LIVES WELLED.
One of the richest titled men in Great Britain is the Duke of Buccleuch, who owns, chiefly in Scotland, some 450,000 acres of land, bringing an annual rental of over $1,000,000. Ground rents of nearly the same amount are his, and he inherited nearly $5,000,000 from his father. The expense in connection with his various places of residence is also very great, for the duke is a free liver.

NOEAU HAD EXCITING TIME

WIND RIPPED BOXES LOOSE FROM DECK AT MAHUKONA. PARTED HEAVY HAWRSERS.

The steamer Noeau arrived this morning from Hawaii after one of the most exciting times in her experience. The vessel left here Christmas eve for Honolulu and Kukulhaele with considerable freight for both ports. Very rough weather was prevailing and after leaving Lahaina and Kanapali on Thursday, Captain Pederson put his vessel into Mahukona for shelter. There was a strong northeasterly swell running and the wind blew a gale from the same direction. During Christmas night, the force of the wind was so great that one of the boxes on the hurricane deck was ripped loose and whirled against the whistle damper the siren so that the signalling apparatus was put out of commission.

On the following day, Captain Pederson took the Noeau to Kukulhaele and landed mail. The weather continued in violence and he had to put into Waipio Gulch and remain there for shelter until Tuesday. Yesterday, the Kukulhaele freight was landed and 1280 bags of sugar were taken aboard. The waves began to increase in violence and size so the vessel had to get out of that place. Before she got under way she parted her two lead lines. An idea of the violence of the waves can be gained from the fact that one of these lines was a six inch hawser and the other a seven inch hawser. No anchors were lost however.

The weather was so violent that none of the freight for Honolulu could be landed and had to be brought to Honolulu. Captain Pederson was confronted with the alternative of going to either Hilo or Honolulu. His provisions were beginning to run short. He decided to return to the home port and arrived about 6 o'clock this morning. The vessel stopped at Lahaina for mail and passengers last night.

ON MISSIONARY INTERFERENCE

INTERVENTION OF MISSIONARIES IN CHINA FOR THEIR CONVERTS IN LAW COURTS DEPRECATED.

The matter of missionary interference in law-suits where native converts are concerned, is now attracting much attention in China. Several men, prominent among Christian propagandists, have expressed their views on the subject, and the leading journal of Shanghai devoted a long article to its discussion on the 25th of last month. Chinese officials complain very much of this abuse. They allege that, in consequence of the arbitrary intervention of missionaries, the administration of justice is disturbed and Christian converts are enabled to perpetrate wrongs which enrage their neighbors and are largely responsible for the riots and disturbances that take place periodically. It is probable that this charge is exaggerated. A few instances of practical wrong actually suffered are much more potential in moulding public opinion than long years of freedom from such abuses.

Dr. Griffith John, for example, a venerable and universal respected missionary, whose experience dates back to anti-Taiiping-rebellion days, alleges that among ten thousand Protestant converts in central China, not more than four, so far as he knows, are open to the accusation of having traded on their Christianity for purposes of litigation. But, it may be retorted, the accusation has never been strongly preferred against Protestant converts; it is the Roman Catholics that are said to be the chief sinners. Well, in answer to that Bishop Volanter, Vicar Apostolic of Southern Honan, comes forward and declares that he and his coadjutors have often published edicts disavowing ability to assist either Christians or their catechumens in temporal cases before law courts; have warned the courts that any plaintiff not bearing a European seal may be rejected, and have actually conveyed to local officials the names of bad and litigious Christians. Unless, then, the evidence on the foreign side is to be rejected altogether, we are compelled to admit that these charges are pressed too strongly by the Chinese. On the other hand, that the abuse exists and that it causes great umbrage can not be doubted for a moment. How is a remedy to be found? In discussing this phase of the matter the leading Shanghai journal makes some interesting remarks. It insists, in one paragraph, that since Chinese officials are "past masters in the art of juggling with fictions, and never do themselves more justice than when engaged in stuffing a few confiding foreign functionaries with the east wind," therefore all they say on this subject may not be taken as "gospel." No one can object to that reservation, although the terms in which it is expressed can scarcely be called illustrative of the discernment it prescribes. But when we come to read subsequent paragraphs of the same article, we find that our Shanghai contemporary evidently believes not only that the missionary agents is thrown over native converts in judicial matters, but also that such protection is essential for in considering the recommendation that no missionary should be allowed to assist or countenance his converts in yamen cases, the N.-C. Herald endorses Dr. John's plea, namely, that "if converts are understood to stand entirely alone, as respects the yamen, there will be no such thing as justice for them in any part of China, for officials regard them as men who have joined the enemies of their country, and would soon consider ways and means of getting them obliterated." Plainly, if Dr. John's belief be widely entertained among missionaries they must deem it a solemn duty to lend assistance to their converts in judicial affairs, and plainly if such assistance be one of the rewards of conversion, big game and intriguing persons will embrace Christianity for the sake of the legal status it confers. Thus we find ourselves revolving in a vicious circle. If the missionary does not protect his converts, Chinese officialdom will discriminate against them to their ruin; and if he does protect them, he will attract a class of converts whose ruin must necessarily be desired by officialdom. Most of the problems arising out of China's foreign relations partake of this insoluble nature when they are closely examined.—Japan Daily Mail.

