BEATING HIS WIFE WAS A SOBER ACT

HAWAIIAN DEFENDANT GIVES A SUDDEN JOLT TO A TEMPERANCE LECTURE—ADMITS THAT HE IS IN THE HABIT OF GETTING DRUNK BUT SAYS HE BEAT HIS WIFE WHEN SOBER.

Kapu, a Hawaiian under sentence of six months for beating his wife, was given a severe oral castigation this morning by Judge De Bolt, before being released under a thirteen months' suspension of sentence. The judge also read Kapu a temperance lecture, which was temporarily jarred by the defendant's announcement that though he at times drank to intoxication, he was perfectly sober when he soaked his better half.

was sober when I did that," he declared. Even the judge melted in smiles at this announcement, and the lecture threatened to become lost. Kapu, however, didn't seem to see any joke in insisting that the beating of his wife was a sober act, and he quietly waited for more. It came in good measure. Judge De Bolt told him he was only on probation, on motion of County Attorney Douthitt, who had said that Kapu had been good since being sentenced, also that Kapu had a family who would suffer if he was jailed for six months. If there was any more wife-beating done, said the judge, the old sentence would at once be revived. The judge also advised against further indulgence in liquor. In spite of the fact that a period of sobriety had been the occasion of the last wife-beating. With these admonitions the defendant was allowed to go, promising to look no more on square faces.

LANE MEETING SUNDAY

THREE ELEMENTS OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY CAREFULLY WATCHING EACH OTHER.

The meeting of the Lane followers yesterday morning was quite largely attended. It was in the nature of a Kuliou rally, but at the same time was devoted to consideration of rules of the Republican party. Senator Lane was present, also, N. Fernandez, Charles Clark, Jim Quinn and a number of Hawaiians from outside districts who are devoted to the re-nomination of Prince Cupid.

DEMOCRATS TO HAVE A PARTY ORGAN

PLANS ON FOOT TO FORM STOCK COMPANY TO TAKE OVER CONTROL OF THE ALOHA AINA.

Following the example of Democrats on the island of Hawaii, the Democrats of Oahu are taking steps to secure control of an organ for the party. Plans are now under way to take over the Aloha Aina which is at present the property of Mrs. E. Nawahi who is also the editor of the paper.

DIED AT MIDWAY YESTERDAY

from so doing. Miller finally became delirious and his attendants said that he had appendicitis and told them to convey him to the hospital. There was no hospital at Midway, the orders from the sick man evidently having originated in his delirium. He told the attendants to tell the doctor to examine his stomach. There appeared to be a swelling about the stomach where he indicated.

On Saturday evening cable communication with Dr. Smith of the local naval station was had. During the night Miller had short naps until about 2 a. m. then his condition became gradually worse and he finally became unconscious and ceased breathing at 5:20 a. m. Sunday.

The remains of the deceased were interred at 3 p. m. on Sunday at Midway. Superintendent Colly of the cable station read the burial service. Complete military honors were given by the marine detachment.

SOLD HIS WIFE FOR A HUNDRED

HILO JAPANESE ARE HELD FOR CARRYING OUT CONTRACT TO SELL WOMAN.

Another Japanese peonage case with a written contract for the sale of a woman, was exposed by the preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner Maling this morning, of the four Japanese brought here by Deputy Marshal Winter on Saturday, from Hilo. The woman in the case is the wife of one of the defendants, and he is said to have sold her for $112.

The woman's name is Matsui. According to the testimony in the case her husband, Haida, sold her to one Aino. Aino and Haida were neighbors on Hawaii. The sum of $112 was paid over, and Haida signed a sort of bill of sale, by which he assumes to transfer the woman, saying that she is Aino's to do as he pleases with.

Maling held both Haida and Aino to answer before the next Federal Grand jury. The other two Japs brought were discharged.

KAPIOLANI PARK CASES.

Appeals have been perfected to the Supreme Court by County Attorney Douthitt in the mandamus cases of the Schuman Carriage Company and the Pacific Oil and Transportation Company, in which the question of the right of the Oahu Supervisors to appropriate money for Kapiolani park is being settled.

