CAN NOT REACH AWNING MEN

THE POLICE CRUSADE AGAINST ALLEGED VIOLATORS GETS A JOLT IN POLICE COURT.

The crusade of the police against the alleged violators of the awning ordinance will probably die a sudden death. The first case of the kind that was called this morning before Judge Davis in the district court was dismissed on a demurrer by the defendant's counsel. There appears to be no law which covers this particular case.

Y. Okamoto was the name of the defendant. Yesterday a canvas awning in front of his place on Hotel street near River, was blown against a passing street car in which was seated Officer Apana. The heavy wooden pole which was supposed to act as a weight to hold the awning down, struck Apana in the face and on the chest, causing him painful injury. The police arrested Okamoto on a charge of common nuisance under Section 345 of the Penal Laws.

It was claimed that he had failed to properly secure his awning as the awning which hung down on a line with the curbstone, was loose and not secured with a rope. The awning was in consequence, a source of danger to passing people.

F. E. Thompson entered a demurrer to the complaint and the court sustained the demurrer. There was nothing in section 345 to cover this particular fault. A search of the statutes failed to find any law whatever that would cover the case. The court said that he could not make law. He was simply there to interpret them. Deputy High Sheriff Chillingworth saw that there was no chance to convict the defendant so he had to pass up further prosecution.

Two Chinese Tai Chong and Ah Kwai were arraigned on similar charges but, as the prosecution asked for continuances, one of the cases was continued until the moon hour and the other until tomorrow. It is thought that some amendments to the common nuisance law may have been passed by the last legislature. A more detailed search of the statutes will be made to determine if the defendants can not be reached.

About the only recourse left to Apana is a suit for damages against Okamoto. The police officer sustained severe injury. He is consulting an attorney and may be advised to institute proceedings against the owner of the awning.

The matter of the use of hanging awnings, will be brought to the notice of the Superintendent of Public Works. Steps may be taken by that department to have some protection given people from being struck by swinging poles, attached to these hanging awnings. Had the pole not first struck against one of the standards on the car, before hitting Apana, the officer would, in all probability, have been killed.

THE FOUR YEARS COLLEGE COURSE

BOSTON, July 7.—The programme of the National Educational Association today provided for meetings in eight departments, besides a general evening session. The departments holding sessions today were the national council, elementary education, higher education, normal, manual training, business education, child study and Indian education. The national council discussed "Religious Education," with George A. Coe of Northwestern University speaking on "Contributions of Modern Education to Religion." Rev. Edward A. Pace of the Catholic University, Washington, D. C., spoke on "The Influence of Religious Education on the Motives of Conduct," and Commissioner of Education W. T. Harris of Washington, D. C., on the separation of the church from the school, supported by public taxes. At the session of the elementary department the time was devoted to papers mainly on technical subjects, with discussions of each.

In the department of higher education the topic was "The Length of the Baccalaureate Course the Preparation for the Professional Schools." Among those who presented papers were President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia University, and President William R. Harper of Chicago University. Dr. Butler said:

"The course of the liberal arts and sciences should be preserved at all hazards as an essential part of our educational organization. It was distinctively American and a very powerful factor in the upbuilding of the Nation's culture and idealism. It should be treated as a thing of value in and for itself, and not merely as an incident to graduate study or to professional schools.

"There should be a college course two years in length, carefully constructed as a thing of itself and not merely the first part of a three years' or a four years' course, which will enable intending professional students to spend this time as advantageously as possible in purely liberal studies. The university colleges can establish such a course readily enough; the independent colleges will have to establish such a course or see their influence and prestige steadily decline. The shortening of the college course to three years for all students involves an unnecessary sacrifice. This policy involves no educational principle, but merely concedes a year of liberal study to the modern demand of haste and hurry.

"A university ought not to admit to its professional schools students who have not had a college course of liberal study or its equivalent. A minimum course of two years of such study should be insisted upon. A four years' course should not be required for the two reasons that it delays too long entrance upon active life work and that it does not use the time and effort of the intending professional student to the best advantage."

One of the principal addresses in the normal department was that by Professor Norman Grant of the High School, Philadelphia. "Trade Schools" was the general topic in the manual training department. Arthur H. Chamberlain, principal of the Normal School of Throop Polytechnic Institute, Pasadena, Cal., was among the speakers. The child study department topic was "Child Study in Relation to Elementary Education."

In the Indian education department the topic was "Citizenship," with addresses by H. B. Pears, superintendent of the Haverhill Institute; Dr. Sheldon Jackson, general agent of education in Alaska, and others.

At the general session meeting at Mechanics' Hall, tonight, the topic of discussion was "Manual, Trade and Technical Education." Papers were read by Calvin M. Woodward, professor of mathematics and dean of the school of engineering, Washington University, St. Louis; Robert H. Thurston, director of Sibley College, Cornell University, Ithaca; Thomas M. Ballet, Superintendent of Schools, Springfield, Mass., and Henry S. Pritchett, president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Boston.

CALL'S MANAGER RESIGNS.

