GOOD NEWS FOR HILOITES THIS TIME.

Plans of the Executive Relative to the Hilo Wharf Made Known—Work is to be Rushed.

Had the Wilder steamer Kinau been able to carry the government pile driver and lumber to Hilo, Superintendent of Public Works W. E. Rowell would have been off for the second city to commence effective work on the new Hilo wharf. Mr. Rowell is now obliged to await the departure of the first boat for Hilo, which will no doubt be the latter part of the present week.

At Friday's session of the President and his Cabinet an additional appropriation of $15,000 was added to the Hilo wharf. Superintendent Rowell this morning very kindly made public the plans of the Executive so far as they have been placed in his hands.

"While I was in Hilo last week," began Superintendent Rowell, "considerable was accomplished toward the construction of a wharf and also a boat landing.

"I placed W. S. Terry in charge of a force of workmen to build a smaller wharf or boat landing. This will be one hundred feet in length and it will be available for scows and boats. The landing is located on the point where Waiakea river empties into the ocean. It is just off where the Kinau usually anchors and is to the town side of the present Reed's landing.

"I instructed Mr. Terry to rush this work and before many weeks boats from the Kinau and other vessels can dock without effort at this landing.

"While this work is in progress the Hilo wharf will be in the course of construction. This is the wharf for which the legislature appropriated $50,000, including the brakewater. Work has already been started upon it and the pile driver and other material will go to Hilo on the first boat.

"The greater wharf will be a 300 foot landing and is located just off the Waiakea fish pond. At present there is from seventeen to twenty feet of water at the landing, but eventually it will be twenty-four feet in depth. There is some loose material on the bottom, but the dredger will have to work in solid rock for the most part.

"The site for the big wharf is the most sheltered place about Hilo. It is directly opposite Cocoonut Island, the current coming from that course.

"Waiakea fish pond is completely surrounded by land and it will be necessary for the government to construct a road from the landing to the road leading to the city from the present landing at Waiakea. Over half the appropriation has been made by the Executive and the remainder being necessary for the brakewater."

FRAWLEY SEASON SALE.

Large Amount of Tickets Disposed Of Today.

The Frawley season sale opened this morning. The regular theater goers were all represented in line and before noon nearly $1000 worth of season tickets were marked off. The sale will continue until further notice and the chances are the sale this year will equal that of last season.

Among the buyers today were: Harry Lewis, Dr. Grossman, Major J. W. Jones, Paul Muhlendorf, Fred C. Smith, W. E. Wall, A. C. Wall, S. G. Wilder, G. P. Wilder, C. L. Wight, A. M. Brown, J. L. Stickney, Mrs. E. K. Wilder, Robert Lewers, C. S. Weight, W. H. Corwell, Jr., Frank Armstrong and W. F. Allen.

As previously stated, the Frawley company will commence their season on the 18th inst. Twelve performances will be given. The company for this year is said to be stronger than last season. Among the new players is William Lewers, a Honolulu boy. He plays the light comedy parts, formerly taken by George Leslie. Mr. Lewers' success in San Francisco was instantaneous. His Honolulu friends will be glad to greet him.

REGIMENT BOYS SAY THEY WILL WIN OUT.

Their Line Up for Saturday's Game—How the Men Will be Placed—Punahou Team Candidates.

Captain Ed Austin of the Regiment foot ball team today announced his line up for Saturday's game. Captain Austin has made his pick from the best players in the barracks and feels confident that the Regiment colors will fly as high in foot ball as they do in base ball laurels.

The substitutes are Luahiwa, the crack felder in the Regiment base ball club; Rosa, Cook and Lewis.

Coach W. H. Babbitt of the Punahou team, stated today that the students would not be assigned to their positions until Thursday or Friday. The candidates for the different positions on the team are:

For center rush: Carlo Long, W. Rawlins, S. French.

For guards: John Lane, J. L. Howard, W. Walker and W. Rawlins.

For tackles: Chris Holt, David Kupihea, David Dayton, John Kaulukou, A. Horner, F. Johnson and W. Thompson.

For ends: W. Greenwell, Lawrence, Richardson and Sam Johnson.

For quarter back: A. B. Ingalls, H. Kluegel, W. H. Babbitt.

For backs: A. B. Ingalls, Elia Long, A. Long, Prince Cupid, Will Soper and George Fuller.