A MODEL ACT FOR THE ISLANDS

MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENT LAW DRAWN BY EXPERT SENT FOR BY JOHN EMMELUTH.

In addition to the city and county government act which is being prepared by the commission of Republicans for the next legislature another act, "a model" based upon the studies of specialists and drawn with special consideration for the laws of Hawaii, will probably be presented to the lawmakers. John Emmeluth, a member of the last House, and one of the most earnest of the local fighters for city and county government, sent some time ago to the American Municipal League for an act suitable for these islands, and it will probably be here very soon.

The Municipal League is a national organization which has taken up the study of city government in the United States, and has for some years made a study of the various systems in vogue. It holds meetings at regular intervals, at which the current problems of government are discussed by leading men, and its membership, largely distributed throughout the country, represents the most advanced thought on the subject of city and county government. The league has drawn many organic acts for cities throughout the union.

Some time ago correspondence was opened with the league by Emmeluth, on the subject of municipal government for Hawaii. The result was an arrangement that the league should study the laws of Hawaii and the conditions here, and draw an act. Copies of the laws of Hawaii were sent to the league at Philadelphia, as well as all other information obtainable about Hawaii, and it is expected that an act drawn by the league experts, will soon arrive.

The act being prepared here is about complete. United States Attorney Breckons, who was employed by the commission, has made a draft, and it is being gone over by him and the commission, with a view to making such changes as are wanted to suit the views of the members of the commission.

ASSAULTED AN HAWAIIAN GIRL

A Portuguese named Nunes is alleged to have attempted to assault a young Hawaiian girl at the end of the car line in Manoa valley last night. Lorin Andrews and several natives went to the rescue. Nunes was kicked in the head several times by the rescuers. The girl refused to prosecute her attempted assailant on account of fearing publicity. She lectured him however and told him he had been very sinful.

THOUGHT SHE WAS RICH

Ohule a native woman thought she was worth $3,000,000 today. She announced the fact at the corner of Beretania and Fort streets this morning. Inasmuch as she did not have any of the alleged wealth to distribute an unkind world decided that she must be insane. The patrol wagon was summoned and she was taken into custody to be examined for her sanity.

WOODBURY SIGHTED

The schooner Charles Levi Woodbury was sighted this afternoon from Hilo.

WIELDED A RAZOR

Gonsalves a Porto Rican, was arrested today and charged with being unlawfully on the premises of a resident of Moanalua last night. Gonsalves is alleged to have chased after the native with a razor. Two charges were filed against Gonsalves this morning at the police station.

THE HOLIDAY OBSERVED

New Year's Day was very generally observed in Honolulu. Practically all of the business houses closed, and there were very few people on the streets. The city was very quiet all day.

AWAIT THE CABLE

The offices of the Commercial Pacific Cable Company are the principal center of interest in Honolulu this afternoon. The city awaits the first flash from San Francisco, and callers at the cable office are numerous. With every exchange of New Year's greetings there are mingled queries about the cable prospects.

