lania, to Smith, to Nuanuu, to Beretania, and thence back to the point of starting.

The dragons will make quite a laborious journey. They will travel leisurely, stopping at various stores and places en route, in order to bring good luck to the Chinese. Among the various places they will visit will be the rooms of the Chinese Society on King street where a feast will be held. The government band is expected to play for the Chinese.

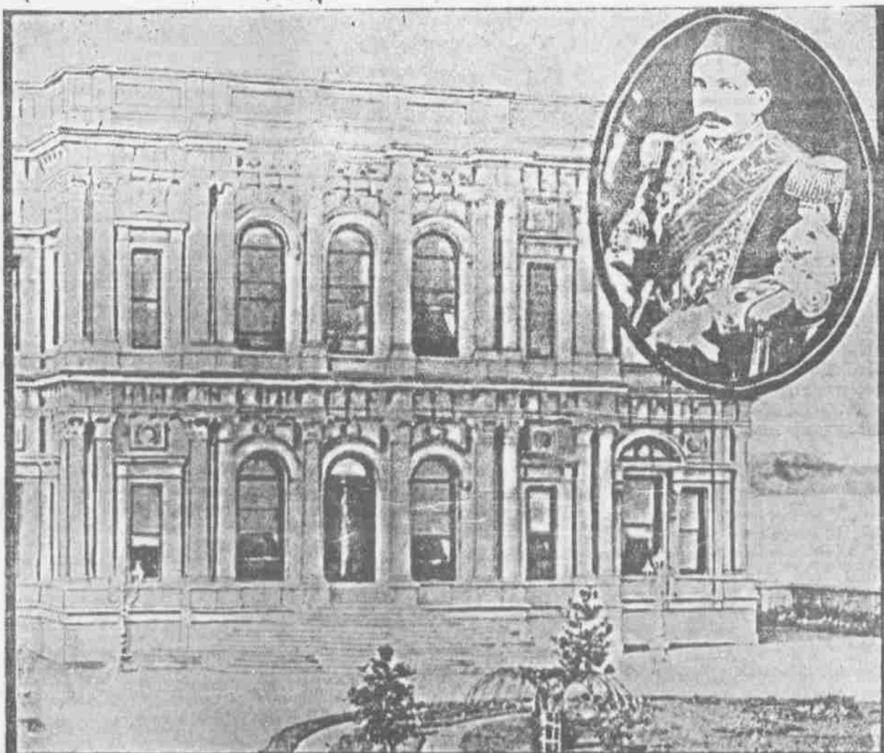

The festivities will be continued during the afternoon and evening. Chinatown will assume its holiday garb and the Pakes take a rest and enjoy life. The celebration will be concluded on Saturday. The full moon is supposed to be reached at 8 o'clock, and then the praying and incantations will begin.

PALACE WAS MURAD'S PRISON FOR NEARLY THIRTY YEARS

Former Sultan Murad V, who died on August 30, was deposed by his brother, the present Sultan, whose picture appears above. He was declared insane, and has been a close prisoner since 1876, kept under restrictions of the cruelest character. The real facts in the case will probably never be known, but it has been claimed that Murad was a good deal more sane than his brother, and one of the greatest terrors of Abdul Hamid's existence was the fear that this Turkish "man with the iron mask," as he has been termed, might escape from his place of confinement.

This being the case, Conductor Hurtt feels that it would be quite impossible to accomplish the "legitimate end of matrimony" as any idea of again living with his wife is abhorrent to him. He therefore prays for a complete divorce.

A PEACE CONGRESS

TWELFTH INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE FOR THE PROMOTION OF ARBITRATION CALLED AT ST. LOUIS THIS MONTH—TO DISCUSS WORLD POLITICS, DISARMAMENT, FUTURE ARBITRATION CONGRESSES AND OTHER MEASURES TO BRING ABOUT PEACE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 31.—Plans have been completed for the entertainment of the distinguished body of foreigners who will come to this country next month to attend the twelfth interparliamentary conference for the promotion of international arbitration to be held at St. Louis in September. Recent developments have indicated that there is grave danger, owing to the political campaign, of a very inadequate representation of the American congress at the conference.

Between 200 and 225 members of the various parliaments of Europe will attend the conference. Representative Bartholdt of Missouri, who was chiefly instrumental in having Congress invite the delegates to meet in this country and provide an appropriation of $50,000 for their entertainment, has made vigorous efforts to have a large representation of members of the Senate and House.

Recently he wrote a circular letter to all the Senators and Representatives requesting their presence at the conference and he has received many discouraging responses to the effect that campaign matters would prevent attendance of the writers.

