WILCOX OPPOSES CHANGE

DOLE IS BEST LOCAL MAN FOR GOVERNOR.

Will Not Recommend Change to McKinley—If Change is Made Will Recommend an Eastern Man.

Robert Wilcox denies that he will make any recommendation to President McKinley in regard to the Governor of the Territory. He also denies a report in an afternoon paper of yesterday to the effect that he would support the name of Sam. Parker for the office.

"I am not taking part in the squabble," states the Delegate. "I am going to California to greet President McKinley. If I have an opportunity I will talk to him about the recent session of the Legislature.

"The intention originally, I believe, to send the resolutions condemning the Governor by me. I do not believe in these resolutions, and I understand the party is now considering sending a committee to present the resolutions to the President.

"I agree with Dr. Hesse in his policy of 'let every man alone.' Mr. Dole is dominated by the sugar planters. In fact, the sugar planters are the government. But how are you going to better the situation? Sam. Parker is under the thumb of the sugar planters, and show me a man of capability in the country who is not?"

"In other words, I do not believe there is in this country a man of brains that is not so bound up to the sugar planters that he will not do. If a change is to be made, I should prefer seeing a stranger eye in as Governor. If President McKinley should ask my advice on the point, I should recommend sending someone from the extreme east. How long the stranger could stay here before getting into the clutches of the sugar planters is something I do not know.

"I expect to leave here by the Mariposa on the 8th."

In speaking of recommending a man from the east, it looks as if Wilcox meant Sewall, inasmuch as the Organic Act prescribes that the governor shall be a citizen of the Territory of Hawaii, and Sewall is the only man from the "extreme" east, who claims to be a citizen of Hawaii. Still Sewall is reputed to be considerably interested in sugar.

There are those who claim to see in this attitude of Wilcox a part of the scheme of the Sewall men to get Sewall appointed. According to these, Wilcox draws away from his Home Rule brethren, while they beat the tom-toms and the hula drums and stampee President McKinley into removing Dole. Then Wilcox is expected to take his claim, will step in and recommend "some one from the extreme east."

FUNERAL TOMORROW.

The funeral of the late Mrs. T. S. Douglas will take place from the Roman Catholic Cathedral May 5th at 3 p. m. Friends and acquaintances are respectfully invited to attend. Interment, Catholic Cemetery, King street.

THE KINDERGARTENS.

Monthly Meeting of the Board of Supervisors.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Supervisors of the Free Kindergarten and Children's Aid Association was held yesterday morning at the Y. M. C. A. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Hyde, Mrs. W. P. Allen presided. Reports were received from all the kindergartens. In the matter of the Castle Home which is also under the control of the association, Mrs. Weaver having resigned to become manager of the Lunallo Home, Mrs. Pettis was appointed to take charge temporarily, until the end of the school year, when Miss Jackson now at Kawaihae Seminary will become matron. There have been as many as nine children cared for at the day nursery or creche in one day, and during the month twelve different children have been cared for. Mrs. E. F. Bishop was appointed on the visiting committee.

WILL LAST LONG.

The case of H. M. Mest vs. Kapiolani Estate, adjourned, was on again in Circuit chambers yesterday and will doubtless be on for another week. A question of title is involved and, as it is usual in some cases, the court room is filled with very old natives to testify.

WILL VISIT MAINE.

William Henry, jailor of Oahu prison will sail early in June for a visit to his old home in Maine. Mr. Henry has not seen his aged mother in twenty-five years, and the pleasure of the meeting after so long can be readily imagined. He will be away exactly two months.

WAS RIGHT FLAG FLYING?

CAPTAIN RINDER OF COPTIC SAYS THAT IT WAS.

Hair Splitting Question of Marine Etiquette—Fly Japanese Flag on Foremast When Entering Port.

When the steamship Coptic came into port yesterday afternoon the crowd of people on the Pacific Mail dock rubbed their eyes and took a second look at the vessel. According to the signals that were flying from the foremast the sovereignty of the Hawaiian Islands had suddenly changed and instead of this being under American rule the Little Brown Men of Japan were the rulers. Inquiry from the vessel reassured the people however that Japan had not issued a proclamation, unknown to the balance of the world, asserting ownership over these islands but the Paradise of the Pacific was still under the guardianship of Uncle Sam.

