Bad Blood

Have confidence in Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It has been curing people in all parts of the world for over 30 years. It is the greatest family medicine in the world. It purifies, strengthens, enriches, builds up.

Mr. George Fountain, of Mt. Vernon, So. Australia, sends his photograph and this interesting letter:
 "I had a very bad case of eczema. Medical men had told me nothing more could be done. I tried several blood remedies, but without relief. The eruption was over the whole of my body and arms. My friends told me I must try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. To please them, I did so. To tell the truth, I did not have much confidence in it. I had tried so many medicines. To my great surprise, I found that after only one bottle the sores were beginning to disappear. It took just two bottles to make a complete cure. My skin is now perfectly smooth, and not a trace do I have of my former trouble."

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

There are many imitations of Sarsaparilla. Be sure you get "Ayer's."

A STRANGE MISTAKE.
 A man at Burlington, Kan., stole a box of butter from the express office there recently, thinking that it was whiskey. It would be too low down a thing to make a joke about the butter being able to go back to its rightful owner by itself. But it was back in the express office the next morning, and none of the express people helped it back.

Some of the saloons in New York are supplying dogs, that are accompanied by their owners, with a drink of milk. The bar-keepers say that this costs but little, and tends to increase trade rapidly. The strange part of it is that the dogs soon get the habit of going to the saloons as regularly as their masters, and there are several saloons that have regular dog visitors each day.

WEEKLY CROP BULLETIN

For the Week Ending April 5, 1906.
 Honolulu T. H., April 10, 1906.
GENERAL SUMMARY.

The past week has been marked by steady trade winds, rather cloudy skies and night temperatures below the normal.
 In windward Hawaii, the rainfall has been abundant saturating the soil and affording a plentiful water supply. Pastures have been much improved, and coffee has blossomed well. Cane has made fair growth, but would be benefited by more sunshine and higher temperatures. The rainy weather has interfered somewhat with field operations in the plantations. Rain is still needed in leeward Hawaii, especially in the Kau district, but the showers which have already fallen have brought out the coffee blossom and improved the pastures. In Maui, the rainfall has been confined principally to the windward and mountain sections, but the irrigation ditches of the central Maui sugar plantations are now running full and all pumps have been shut down. Maui pineapples need warmer and drier weather to ripen the remainder of the winter crop and advance the growth of the fruit lands. In Oahu and Kauai, rain is still needed in most sections, the available water supply in the latter islands being very low. The coffee trees of windward Oahu are suffering for want of rain. Cane grinding is proceeding rapidly in all sections and the preparation and planting of land for the 1907 crop continues. Rice has made very satisfactory progress during the week. Leaf-hoppers are increasing in numbers in portions of Kauai. A strong earthquake shock occurred in windward Hawaii at 2 a. m. of the 4th instant.

REMARKS BY CORRESPONDENTS.
ISLAND OF HAWAII.
 Kaunama—The weather continues showery, most of the rain falling at night, with fair weather and some sunshine in the daytime; sugar cane and vegetation generally improving rapidly; stripping, harvesting, plowing, and planting cane.—J. E. Gamelleton.
 Hilo—Trade winds and showers all week.—L. C. Lyman.
 Kapakapa—Weather very favorable for plantation operations; plenty of water for all purposes; grinding, plowing, and planting.—John T. Moir.
 Pepeekeo—Rain continues; no wash, but rather soft for furrowing; cutting cane, grinding, plowing, and planting.—James Webster.
 Honoumou—Abundant rains during week; upper lands very wet, retarding planting operations; good weather for growing cane harvesting and planting.—William Fuller.
 Hakakala—Continued wet weather during week; harvesting and planting cane.—George Ross.
 Laupahoehoe—Rain all week; muddy roads, and good pastures; coffee blooming, also mangoes and other trees; weather getting warmer.—E. W. Barnard.
 Okaia—Cloudy days and rainy nights; growing crops looking well.—W. G. Walker.
 Pauhaui—Fairly warm weather, with frequent showers; coming crops continue to show good growth.—H. Glass.
 Honokaa—Showers all week; plowing, hosing and harvesting; earthquake shock during early morning of 4th.—C. H. Briggs.
 Niihau—Another wet week, and land fully saturated; growth of cane slow on account of low temperature; reaping, stripping, plowing and planting; time lost on account of rain.—Robert Hall.
 Kohala—Fine rains, and crops looking well; sun and higher temperatures would now be beneficial.—W. O. Taylor.
 Kohala Mission—Continuous rains throughout week, and all crops and pastures doing finely; soil thoroughly saturated, and all springs running; earthquake 2:02 a. m. of 4th.—Dr. B. D. Bond.
 Puaia Ranch—Heavy rains during week, with northerly and northeasterly winds; nights rather cold; pastures doing well.—A. Mason.
 Pauhau—Strong trades, with too much rain; cold nights; strong earthquake shock at 2:04 a. m. on 4th.—S. P. Woods.
 Kamaea—Good showers all week.—Mrs. E. W. Hay.
 Pauwaawa—No rain; strong trade winds continue; early part of week dark and cloudy; many cattle dying.—Robert Hind.

