Annual Remnant Sale

What to do with remnants is a problem every large store has to face once a year.

From all parts of the store we have gathered up the short ends of Organdies, Lawns, Batistes, Dimities, Ginghams, Zephyrs, Chambrays, Voiles, Etamines, Flannels, Flannelets, Woolen Dress Goods of all kinds, Silks, Silk Mulls, Sheeting Denims, Silkolines, Cretonnes, Curtain-Swiss, Table Linen and in fact all odds and ends which have accumulated in the past year.

Prices scarcely matter. Anything that will sell the goods is the right price. Sometimes it is 50c. for the stuff originally 65c., but never mind that!

Early comers of course get first selection, so just remember that the sale begins at 8 o'clock Monday morning.

MEN WHO ARE AFTER THE SENATORSHIPS

FIFTH DISTRICT STARTING A BOOM FOR C. A. LONG OF THE FOURTH—MORGAN'S WITHDRAWAL LEAVES THE FIGHT TO FAXON BISHOP, SAM DWIGHT AND CECIL BROWN, WITH SEVERAL OTHERS AS POSSIBILITIES.

The withdrawal of J. F. Morgan as a possible candidate for the Territorial Senate, leaves an additional nomination for the other aspirants to fight for, as it had been regarded as very likely that Morgan would get one of the nominations if he went after it. The principal men now talked of are Faxon Bishop, Cecil Brown, Sam Dwight, H. E. Cooper and C. A. Long.

C. A. Long is being pushed by some of the Fifth District men, though he is in the Fourth. The fourth is to have two nominations and one of them is not unlikely to be Long, if he gains additional strength in the Fifth, as he has some strength in the Fourth already. Senator Brown is openly a candidate, and is thought likely to land a nomination. Cooper is not making any active fight, but it is understood that he would accept a nomination if it were tendered.

SAM WANTED HIS LONG LOST NICKLE

CULPRIT APPLIES AT POLICE STATION TODAY FOR NICKLE AND KNIFE LEFT THERE.

One year ago Ah Sam was searched at the police station and all of his belongings, consisting of a five cent piece and a knife without any blades, were taken from him and he was led to a cell below. He had been arrested for stealing chickens. There was no doubt of his guilt, so the court sentenced him to serve a year.

This morning Ah Sam's time was up. He had a good memory and the instant that the heavy jail gates closed on his back and he breathed the air of freedom, he started on a trot for the police station. He wanted his knife and nickle. Station clerk McKinnon searched over the records and property that had accumulated during the last year.

When the Star went to press today McKinnon was still searching, while Sam was eagerly making five minute inquiries about the location of his capital.

THE LEAF HOPPER.

The following is an extract from letter of Messrs. Perkins and Koebele to Planters' Association, dated 30th July, 1904: "We shall be in the neighborhood of Queensland for a month or more as results are so far satisfactory and the weather South is too cold as yet, though that is a much more valuable point for the shipment of insects. We shall be anxious to hear from the Station Entomologists as to the condition in which the consignments arrive from this point. The journey being so long and slow. If we can establish the conditions that obtain here in Queensland in the matter of leaf hopper, in the islands, there will be no more trouble with this pest."

The first consignment of parasitoides of leaf hopper eggs arrived by the Sierra on the 22nd inst. The condition of the consignment cannot be ascertained until after same has been bred up by the entomologists.

Fisheries Cases In Court Here Again

SUITS WHICH DEPENDED ON THE TEST CASE APPEALED TO WASHINGTON ARE ON THE CALENDAR FOR THE SEPTEMBER TERM OF THE FIRST CIRCUIT COURT—THE QUESTION OF PURCHASING PRIVATE RIGHTS.

Among the most interesting cases to come before the September term of the Circuit Court will be those known as the "fishing cases" which have been argued already before several courts. There are in the Territory of Hawaii some eighty and odd cases in all and each of these has to be thrashed out on its individual merits.

"I am very anxious indeed to try the fishery cases this term," said Attorney General Andrews this morning. "The matter is so important one for the Territory and the sooner we get it cleared up the better it will be for all concerned."

The origin of the cases takes the investigator back to the 1840's when a general proclamation was made by Kamehameha II granting fishing rights for miles out to sea to different owners of tracts of land having sea frontages. These rights were held and enjoyed by successive inheritors, either by purchase or other process, until 1900 when under the Organic Act, private fishing rights were abolished though no interference was made with vested rights. The rights granted by Kamehameha II were construed as being private rights and holders thereof had two years in which to bring suit. This resulted in eighty or more cases being filed and two of these were tried. The Supreme Court of Hawaii decided in the Territory's favor, but appeal was carried to the Supreme Court of the United States where the decision was reversed in the case of S. M. Damon, who claims the exclusive rights to fish in the sea opposite Moanalua. The other cases of course follow on the decision. The effect is that the Territory in order to re-acquire the rights given away by Kamehameha II will have to buy them after bringing condemnation proceedings, and it is the intention of the Territorial law department to force the suits as far as possible to see how each claimant stands.

