NATIVES SERIOUSLY ASK IT OF THE COMMISSION.

Present a Memorial This Morning, Which is Regarded as a Curiosity, Unequaled among Political Papers.

A delegation of the Kalaiaia society, composed of E. K. Liliakalani, L. W. P. Kanehili, Frank Silva, A. Kuleiaku and M. Kane, were received by the Commission at 11 o'clock this morning. E. K. Liliakalani acted as spokesman of the party, and spoke in native, which President Dole interpreted. With as much bowing and scraping as he would have done in the presence of royalty, Liliakalani stated that the gentlemen with him represented the prominent and influential native society known as the Kalaiaia. That they had called to ask the honorable Commissioners and the honorable president to set a time to hear a memorial which had been agreed on at last night's meeting.

"We will hear you right now," said Senator Cullom.

But the delegation had not brought their memorial with them; they had supposed that so important a matter would take more than one visit to consummate, consequently they were told by Senator Cullom to go and get it and the Commission would hear it at once.

The memorial was presented in the afternoon. The following is the substance of it:

The undersigned being delegates of the Hawaiian Patriotic League, an organization which is composed of native Hawaiian people from all the districts of the Hawaiian Islands, assembled in a convention held in the city of Honolulu, Island of Oahu, Hawaiian Islands, on the 12th of September, A. D. 1898, hereby respectfully submit to your honorable Commission, the following resolutions:

The resolutions set forth Liliuokalani's protest when yielding to the Provisional Government, January 7, 1898; President Cleveland's review of the situation in his message to Congress in December of the same year; alleges that the annexation treaty having failed, the joint resolution is ineffective because not passed by the people of the Hawaiian Islands or the representatives in the Legislature and concludes:

Therefore, be it Resolved, That as the representatives of a large and influential body of native Hawaiians, we solemnly pray that the constitutional government of the 16th day of January, A. D. 1893, be restored, under the protection of the United States of America.

COURTESIES ACCEPTED.

Commissioners Will be the Guests of the Chamber of Commerce.

It was arranged this morning that the Commissioners will accept the hospitalities of the Chamber of Commerce on Thursday and be their guests for a tour over the Oahu railway and a visit to the Ewa plantation pumping plants and mill. The special train will leave the depot at 8 o'clock and go direct to the end of the road. Lunch will be furnished at the Dillingham ranch at Waiialua. Returning, the party will visit the Ewa and Oahu plantations and spend as much time there as the length of the trip will permit.

All the Commissioners except President Dole will go on the trip, as well as the two attaches of the Commission and several members of the Chamber of Commerce. Mrs. Cullom, and Mrs. Ridgeley will not go, having made previous engagements. If the members of the Cabinet, who have been invited, accept, there will be about forty-five in the party.

NEW BOOK ABOUT HAWAII

CASPER WHITNEY IS HERE TO WRITE IT.

Comes Right From Santiago, Where He Saw Newspapers Sold on the Battlefield During the Fighting.

Casper Whitney, the recognized authority on amateur sports, and a most extensive traveler and explorer, is in Honolulu, almost direct from the seat of war in Cuba.

Mr. Whitney left New York a year ago to travel and hunt big game in Siam, Anam and Indo-China, for the purpose of writing a book on the subject and the countries he visited. He had scarcely secured his material, and had not written a line when the war broke out and Harper & Brothers sent him to Cuba. He was with General Shafter throughout the fighting around Santiago and shared with the troops the dangers of the trenches and hasty fortifications of the advance on San Juan.

After the surrender of Santiago Mr. Whitney went to New York, spent ten days writing of what he had seen with Shafter and then came direct here. He will write a series of articles, to be published in Harper's publications and afterwards in book form, on the Hawaiian Islands. He will treat the subject descriptively, historically, politically and economically.

Mr. Whitney is a writer who sees and investigates the things he writes about. His reputation has been made by knowing what he was talking about.

Speaking of some of the odd things of the war, Mr. Whitney said that during the second day's fight at San Juan a Chicago newsboy rode a mule along the trenches which marked the line of battle, calling out "Chicago Record," the paper he had for sale. He sold hundreds during the battle, as this was the first American paper that had reached the soldiers for days. While the newsboy was not in any particular danger while actually going along the line of the trenches in order to get there, going back and forth for fresh supplies he had to pass through a zone of great danger.

