foods are chilled to bead drops of water within the provision chamber. Hence such refrigerators are always damp and deleterious to health; and hence the instruction "to frequently wipe the moisture from the provision chamber."

In the Alaska no vapors are allowed to remain; but, by a perfect circulation of air, they are drawn through the flues into the ice chest and are condensed there. By thus removing the vapor all odor is removed—for the odor is in the vapor—and dry, pure cold air falls into the provision chamber.

The provision chamber of the Alaska never coats from condensation, but is always clean and free from foul odor. The points sought for in a refrigerator are:

- 1st. The preservation of perishable foods.
2nd. The disposal of foul vapors which constantly exhale from provisions.
3rd. Dryness of atmosphere in the provision chamber.
4th. Low and unvarying temperature.
5th. Economical use of ice.

These results are best produced by the Alaska, and are plainly demonstrable upon the scientific principles used in the build, by which low temperature and dryness of air are naturally and inevitably obtained, and do away with the principal reasons of decay in meats and fruits, dampness and varying temperature caused by expansion and contraction of tissues, hence a dry atmosphere and uniform temperature are conducive to their preservation.

The patent waste water trap is health assuring and keeps out all odors deleterious to health as effectually as a sewer trap can. This trap is one of the most novel, as it has certainly proved itself to be one of the most useful improvements. Heretofore this trap has been on the end of the waste pipe outside of the refrigerator. Through carelessness or indifference it has often been left out or not put on. Now this entirely new and novel design is fitted to the waste pipe in the provision chamber, just beneath the ice chamber, where it can be easily reached to be removed when necessary to clean.

A refrigerator with a poor provision shelf is almost useless, and most provision shelves are worthless, because they are made from wire or narrow strips of tin or iron, so narrow that no small dish can be placed upon them, and so weak that they will not support a large article.

The provision shelf of the Alaska is solid galvanized iron and the slots are corrugated, and are wide enough so that any dish can be placed on them without tipping over. In fact the construction of the Alaska Refrigerator is the acme of perfection.

W.W. DIMOND'S

The lawns in Honolulu form an attractive feature to tourists and residents. The visitor arriving here at this season from a locality where blizzards, snow and sleet have been characteristic of the north are impressed with the beautiful greens unfolded to their view here in Paradise.

But nice lawns and well kept gardens do not come spontaneously; they are the result of hard work by the yardman and artistic planning on the part of the head of the house. And much depends on the materials used. You can get a lawn mower, mayhap, that will look well when you buy it, but six months afterward grass cut with it will resemble the hair on a man's dog's back—"odd and even."

The "New Model" is a superior mower because the materials from which it is made are of the finest quality. The steel blades are hardened so that they will not nick and break when they are run against an algeroba bean. We have seen the "New Model" that had been used on the roughest kind of land without its suffering in any way from what might be considered, rough usage.

In this place, where lawns are sometimes neglected and where the grass grows rapidly a high grass cutter is a necessity. You've been paying $20 for one such as we charge you $9. Is there a saving in it? We have them as low as $8. All high grass cutters. They cut long grass, too!

A Good Rival to Have.

We have just received from N. Y. a large shipment of the best low priced Ranges made in the U. S. One style is known as the "Rival Manhattan," and it is a low priced, five-hole Range, with large fire box fitted with shaking and dumping grate, automatic oven shelf, large top end shelf, drop broiler door, and nickel oven door panel.

Number 6 has an oven 13 by 13, and number 7 has one 15 by 15. These are not the ordinary stove, such as you will find in most of the stores, but a complete range, with five holes; and room enough to do all the cooking for a good sized family, and yet small enough to go into a small kitchen, and still leave plenty of room. A lady saw these ranges going into our warehouse yesterday; and bought one just as it stood on the dory, saying that, as she had only five to cook for she wanted just such a range, so she could get rid of a larger one stove which she had more room, and burn less fuel. We sell this range for $12, so it is within the reach of any family.

IF YOU WANT A "MASCOT"

let us know, for we have a lot. This is another five hole Range, and No. 6 has a 14 by 14, No. 7 a 16 by 16 and No. 8 a 18 by 18 oven. It is a little more expensive than the "Rival," but not much, and though it is fully worth $20 you can have it for $14, as we intend to sell ranges, and will put them to begin with where every body can afford to have the best little range in town. Besides the above the "Hollister wood" brought us many tons of new goods, but as they are not put away yet we will tell you all about them later. We still sell WHEELS.