ISLAND OF MAUI.
 Kipahulu—Nice showery weather at last, with plenty of water for fluming; harvesting cane, and planting upper lands.—Andrew Gross.
 Huelo—Good rains well up on the mountains, and streams running with good supply; stock in good condition and vegetation developing rapidly; irrigation ditches running full.—W. F. Pogue.
 Haiku—Weather cooler than last week, with much rainfall, which is very favorable for sugar plantations and for pastures; warmer and drier conditions desirable for our pineapples, to ripen balance of winter crop and to promote development of the summer crop.—D. D. Baldwin.
 Makawao—Weather warm, with moderate trades good rains throughout week, and crops of all kinds growing finely; pastures have started, and will soon be in good condition; stock showing decided improvement.—E. H. Bailey.
 Nahulu—Trade winds, with warm days and cold nights; showers during early part of week.—R. W. Filler.
 Puunene—Weather still dry, but good showers last Sunday and Monday, and pumps all shut down; harvesting proceeding rapidly; cool nights during latter part of week.—J. N. S. Williams.

ISLAND OF OAHU.
 Waimanalo—Continued dry weather with moderate temperatures.—A. Irvine.
 Maunawili—Weather still dry, and coffee suffering from lack of rain; pastures very poor.—John Herd.
 Waianae—Fine weather all week; a little rain has fallen on the mauka lands; growing cane making good progress.—F. Mayer.
 Waiawa—Appearance of pineapples much improved by showers during week; more rain is needed.—W. R. Waters.
 Wahiawa—Good showers during week, but rather cold nights; pineapple plants in very good condition.—B. O. Clark.
 Kahuku—Warm weather, with occasional light showers nights slightly cooler this week preparing land for 1907 cane.—R. T. Christophersen.

ISLAND OF KAUI.
 Makaweli—Heavy trade winds all week fair growing weather plowing land, and grinding cane steadily.—Hawaiian Sugar Co.
 Elele—Warm days, but rather cool nights; still very dry, with only occasional showers; still grinding cane.—McBryde Sugar Co.
 Koloa—Light showers during week, which have freshened up pastures, but a heavy rain is much needed; irrigation water scarce.—P. McLane.
 Lihue—Dry weather continues; harvesting cane and plowing.—F. Weber.
 Keala—Cooler weather, with strong trades and light local showers; no increase in water supply, which is about one-third the amount needed for proper irrigation; young cane showing hardly any growth.—W. Jarvis.
 Kilauea—Weather continues dry, with no signs of rain; reservoir supply short leafhoppers are becoming very plentiful.—L. B. Borelko.
 Hanalei—Trade winds and showers; pastures still improving, and rice looking well.—E. G. K. Daverill.

 Section Director.

SUPREME COURTS' THREE DECISIONS

Three Cases Settled By Unanimous Opinions Which Were Filed Yesterday.

In the suit for foreclosure of mortgage of the First American Savings & Trust Co. of Hawaii, Ltd., vs. Mary Jane Montano and A. A. Montano, the Supreme Court yesterday affirmed the decree on the strength of a provision of the Revised Laws, that "deficiency judgment on foreclosure of mortgage may be rendered against a married woman." C. A. Long and E. A. C. Long for complainant; J. Alfred Magoon and J. Lightfoot for respondent, appealing from decree.

A unanimous opinion of the Supreme Court written by Chief Justice Frear, in the assumpsit suit of J. Nott vs. J. Silva, decides that attorney's fees are not included in the cost of court, mentioned in Sec. 1803, Revised Laws. In this case judgment for plaintiff was reduced on appeal from $97.57 to $72.50, or more than one-fifth. The court's conclusion is that the plaintiff is entitled to the attorney's fees. It was conceded by plaintiff on the hearing that all ordinary costs should be allowed the defendant under the exception above noted. G. A. Davis for plaintiff; C. Creighton for defendant.