This is probably the first time in the history of the world where newspapers have been sold on a battlefield during the progress of a battle.

OLD SCENES RENEWED.

Departure of the Australia a Typical Honolulu Sight.

The departure of the Australia yesterday afternoon presented a typical Honolulu scene which has not been witnessed here for four months. The Australia is the first "local" steamer to sail since the regular steamship service began to be interrupted by the necessities of the war last May. Since the last trip of the Zealandia, the Australia is the first steamer to sail on which all the passengers were from Honolulu, either visitors or residents. And as there was a very large passenger list there was a very large crowd at the wharf. The band was there; the public was there. For an hour before sailing time the decks and gang plank of the Australia were crowded with people with armsful of leis for departing friends. It was an animated and striking scene. It was one of those sights which visitors remember pleasantly almost longer than any other.

WANT TO SEE THE ISLANDS

BIG TOURIST PARTIES FROM MINNEAPOLIS.

Interest in Hawaii is Very Intense in Every State Whence Manila Bound Soldiers Boys Come.

George W. Parker of the Minneapolis Times, a passenger on the City of Columbia, is here making arrangements for the series of excursions from Minneapolis to the Islands, which the Times is about to inaugurate.

He says that the entertainment of the soldiers here on their way to Manila and the annexation of the Islands has created a widespread interest in Hawaii which manifests itself in a desire on the part of thousands to visit the Pearl of the Pacific. Especially in Minnesota and the northwest, the region from which so many soldiers who passed through here came, is their interest manifest. Thousands of letters of inquiry have been written to the Times and to Robert W. Shingle, the Hawaiian Commissioner at the Omaha Exposition. It was in response to these inquiries and to gratify these desires to visit the Islands that the Minneapolis Times undertook these excursions, and Commissioner Shingle is working in co-operation.

Two excursions have already been arranged, and others will be, if the desire for them continues. The first will leave Minneapolis November 5th, over the Northern Pacific, to Seattle, sailing thence on the City of Columbia November 8th, for Hilo. Time enough will be spent there to visit the Volcano and see something of the Big Island, and a week will be spent in Honolulu.

The second excursion will leave Minneapolis in January. Each party is limited to about 100, and a rate of $250 for the round trip has been made.

Mr. Parker says the people who have already arranged to come are largely people of means, who come for the purpose of seeing the newly acquired territory, and some of them, if they see an opening, to invest. Mr. Parker while here will make the hotel arrangements and the arrangements for entertainment while here. He comes with letters of introduction from Commissioner Shingle to a number of government people.

Feeling on the Scandia in Regard to Them.

When the transport Scandia left San Francisco, the California Red Cross Society put aboard a quantity of supplies for the use of the hospital corps on the trip to Manila. These were in addition to the supplies sent for the use of the soldiers in Manila, and for the use of the sick soldiers which it was then expected would be brought back. It comprised cocoa, chocolate, malted milk, permanganate of potash, Jamaica ginger, listerine, condensed milk, lime juice, clam jelly, dried fruit, farina, chipped beef and all the things that make a long sea voyage on a transport pleasant.

Mrs. Harrington, the manager of this department of the California Red Cross, gave a list of the articles sent to members of the hospital corps. The supplies were put in charge of a representative of the Red Cross. But as complaint had been made from previous transports that similar supplies sent had never been received by those for whom they were intended, Mrs. Harrington requested the members of the hospital corps on the Scandia to report to her if they did not get what was sent, and it was for that purpose that the list was given.

But the men of the hospital corps on the Scandia say that they have yet received none of these supplies. None were issued to them on the trip from San Francisco here, and they are now wondering whether any will be issued between here and Manila. These supplies are not in the control of the army officers nor of the ship's officers, but of the agent of the Red Cross. The hospital corps men when they asked him about the matter found him to be very evasive and contradictory in replies, at one time denying that he had any and at another that they were not to be used until after Manila was reached. The Red Cross agent has been away from the Scandia almost continuously since she has been in port, and considerable feeling has been worked up concerning the matter among the men of the hospital corps.

MADE A GOOD IMPRESSION

HAWAIIAN NATIONAL LEAGUE COMMITTEE.

Present Their Memorial to the Commissioners His Morning and Were Asked Many Questions.