The cause of the trouble was due to the Coptic displaying the Japanese flag at the foremast. Captain Rinder says that that is the correct form. Water front sticklers for etiquette declare that he was in error. According to marine custom, they assert a vessel displays at her foremast the flag of destination. Had this been observed by the Coptic she would have flown the American flag as this place and San Francisco are American ports. The oceanic vessels going to the Colonies display the British flag when they enter this port. This is done however because Honolulu is merely a way port while the Colonies are the place of destination.

Captain Rinder says that it is right to display the flag of the country from which he comes. Inasmuch as Yokohama was the last port whence he came he had the Japanese flag flying from the masthead. Today he leaves this port for San Francisco and his vessel flies the American flag as this is an American port.

STOPPED AFTER STARTING

COPTIC TARRIES FOR THREE PASSENGERS.

Captain Rinder Sends a Boat After Them—Many Honolulu People See the Vessel Off.

Three of the Coptic's through passengers were late in arriving at the Pacific Mail wharf this morning when the vessel left, and as a result they had an exciting time getting on board. The Coptic left very promptly at eleven o'clock and she was heading outwards when the three passengers arrived in a hack and rushed to the edge of the wharf to hail the ship.

Captain Rinder saw the late arrivals and shouted through a trumpet that he would wait and send for them. A boat took them to the steamer and the gangway was lowered, while the vessel waited. It was a narrow escape, as a minute more would have seen the steamer beyond hearing.

Many Honolulu people were on the wharf to see the Coptic depart and leis were plentiful. Among the through passengers was W. W. Irwin, formerly Hawaiian consul to Japan, who carried on the negotiations by which Japanese immigration was started here.

It was reported on the wharf that the Home Rulers were to use the Coptic for the removal of Governor Dole, etc. The work of engraving it was carried on all night, but it was not finished.

Just before the steamer left the new political chums, Sam Parker and Delegate to Congress Wilcox arrived together, well weighted down with leis. They had friends to see on board, also. It is stated, dispatches to send off. Both of them leave for the coast on the Mariposa next week.

HAVE LOCATED CAPT. MERRY.

Captain Merry has at last been located, or at least approximately located. By letters which were received here from him it was ascertained that he had left Guam and should now be in San Francisco. Captain Merry wrote to his nephew Arthur L. Merry the chief clerk of the naval station here that he expected to leave Guam for Manila about March 20th. By another letter which came by the last mail Captain Merry had reached Manila April 6th and expected to take the first transport to San Francisco. As the transports are leaving at very frequent intervals it is more than probable that he is now in San Francisco. He will probably come here about the first part of June.

ANOTHER BUSY DAY.

There has been a run of Jongsols on the Chinese bureau today for registration. Little brown men, women and children have gone there in hacks and afoot. If the work of today is repeated each of the remaining days, all the Chinese of Honolulu will be registered.

THE HOUSE PROCEEDINGS

STENOGRAPHIC RECORD NOT IN THE JOURNAL.

A Resolution to Include It Not Backed Up By Provision for Transcribing It.

The Journal of the House of Representatives will probably not include the stenographer's record of the proceedings, as provided for by resolution, and the account sent to President McKinley will not be such record as Secretary Cooper started to take when he was ordered to leave the floor of the house. The Journal will be just an ordinary record of the minutes.

Stenographer Avery was appointed at the beginning of the session to take the proceedings of the representatives and he has note books in which all the debates and motions are reported verbatim. This is the sort of record Cooper started to take. About the middle of the session the house adopted a resolution to include in the Journal all the stenographer's notes. This would have made the Journal very voluminous and would have made it include all the interesting and amusing arguments that have taken place. But no appropriation was made for transcribing and printing Avery's notes and the Journal has been ordered prepared and printed without them. The work is now going on.

It is estimated that the transcribing and printing of Avery's notes would cost $10,000. They would make good reading, in the opinion of many who attended the sessions he reported.

SEWALL GONE FOR GOOD

DOES NOT EXPECT TO RETURN TO HAWAII.