SUMNER ON AGAIN

The hearing of the John K. Sumner case is to be resumed tomorrow morning before Judge De Bolt. Sumner is still on the stand under cross-examination by Humphreys, Thompson and Watson, and he is likely to spend another day or two on the stand.

CHESS CHAMPION

Dr. Emanuel Lasker, chess champion of the world, arrived at New York today. He intends making a professional tour of the United States and Canada beginning with the Manhattan chess club, where he will remain for a fortnight, playing five days a week. He has resigned his professorship of mathematics at Owens college, Manchester, England, because the climate did not agree with him. Lasker says chess is making great strides in Germany and England and the game was never so popular as now. This is due to the blind-folded feats of Pillsbury, to the return of Tarrasch to the active chess arena, and to the numerous masters' tournament.

WAR OVER THE SAVINGS BANK

C. P. HUNTINGTON'S ESTATE INVOLVED IN THE CONTEST—DILLON'S TRIP TO SAN FRANCISCO.

The estate of the late C. P. Huntington is mixed up in the dispute over the First American Savings Bank, as shown by the demurrer filed by the defendants, Cecil Brown and others, to the petition brought by W. T. Summers et al for a writ of quo warranto. Stock held in the bank by the estate of the deceased railroad president and millionaire is among the stock for which President Brown refused to accept a proxy. The amended demurrer, among other matters which it is claimed the petition fails to set forth, gives the following:

"That the action of the President of said corporation in refusing to allow the shares of stock offered on behalf of the estate of C. P. Huntington to be voted by the proxy presented, or that any other of the actions and doings of the respondents or any of them at the meeting of stockholders of December 8th, 1902, were irregular or improper, but on the contrary that the same were in accordance with law."

Attorney Thomas L. Dillon, who left for San Francisco on the Zealandia last trip, is reported to have gone on business connected with the Savings Bank, and the First National Bank. He is expected back on the Zealandia this time, on Saturday.

LEUNG CHI-TSO.

May Visit the Eastern Cities of the Mainland.

Leung-Chi-tso, the Chinese reformer who arrived in Honolulu three years ago today, and who is now at the head of a school for Chinese in Yokohama, has received an invitation from Dr. Yong Wing of New Haven Connecticut to visit the eastern cities of the United States during this year. The invitation may be accepted. Dr. Yong Wing is a graduate of Yale College and was naturalized an American citizen in the fifties. He passed through here a few months ago, and was entertained by Clinton J. Hutchins whose father was a classmate of Dr. Yong's at Yale. When Dr. Yong reached San Francisco the customs authorities did not recognize him as a Chinese in his European costume and he landed unchallenged. An outcry was made against this by some of those interested in the enforcement of the exclusion act, but no effort was made to deport Dr. Yong, his American citizenship having apparently been recognized.

CUSTOM HOUSE CLOSED.

Owing to today being a holiday, the Custom House was closed during the day to all business except the entrance and clearance of mail steamships.

THE "SECOND BRIDGE."

The Temporary Structure Opened to the Public Yesterday.

The temporary bridge on Nuuanu avenue across Nuuanu stream was opened to the public yesterday, and the old bridge was closed to the public. The old bridge will now be entirely removed and new permanent structure will be built beneath the temporary structure.

The old bridge was decided to be unsafe some time ago, and a temporary structure was begun at once to take the travel off the unsafe structure. The bridge is generally known as the "second" bridge and crosses Nuuanu stream just below the Nuuanu avenue terminus of the Pacific Heights railway, between Puuoa road and Bates street.

NEW CHINESE MINISTER.

The Chinese colony received word by the America Maru that Leung Sing, the new Chinese Minister to Washington in succession to Wu Ting Fang was leaving Peking November 22 for Canton which is his native province. He had leave to remain there a month before starting for his post of duty, so that it is likely he will pass through here some time during this month.

BASEBALL TODAY.

Punahou To Play Customs at Three O'clock.

The first baseball game of the season and the first athletic event of the year will take place this afternoon on the diamond at Punahou on the campus of Oahu College, when a match will be played between the Punahou and Customs House team.

