To get a ten-cent cigar for a modest nickel is, to say the least, unusual. Yet this is exactly what is happening at Gunst-Eakin's store in the case of the L. Toro, Porto Rican cigars, which have jumped into such popular favor. These cigars are made of the best tobacco in the world and possess that rich, fine, delicate flavor found only in choice Havana cigars. The reason that they cost only half as much as Havana cigars is because they pay no customs duty which on Havana cigars, amounts to over fifty per cent.

At the inquest at Walluku held yesterday morning on the body of Yamagata, the Japanese who died at Puunene Hospital on Tuesday, it was established that death was due to heart disease. Alfred Douce, who was shown to have thrown burning oil at the man is not out of his troubles as the verdict did not exonerate him. It ran thus: "We find that deceased Yamagata, a native of Japan, 24 years of age, came to his death on August 8th, 1906, at Puunene Hospital from heart disease and kidney trouble, which may or may not have been aggravated from excitement through injuries received."

Douce will be charged with murder and will be committed for trial at the coming October term. He has not been admitted to bail.

ANSWER TO CONTEMPT
J. F. Colburn has filed an answer to the citation for contempt issued by Judge De Bolt, on account of Colburn's failure to pay about $9,000 as ordered a couple of years ago by a decree of Circuit Judge Humphreys into the estate of James Hoare, minor. The payment was ordered of Colburn as executor of the estate of Antonio Rosa. Colburn's answer filed this afternoon states that the court had no jurisdiction to make such an order, that there are no funds available in the estate and that the estate is insolvent, with claims of about $9,000 against it. His attorney is E. M. Watson.

PINKHAM TALKS OF MOSQUITOES

INDIVIDUAL HOUSEHOLDERS MUST CO-OPERATE WITH THE BOARD OF HEALTH IN FIGHT.

Thanks to the vigorous efforts put forth by President Pinkham and the Board of Health, the mosquito pest has been modified materially during the past week and as it is the intention of the Board to keep the good work up with all of the funds that it has available, there is every hope that the city may soon reach the happy condition of a year ago when the mosquito was, if not a curiosity, at least the reverse of an ever present guest.

"The matter of the dumping of tin on empty lots has proved a nuisance, as the Star pointed out," said President Pinkham this morning "and it may be necessary to take legal proceedings against such persons as persist in disobeying the law, but I am causing signs to be made warning all persons against this dumping and as the inspectors are gathering up the cans themselves this question may be solved easily.

"But it is only to say no matter what the Board of Health may do, our work must be supplemented by individual effort if we are to accomplish material results. Every householder should make it a point to destroy possible breeding places for mosquitoes. A receptacle which contains merely a few teaspoonful of water will breed enough mosquitoes to keep a whole household uncomfortable and a careful examination of the most neglected premises will sometimes disclose a surprising number of unsuspected breeding places.

"Where there exists in a neighborhood a place which is apparently outside of every individual's jurisdiction but still is a menace, it is well for neighbors to get together and unite on a plan of action. As an instance: A few days ago I received complaints about a stagnant pond which was causing annoyance to several families and each seemed to be under the idea that the others were responsible. I called a meeting here in my office of those interested and in a few minutes an agreement was reached. The parties interested chipped in enough to fill the place and there has been no trouble since. Incidentally a source of possible bad feeling between neighbors was removed.

"The mouth of the Pihina stream presents a bad problem at all times and the stream feeds a line of duck ponds which are parallel with the shore and these get foul. I arranged gates so that the first heavy shower would be diverted through these ponds and flush them out but at the time of the last downpour I found that the Chinaman had deliberately opened the gates and had let the freshest go directly out into the sea instead of sweeping through his ponds. I got them partially flushed, however, and had the Chinaman arrested.

"With the exercise of public spirit we can beat the mosquito," concluded President Pinkham. "Not a doubt about that."

THIRTEEN NOVICES TO TREAD THE SAND

ALOHA TEMPLE OF THE MYSTIC SHRINE WILL INITIATE NEW MEMBERS TOMORROW.

Hush! Tell it not in Gath! Whisper it not in Ashdod! But there are going to be dozens tomorrow afternoon. Thirteen—note the mystic number—thirteen poor seekers after knowledge have arrived in Honolulu and are even now knocking at the outer gate of Aloha Temple of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine praying for admittance to the mysteries which are hidden from the eyes of all but the Faithful. Grays and more or less senile nobles have been poring over their books for nights past, spells have been woven, incantations made and the storm of the other night was undoubtedly caused by the sudden summons received by gent of the nether world who were summoned to tell all they knew of the past lives of the candidates.

What were the results of these investigations is not known to the outer world and probably never will be, but the fact that the daring novices are to be brought before the illustrious Potentate tomorrow afternoon to tell in person of their past crimes certainly augurs ill for them.

These are the thirteen: J. F. Meiamphy, W. H. Hoogs, S. P. Woods, J. H. Howland, T. A. Petrie, D. Mackenzie, H. H. Simpson, F. L. Waldron, W. T. Rawlins, Jacob Lando, J. McKinnon, J. A. Lyle and H. A. Taylor.

At 2:30 o'clock the miserable novitiates will be escorted by the Aloha Arab Patrol and a band, from the Masonic Hall to Progress Hall, and the way will doubtless be lined with the sorrowing friends of those who have thus recklessly plunged into danger. The exact form of the procession is a deadly secret, but those who witnessed last year's procession will surely be on hand to witness this one, for, be it remembered, those who were novices last year, have this glorious opportunity

THIS IS A VERY BAD JUNE DAY

Yes Sun June, a Korean, was arrested today by Hulimoku Kanio and charged with burglary. June was caught, so the native claims, in the latter's house in Palama this morning. June appears to have been of a most inquiring turn of mind, for according to the complaint, he was ransacking Kanio's trunk, possibly in search of some historical parchments, but more, Kanio seemed to think, in the hope of finding some good old mazuma. In any event June, acting like Kaniohane, had been July, for he sped away with Kanio in pursuit. The latter caught up with June and took him into custody, and that is the reason that June was today charged with burglary.