Speaking tonight of the situation, Representative Bartholdt, who represents the American Congressional committee and is chairman of the entertainment committee, said:

"In my judgment it would be, after having invited here distinguished members of all European parliaments, a national disgrace if Congress be not well represented at the conference, and the foreign delegates would be sure to feel the matter keenly as a slight to themselves. They will have traveled thousands of miles in response to the resolution passed by Congress, and come not to see the exposition, but to meet and discuss international arbitration with members of the American Congress.

"They wish to discuss with them the world's politics, national disarmament, future world's arbitration congresses, and measures looking to peace all over the world. Members of Congress, I trust, will realize the need that they sacrifice something to attend the conference."

Mr. Bartholdt today was informed that Assistant Secretary Taylor of the government's official representative when the delegates arrive at New York. On September 6 the delegates and those members of their families who accompany them will be taken on an excursion up the Hudson or two revenue cutters and two tugs, escorted by a naval vessel. At West Point a luncheon will be given at which Assistant Secretary Taylor and Mr. Bartholdt will welcome the delegates here formally. The next day the delegates will go to Philadelphia and thence will go to St. Louis for conference. At St. Louis the executive branch of the government will be represented either by Secretary Hay or one of the assistant secretaries of the State Department. The official reception of the delegation by President Roosevelt will not occur until about September 24, and will take place in the White House.

TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS DAILY

THE WORLD'S FAIR AT ST. LOUIS IS MAKING HEAVY PROFITS NOW.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., August 30.—Announcement is made semi-officially by members of the world's fair management that the $1,000,000 loan applied for more than a month ago to be used in case of emergency will not be needed.

It is stated that the revenue to the world's fair has exceeded expectations, the total daily receipts, in round numbers, amounting to about $75,000. According to the statement of President Francis the cost of maintaining and operating the exposition including the government loan payment is $65,000 a day, in which event, based on the conservative estimate, the exposition has a net revenue of $10,000 each day.

The electrical engineers who attend the international electrical congress, to be held here next month, will be elaborately entertained by the committee of arrangements. There will be delegates present from all parts of the United States and many famous in the profession in foreign countries are expected.

NEW CONDITIONS IN RICE INDUSTRY

NO EXPORT OF RICE THIS YEAR, FOR THE FIRST TIME SINCE GROWING BEGAN.

The Forester and Agriculturist, organ of the Territorial Board of Agriculture and Forestry, edited by W. M. Giffard, has the following in its last number:

"In the governor's report for 1903 the following statement is made: 'Rice is inevitably a diminishing product, both from the competition of the new rice fields of Texas and Louisiana and the diminishing numbers of Chinese in the Territory.' For the first time, probably since rice-growing was started in the Hawaiian Islands, rice this year disappears from the list of exports. Owing to lack of labor the rice planters are in a bad way and imported rice now rules the local market. As the Hawaiian rice fields are the most productive of any in the Union, other things being equal they ought at least to supply the local demand. This demand is large, as rice is the chief food of the thousands of Asiatic laborers on the sugar plantations.

"According to the census of 1900 Hawaii was third in production of rice among all the States and Territories. There were in Hawaii in 1899 304 rice farms with an area of 9130 acres, which produced 33,442,490 pounds of rice, valued at $1,562,051. The acreage was 2.6 per cent, the production 11.8 per cent, and the value 12.8 per cent of the total percentages for the whole country. The average number of acres per farm was 30.1 acres, the average production per acre 3629 pounds, and the average value per acre $171.00. Louisiana, the leader in rice production, for the same year had an average production per acre of 5564 pounds, with an average value of crop per acre of $26.05. South Carolina's average yield per acre was 6393 pounds, and average value per acre $17.60. Lands suitable for rice cultivation are limited in area, yet have never been fully occupied where they do exist. Possibly rice growing might be restored here to its former condition of profit if the labor-saving methods of the Southern States were applied."

ON TRIAL FOR MANSLAUGHTER

DAN KAHILI'S TRIAL IS BEGUN THIS MORNING IN JUDGE GEAR'S COURT.

Dan Kamai Kahili, charged with manslaughter, having compassed the death of Kallimahana, was put on trial before Judge Gear at this morning's session of the court. The prisoner was defended by S. F. Chillingworth, and Assistant Attorney General Prosser conducted the prosecution.

A portion of the evidence for the prosecution was put in before the court rose for luncheon. The fracas in which Kallimahana lost his life occurred back of Punchbowl on April 11 last. The men had been drinking and a quarrel ensued. During the fight the deceased received a deep stab in the abdomen which caused his death. The case is continuing this afternoon.
