Hawaiian Electric Company.

The cleanest, brightest, safest and really a "long run, the cheapest and best light" for use in the family residence, is the incandescent electric light. Safe; nothing could be safer. A few days ago a prominent gentleman of Honolulu came rushing down to the office of the Electric Company and said: "Give me figures for wiring my house, and I want it done at once; no more lamps for me. Last night a lamp tipped over and it came so near setting fire to the house and burning my children and I take no more risks."
This is the sentiment of quite a number in the past few weeks, who have ordered their houses fitted with the perfect light.
Just think it over and make up your mind that you want the best and safest light; send for the Hawaiian Electric Company and tell them what you want.
We have a complete stock of everything in his line and have just received a lot of the very latest designs in chandeliers

HAWAIIAN SCHOOL PROBLEM

H. S. TOWNSEND'S ADDRESS AT LOS ANGELES.

States the Problem Clearly and Points Out the Direction of Effort to Solve it. Future Prospects.

The representatives of Hawaii took an important part in the National Educational Convention at Los Angeles, as the press dispatches during the convention showed. Among the addresses reported in full in the Los Angeles Powers was that of Inspector General Townsend on the "Educational Problem in Hawaii." An abstract of his address is here given:

"Since every race has its own past, present and future to consider, and since individual peculiarities complicate every educational problem, no such problem can be simple. But when people of different races, different civilizations, different ideas, and different ideals become mingled, the problem becomes especially complicated.

"At first glance it might seem to an outside observer that in so small a country as Hawaii, whatever the heterogeneity of the adult population, the influence of the environment, would readily approach homogeneity. But, in spite of appearance to the contrary, the environment of the children of Hawaii is exceedingly diversified, for it must not be forgotten that environment is both physical and spiritual, of things and of men or that it is the spiritual element which produces the quickest results. Race differences are deep seated and not dependent upon present environment.

"At every turn we of Hawaii find ourselves face to face with the problem. For it is necessary that our heterogeneous population be made comparatively homogeneous. It is hard for those living in other parts of the country to appreciate the magnitude of this part of our problem. The ends of the earth meet in Hawaii, and no one race is predominant in numbers. Though present indications are that the Asiatic element barring immigration, will be almost half of the generation next to be born in Hawaii.

"But quality as well as quantity must be considered in discussing such a race problem. And there is a very radical difference in quality between the white, the brown and the yellow races. The white race is breeding for active, self-assertive, strong individuality. It is in this race that individualism is found in its extreme form. On the other hand, the Hawaiians are of the extreme passive type, influenced somewhat by their contact with the white race.

"Language has been considered a solvent of racial incongruities, and in this there is a large element of truth. Those who have a common language understand one another better than those who have not. And to know is to forgive, as the proverb has it. To teach all our people the English language and thus make Anglo-Saxons of them would indeed, be a very simple solution of our race problem, and it would have the virtue of laying out every definite line of work of our schools in such solution.

"Although English education for Hawaii has everything in its favor, and is an absolute necessity, it offers but a small part of the solution of this great problem. Polynesians and Asiatics cannot be made to think and feel as Anglo-Saxons by the simple process of teaching them the English language, or by any other process which does not involve evolution through generations.

"The problem of school education in Hawaii, then, is to take a just part in the development of this civilization so necessary to the future prosperity and happiness of the people, and to prepare individuals for its duties and privileges.

"The problem of giving these elements of our population a common tongue has been mentioned, and the absolute necessity of its solution has been recognized already; but it requires a word more lest its magnitude be not fully appreciated. According to our latest census, that of 1926, but little if any over 5 per cent of our school population are of English speaking parentage. In most schools of Hawaii there are children who speak at home from two to seven different languages, and yet none speak English—the language of the schools.

"Our school are in a special sense and most emphatically social institutions. The great art which our pupils of the various races must learn, is the art of living together in peace and harmony. Their most important lessons are those of mutual respect and forbearance. There are few countries where the foundation principles which underlie social order, develop so plainly before the very eyes of school children.

"Such are the chief peculiarities of the educational problem in Hawaii. It will be seen that the great difference between it and the general educational problem, are of degree rather than of kind. An absolute solution of our problem must be sought for in the hearts of our brethren of some other part of the world shall have solved theirs. Yet under our peculiar and great difficulties the educational workers of Hawaii are taking up their work with such wisdom, strength and courage, as the God of Peace has given them.

CHRONIC DIARRHOEA CURED.
Persons troubled with diarrhoea will be interested in the experience of Mr. W. M. Bush, clerk of Hotel Dorrance, Providence, R. I. He says: "For several years I have been almost a constant sufferer from diarrhoea, the frequent attacks completely paralyzing me, and rendering me unfit for my duties at this hotel. About two years ago a traveling salesman kindly gave me a small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Much to my surprise and delight its effects were immediate. Whenever I felt symptoms of the disease I would fortify myself against the attack with a few doses of this valuable remedy. The result has been very satisfactory and almost complete relief from the affliction. For sale by all dealers and druggists. Benson, Smith & Company, general agents, Hawaiian Islands."