"Each person who claims vested rights in fishing privileges will have to trace his title back to the time it was acquired by royal proclamation," said the attorney general this morning.

"DEDE" DOW HAS EXCITING TIME

PICKED UP BY SEA ON SHIP I. F. CHAPMAN, DASHED AGAINST THE CAPSTAN.

The ship I. F. Chapman which recently arrived at Delaware Breakwater from Honolulu with a cargo of sugar, had quite an exciting experience during a portion of her trip. "Dede" Dow son of H. M. Dow, clerk to the high sheriff, shipped on the vessel at Honolulu as an able seaman. Young Dow has written to his father and mother regarding his experience on the recent voyage.

The vessel went to Philadelphia after being reported off the Breakwater, so young Dow writes from that place. In speaking of his trip, he says in part, in a letter to his father.

Philadelphia, August 4, 1904. Dear Father: I now arrived after my tedious deep water trip of 136 weary days. Well we got the tug boat at 12:30 p. m. on Tuesday August 2, twenty-five miles from the Breakwater. It was raining great guns then, and you can imagine what a hard job we had making them heavy wet sails fast. I brought the ship in, that is, I was at the wheel from 4 to 6. We past the Breakwater at about 5 o'clock that same afternoon and towed up the Delaware as far as Luken Island where we anchored to wait for the tide to run in, that was 2:30 o'clock Wednesday morning that we anchored. We lay there until 11 a. m. then towed to Philadelphia and docked at the sugar wharf.

A little about the voyage. We were 15 days to the equator and during that time we had nothing but calms, and light breezes. On Saturday April 16 we sighted the Mauki Islands at 5:30 p. m. bearing W. N. W. 30 miles Lat. 20° 2' S. Long. 156° 53' W. On May 9 we got our first gale and Cape Horn weather. We were making 10 knots under foresail and topsails, good weather next day.

On May 14, at 4 o'clock in the morning all hands on deck, made everything fast but fore and main lower topsails which we have too under. We were here to until May 15, then we got a strong blow from the E. Well, take it as a whole we had real good weather, no icebergs. We had one half squall that all sea away of ice. I never lost a wheel the whole trip and never had to lay up, but I suffered terrible from the dashing seas hitting me. In bad weather we had to pump ship the whole water night and day. The seas would come over the ship like a shot and I tell you, you had to hang on. I was only washed once by a sea, that was at 15 minutes to 12 one night when we were pumping ship. The sea pulled me right off the life line which is stretched around the deck. The pump handle hit me on the head and the sea threw me head first against the capstan, which knocked me senseless. I washed across the deck a couple of times then got up on the life line. I was glad to get up into warm weather I tell you.

I have kept my diary all the time. I have done some terrible hard work this trip I tell you, and I consider myself as good a sailor as any of them. The officers and crew have treated me grand, first straight. With much love and kisses to all the dear folks at home. I remain your tattered, salted, sunned, and washed about sailor son.

HERBERT M. DOW. When "Dede" says he thinks he is as good a sailor as the rest of them, he is not indulging in any idle boast, for he certainly is a remarkable youngster for a boy turned 17 years of age. He has been going to sea ever since he was 14 years of age. He has sailed on the barks Albert, R. P. Rithet, Olympic and George Curtis and S. S. Arizonan between the islands and San Francisco and has also been on the bark Nuanuu and the ill-fated ship Helen Brewer between the islands. Shipped on all of those vessels during his vacations, so the Chapman is the first long voyage that he has made. He intends to re-ship on her and go to Hong Kong. The vessel will return to Honolulu to load sugar next season. She will either go from Hongkong to Newcastle to get coal for some Hawaiian port, or else come to Honolulu in ballast directly for Hong Kong. The vessel is to load at New York for Hong Kong.

SHI. PING INTELLIGENCE ARRIVING. Saturday, August 27. S. S. Mjowera, Hemming, for Victoria and Vancouver, due in morning.

DEPARTING. Saturday, August 27. S. S. Mjowera, Hemming, for Suva, Brisbane and Sydney, probably sail about noon.