Remnant of Household Furniture and Furnishings Not Previously disposed of Have Been Ordered Sold.

Harold M. Sewall, the long distance citizen and absentee national committee-man of Hawaii, does not intend to return here. At least the time of his return is "indefinite and problematical."

When the Sewall Lares and Penates were packed up and shipped in the hold of the ship Erskine M. Phelps to San Francisco about a year ago, and the Sewall ferns and potted plants, and the Sewall horses and carriage were sold at public auction, there was a loud outcry at the suggestion that this meant that the Sewalls had left the islands permanently. It was explained that he was going to stump Maine and Michigan and other impregnable Republican states for McKinley and Roosevelt. The campaign in Hawaii was left for the Republicans who make their permanent homes here to fight out without the assistance of the national committee-man.

For this summer the Sewalls have taken a cottage in California. But it seems that when the Sewalls sold and shipped their effects a year ago there was some household furniture and furnishings that was left here. By the last mail letters were received from Mrs. Sewall directing that all these should be sold and stating as a reason that their return to Hawaii was "indefinite and problematical."

A FRIGHTENED MULE.

Animal Severely Injured by a Lawnmower.

The Kamehameha school grounds were the scene of a bad runaway, almost resulting in the death of a mule, this morning. The animal was hitched to a lawnmower and became frightened at the machine. It ran several hundred yards and then fell with the lawnmower behind it and kicked until both animal and feet were stuck in the machinery.

The animal's hind legs were severely cut before they could be loosened. One shoe was torn off, and by the time the mule was released quite a pool of blood was where it had fallen. The lawnmower was badly mangled and had to be taken to pieces before the animal could be released.

NAMING AND NUMBERING.

New Street Laws Give Honolulu a Modern System.

The result accomplished by Home Rule members of the house is less in reality even than the records seem to show. In fact it appears that the two-thirds majority of the house enacted only one piece of legislation and that was the female dog bill.

The other laws that show on the record as having come from the Home Rule side, the law for naming streets and the law for numbering buildings in Honolulu, were framed by Dickey and others.

The two acts passed and signed to provide for naming of streets and numbering of buildings are based upon similar laws elsewhere, and will give Honolulu a complete modern system of naming and numbering streets. The laws were so drafted that the work already done in the way of numbering will fit in the new system.

BEWARE OF A COUGH.

A cough is not a disease but a symptom. Consumption and bronchitis, which are the most dangerous and fatal diseases, have for their first indication a persistent cough, and if properly treated as soon as this cough appears are easily cured. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has proven wonderfully successful, and gained its wide reputation and extensive sale by its success in curing the diseases which cause coughing. If it is not beneficial it will not cost you a cent. For sale by all dealers. Benson, Smith & Company, general agents Hawaiian Islands.

PLAN TO SNOVE THE QUEER

SCHEME TO FLOAT SPURIOUS COIN IN HONOLULU.

Secret Service Agents in San Francisco Caught a Famous Forger With Counterfeiting Material in His Possession.

Unless the Federal Secret Service Men of San Francisco are mistaken Honolulu has just escaped being flooded with spurious coin. That the counterfeiting would have proved successful is highly probable from the fact that one of the most noted forgers the world has ever known is alleged to have been behind the scheme. The suspected culprit is no less a person than George T. McDonald who forged the bogus paper with which the Bidwell Brothers and Noyes succeeded in 1872 in victimizing the Bank of England to the extent of $5,000,000. The "crowd" were subsequently caught and sentenced to imprisonment for life but were released after serving fifteen years each.

Secret Service Agent George Hazen caused the arrest of McDonald upon the charge of having counterfeited tools in his possession. Back of the arrest is a story of counterfeiting upon a gigantic scale. Hazen has reason for believing that McDonald had deeply laid plans to coin Mexican dollars into American money and circulate the stuff in Honolulu, the Philippines and China.

In his defence McDonald says: "About six months ago I met a man named Young in Stockton, and he proposed that he make the dies and coin Mexican dollars into American dollars, a process netting about 100 per cent profit. At first I refused to become mixed up in the scheme, but when he taunted me with my previous record and told me I had lost my nerve, I consented.

