How would a Hawaiian Popular Loan do?

IMPROVEMENT of the condition of the Hilo Library is as good an investment as money put into schools.

THE Third House sits tonight and that will probably be the last of the Japanese and several other problems.

THE Legislature cannot afford to ignore suggestions from the Board of Health on matters of sanitation in Honolulu.

THE House member who wants the Executive building used for a presidential mansion scarcely appreciates the temper of the new order of things.

AT THE next meeting of the Fire Commissioners with Chief Hunt there will be action upon plans for more "liberty" for the men in the department. It is believed that a quite satisfactory change will be the result.

SOME of the Legislators seem to believe that the appropriation acts were drawn up for the special object of squandering public money. It should occur to them that the authors of the acts at least desire to make a good showing at administration.

JEROME K. JEROME has been speaking disrespectfully of the dead languages. He says that "a knowledge of the dead languages has generally been found to hamper a man in every walk of life, except schoolmastering, which is the perpetuation of the follies of our ancestors."

THE STAR fails utterly to see where "allusions to General Coxey in connection with the Portuguese demonstration are entirely unwarranted." The spectacle of several hundred men taking a half holiday from Government and other service to turn out with an alleged army of unemployed is a clear incident of Coxey being out-Coxeyed in far-off and pent-up Hawaii.

THE Advertiser is again suffering with an acute attack of hindsight pains. It sees a danger because the Portuguese procession of "steep hundreds was permitted to enter the grounds of the Executive Building. Strange that this aspect of the proposed demonstration did not appeal to the Custom House paper in advance. Perhaps it had mislaid its copy of the British statutes providing that not more than two persons shall present a petition under penalty of ten pounds sterling fine. It is also pretty late and perhaps not any too upon the part of the Advertiser to suggest that a demonstration by the Japanese is now in order.

IN THIS matter of the Portuguese colony and its alleged grievances it is perfectly safe to chuck the fineness of methods to the winds and talk facts on a horse sense basis. The vast majority of the Portuguese are laboring men. It is presumed that enforced idleness causes them to agitate. If this is not the case they are simply being used. If it is the fact the remedy may readily be found by providing employment for those who wish it. Engagement is offered by the planters to more men than it is claimed marched Wednesday because they had nothing else to do. The statement of the Portuguese that the Government has broken faith with them or injured them is a matter to be considered aside from immediate necessities and is a phase of the public situation that will receive thought and that will be acted upon as the Government deems best.

MAKE IT TABU.

It is proposed to start the merry-go-round up again in the vicinity of the depot and prison. Now here is a chance for the local reformers to get in and do something. Their plain duty is to head off an evil before it is everlasting too late. If this notorious establishment is permitted to resume operations it will be much more difficult to handle or stop than to suppress it at the inception. At its old stand the merry-go-round was a nuisance, a standing and active insult to decency and law and order and a burden to the police department. In its new stand, being removed from the center of the city the merry-go-round will be more than ever the vehicle, the scene of revolting saturnalia. More policemen will be required to preserve order and with the lessened restraint gained by the new location it is safe to predict that within a few weeks the establishment will develop something that will startle and horrify the community. Honolulu can get along very well without the merry-go-round.

Unfortunate Outcome.

The Americans in Hawaii are beginning to fear that the islands may be absorbed by Japan. That would be rather an unfortunate outcome of the Cleveland-Gresham Hawaiian policy.

Timely Topics.

March 25, 1896.

AN AFFAIR OF HONOLULU.

Two prominent gentlemen of Pittsburgh got into a personal difficulty the other day over a political question, and one of them talked violently about slapping the other's face. This was taken as an insult, and the aggrieved party sent a friend to request an apology or to arrange for a quiet meeting or the rendering of due satisfaction. The challenged party replied that he had nothing to retract or apologize for, and that if the other was thirsting for his gore he would meet him at the north pole on the 31st of February, 1899, to settle the affair with squirt-guns. It is hinted that this may not be the end of the matter, as both of the parties have "said." Honesty in business dealings is the only ladder to success and a firm whose prosperity and reputation is built upon the honor and truthfulness of their statements will eventually surmount all difficulties. We always make it "an affair of honor" when stating that the HENRY BREAKER is one of the articles for plantation use that has helped more managers than you have any idea of.