W. S. Leake to Retire From Journalism in October or Perhaps Sooner.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 23.—W. S. Leake, who has been manager of the Call for the last six years, is about to sever his connection with that journal. It is understood that the resignation has been in the hands of John D. Spreckels, the owner of the paper, for some time, Mr. Leake desiring to retire from journalism to engage in enterprises of his own.

Mr. Spreckels, when interviewed last night as to the change of management of his newspaper, said: "Mr. Leake tendered his resignation a month or more ago, to go into effect the latter part of September or early in October, unless his personal affairs should make it necessary for him to retire earlier. Mr. Leake has some enterprises of his own in which he proposes to engage. He will continue as manager of the Call until such time as he carries his resignation into effect."

PRINCE AND PRINCESS NOT INVITED.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 21.—The reported invitation to the Prince and Princess of Wales to visit this country and to be the guests of President Roosevelt, it can be said, is without foundation in fact. It is said to be quite unlikely that any such visit is in contemplation by the Prince and Princess of Wales.

CONTRACT WITH CUNARD LINE.

LONDON, July 21.—It is announced that the Government has completed the agreement with the Cunard Steamship Company, and that it will be shortly submitted to Parliament and the shareholders. It is understood that the Government will pay considerably over $5,000,000 for the construction of two additional steamers and that the whole fleet of vessels will be at the Government's disposal as cruisers. The agreement provides for an improved Atlantic mail service.

field, Victoria, on Wednesday. She had nearly reached the age of 107. Deceased was born on December 28, 1796, near Portsea, in the Isle of Skye. Up to within a week of her death she could see to read and thread a needle without spectacles. Her descendants number 174, viz. 6 children (eldest nearly 90), 47 grandchildren, 124 great-grandchildren and 7 great-great-grandchildren. The five generations were represented among large numbers who followed the remains of the venerable lady to the cemetery.

ESTEE OFF FOR VACATION.
U. S. Judge M. M. Estee and Mrs. Estee will be departing passengers for San Francisco by the S. S. Alameda next Wednesday. Judge Estee will return in time to open the October term of the district court.

BOBS NOT COMING.
LONDON, July 22.—The Cabinet has vetoed the proposed visit of Field Marshal Earl Roberts to the United States next fall. The decision was taken reluctantly, but owing it is stated, to urgent questions relating to army reforms and the campaign in Somaliland, the Government regarded the commander in chief's presence in England as indispensable.

HAD AN INTERESTING CAREER.
The life of the novelist Charles Reade, which is to be published soon in London, will be of uncommon interest, because it is said to be in large part an autobiography. While Reade's career was not so picturesquely prosaic as that of Trollope,—whose matter-of-fact autobiography surpasses in interest most of his novels, admirable as they are,—Reade was a singularly robust and vital personality, and his life should be highly entertaining. Not to speak of his fads, like house building and violin collecting, and his strenuous literary career, which involved a prodigious and systematic gathering of material, Reade came into contact with most of the notable men of this time, and was involved in many controversies, in which he showed himself what Alan Breck would call a bonny fighter.

LEXINGTON, (Ky.), July 22.—The head and arm of the magnificent monument to Henry Clay in Lexington Cemetery were knocked off by lightning last night and the monument was otherwise disfigured.

PLAINTIFF BERGER DEPARTS

LEFT ON AORANGI YESTERDAY FOR VICTORIA—SAYS HE WILL RETURN IN TIME FOR TRIALS

F. W. Berger who is the plaintiff in the 112 Korean cases against E. Faxon Bishop, was a departing passenger on the S. S. Aorangi yesterday afternoon for Victoria and Vancouver.

There was no secret about Berger's departure. He did not book with the agents however but secured his transportation a few hours before the departure of the vessel. He will be absent, he states, until the cases in which he is named as the plaintiff will be called in the United States court. He states he will return, in time to appear at the trials.

Berger will pass some time in Victoria and the Puget Sound country. He may go as far south as San Francisco. He expects to return to Honolulu by the end of September or the first part of October.

WILL GET QUICK DISCHARGE.

H. Hackfeld and Company the local agents of the O. and O. S. S. Company, have received cable advices to the effect that the S. S. Coptic which may arrive here tonight from the Orient, has only 600 tons of freight for this port. This means that the vessel will be dispatched in about six hours after her arrival. She will sail for San Francisco probably tomorrow morning.

CAUGHT ALLEGED THIEF.

Special officer Kekai of the Honolulu Plantation arrested a Chinese man Tuesday at Aiea, on a charge of chicken stealing. It is claimed by the officers that the Chinese has been systematically engaged in robbing chicken houses in the neighborhood. Four chickens, said to have been the property of a Japanese contractor, were found on the premises of the Chinese.

TO SELL SPANISH COIN.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—The War Department has directed Governor Taft to accept the highest bid, $131,598, for the subsidiary Spanish coin which was found in the treasury at Manila, when the place fell into the hands of the Americans. This is about half the face value of the coin. The Spanish Government has made formal claim to the money.
