WORLD'S FAIR VIEWS READY

DISTRIBUTION OF THE BEAUTIFUL "FOREST CITY" SERIES BEGAN THIS MORNING.

The Star has received from St. Louis the first installment of the "Forest City Art Portfolios" containing views taken at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, soon to open in St. Louis. These views are even more attractive than was anticipated since the progress in outdoor photography has brought that art to well-nigh ultimate perfection.

As before stated, the "Forest City" series is especially desirable and valuable since it is in every respect official. The photographs printed in this publication are taken especially for the work by the official photographers of the Exposition, under the special contract ratified by the Exposition authorities. Each of these photographs is copyrighted, and their use in any other publication is prohibited. Further than this, the descriptions which accompany the several views are written by Walter B. Stevens the well-known Journalist and Secretary of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition.

The Portfolio now ready for distribution is the advance guard of more to come, all of which will unite to form a complete and comprehensive record of the event.

The grandeur of architecture, genius of sculpture, and skill of landscape art are presented at their best in the array of palaces, plazas and waterways that adorn and embellish the grounds. The distances as the views will show are magnificent to the vision and the possibilities of photographic presentation are enchanting as the pages of the first portfolio and those to follow will unfold.

Readers cannot afford to miss a single one of the portfolios, since together they form a complete artistic, pictorial and educational record of the exposition.

It appears to be clearly understood that both out-of-town readers and city readers are entitled to participate, as many mail orders have come in, directing that Portfolio No. 1 be forwarded as soon as issued. Readers are urged to carefully preserve the successive numbers, so that their pictorial record of the Fair will be complete.

Those who intend to visit the Exposition will get a fine foretaste of the pleasure they are to enjoy, while those who do not go to St. Louis will have before them weekly presentation of those architectural and scenic beauties, which will prove most attractive and interesting.

It should be born in mind that if the series of views to be distributed were purchased as original photographs the cost would be so great as to be practically prohibitive; but, through the arrangement so fortunately perfected by the Star its readers are privileged to secure the series at a nominal price.

It is only necessary to bring or send the coupon printed from time to time in the Star with 10 cents, and the parts will be delivered as issued.

Application should be made promptly, as the earlier numbers are more valuable and desirable, since they are printed from fresh new plates, and every detail is brought out with great delicacy and beauty.

JAPANESE WAR SCENES.

Last night was a Japanese night at Progress Hall when an exhibition of Russo-Japanese war pictures was given and a dancing exhibition by some gelsha was presented. The pictures roused the enthusiasm of the brown men. They represented scenes in and about Japan and some of them were supposed to portray actual events in the conflict which is now raging. The dancing and posing by the little Japanese girls was done in a most pleasing manner.