The Hawaiian National League presented their memorial to the Commission this morning at 10 o'clock. The committee were before the Commission nearly an hour, many questions being put to them by the Commissioners directed to last night's royalist meeting, for which the Commissioners seemed to seek an explanation. From the tone of questions and the evident desire of the Commission to ascertain all that was possible about the leaders of the royalist meeting, it would appear that a very bad impression has been effected by it in the minds of some at least of the Commissioners. Other questions put to the committee touched on the franchise.

Following is the text of the memorial presented.

The Hawaiian National League by its committee duly appointed by the several delegates of the several branch associations from the several Islands at a meeting duly held in Honolulu, on the 12th day of September, 1898, respectfully ask you to embody in your report as part of your recommendation to Congress the following:

The form of government which would meet the approval and serve the best interests of these Islands would be in our humble opinion that of an organized territorial form of government with the right to administer our own local affairs in the widest manner possible, not in conflict with the interests of the Federal Government. Our reasons for asking for this form of government are:

First—That we have been accustomed for the past fifty years or more to exercise the highest prerogatives of a sovereign state.

Second—That in the exercise of these sovereign rights we have kept ourselves free from foreign entanglements, and have given the greatest amount of protection to life and property, enabling subjects of other nations to enjoy the benefits of a free and enlightened government.

Third—That under the new order of things, the form of government we pray for will enable us to qualify ourselves for statehood, should wealth and population favor us.

We pray that we be given the right to vote in all local affairs compatible with a representative government, without any restriction except that of an educational one. Our reasons for asking for the suffrage in this form are:

First—We believe that every person living in a representative government should have the right to participate therein, and as we have had a representative form of government heretofore, the exercise of such right is neither new nor strange to us.

Second—We believe that the imposition of a property qualification is not compatible to the best interests of all, but gives to the property holder an over-powering influence not in accordance with the constitution of the United States, or with its policy, that enlightenment or intellectually shall be the guiding star of its institutions.

We pray that our judiciary system shall be kept in the present form as near as possible, and that our supreme court be the last court of resort in all matters pertaining to our local affairs. Our reasons for asking this are:

First—That our present system has given us the fullest measure of justice.

Second—That it would work a great hardship to us if appeals were to be taken to the United States which none but the rich could afford to.

We pray that no contract laborers be allowed to come into the country, but ask that a transition state be allowed the agricultural interests of the country, to adjust themselves to the new conditions of things. We ask this for these reasons:

First—That the existence of contract laborers is degrading, and contrary to the spirit of the laws and policy of the United States.

Second—That we believe the agricultural interests of the country could be best served under the new order of things by applying the principle of co-operation; this will then bring into the country a desirable class of people, who will make homes and develop the latent resources of the country.

Third—That as nearly all lands are now held in the hands of a few, and are being held and will be held in large tracts as long as a cheap class of laborers are imported; but by excluding them, and applying the principle of co-operation the lands will be divided into small holdings thereby benefiting the people and country at large.

We pray that the laws relating to piscatorial rights in the Hawaiian Islands be abolished.

We pray that the local flag of Hawaii, be the flag which we have been accustomed to live under; such act of courtesy will be most pleasing and agreeable to the people of these Islands.

We pray that in the formation of our local government we be allowed to make appropriations for Ex-Queen Liliuokalani, Princess Victoria Kaiulani and Queen Dowager Kapiolani.

BIGGEST PLANTATION YET

BELIEF THAT OAHU WILL GROW INTO THAT.

Capital Stock is to be Increased to $2,400,000, and the Property of the Company Fully Developed.

Oahu may be expected to develop into the largest plantation on the Islands, with the possible exception of Pioneer Mill.

This is the plan and belief of the managers of the company. It has the land and it is proposed now to develop it.

At a meeting of the shareholders this morning it was voted to increase the capital stock by 6,000 shares making the total capitalization $2,400,000. The new stock will be issued November 15th, and sold at par, payable as assessments are called for, to the stockholders pro rata. The money derived, as well as that now being collected on the outstanding assessable stock, will be used to put in two new pumping plants this year and to develop the land owned by the company. This plan is adopted instead of issuing bonds. The general belief is that the plantation by this action will be put on a dividend paying basis sooner than if the enlarging plans had not been undertaken.

On the Exchange eight shares of Ewa were sold at 240.
