

First Annual Beginning Monday, October 19 Sale of Remnants

Come Early And Get First Choice

N. S. SACHS' DRY GOODS CO., LTD.

This will be a sale of tremendous importance to the Ladies of Honolulu. Our first remnant sale. In order to make room for our large shipment of New Goods about to arrive, and personally selected by our Mr. Sachs in San Francisco and New York, we shall on MONDAY begin a genuine REMNANT SALE, to dispose of all small lengths, odds and ends, regardless of cost.

Solid Comfort

Is what one of our leading plantation men says he gets from wearing "SCRIVENS IMPROVED PATENT ELASTIC SEAM DRAWERS."

Nothing to rip or tear, fit comfortably and snugly, are self adjusting, and do not bind about the hips and legs.

They are cool in summer, warm in winter.

Especially adapted for use by heavy, stout men.

See the display of these model garments in our Merchant street window. Try a pair; you will never regret it.

M. McINERNEY, LTD.,

MERCHANT AND FORT STREETS.

COLLECTOR STACKABLE.

Collector E. R. Stackable is expected to return from the mainland about the last of the month. He has recently been in New York observing the methods used in collecting customs at that port and may now be preparing to leave Washington. It was his purpose at the national capital to confer with the Treasury Department heads on matters pertaining to Hawaiian matters in connection with his office. From Washington it was his intention to visit his old home in Michigan.

PATRIOTIC CELEBRATION.

The Hawaiian Society, Sons of the American Revolution, will observe in an appropriate manner the 122nd anniversary of the surrender at Yorktown at a meeting to be held at the Y. M. C. A. hall Monday evening, October 19, 1903, at 8 o'clock. All members of the society are expected to be present with their lady friends, and all members of Aloha Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, are cordially invited to attend the meeting with their gentlemen escorts. The officers of the Army and Navy now in Honolulu have also been invited to attend. Addresses will be made by the Rev. W. M. Kincaid, Governor Dole and Judge Estee of the United States District Court. Appropriate music will be furnished by a committee under the lead of Miss Byington and Mr. Stanley Livingston of the Kamehameha Schools. Refreshments will be served at the close of the literary and musical program.

Place your fire insurance with us and be relieved of all danger of lapses and losses. Trust Waterhouse Realty Company, Ltd.

COURTS BUSY WITH LAND SUITS

LAND CLAIMED BY A RELATION OF KING LUNALILO—LENGTHY CASE RENEWED.

One of the hardest fought land cases that has ever been tried here was ended in the circuit court yesterday by Judge Robinson's ruling in the case of Lucy Peabody vs. the family of C. H. Judd, an eminent suit involving valuable real estate. About forty patents were introduced as evidence in the course of the trial by Frank Andrade, attorney for the plaintiff and the court and a jury were engaged in the case for two weeks.

The plaintiff made her claim as a near relative of Kanaina, who was the father of King Lunaliilo. The relationship was established, but the court granted McClanahan's motion for a nonsuit on the ground that it had been shown during the trial that there were other nearer relatives of the King's father, still living, who might have inherited his entire estate, instead of the interest of Lucy K. Peabody claimed in 1165 acres of land known as the ahupuaa of Hakipuu. The case will be taken to the Supreme Court.

Another land case, which has had seventeen days of trial in the circuit court, has been revived by a bill of revivor filed this morning by T. J. Dillon in behalf of Kaniniu, whose suit against Kalai et al was tried for seventeen days and then came to a sudden end because it was discovered that certain necessary defendants had been left out. The seventeen days and the result thereof appeared to have been too much for Kalai, for she has since died. The suit is for a valuable Kahoili land and will probably require another long trial.

Judge Robinson this morning denied the defendant's motion for a new trial in the case of the Kapiolani estate vs. L. A. Thurston.

Judge Gear has signed confirmations of the foreclosure sales in the cases of W. O. Smith, as trustee for the Lunaliilo estate and as trustee for Antone Lidgate, against M. G. Silva. In one case the property brought $5950, leaving a deficiency judgment of $1,046.67, and in the other case the sale brought $1190 and the remaining judgment is $130.60.

ROBINSON'S JURORS EXCUSED.

Judge Robinson has excused his trial jurors until Monday October 26, on which date he is to take up the case of Harrison vs. Magoon.