HENRY'S BREAKER.

Since introducing the HENRY BREAKER we have placed orders with numerous plantations which after giving them a thorough test have discarded those formerly used and supplanted them with the HENRY BREAKER, and we have the satisfaction of reading glowing testimonials from the managers of twenty-seven plantations. Its superiority over other breakers is not a speculation but an assured fact. Being of light draught and strongly built by being thoroughly protected and braced where the strain is the greatest it is practically indestructible. It will do the work of twelve or fourteen mules with eight, and you can consequently use the surplus power, that would otherwise be required for plowing, for other purposes. As a "working mate" to the above plow we offer the HENRY DOUBLE FERROW. One of the features of this plow lies in the fact that the mould boards are sufficiently high to prevent the dirt from falling back into the furrow after the plow goes over the ground. Two less animals are required to pull it than any other plow. Now that the plantation managers are working night and day to produce sugar and forward it to the market, we can help them materially in the matter of supplies, because our prices "are right" and the quality of the goods superior to the average.

We have had wonderful success with our COLORADO LUBRICATING OILS for the reason that they are manufactured of the very best ingredients. The oils, after a most thorough test with other oils have proven better than any other imported to the Islands. We have these oils in use on nearly all the plantations and are constantly obtaining new customers who become permanent buyers. Engine oil has taken the place of lard oil on many plantations. There is economy in using oils as there is in anything else. Dynamo, engine, machine, car box and valve oil make up the list that covers every branch of machinery for which oil is made. Cylinder Oil may be used six times before it will separate; this cannot be done with any other grade of oil.

W.W. DIMOND'S

Dimond's Store policy is based on letting you be your own judge as to the goods you need.

You come here as you'd go to a pantry or store room for what you want. It is our pleasure to help you.

So much for the dollar and cents side of business. Absolute satisfaction to you. That is the keynote of the Dimond store—unlike any other store. Singularly better.

Suppose you want a mat—cocoa or wire—you've seen both kinds elsewhere and didn't like them. We could tell you that our flexible wire door mats are better than others, but we won't. There is no necessity for it because you can see for yourself that it is absolutely flat and will not turn up around the edges as most mats do. You will see, also, that it is jointed so you can stand it on the side when you are sweeping and you will see also that it is always in shape. In the same make of goods we have wire carpet for veranda steps. This is jointed so as to fit snugly on the steps, or it will answer for halls where the public has access.

Another Bullet Proof Garment. A new bullet proof garment which has recently been experimented with and described by The Paper Trade Journal. Common paper pulp is worked up into yarn and then coated with aluminum by a special process which renders the metal flexible. A special thin ply weave is employed in making the shirt in order to obtain thickness. The bullet then is available as soft woven, but each thread in it is as stout as wire. It feels comfortable to the wearer and can be rolled up in small compass. It is asserted that an ordinary rifle bullet will not penetrate this garment. The projectile merely strikes up in the threads and stays there. The wearer would experience a severe thump or blow, for the force of the impact does not operate on hard plate or shield, but the skin remains unbroken, and no blood is shed.

In the fall of 1893 a son of Mr. T. A. McFarland, a prominent merchant of Live Oak, Sutter Co., Cal., was taken with a very heavy cold. The pains in his chest were so severe that he had spasms and was threatened with pneumonia. His father gave him several large doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which broke up the cough and cured him. Mr. McFarland says whenever his children have croup he invariably gives them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it always cures them. He considers it the best cough remedy in the market. BILL WAS TOO BRASH.