A unanimous decision of the Supreme Court, by Justice Hartwell and Wilder and Judge De Bolt, is that, under the contract with the government and the statute on which it was based the Oahu Railway & Land Co. is allowed the free use of water from the government in the maintenance and operation of the railroad, as it had in the construction thereof. Attorney General Andrews for plaintiff; Ballou & Marx for defendant.

OLD FATHER NEPTUNE RULED THE VENTURE

MONARCH OF THE DEEP PAID HIS FIRST VISIT TO THE LINER THIS TRIP.

For the first time in the history of the S. S. Ventura Father Neptune paid the vessel a visit. The Monarch of the deep visited the liner on April 7 when she crossed the line on the up trip from the Colonies. The ceremonies were attended with all the elaborate court and retinue of Neptune and many of the younger passengers participated in the celebration.

The vessel arrived on the morning having left Sydney March 27, Auckland March 31, and Pago Pago April 4. Her steaming time to this port from Sydney was 14 days 19 hours and 34 minutes. She experienced fine weather throughout the voyage. The vessel carries 1,807 tons of freight and landed 9 tons at Honolulu. In the through cargo is the largest shipment of flax fibre that has ever gone out of Australia.

The vessel carries 211 through passengers of whom 100 are in the cabin. She landed 16 passengers at Honolulu. The vessel takes a good sized crowd of people from this port for San Francisco.

Among the passengers arriving from the Colonies were Mrs. R. Groves and Miss Sadie Groves the wife and daughter of the chief steward of the Young Hotel.

Mrs. E. Aigeltinger is the wife of one of the San Francisco supervisors. Mrs. Theodore Lundstedt is the wife of a San Francisco official. She is making the round trip by the Ventura.

Hans Irvine is a wine grower of Southern Australia. He is accompanied by his wife.

H. H. Beissen and Albert Henry are Continental wool buyers who have been in Australia.

Miss May Curtis is an Australian vocalist who is going to America. C. P. Burgoyne is a British wine merchant who has been in Australia in company with his son.

Miss Helen Jerome is a news correspondent of some Australian papers. Viscount Ennismore and Lady Ennismore are through passengers. He is the eldest son of Earl Listowel.

The Ventura is scheduled to sail at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon for San Francisco.

ROWDYISM AT COLLEGES.
 Just how far rough sports and contests pursued as public shows, which with their gambling and gate money accompaniments, are responsible for the pretty evident growing tendency to rowdyism and riot at American colleges is a question worth considering by academic authorities. A little riot and branch work seems to be impending at Yale, at all events, and such an example would be salutary in other quarters.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

FREAR SENDS A WIRELESS ORDER

JUDGE PARSONS TEMPORARILY PROHIBITED FROM IMPRISONING FORMER SHERIFF ANDREWS.

A writ of prohibition addressed to Circuit Judge Parsons and sent to him by wireless by the Supreme Court yesterday, released former Sheriff L. A. Andrews of Hawaii from custody, after he had been incarcerated by Judge Parsons for contempt of court. Parsons fined Andrews $50 for failure to pay some fine money into court in accordance with an order issued. The sheriff claimed that he was not certain of his legal right to pay the money into court, setting forth that his failure to do anything with it but pay it into the Treasury was, under the law, prima facie evidence of embezzlement. He finally turned it over to the court, however, two hours later than ordered, according to his petition for a writ.

Judge Parsons refused to entertain an appeal from his contempt sentence, and ordered Andrews into custody. The writ of prohibition was presented to Chief Justice Frear yesterday afternoon by Attorney General Andrews, and the chief justice signed the writ, making it returnable April 21. A wireless to Hilo conveyed instructions to release the former sheriff.

WIRELESS HAD NARROW ESCAPE

LOCAL TELEGRAPH SYSTEM'S REQUEST FOR SUBSIDY MEETS WITH OPPOSITION IN HOUSE.

A call from Congressman Gillette of New York was a feature of yesterday afternoon's meeting of the House of Representatives. He was invited to a seat beside the Speaker and made a felicitous speech to the House.

The bill to give the Wireless Telegraph Company a subsidy of $1000 a month when presented for third reading developed serious opposition. Holstein attacked it as being an extravagant measure and it was plain that many in the House agreed that the whole institution could be run for much less than the amount of the subsidy. Holstein moved the indefinite postponement of the bill, but Harris saved it for the time being by moving its postponement until today.

Kaleiopi's House Bill 31, authorizing and providing for the sale of licenses to sell opium or of preparations thereof, defining the duties and powers in regard thereto and defining and prohibiting opium smokers' dens, passed third reading with minor amendments.

Broad's bill relating to the manufacture of poi (H. B. 145) was up for second reading. It was recommitted to the Judiciary Committee.

The House rose at 4:20.