FIRST VISITORS TO THE OUTBREAK

ence of these plutonian pyrotechnics. Over the rim of the small inner crater, the lava has broken and flows out into the larger area, still hundreds of feet below the summit, in a broad red and yellow stream, extending for a mile over the big crater bed. From this moving molten mass all colors are given out from that of yellow molten gold to the fading pink of iron, cooling under the hammering of the forge. Out of the deep abyss, rolling and tossing emerges a steady column of smoke and vapor rising high above the heads of the watchers and losing itself in the clouds. The fierce fires below illuminate these towering billows of smoke thousands of feet in height. This light is reflected back to the broad black plateau of lava which extends for miles in a flat tableland around the great crater. It is this upper illumination that can be seen from Hilo, the Volcano House and nearly all points on the island. This is the spectacle free to nearly all the inhabitants of Hawaii from their doorsteps and visible from ships that sail the coast of the island.

The fiery fountain, which erupts from the source of the light are hidden within the confines of the great amphitheater of Mokuaweoweo and cannot be seen except by those who brave the trail and climb to the brow of Mauna Loa, over 13,996 feet high.

The Hilo party broke their vigil at the edge of the crater Wednesday morning at 7 o'clock and by 7:30 p. m. were at the Volcano House, relating their stories with their feet under Hilo's mahogany. On the down trip, the mountain sickness left every one rapidly. It stayed with a few until below the 10,000 foot level.

R. T. Guard, who accompanied the first party to reach Mokuaweoweo, arrived in Hilo yesterday morning. To a Tribune representative Mr. Guard said: "The sight from the summit into the great crater is beyond description. The roar of the mighty fire geysers sounded like the smashing of heavy seas against the rocks. The spouting columns of white hot lava arose in great incandescent geysers to heights of several hundred feet and would fall back as blackened boulders and huge chunks of congealed cinder. The impressive grandeur of the scene was overwhelming. Speechless we stood and gazed. Indescribable feelings kept coming with the indescribable scene before us. As for myself, I did not attempt to control the emotions stirred by the mighty panorama of fire before me. The sublimity and awful power of the scene brought the tears to my eyes. I cannot attempt to describe it."

"The trip," said Mr. Guard, "is not a hard one. In our party was Ben Wilson, only eleven years old, and he stood the trip as well as any of us. If a horse is able to stand the trip, you can mount at the Volcano House and ride to within six feet of the edge of the crater without getting off. A lady who can ride a horse can make the trip as well as a man. From Mousarrat's place up and back our party made the trip at a cost of only $55 each. Each man had a horse. Two pack animals carried provisions and extra blankets. At the very verge of the crater we procured good ice water from the lava cracks and if we had had buckets, we could have watered our horses."

"One of the most impressive things of a trip to Mauna Loa is the absolute desolation and isolation of a man at the summit. Around you is the black disc of the lava plateau. The world is beneath the clouds which are beneath you and invisible below the blackened circumference of the plateau edge. Only an outlook proved to us that we had not been transported to a black island floating through cold space. Through a jagged fissure to the north of us we could see the tip of the bald head of Mauna Kea which is a few feet higher than the mountain of fire. This evidence that we were still on Hawaii was comforting."

Reverting to the subject of the lava flow, Mr. Guard said: "The present eruption is further north in the bed of the big crater than the last one. The lava is flowing in large quantities over the rim of the inner crater and new cones form, disappear and reform again while you watch it."

The thirteen who were in the party and who were first to look into the crater this outbreak were: C. L. Ridgway, Hilo; D. E. Wilson, Hilo; R. T. Guard, Hilo; F. E. Haley, Kapoho; John Holland, M. D., Kapoho; W. H. Little, Hilo; J. S. McFadyen, New York; A. K. Nawahi, Hilo; T. C. Ridgway, Hilo; H. E. Wilson, Kalapana; Bert Wilson, Kalapana.—Hilo Tribune.

A NEW MANAGER.

In a circular letter issued by James F. Morgan and Harry Armitage asking for subscriptions to the capital of the Hawaiian Sisal Company it is stated that the officers of the company are negotiating with A. M. Turner, formerly manager of the Hawaiian Fibre Company, to accept the management of the new company's plantation on the Koolau side of the island. Mr. Turner is now in Mexico studying methods of cultivation and marketing.

HALF HOUR IN OAHU PRISON

DESCRIPTION OF SALVATION ARMY WORK IN THAT PENAL INSTITUTION.