No admission is to be charged and while the game is likely to be a little ragged in sections, there is likely to be a big turn out. There is nothing else going on in the way of public amusement. The game starts at 3 o'clock.

NEW YEAR WITH THE POLICE.

Were it not for drunk cases, the police station would be dead. Yesterday afternoon and last night the number of arrests for intoxication amounted to only four cases. Today which dates from midnight, there had been six arrests for intoxication by noon. The various cases will be called before Judge Wilcox tomorrow.

QUIET ON THE FRONT.

New Year's day was very much in evidence on the water front today. There was no business done. With the exception of the arrival of two island boats, the front has been dead. The steamers Noeau and Ke Au Hou arrived but no attempt was made to discharge any of the cargoes on those boats. All of the sailing vessels were idle. The gasoline schooner Eclipse could not get away last evening on account of today being a holiday. She is tied up at Brewer's wharf. She will probably sail tomorrow on her regular run, loaded down with freight. The S. S. Korea may arrive this afternoon from the Orient. She will probably sail tomorrow for San Francisco.

CONFIDENCE

said Lord Chatham, "is a plant of slow growth." People believe in things that they see, and in a broad sense they are right. What is sometimes called blind faith is not faith at all. There must be reason and fact to form a foundation for trust. In regard to a medicine or remedy, for example, people ask, "Has it cured others? Have cases like mine been relieved by it? Is it in harmony with the truths of modern science, and has it a record above suspicion? If so, it is worthy of confidence; and if I am ever attacked by any of the maladies for which it is commended I shall resort to it in full belief in its power to help me." On these lines has won its high reputation among medical men, and the people of all civilized countries. They trust it for the same reason that they trust in the familiar laws of nature or in the action of common things. This effective remedy is palatable as honey and contains the nutritive and curative properties of Pure Cod Liver Oil, extracted by us from fresh cod livers, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites and the Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry. It quickly eradicates the poisonous, disease-breeding acids and other toxic matters from the system; regulates and promotes the normal action of the organs, gives vigorous appetite and digestion, and is infallible in Prostration—following Fevers, etc.—Scrofula, Influenza, Asthma, Wasting Diseases, Throat and Lung Troubles, etc. Dr. W. A. Young, of Canada, says: "Your tasteless preparation of cod liver oil has given me uniformly satisfactory results, my patients having been of all ages." It is a product of the skill and science of to-day and is successful after the old style modes of treatment have been appealed to in vain. Sold by all chemists.

MAY CELEBRATE TOMORROW

PROGRAM TO BE CARRIED OUT FOR THE CELEBRATION OF THE COMPLETION OF THE CABLE.

The public celebration, to be held in all likelihood tomorrow, will be announced to the waiting public by repeated blasts of the electric light whistle. Arrangements are already being made at the Capitol for decorations. Mortars for the fireworks, bombs stand on the grass, the band stand is being prepared for the orators, and the throne room for the dancers at Secretary Cooper's ball in the evening. The program will be as follows:

After assembly of the general public on the grounds, an exchange of messages between President Roosevelt and Secretary Cooper, in the absence of Governor Dole. On receipt of the President's message, a salute of one hundred guns. An address of welcome by Secretary Cooper, replied to by S. S. Dickenson for the cable company; Historical address, General A. S. Hartwell; Congratulatory address, Treasury Commissioner W. H. Eustus; Retrospective address, Henry E. Highton. Band music and the ball at the Capitol to which invitations have been issued.

CORKWOOD.

Corkwood, found principally in Dunklin and Butler counties in southeastern Missouri, is the lightest wood in the world. Its specific gravity is .207, and a test showed the roots to be lighter still, with the astonishing low specific gravity of .150. The figure for cork itself is .210. The black ironwood of Florida has a specific gravity of 1.302. Corkwood grows in bogs and swamps where the water is from one to six feet deep. It reaches a height of 15 to 20 feet and a diameter of two to five inches.

REMARKABLE ASCENSION.

James Glasher, the meteorologist, is 93 years of age. Forty years ago he made one of the most remarkable balloon ascensions on record. He was able to record a height of 28,000 feet before he became unconscious, and the balloon probably reached 35,000 feet before his companion Mr. Coxwell, managed to pull open the valve.
