

LORRIN ANDREWS STAYS IN OFFICE

A CASE OF THE OFFICE HOLDING ON TO THE MAN—THE ATTORNEY GENERAL WITHDRAWS REQUEST FOR ACCEPTANCE OF HIS RESIGNATION AT THE REQUEST OF GOVERNOR CARTER AND WILL CONTINUE IN CHARGE.

There is to be no change in the Attorney Generalship after all, for this morning after a long consultation between Attorney General Andrews and Governor Carter the former consented to withdraw his request for the acceptance of his resignation and will continue in the office.

"I have felt all along that the Territory was suffering a great loss by the withdrawal of Mr. Andrews from the service," said Governor Carter this morning in making the announcement, "but he had once at my request postponed his retirement and I did not feel that it would be fair to ask him again to change his plans. However, on reviewing the situation I decided to do so and I am very glad to say that in view of the public welfare he has consented to remain with the government. It seems to me that the Territory is a gainer all round, for the work of the Attorney General's office is in excellent shape, he has his staff working in harmony and a change, no matter who might be put in, might cause some loosening in the efficiency of the department. Personally I am much pleased with his decision."

The Attorney General's decision to retain his office will prove a disappointment to a number of attorneys in the Territory of Hawaii. It is known that there were many who were looking for the endorsement of the Republican Central Committee and many of these had strong claims to urge, so that it is possible the Central Committee is also relieved from an embarrassing situation.

BASEBALL CATCHER IN SERIOUS TROUBLE

SENT TODAY TO THIS CITY FROM PUKOO ON A CHARGE OF BURGGLARY FIRST DEGREE.

David Kekuewa, the former crack catcher of the Kamehameha baseball team, was brought to the police station today from Molokai, under commitment on a charge of burglary in the first degree. According to a letter sent by Deputy Sheriff Hitchcock to the High Sheriff regarding the matter, Kekuewa was charged with breaking into the Pukoo Saloon on the night of November 11 and carrying away a five gallon keg of wine and a gallon demijohn of wine. Kekuewa was intoxicated at the time of the alleged act. The youth waived examination and was committed for trial. The magistrate refused to take jurisdiction in the matter of bail, so Kekuewa was sent to Honolulu.

It is claimed by the local friends of Kekuewa that the youth had a key to the saloon, as he was formerly employed about the place, and that the liquor alleged to have been stolen was taken by him to replenish the supply at a luau.

ALL WILLING BUT THE WIDOW JAP RESERVES HAVE SHAM BATTLE

HANGING THE INTERPRETER AS A PART OF A HAWAII KOREAN WEDDING.

HILO, November 10.—There was trouble in Keauau last Saturday which might have ended seriously had it not been for the timely arrival of Eddie Soper, a division lama of the Oahu plantation. It seems that a Korean died at Keauau, leaving a widow and some small debts. In the Korean colony at that place is a prosperous cook who had put aside a few dollars for the proverbial rainy day. The Koreans to whom the dead man was indebted wanted their coin and in order to get it arranged with the cook to marry the widow. It was a case of Barkis being willing but the widow balked.

The woman sought the services of I. E. Ray, a district court attorney, and, with an interpreter for the Koreans and Yotaro for the Japanese, he proceeded to the village and began an investigation. Following a custom of the Far East the Korean interpreter was seized and taken into a house. There was considerable excitement during which Yotaro got lost and Mr. Ray went to the store to telephone.

By this time Mr. Soper heard of the racket and went to the scene. He learned where the interpreter and the Koreans were and he proceeded to batter down the door. The interpreter was securely bound and had a rope around his neck preparatory to being swung off. Soper cut the man loose and went after the Koreans knocking them right and left. He met with some resistance but was equal to the occasion and the men leaped over the veranda railing. Ray and the interpreters then came back to Hilo and the matter was reported to the police department. Sheriff Andrews went up to Keauau before daylight on Sunday morning and arrested nine of the men directly interested in the assault of the interpreter and they were brought to Hilo. They had a hearing before Judge Hapal on Monday, when the case was postponed to the 14th inst.

NUMBERED BALLOTS CAUSE HAWAII PROTEST

HILO HAS THE SAME ELECTION DAY DIFFICULTY AS HONOLULU—A QUIET ELECTION DAY WITH NO SIGNS OF TROUBLE EXCEPT A PARTY PICKWICKIAN DIFFICULTY BETWEEN JUDGE SMITH AND C. M. LE BLOND.

HILO, November 10.—At one time, early on election day, a protest was made as to the manner of depositing the ballots or rather the character of the ballot. The law says that all marks of identification shall be removed by the judges before the ballot is deposited. The ballots received here are numbered in the upper right hand corner and a corresponding number was on the stub. It was interpreted that the number on the ballot was a mark of identification and that it should have been removed by the judges. This was neglected from some cause and the protest was made. The judges contended that there was no way of ascertaining a voter with any particular ballot, that it would be impossible to ascertain from the ballot and the register of voters who had cast any particular ballot. A compromise was made by the judges deciding that before the ballots were counted the numbers would be torn off. The perforations on the tickets were poorly made and for that reason it was slow work to remove the numbers.

The returns from the outer precincts came in slowly the first to arrive being those of Hanalei. They showed a Republican victory and nearly every precinct that followed showed the most gratifying result. In some there were gains over two years ago and in others there was a falling off.

Notley who looked to this island for his greatest support, learned his strength. He reported in Honolulu on his return from Hawaii on "skinned to death." Instead of doing the skinning he was beautifully and effectively skinned.

The Republicans in the First District did well. The organization was more perfect than it ever was before as the result showed and the manager, Carl Smith, deserves much credit for the victory.

In speaking of the result Judge Smith said: "It is not due to any one man that the victory is won. We all worked hard for a common end and I am pleased to say that what was desired was accomplished. No one who has not

Additional returns received by the Kimoau this morning increase the Republican victory in the election of last Tuesday. Prince Cupid's majority over the combined vote of both his opponents is more than two thousand. He has a total, as shown by unofficial returns so far received of 7,800 votes, out of a total of 12,955 cast. Notley gets 2286 and Laukea 2,869. These figures are unofficial and will probably be changed, especially as to Kauai returns. The following tables show figures as so far received.