Adjutant L. Allison Cox has the following in the current number of the Salvation Army War Cry under the heading "Half Hours in Oahu."

Not the island of that name, but the territorial prison. Methinks I hear someone advance the query: Can a pleasant half hour be spent in a penal institution? I believe I voice the sentiments of my fellow officers who have labored in Honolulu when I say that one of the best half hours of the week is that spent behind the walls of Oahu. The warden, Mr. William Henry, is a warm friend of our work, and affords us every opportunity of carrying on our ministrations there. The deputy warden, William Kamana, a Hawaiian, is also a practical friend.

People are always anxious for results. The half hours spent here have brought forth many precious souls, and we have now a corps of eight well-saved men in the prison, sworn-in soldiers.

It is an ideal place for a meeting. The prisoners are arranged in a hollow square and seated on benches. The guards stand around at the back, and prove attentive listeners; above all are the branches of a huge tree that cover nearly the whole jail yard, keeping off the hot rays of the tropical sun. The blue uniform of the "trustees" and the stripes of the other men lend color, while the Salvation Army officer, with his prisoner soldiers on one side at the back, and lads and lassies from the outside corps on the other make a touching picture. We wish you could see these dear men as they arise from among their fellows and come boldly out and kneel at an improvised penitent form. This is a sight which has gladdened our hearts many times. Thank God!

The War Cry here plays a very important part. Two hundred and twenty American Crises are distributed, and occasionally a few South American Crises; for in this institution you will find the same cosmopolitan crowd that goes to make up the life of these islands.

Mrs. Colonel French, on the occasion of her recent visit to the islands spent two hours on different Sundays here and they were very interesting for the prisoners. It is needless for us to dwell upon the crimes for which these men are incarcerated. We bless God for the opportunity we have of pointing them to the Lamb!

One of the men converted here, and who has been a faithful soldier for over a year, is the hospital steward; another is a chef. The warden kindly permits them to serve dinner to the officers who come to conduct the meetings; this kindness is appreciated, as it enables the latter to get to their other meetings early in the afternoon.

12 PER CENT PROFITS.

In the half yearly report of the Yokohama Specie Bank for the six months ending June 30, the directors say: The gross profits of the bank for the past half year, including yen 305,822,671 brought forward from last account, amount to yen 6,225,334,711, of which yen 4,639,889,180 have been deducted for Current Expenses, Interest, etc., leaving a balance of yen 1,985,245,531. The directors now propose that yen 150,000 be added to the reserve fund, raising it to yen 9,210,000 and that yen 200,000 be put aside as special reserve to provide for the depreciation of the silver funds. From the remainder the Directors recommend a dividend at the rate of twelve per cent, per annum, which will absorb yen 720,000 on old shares and yen 360,000 on new shares, making a total of yen 1,080,000. The balance, yet 555,245,531, will be carried forward to the credit of next account."

BLOODY CRIME IS RE-ENACTED

GABRIELLE BOMPARD, BEFORE A BIOGRAPH, ILLUSTRATES HOW SHE HELPED STRANGLE GOUFFE.

NEW YORK, October 4.—A cable to the World from Paris says: Gabrielle Bompard, the young murderer, recently pardoned from prison, was the central figure this week in a performance in which she appeared, under peculiar circumstances, in the presence of some of the leading men of France. The performance was nothing less than the re-enacting of the tragedy in which she assisted Eyraud to strangle Gouffe, her lover, in order to get the money on his person. That she might make her part in the murder strictly true to detail, she was hypnotized. The re-enactment of this crime took place in a photographer's studio.

In the audience were Ernest Valle, France's Minister of Justice; Le Page, his secretary; Henri Letellier, proprietor of Le Journal; Jacques Dhur, a newspaper writer; De Jouvencel, a bureau chief in the Ministry of Justice, and a score of others.

The mesmerist operator, it is claimed, easily secured control of the complainant murderer, and caused her to commit again the crime, and with a realism that held the little audience breathless and spellbound.

As the young woman brought out in perfect continuity the various acts of the drama, for which Eyraud died, and for which she spent many years behind the bars, the photographer operated the biograph, recording every action and preserving the pictures on films for future exhibition.

Bompard will sail for New York soon for a lecture tour. She will make a circuit of the United States, the crime being produced with photographic effects while she sits on the platform.

PASSENGERS.

