Losing your hair? Do you bring out a combful each morning? Has it lost its natural brightness? Is it beginning to look faded and dead? Do you like this condition of things? Certainly not. Then stop this falling of the hair at once. Stop it before your hair is thin, short, and lifeless. Buy a bottle of

and make your hair beautiful, glossy, silky, abundant.
If your hair is gray, and you don't care to look at thirty as if you were sixty, then you should use Ayer's Hair Vigor. It always restores color to gray hair, all the deep, rich, beautiful color it had when you were young.
Do not be deceived by cheap imitations which will only disappoint you. Be sure you get AYER'S Hair Vigor.

Financed Two Polar Expeditions

WILLIAM ZEIGLER, WHO WAS ONE OF THE MOST ARDENT SUPPORTERS AND PROMOTERS OF ARCTIC EXPLORATION, AND A WONDERFUL SPECIMEN OF THE SELF MADE MAN, DIED RECENTLY.

NEW YORK, May 24.—William Ziegler, the capitalist and promoter of Arctic exploration, died this morning at his country home near Noroton, Conn. He was unconscious all of last night. The funeral will be held Saturday at noon. Mr. Ziegler had been an invalid since a runaway accident, in which he was injured last October. He sustained internal lacerations, and was so severely shocked that the physicians were unable to do little more than ameliorate his sufferings. Mr. Ziegler's condition received a setback a few weeks ago by the shock which he sustained on hearing of an accident to his son, who fell on a sharp hook, cutting himself severely. Last Saturday he suffered a stroke of apoplexy. The interment will probably be in Woodland Cemetery, New York. Mr. Ziegler is survived by a widow and one son. William Ziegler was known to the world as one of the most ardent of all the enthusiasts who have become addicted to polar exploration, having equipped and financed two expeditions to the North Pole in recent years. Even in this age of self-made men his career has been a remarkable one. Born of poor German parents on the Iowa prairies, in 1843, Ziegler, even when a barefoot lad, developed the money-making instinct. His first venture was in the disagreeable task of cleaning fresh hides, in his leisure hours.

By the time he reached his majority he had accumulated a few hundred dollars, and his father having died and his mother remarried, he struck out for himself. Instead of going West, it occurred to him that the East was the money center, and to New York, therefore, he directed his footsteps. There he met a young drug clerk with an inventive turn of mind, who confided to him that he had discovered a baking powder, which, he believed, would make both their fortunes. They at once joined forces and hired a cellar in a cheap street, where the drug clerk compounded the powder and put it up, while Ziegler went out and peddled it. They were so successful that, a few years later, Ziegler induced his partner to enlarge the plant and put all their profits into advertising. Within a year there was no longer any necessity to peddle, and the fame of their baking powder had spread far and wide. By a curious coincidence two brothers in Cleveland had begun to manufacture a similar article about the same time, and the rivals were soon involved in a desperate legal battle, which attracted world-wide attention. Their businesses were finally consolidated and increased enormously.

After the death of his original partner Ziegler resisted an attempt to freeze him out by the Cleveland men, and ultimately compelled them to pay his own figures for his stock. Then he invested in real estate, and, as everything he touched seemed to turn to gold, he soon accumulated a fortune. In Brooklyn he was known as a courageous and public-spirited citizen, who has always been on the side of intelligent and honest government. He led the fight against the purchase by the city of Brooklyn of the Long Island Water Supply Company, saving the city $1,500,000.

In November, 1903, Ziegler was indicted by a grand jury at Jefferson City, Mo., charged with having supplied money with which to bribe the Legislature of that State not to repeal the "pure-food law," during the session of 1901. This charge was regarded by Ziegler and his friends as a piece of spite by Evelyn B. Baldwin, the discredited leader of Ziegler's first polar expedition.

For the Week Ending June 24, 1903.
Honolulu, T. H., June 25, 1903.

GENERAL SUMMARY.

Warm days have been the rule all week, but the nights have been rather cool during the latter part. The regular trade winds have continued, but with diminishing force. The rainfall has been abundant in all sections of Hawaii except the lower levels of the Kau district, and copious showers have fallen in windward Maui, windward Oahu, and the immediate vicinity of Koloa and Hanalei, Kauai; elsewhere little or no precipitation has occurred since last advices.

Growing cane has, in general, done quite well during the week, but needs rain in the Kau district of Hawaii, the Kipahulu district of Maui, and eastern Kauai. A good supply of ditch water for irrigation purposes is still avail-benefitted by good rains during the week. The summer crop of pineapples is rapidly maturing, and blossoms for next winter's crop have begun to make their appearance in central Maui. Pastures in the Kona and windward districts of Hawaii are in good condition, but again need rain badly in the lower levels of the Kau district; pastures also need rain in central and western Maui, leeward Oahu, and most sections of Kauai. Rubber trees in the Naliha section of Maui are growing well. In the Hanalei district of Kauai, fruit trees have borne a very poor summer crop; the yield of pears has been especially light.

As to the electric light plant Holloway said that if the Territory was to furnish light to the city, the man who was to have charge should be satisfactory to the Superintendent of Public Works. The Territory will own the plant still though the county will maintain it.

COUNTY PROBLEMS ARE DISCUSSED

SUPERINTENDENT HOLLOWAY TALKS OVER THE DISPOSITION OF ROAD MATERIAL.

An interesting meeting was held last evening between Superintendent Holloway of the Public Works Department and the Board of Supervisors, the latter being represented by Chairman Smith, Supervisors Adams, Lucas, Moore, Archer and Paole.

The disposition of the Road Department's material was the first matter under discussion. Holloway favored turning it over to the county provided the Territory could use it when it needed and that it was kept in good repair for this reason he believed that he should have some say in the appointment of the road superintendent. The present one, Sam Johnson would be satisfactory to him. If the county did not take over the animals and apparatus they would be sold. There was about $100,000 of equipment in all.

Continuing he stated that $110,000 had been appropriated to maintain roads and bridges with a payroll of $16,000 for Honolulu alone. This covered the cost of maintaining the quarries. He thought that the present plans for road construction should be carried on by the county as far as possible and that the present road boards which will go out of existence on July 1 might with advantage be appointed.

As to the electric light plant Holloway said that if the Territory was to

If the county did not wish to maintain the plant and could hire power for lights from the Electric Light Co., then the Territorial plant would be closed down. The Capitol, territorial stables, pilot house, etc. were supplied by the Government plant. The same current supplied by the Government plant, if furnished by the Hawaiian Electric Co., would be about $1000 per month. Mr. Holloway wanted a guarantee that the county would supply lights for the Government buildings.

As to the garbage department it was shown the income was about $1000 a month. The payroll was about $2000; the crematory $400; total, about $3300 per month. Against this would be a realization of about $2000 for maintenance.

Territorial Treasurer Campbell stated that the county would get 10 per cent monthly of $377,000 less $125,000 the Territorial deduction. This system would hold until the taxes came in in November.

The board will meet again tonight when Attorney General Andrews, High Sheriff Henry and Sheriff Brown will be present.