It is quite probable that neither Babbitt nor Dayton will play in the first game.

Will Soper has finally given his consent to play.

ABOUT THE GAME.

The object of each team is to force the ball over their opponent's goal line and for this purpose the team is divided into rush line and backs.

When the teams line up the ball is held by the center, and is said to be in play as soon as he snaps it back to the quarter. The quarter passes it on to some other player, according to signals already given, and the whole team by blocking their opponents and interfering for the runner, co-operate in helping him gain ground. If tackled and brought to the ground by his opponents he must cry down, after which the ball is again given to center and the same process is repeated. If the team does not gain five yards in three downs the ball goes to the other side, which in its turn endeavors to advance it. The player may kick the ball or run with it, provided that when he receives it he is on-side, that is, between the ball and his own goal line.

The game is governed by a code of rules, any infringement of which is called a foul, and may be punished by ruling the offending player off the field or by giving the opposing team a number of yards gain or the ball.

The following are a few of the technical terms used in the game:

A goal is obtained by kicking the ball over the cross bar of the opponent's goal.

A touch down is obtained by touching the ball to the ground behind the opponent's goal.

In touch means out of bounds.

A safety is made when a player touches the ball down behind his own goal, provided the impetus which drives the ball behind the line is not received from an opponent. If it is received from an opponent it is called a touch back.

A kick-off is a place kick from the center of the field.

A drop kick is made when the ball is dropped and kicked after it touches the ground.

A punt is made by dropping the ball and kicking it before it reaches the ground.

Points are made as follows:

Touch down, 4 points.
Goal from field kick, 5 points.
Goal after touch down, 2 points.
Safety by opponents, 2 points.

HONOLULU SHELTERS HIM

GEORGE SHARRICK IS NOW COAST CHAMPION.

Two Notable Races Which He Won in Sacramento Gives Him the Honor—Allan Jones' Fine Record.

Honolulu is sheltering the Pacific coast cycle champion in the person of George Sharrick, the Tacoma professional. The percentages of the different riders were footed up and Sharrick was found to be Coast champion, since the speedy rider sailed for these shores.

At the meet in Sacramento on September 26 under the auspices of the popular Sacramento club, the honors of the day were well divided between Sharrick and J. E. Wing, the speedy amateur from San Jose. The two failed to come together, however, in the mile championship and the anticipated feature of the meet was spoiled on this account.

Sharrick celebrated his first competition on California soil by throwing dust in the eyes of the cream of the Pacific coast professionals in clever style and getting away with the largest purse ever offered in western racing circles. In addition he won the California championship and suffered his only defeat to Allan Jones and finishing third to Allan Jones and Vaughn. Jones, who is now in Honolulu, rode in great style in this race and won out with a burst of speed that was invincible. Had his sudden brilliancy lasted longer there would have been a different story to tell.

Undoubtedly the chief event of the afternoon's sport was the professional derby, a special mile handicap in which $250 was divided between the first three men. Lined up on the tape were Jones, Sharrick and Vaughn as the scratch men; Downing of San Jose was placed along on the 35 yard mark; Whitman of Los Angeles, 65 yards; Elford of Oakland, 85 yards; Palmer of San Diego, 100 yards; Breton of Oakland, 120 yards; Hueler of France, 150 yards. From the crack of the gun it was a race for blood, the riders straining every nerve to win the big purse. The men with the long marks were frantic in their efforts to maintain the advantage their great handicaps gave them. Those three scratch men, however, systematically changed pace and slowly but surely cut down the long leads. Just before the bell lap Jones made another brilliant dash, which placed him in the lead of the bunch. Little Sharrick was not far behind and fighting his way through the bunch for a position behind his suetly opponent. On the back stretch he had gained what he sought for, but to the misfortune of all the other riders kept right on going. He came around the last turn like a hurricane, securing a lead the others could not diminish, try as they would. Jones finished a good second, while three money went to Palmer. Sharrick's share of the money was $155, Jones received $62.50 and Palmer $32.50.

HE BREAKS THE RECORD.

Collector General McStocker Visited all Portions of Hawaii and Maui.

Collector General of Customs McStocker is back from a tour of the custom ports on the Islands of Hawaii and Maui, having certainly made the quickest trip on record.

