THE ARMY THANKSGIVING

LADIES ARRANGE FINAL DETAILS THIS MORNING.

No Further Contributions Required—Finances All Right—Plans for the Day.

There was quite a large gathering of ladies at the home of Mrs. Dole on Emma street this morning to make final arrangements for the dinner to the soldiers on Thanksgiving day. Work was enthusiastically carried out and all the numerous details of the reception successfully and satisfactorily shaped.

"Please say to the public that the ladies do not require any further contributions of any character for the dinner," said a member of the committee after the meeting. "We have all the funds needed; an amount sufficient to meet any emergency."

That means that all the tables are supplied with goods things of every kind, the turkeys are ready, the delicacies are in hand and the sodas are ordered. It means that the corps of waiters are working under their several heads. Every effort will be used to make the boys in blue feel that, although they are far from home, they are among friends—true friends—who wish to see they always happy and contented.

The first dinner to be served on Thanksgiving day will be at the engineers' camp, at 12 o'clock noon. This is at the request of the soldiers themselves who preferred the hour selected. All the other feasts will be served at 1 o'clock. There are 350 men in the camp of the engineers. They will have four tables. Mrs. Robert Lewers will have first charge. She will be assisted by Mrs. John A. McCandless, Mrs. John H. Soper and Miss Nellie Judd.

Mrs. M. Louissou and Mrs. T. W. Hobron will have charge of the feast to the patients and helpers at the Buena Vista hospital in Nuuanu valley.

Mrs. H. M. Dow will be in first charge of the feast to patients and helpers at the convalescents' camp on the slopes of Punchbowl. By special request of the neighbors they will be allowed by the committee to prepare a special dinner to the helpers at the camp, the ladies furnishing merely the turkeys and cranberry sauce. The committee was amply prepared to do the whole work, but gave in to the earnest request of the families in the neighborhood to help.

Mrs. J. N. Wright will look after the hospital at Independence park. This work is undertaken independently and is not in the program of the ladies' committee.

The big feast will of course be at Waialae. This is the New York camp and contains nearly a thousand men. Mrs. Dole will be in charge. There will be eight tables. Mrs. Dole will have supervision of the one occupied by the officers of the regiment. Heads of the other tables will be Mrs. F. M. Hatch, Mrs. C. B. Cooper, Mrs. S. M. Damon, Mrs. Ingalls, Mrs. H. E. Wally, Mrs. T. G. Thrum and Mrs. H. M. Sewall.

The long tables at the Executive building grounds will be moved out to the camps and will be used for the feast. They are admirably adapted to the purpose.

The only thing the ladies are now hoping for is good weather. This happy dispensation, and the success of the soldiers' Thanksgiving feast is assured.

ANOTHER CONTRIBUTION.

Judge C. F. Hart has contributed $25 through Mrs. F. M. Hatch to the soldiers' Thanksgiving dinner fund.

TYPEWRITERS!!

In no line of mechanics is excellence of construction of such vital importance as in Typewriters.

The PEERLESS is especially noted for its durability, simplicity and its speed.

Considering first cost only the PEERLESS is not one of the so-called "cheap machines," but looking at it from a business point of view, comparing quantity and quality of work, loss of time from breakdowns on steamer days, when the Typewriter is most needed, and cost of repairs, as well as the life of the Typewriter, the PEERLESS is without an equal and is the cheapest machine on the market.

NEW HOSPITAL BUILDING

BIG STRUCTURE FOR BUENA VISTA PREMISES.

Independence Park to be Abandoned at Once—Colonel Rublen Talks of the Sick.

Permission has come from Washington to abandon Independence park as a hospital site as soon as other quarters can be fitted up. The surgeons of the camp and hospital are afraid that the site is too low for health during the comparatively wet winter months.

In obedience to the instructions of the department Colonel Rublen began this morning the erection of a new hospital building on the Buena Vista premises in Nuuanu Valley, recently acquired from Bruce Waring & Co. The structure will be 45 feet wide by 160 feet long, and will have side kitchens, surgeons' and stewards' quarters.