THE OLYMPIC CASE The taking of evidence on behalf of the plaintiff in the case of the widow of Samuel Makalilihi against the bark Olympic was concluded this morning before U. S. Commissioner Judd. Makalilihi was working as a stevedore on the Olympic when he met his death through falling into the hold while loading sugar. His widow's claim is that his fall was caused by the rottenness of the beam supporting the cover of the fore-hatch, while the defenses holds that the man had no right to be where he was and that his death was due to his own negligence. The evidence for the defense has yet to be submitted.

NAVAL TARGET PRACTICE. The first detachment of men from the Naval Station, consisting of 12 blue-jackets from the U. S. S. Iroquois and 22 marines from the station, returned this morning from the target practice-ment encampment. The second detachment left for the encampment this morning. The members of the Marine baseball team will leave on Sunday for the encampment, as they are scheduled to play the Elks team tomorrow.

Sale of Lease

Land of Kawaihae 2d--Kohala, Hawaii

By direction of the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees of the Queen's Hospital, I will offer at public auction a leasehold of the Land of Kawaihae 2nd, Kohala, Hawaii, on Monday, September 19, 1904, at my sales-rooms, in Kaahumanu street, Honolulu, at 12 o'clock noon.

This property comprises one of the most desirable grazing tracts of the District and the source of the Keawenui stream, an unfailing water supply, is located on the upper or mauka portion of the property which is considered the best fattening land in the neighborhood.

The property extends from a point near Kawaihae Landing to the mountain known as Kaumu o Kaleihookole, a distance of about eight miles, varying in width from one to two miles.

At Kawaihae there is on the property, adjoining the Parker place, a very desirable House lot.

The area of this land is 10,600 Acres, more or less.

The purchaser will be required under the terms of the lease to fence the forest portion of the property in the vicinity of the water heads or source of the Keawenui stream, and otherwise provide for the exclusion of cattle from the forest portion by the erection of a five-wire fence so constructed to keep the cattle out.

Lessee must also keep down the lantana on the property. No live timber to be cut on the forest portion except for fence posts to be used on the ground, and the cutting of algaroba on the lower portion must be confined to thinning out and trimming.

Inset price for 10 year term, $2500.00 per annum, payable quarterly in advance.

A Map of the property is now posted at my salesroom.

For further particulars apply to the undersigned or A. B. Loebenstein, Surveyor, Hilo.

JAS. F. MORGAN, AUCTIONEER.

THE GHOST AND THE DAILY SPOT

THE ONE WOULD NOT WALK SO THE OTHER COULD NOT RUN—TRAGEDY OF POLITICAL ORGAN.

Scene—Office of the Daily Democratic Spot.

Time—Pay day.

Cast of Characters—Editor, another editor, still another editor, editor of "We view with alarm" column, editor of "We denounce" department, one printer.

First editor—"Say where is that editorial I told you to write?"

Other editors—"Got no ink, no pens, no paper."

First editor—"Then go out and borrow a lead pencil and rush that editorial along. We haven't got but six columns of roasts on the Republican to-day."

Printer—"Say you fellows have got to use some other words besides "denounce," "view with alarm," "deplore," we are nearly out of those letters."

Editor—"All right, hereafter we will translate them into Hawaiian. I wish to make an important announcement, all those having—"

Chorus eagerly—"Does the ghost walk?"

Editor (ignoring insinuation of chrysis)—"As I was about to remark, all those having claims against the Daily Democratic Spot will please present them at any time except when they are due. Pay day this week is postponed until next week."

Chorus—"That's what you said last week."

Editor—"I know, but pay day on this paper is a moveable feast. Some of you will write an article on the growing prosperity of our pineapple industry."

Chorus (in despair)—"Then we don't eat?"

Editor (severely in business like way)—"I have nothing to do with the wants of the inner man. I am not running a restaurant. I tell you what I will do, in lieu of your $3.50 per week salaries, I will give you each a block of $10,000 in stock in this paper."

Chorus—"We want pot not stock; we want raw fish not hot air. If you want us in this shop again, you will have to coax us in with a squid apiece and a bottle of square face. Let's strike."

Exit everybody and rush over to Col. McParty's resort to cash their strings at the free lunch counter.

Notice—Owing to the non-arrival of an important part of our material, the Daily Democratic Spot will not appear this week, in its usual form. If the subscribers will assemble before the office every morning at 9 o'clock, they will be supplied with all the news, through a megaphone.

HONORED MEMORY OF ADMIRAL. A salute of 13 guns was fired today at noon at the Naval Station out of honor to the memory of Admiral Taylor retired. The flag was at half mast at the station during the day.