The Directors of the Merchant's Association met last Friday afternoon to discuss the question of a filtration plant for Honolulu. Superintendent Holloway of the Public Works Department appeared before the directors of the association and after hearing him the directors took no action in the matter.

The S. S. Nevada sailed at 5:20 p. m. yesterday for Kahului.

TOO MUCH EVEN FOR VICTOR HUGO

WHAT J. WALTER DOYLE SAYS OF THE AWFUL DEVASTATION OF SAN FRANCISCO.

Chester A. Doyle has received the following letter from his brother J. Walter Doyle, who went to San Francisco some weeks ago to look for his mother. Mrs. Doyle fortunately was well. Walter is working for the Hawaii Relief depot and is doing excellent work. His letter is as follows: Dear Chet—Your last admonition to me was, that when I wrote to you, to write all about it. I will in a few words. It was hell—Can you grasp the idea? No man on God's green earth could put in the English language, or any other language, the ruin and devastation that struck this town. They have taken some souvenir postal cards views and photos of the ruins here and they may appear awful to you, but believe me, Chet, they are a joke in comparison with the real thing. Victor Hugo wrote a masterpiece when he described the Battle of Waterloo in "Les Miserables." He would, if he had lived in our day and sized up this proposition, throw up his hands and called "all bets off." Lending here as I did a week after this catastrophe, and coming right through the ruins of what was once a beautiful city, far more beautiful than the San Francisco that you knew thirteen years ago, I felt a great big lump rising in my throat, and you know Chet, I am not chicken hearted. Our house is just on the fringe of the burnt district and the destitution and hardships of those who were burnt out, camped around us makes me feel that taking all through under consideration, it might have been worse. I am working and working like anything on this Hawaiian relief proposition. (Saying so to make good, and I think I will.) Morgan will not stand for my going home (and has written a letter to B. Faxon Bishop to that effect). I have located everyone that I had addresses of in my book and have seen them personally. What ever can be done, under existing circumstances, is being done. Mother has borne up bravely under this ordeal and now that the worst is over, I am afraid the reaction will set in. Julian Walter is here with us, and has been here ever since the first outbreak, and you nor I can never in any way repay him for what he has done. He is certainly one of God's noblemen. (When I see you I will

HOODOO IS ON THESE CASES

COUNTERFEIT TRIALS ONCE MORE POSTPONED IN UNITED STATES COURT.

The counterfeiting cases went over again this morning, in the federal court. There appears to be a hoodoo on the cases. They have the record for continuances on account of difficulties in getting trial underway. They were postponed to await witness, then when they were ready Judge Dole was ill. The next time they were ready Breckons was ill. San Francisco witnesses who were wanted were unable to come. Then when a trial was finally started, one of the jurors fell ill and he is still confined to his home. Juror Campbell was reported this morning to be still unable to serve and a third postponement was ordered on his account. It was until Wednesday morning.

KOREANS ARE A LAWLESS LOT

MANAGER GOODALE IS QUOTED AS GIVING THEM THAT CHARACTER IN CONVERSATION YESTERDAY.

"Manager Goodale of the Waiulua Agricultural Company expressed himself to me and others, very freely, yesterday in the matter of the efforts to secure clemency for the Koreans," said Chester Doyle, this morning. "If the authorities want to know anything about the Koreans why don't they ask men who have come in direct contact with them." Mr. Goodale said, "the opinion of Mr. Bull, Mr. Renton and other plantation managers ought to be worth something. It ought to be worth more than the judgment of men in Honolulu who have had nothing to do with the Koreans, or very little, and what little they have had has been under usual circumstances perhaps."

"I am sure that if the opinion of the managers were asked, it would be that among all our immigrants there is no class that is as utterly lawless and contemptuous of the law as the Koreans."

thoroughly explain this.) I worked harder on R. P. Henshall's case than any of the others, that is, I have devoted more time to it and at present writing have not been able to locate him. But tell George that as far as their safety (he and his sisters) I think that there is no doubt that they are well, and being cared for. I am writing this by candle light, there being an ordinance against using lights other than candles in the city, so don't throw this up to me about four months from now how badly written and poorly phrased my first letter from here was. Yours, J. WALTER DOYLE.