This will give complete accommodations for all the sick soldiers here. The new buildings will take 120, Buena Vista proper about 100 and the convalescents' hospital the remainder.

"We would not be jammed for room," said Colonel Rublen this morning, "were it not for the transient patients with which we have to deal. Our own situation can be handled with comparative ease. It must be understood, though, that there are nearly a hundred patients left here by the various transports."

"As fast as possible we will relieve the congestion by sending the convalescents home. That, too, has heretofore been a hard matter. The last China steamer, upon which we expected to send quite a number, would not take a man for the reason that it was already jammed with passengers from the Orient. I expect to be able to get a good number off by the Australia next week."

The new hospital building is being put up by the engineers assisted by local carpenters. If sufficient outside help can be kept at work the building will be ready for service in the course of a few weeks.

HAWAIIAN HOTEL CHANGES

TWO STORIES TO BE ADDED TO THE STRUCTURE.

A Cafe Veranda Included in the Plans—Beach Annex Building Progressing—Many New Features Added.

One and perhaps two stories are to be added to the Hawaiian hotel. It will not be done this winter, though the plans are all prepared. It could not be done very well during the season of the heavy tourist travel.

The improvements which are now in course of construction, however, are all planned with reference to the increase in height of the main building. The most important of these is the cafe veranda. This is on the Pacific club side of the dining room. It will be on the same level as the dining room, the present windows of the latter being cut into doorways. It will be twenty feet wide, open on the sides, the roof, which will be of handsome colored Spanish tiles, will be supported by highly ornate Corinthian columns. Potted palms in the corners and about the lanai will give a deliciously outdoor air to the cafe. Beneath this cafe veranda will be a porte cochere. The idea of this cafe veranda is that when the hotel is crowded it will be a part of the regular dining room. When so much room is not required it will be a gentleman's cafe. The whole purpose is to keep the hotel right up to the requirements of the increasing travel to the Islands in service and accommodations.

The present veranda adjoining the dining room on the Hotel street side is also to be thrown into the dining room in the same way. At each side of the steps leading up to the main entrance, there is to be built a circular lanai, with a radius of about twenty-one feet. The one on the dining room side will form a part of the cafe veranda. The one on the other side will form an addition to the present large lanai and veranda.

The new cottages on the hotel grounds are now nearly completed, and will be used at once. All the improvements have been made on plans prepared by Traphagen on a design that will make the completed building a strikingly handsome one architecturally.

While these plans and improvements have been going on the plans for the Beach Annex at Waikiki have not stood still. Already cottages and buildings containing forty-five rooms with accommodations for fifty or sixty guests have been completed. The new bath house on a design entirely unique here is practically completed. It is two stories in height. The first story contains an observation lanai, and thoroughly equipped dressing rooms, fresh water plunge and showers, and that sort of thing. The second story contains bed rooms so that gentlemen can take a room there after an evening's swim in the surf or to be convenient for a morning plunge. The entire building is ornamented in highly decorative mill work and Moorish red. The light effects will be something unique. There will be more than 600 colored lights used. The illumination effects will be something striking. They cannot be put into effect at once, however, until the arrival of the new machinery for the Electric Light Company.

While the Macfarlanes are thus planning to keep up with the best requirements of tourist travel in the matter of buildings and accommodations, they have not neglected the other appointments of a first class hotel. They have a new chef who is just getting things to suit him. He is Jules Harder, who arrived about three weeks ago. He comes here from Del Monte, but is well known in the east. Warren Leland brought him to San Francisco when he opened the Palace hotel there. He has the highest reputation as a chef.

The regular Thanksgiving dinner at the hotel will be served tomorrow evening. There will be music and dancing during the evening.

THANKSGIVING SERVICES.

At 10 o'clock Thanksgiving morning the Second Congregation of St. Andrew's cathedral will hold services. Rev. Alex. Mackintosh will preach. Bishop Willis will hold the services for the First Congregation at 11 a. m.