"An engraver was employed to make the dies, but failed, and the matter was dropped, as I thought, six months ago. I haven't given it a thought since, I suppose my part will go against me, but I have been leading an honest life. If the engraver had succeeded in making a die I intended to give Young away. I even told Pinkerton to watch him."

McDonald was in prison in San Francisco according to the last advice waiting to be examined before United States Commissioner Heacock.

HILO IS NORMAL.

HILO, May 3.—Three and one-third inches of rain in less than two hours is the rain gauge record for Hilo on Monday the 29th. More to be expected than the road board will be able to put back in several times two hours, unless the Legislature makes an appropriation pretty soon.

HAIL IN OLAHA.

HILO, May 3.—In upper Olan on Monday hail stones as large as a hen's egg were much in evidence. The storm lasted several minutes. Several old residents tried to save a few to make Scotch high balls with, but they don't keep well in this climate.

KINAU ARRIVES TODAY.

The steamer Kinau arrived at 1 o'clock this afternoon from Hilo and way ports. The vessel brought a good sized list of passengers and considerable freight. On Thursday a banquet on board the vessel was tendered to Commodore Beckley the purser, by the officers of the ship and his friends, the occasion being Mrs. K. Nux's birthday. Beckley's birthday occurs today but his friends took the opportunity while he was in Hilo of showing their regard for him. The saloon was tastefully decorated in flags, flowers and tropical plants.

PASSENGERS.

Per Stmr. Kinau, May 4, from Hilo and way ports—John Wand, C. Fellichaels, Father McLaughlin, Palmer O. Woods, Theodore Wolff, A. Fernandez, Mrs. R. C. Finley, Mrs. D. E. Neuman, B. ### FREIGHT.

Per Stmr. Kinau, May 4, from Hilo and way ports: 30 head cattle, 4 cows, 2 calves, 11 cords wood, 140 pigs 85 bags taro, 90 bags corn, 27 bags coffee 240 packages sundries.

CANNOT COMPARE WITH BRITISH.

The export movement in American coal has been checked, according to a report from Consul Thackara at Havre. He answers many inquiries from coal dealers here by the statement that American steam coal, run of the mine, alongside the wharf at Havre is quoted at $5.33 per ton, while British coal ranges from $2.81 to $4.25. The latter very best quality of picked coal. There are also discounts on these English rates, and unless the American exporter can solve the problem of securing cheap freight rates his coal, though delivered on board more cheaply than the British coal, cannot compete in Europe.

CUNHA BEAT THE CASE

CAN NOW EMPLOY MINORS IN HIS SALOON.

Unless Territorial Grand Jury Takes Up Matter—One of Recent Legislation's Laws Temporarily Sidetracked.

Unless the Territorial grand jury takes cognizance of his employment of minors, E. S. Cunha of the Union Saloon will be able to employ as many boys about his resort as he thinks his interests justify. This morning Judge Wilcox discharged Cunha on his trial on the charge of violating Section 1 of Act 4 of the Session Laws of 1901 which prohibits the employment of minors in or about places where liquors are sold. While it was not in the province of the court to declare the law unconstitutional, the decision of Judge Wilcox can be taken as an indication of how the case may be regarded if it is ever tested in a high court.

More than usual interest was attached to the case as it was the first trial of an offence against the laws enacted by the recent legislature. Cunha was summoned last month on a charge of employing a minor in his saloon in violation of the Section 1 of Act 4 of the Session Laws of 1901. An amended complaint was filed this morning in which the name of the youth who was employed about Cunha's resort was given.

Sydney M. Ballou of Kinney, Ballou and McLaughlin appeared for the defendant and Deputy Attorney General Cathcart and Dunn were in court. Mr. Ballou filed the following demurrer asking the discharge of the defendant:

"Now comes E. S. Cunha, defendant in the above entitled cause, by his attorneys Kinney, Ballou and McLaughlin, and demurs to the complaint entered herein and for causes of demurrer alleges:

I. "That said complaint does not allege facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action.

II. "That the statute under which this prosecution is brought is unconstitutional and void.

III. "That Section 1 of Act 4 of the Session Laws of 1901 is unconstitutional and void, being repugnant to the 5th Amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

IV. "That section one of Act 4 of the Session Laws of 1901 is unconstitutional and void, being in conflict with that portion of Section 8, Article 1 of the Constitution of the United States reserving to Congress the power to regulate commerce with foreign nations and among the several states:

"Wherefore defendant prays that he may be hence dismissed."