Arriving. Per steamer Kinohi, October 17, from Hilo and way ports: Miss Roy Chanhband, Mrs. C. R. McDonald, Mrs. W. Winter, W. A. Bailey, E. Fiohr, Rev. E. W. Thwing, Y. Hamada, J. Zolban, James Renton, H. R. Macfarlane, Carl Widemant, C. A. Dela Nux, Mrs. G. F. Dela Nux and 2 children, Mrs. Inade, E. Langer, Y. Takakuwa, A. W. Bottomley, J. Watt, W. G. Kay and wife.

THE PICTURESQUE GILBERTESE THEIR EMBARKATION TODAY WILL BE ANALOGOUS IN SOME RESPECTS TO THE ACADIANS.

With the departure of the Gilbertese this afternoon one of the most picturesque elements of the population will leave. Not alone was the South Sea Island village which used to be on the channel wharf, one of the spots that with its life attracted tourists and kodak fiends, the people themselves, so distinct from all other nationalities of the mixed population, lived a separate life and were a picturesque element. With the departure of the Iseworth practically the whole of the Gilbertese will leave Hawaii. In some respects, though in all ways happier, the departure of the Gilbert Islanders, will bear an analogy to the departure of the Acadians from their Nova Scotia homes, as described by Longfellow in Evangeline. The departure of the Gilbert Islanders will doubtless attract a great many people and will present opportunities for securing some very choice pictures. Rice & Perkins intend to take a number of views of the embarkation, which in time will doubtless prove a series of historical value.

TO PLEASANT ISLAND.

Friends Send a Box to Mr. and Mrs. De La Porte.

Rev. O. H. Gulick will send a quantity of supplies and conveniences of one kind and another by the Steamship Iseworth to Mr. and Mrs. De La Porte missionaries on Pleasant Island. Pleasant Island is about 180 miles west of Ocean Island, where the steamer goes to load guano and it is expected that some way will be found to get it from Ocean Island to Pleasant Island. Mr. De La Porte formerly lived in Honolulu, and prepared himself for the mission work here. He went to his field of operations about four years ago, and occasional letters published in the Friend have kept his friends informed of the work he and his wife are striving to do in that little islet almost directly on the equator. The opportunity to send books and other useful things to him which the departure of the Iseworth presented, was not allowed by his friends here to go unimproved. The box was sent through the courtesy of Mr. Arundel, the charterer of the vessel.

CAMPAIGNERS IN THE COUNTRY

REPUBLICANS END A LIVELY DAY WITH A MEETING AT WAIKANE.

The Republican county campaigners had a lively and it is believed successful day yesterday, ending with a meeting at L. L. McCandless' place, Waikane. This is supposed to be something of a Home Rule stronghold, but there was a large turnout, the audience being composed of nearly all natives.

The meeting was held on a large lanai and was attended by all the candidates. A quartette furnished music between the speeches. Shortly before the meeting there was a tremendous downpour of rain, but the people of the district seemed to be enough interested in the meeting to brave the bad weather. They crowded about the lanai and remained until a very late hour. There were speeches by all the candidates, in spite of the fact that they had all made two speeches before during the day. R. N. Boyd presided and interpreted for High Sheriff Brown, who made an effective address on the subject of the Republican legislative record in passing a county bill.

When all the speeches were over the music kept on and there was dancing for a short time. McCandless found accommodations for his large number of guests and this morning they continued their tour to Kahana, making their way towards Waialua, where they are to speak this evening. Mrs. A. M. Brown was with the party early in the day, also Senator Crabbe, Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth and others.

The firm of "EXPERT DENTISTS" Allen and Ferguson, is this day dissolved by mutual consent, Dr. W. E. Allen retiring. The business will be continued by Dr. F. L. Ferguson, who will assume all responsibility. W. E. ALLEN, F. L. FERGUSON, July 15, 1903.

ers, but they returned to Honolulu shortly after dark.

THE THOMAS COMING.

First of the Returning Transports to Call Here.

Captain Williamson, Depot Quartermaster of the United States Army has received cable advice stating that the United States Army Transport Thomas sailed from Nagasaki last night for Honolulu. The Thomas passed through here bound for Manila early in September. She is the first of the Army transports to stop at this port on her return for a very long time. She is the vessel that two years ago passed through here with about a thousand teachers aboard for the Philippines. It was on the Thomas that H. S. Townsend, formerly Inspector General of Schools for Hawaii, and now a division superintendent of schools in the Philippines, with headquarters at Zamboanga, left here.