ERRANT GALICIANS.

A couple of Galician women, who through the excitement and unrest among the Galician laborers, imagined they were dissatisfied with their surroundings, left Oahu plantation this morning. They went aboard the Mauna Loa, trying to stow away. They were taken to Haekfeld & Co.'s office and consented to go back to their relatives. They are not under contract and so are free to go where they please.

THANKSGIVING SPORTS.

"The game will be a good one," said J. Q. Wood, referring to the football match arranged for Thursday afternoon. "We will have a stronger line up than ever and I know the Punahele are in fine shape. The public may expect some good playing and a hard contest."

BIG DAMAGE SUIT.

Difficulty in Finding Jury to Try the Waialuku Case.

The foreign jury was exhausted in Judge Stanley's court this morning in the effort to secure twelve men to hear the case of M. de J. Gouvea vs. Waialuku Sugar Company, damages in the sum of $50,000. Mr. Kinney, attorney for the defendant, excused fourteen men. Judge Perry's court being in session there were only twenty-four jurors to pick from. The case was postponed until this afternoon and the court bailiff was dispatched for enough takersmen to go on with the hearing.

This case is familiar to everyone. Plaintiff's husband was run over by a car on the railway of the Waialuku Sugar Company and killed. Charles Creighton is attorney for plaintiff and Kinney & Ballou appear for the defense.

KILAUEA COFFEE COMPANY

ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION FILED TODAY.

Said to be the Largest Coffee Plantation in the Hawaiian Islands—Contains Over 139,000 Trees.

The Kilauea Coffee Company filed its articles of incorporation in the office of the Minister of the Interior this morning. The company is formed to own and operate the plantation started in 1893 by Dr. J. M. Whitney, Dr. A. E. Nichols, C. B. Wells and others. The property included in the plantation comprises over 400 acres of the choicest land in Olaa district. It is sixteen and a half miles from Hilo, midway to the Volcano, and the exact altitude is 1,650 feet. This altitude is claimed by experienced planters, and they point to their success to prove it, as the most favorable for coffee culture.

The plantation has in all about 139,000 trees, over 20,000 of which are a little more than three years old, and have been bearing two years. Two hundred acres of its land has not yet been planted, but will be soon. None of its coffee has been sold at less than the highest prices quoted for Hawaiian coffee. The testimonials it has received from various coffee houses in the eastern and middle states are the most favorable, and show that the leading houses will compete for the purchase of Hawaiian coffee at prices higher than any other coffee now in the market.

The management of the plantation will continue to be directed by Dr. Nichols, to whom is largely due the credit of managing to successful results, what is probably the largest coffee plantation in the Hawaiian Islands.

CEMETERY MATTER.

The most important matter now before the cabinet is that of a new cemetery for Honolulu. While nothing definite has been determined upon, the crematory feature has given place to a discussion of two favored sites for burial purposes. Attorney General Smith is still an earnest champion of the Halawa tract. Mr. Dole is urging the top of Punchbowl as a better place. This idea is new and at first met with objections. The contention that it is high and would jeopardize the health of the city through the water supply is affirmed and denied.

No conclusion has yet been reached. The subject will be discussed again tomorrow, and will then probably lie over until the return of Ministers Cooper and King from Hawaii.

SOUVENIR CALENDAR.

The Woman's Exchange Souvenir Calendar for 1899 has been received. It has twelve views of the Islands, each one being of interest. January has canoe riding at Waikiki; February, the Executive building; March, taro patches and coconuts; April, cane cutting; May, coffee plantation; June, the Falls; July, old trail to Volcano; August, Rainbow Falls; September, the Volcano; October, Moanua valley; November, leper settlement; December, Pearl Harbor.

The calendars are sold for the benefit of the Woman's Exchange, than which no more worthy institution exists here. The calendars are prettily gotten up and no doubt will prove an acceptable little Christmas remembrance to mail away.