Mr. Ballou made a brief argument in support of the demurrer but before he made the argument both Mr. Cathcart and Mr. Dunn withdrew, on account of the press of business elsewhere. Mr. Dunn said that he would leave the prosecution of the case in the hands of Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth.

Mr. Ballou read the first section of Act 4 which the defendant was accused of violating. This section prohibits the employment of minor, in or about the premises of places where intoxicating liquors were sold. It failed he contended to specify saloons and, in consequence, applied with equal force to wholesale houses as well as to saloons. Any of the large establishments which sold liquor only in original packages could be held equally culpable with the proprietors of saloons who employed minors about their resorts.

Moreover, the law was in conflict with the 5th amendment of the Constitution of the United States regulating commerce between states. If the present laws of the session of 1901 were of force it would be a plain violation of that amendment governing inter-state commerce as the trade in liquor could be regarded.

Mr. Chillingworth made no argument against the demurrer and the court decided that he would sustain the points, so discharged the defendant.

JAMES H. BOYD AND W. H. WRIGHT PLACED.

One is Superintendent of Public Works and the Other Treasurer—Will Assume Charge Monday Morning.

James H. Boyd is the new Superintendent of Public Works.

W. H. Wright is the new Treasurer.

At an extra session of the Governor's council this afternoon Edward Boyd will be appointed Commissioner of Public Lands. He has been an employe of the land office for some time.

These appointments were made this morning. None others were decided upon, though it is likely that the office of commissioner of lands will be filled during the afternoon. J. A. Hassinger and Edward Boyd have been discussed for this place, although an outside man may receive the plum.

As was to be expected difficulty is being experienced in selecting members of the Board of Health. It is expected that the new list will be completed by Monday afternoon, although nothing is certain about it.

Superintendent Boyd and Treasurer Wright will receive their commissions on Monday and will assume their new duties at once.

Mr. Boyd has been connected with the government for nearly twenty years, most of them with the Interior Department and public works office. Mr. Wright has also been many years in government employ. He went from the tax office to the Department of Finance.

BIG FISH BUSINESS.

The Fishmarket Seils 79,000 Fish in One Week.

Last week was the biggest week at the fishmarket for some years past. During the week no less than 79,000 fish were brought into the market and sold. This is about 18,000 fish per day and is a high record for a town of Honolulu's size even if some of the fish are small.

The total figures include all fish, large and small, and this accounts in part for the enormous figures. Inspector Edwards counts and keeps a record of every fish that is brought into the market.

One current report about town is that the fish-business has been hurt by the small-pox scare, as the fish are many of them caught where the infected vessels lay in quarantine and may be supposed to have fed upon stuff thrown away from the vessels. The figures, however, show that there is nothing in the report.

THE CASTIGATED JURY.

In reply to a request for a statement as to his version of the Sodergren verdict and the jury castigation from United States Attorney Baird it brought forth E. R. Adams, foreman of the jury, said it was too soon in his opinion for any comment to come from the members of the jury that had been attacked by Mr. Baird.

"Mr. Baird made quite a lengthy speech," said Mr. Adams, "and at its conclusion it received the direct endorsement of Judge Estee. This speech as well as its endorsement by Judge Estee, was taken down by the court stenographer and I think," said Mr. Adams, "the first thing to do is to have that speech printed at length just as it was given. The papers state that Mr. Baird has refused to let the stenographer make a copy for publication until he has revised it. It seems to me that the court records ought to be made available to the public just as they were taken down, and until that is settled and we see what liberties, if any are allowed to be taken with the record, it is too soon to say anything."

LIFE INSURANCE.

Those who contemplate taking out life insurance should give their age, the amount of the policy desired, and the form of policy for which they have a preference to I. R. Burns, the local manager of the Provident Savings. No other insurance organization offers a greater variety of attractive propositions, either for short or long-term protection insurance of the inexpensive kind, or for endowment or any other form of policy embracing both investment and protection.