He Met Up With a Red-headed Man and Wouldn't Turn Out. On top of a load of hay which came into the western haymarket yesterday was a man of 60 and a young man of about 25—father and son. The vehicles had no sooner come to a halt than both scrambled down and it was then seen that the young man's nose was about twice its normal size, and his eyes were blackened and puffed until he could scarcely see daylight. There was blood on his face and shirt front, and of course there was a natural curiosity among the men lounging around to know what had happened.

"No, Williams didn't run agin a bridge or have a tree fall on him," said the father as he wet his handkerchief at the drinking trough and wiped away the blood. "The set is that he met with a disappointment on the road as we were coming in."

"What sort of a disappointment?" queried a policeman who intended to recommend raw beef and perfect quiet for three or four days.

"Well, you see, William was driven when we left home. We had come along about three miles when we meets a red-headed man leadin a calf. A fellow with a calf order turn out and give the road to a load of hay, but this one wouldn't. He just turned out half way and stood still and yelled that he'd be durned if he moves an inch. Then I says to Bill, says I 'Bill, he's a peppy, case, and you'd better turn out.'"

"Yes, you ought to have turned out for a red-headed man," said the officer.

"I says that to Bill, but Bill he says to me, says he: 'I'll be hanged if I do! If he don't turn out, I'll get down and make him wish he'd never bin born into this sinful world.' Then he says to the man and warns him of what is to come, but the red-head don't skeer with a cent. He ties the calf to a bush and spits on his hands and screams for both of us to come down to once."

"Then you gave him half the road?" asked the officer.

"No, I wanted to, but Bill he says to me, says he: 'Dad, you hold the lines, and I'll get down and get that cuss one bat on the nose and put him to sleep for two hours.' I didn't want Bill to do it, but he was set, and down he went. He off with his hat and gin a yell and bore down on the man with the calf."

"And put him to sleep?"

"No, he never closed an eye to sleep. When Bill lighted on him, something happened—sunthin happened to Bill. He stopped all of a sudden and laid down, and when he got up again he was as you see him now. The red-headed man invited me to come down and light on him also, but I didn't accept it. He has been about 10 minutes when Bill woke up."

"What did Bill say?" asked the officer.

"Nawthin that I heard. Bill, did you say anything when you come?"

"Num," replied Bill, with a solemn shake of the head.

"And you didn't say anything for the next two miles, did you?"

"Num."

"And then all you said was to ask him to let his streak be lightened?"

"Yum."

"That's all, as far as I kin remember," continued the father, "and now if you'll sorter look out for my boy I'll lead Bill to a doctor and see whether he's mortally injured or only crippled for life. Come on, Bill. You hain't bin sayin a word since you was struck, and all you've got to do now is to step high and lean on daddy's arm."—Detroit Free Press.

A Good Rival to Have.

We have just received from N. Y. a large shipment of the best low priced Ranges made in the U. S. One style is known as the "Rival Manhattan," and it is a low priced, five-hole Range, with large fire box fitted with shaking and dumping grate, automatic oven shelf, large top end shelf, drop broiler door, and nickel oven door panel. Number 6 has an oven 15 by 13, and number 7 has one 15 by 15. These are not the ordinary stove, such as you will find in most of the stores, but a complete range, with five holes; and room enough to do all the cooking for a good sized family, and yet small enough to go into a small kitchen, and still leave plenty of room. A lady says these ranges go into our warehouse yesterday; and bought one just as it stood on the dray, saying that, as she had only five to cook for she wanted just such a range, so she could get rid of a larger old style stove, have more room, and burn less fuel. We sell this range for $12, so it is within the reach of any family.

IF YOU WANT A "MASCOT"

let us know, for we have a lot. This is another five hole Range, and No. 6 has a 14 by 14, No. 7 a 16 by 16 and No. 8 a 18 by 18 oven. It is a little more expensive than the "Rival," but not much, and though it is fully worth $20 you can have it for $14, as we intend to sell ranges, and will put them to begin with where every body can afford to have the best little range in town. Besides the above the "Holliswood" brought us many tons of new goods, but as they are not put away yet we will tell you all about them later. We still sell WHEELS.