The Collector General left Honolulu on Tuesday, October 19, on board the Mauna Loa. He went direct to Kailua, the following day visiting Honolulu, where he embarked on Robert Hinds' little steamer Epulo for Mahukona, arriving there on Friday, where he remained four days examining the books and records of the custom officers. He departed on Thursday for Maui, taking in all the ports and reaching Honolulu on Sunday by the Helene.

It would have been impossible for him to make the trip in so short a time had there been any vessels in port. The Skagit in Hilo was the only boat lying in any of the Hawaii or Maui ports. Next year the Collector will time his trip to visit the ports when the work of checking the vessels is going on.

The matter of the appointment of a collector at the port of Kailua will be brought up before the Executive very shortly. The Collector General says that he found George McDougall in charge there, having been appointed temporary custom inspector by Collector John Smithies of Mahukona.

IS DOING WELL.

Charles K. Hyde, son of Dr. and Mrs. Charles M. Hyde, is managing Will F. Thrum's coffee plantation, at Kamahala, in the Puna district. Last week Land Agent Baldwin of Hilo, was out in Kamahala to appraise a hundred acre tract which Hyde will lease of the government with the right of purchase. Charlie is working hard and is in the best of health.

WILSON HARD ON HORSES

SO REPORTS MISS WILDER TO THE MARSHAL.

The Hilo Stable Man Works Animals That are Unfit for Service—Other Cruelties on Hawaii.

Marshal Brown has received a special report from Miss Helen Wilder, president of the Humane Society and special police officer, upon the condition of live stock in the Hilo and the Puna districts on the big island.

The report contains a bitter condemnation of the method in which J. R. Wilson, proprietor of the Volcano stables and Volcano stage line, is conducting his business. The animals in the employ of Mr. Wilson, Miss Wilder reports to be in a bad condition, and many of them unfit for service. Miss Wilder has recommended that Mr. Wilson be brought to account for his inhuman treatment of his stock.

By today's Kinau Marshal Brown dispatched a warning to Mr. Wilson that he will have to desist from working animals that are unfit for service. The Marshal also sent instructions to Sheriff Lorin Andrews at Hilo to see to it that Mr. Wilson pay heed to the warning sent him.

Mr. Wilson has the largest stable in Hilo. He has over one hundred head of horses and mules in the barn continually. At the time of Miss Wilder's visit to Hawaii, Wilson had eight horses doing twelve horses' work on the Volcano horse stage. Nearly all were poor and neck sore.

Mrs. Charles Gray, who is largely interested in humane work at her home in San Francisco, has been a guest of the Volcano house for the past three weeks. She threatened to have Mr. Wilson arrested on the charge of cruelty to animals, but concluded that it would be wisest to notify the Honolulu authorities of the condition of the stage animals.

The government gives Mr. Wilson a subsidy of $100 a month to carry the mails from Hilo to Punahou. His charge per passenger from Hilo to the Volcano house is $7.

Miss Wilder also stated to the Marshal that the general condition of animals in Hilo town and country districts is deplorable. Her complaints are mostly of ignorant Japanese and Portuguese drivers. Miss Wilder recommends a wholesale arrest of the guilty parties.

WILL PLAY WATER POLO.

An Attraction at Cyclomere After the Bicycle Meet.

A game of water polo is on the schedule for Cyclomere immediately after the bicycle races are over. President Hosmer of Punahou has obtained the park of Mr. Desky and Honolulu society will have the pleasure of seeing the first of this kind of sport.

Water polo is something like foot ball as far as points go. The players don bathing suits and are seated upon an air-tight oil can in the water. The rubber ball is in the center and the teams strive to put the ball in their antagonist's goal. Once off the can in the water a player is generally out of the game, as it is extremely difficult to mount the can in the water.

The teams will comprise well known society gentlemen.

LAID AT REST.

The remains of John Grace were laid at rest in Nuuanu cemetery yesterday afternoon. Hundreds of the friends and admirers of the deceased attended the funeral services in the hall of Harmony Lodge of Odd Fellows, on King street. Dr. C. T. Rodgers presided. The services were conducted by Rev. Alex. Mackintosh. Wray Taylor presided at the organ.

The ritual of the Odd Fellows was read at the grave by Rev. Alex. Mackintosh.

RESISTING TEMPTATION.
