WIVES, SLAVES AND CONCUBINES

THE CHINESE CONSUL TAKES THE STAND IN THE FEDERAL COURT AND ENTERS INTO AN EXPLANATION OF PECULIAR CHINESE MARRIAGE CUSTOMS—MUST HAVE WIFE BEFORE TAKING CONCUBINE, SAYS THE CONSUL.

Wives, concubines and slaves were discussed in the federal court nearly all this morning by United States Judge Dole. His Imperial Chinese Majesty's consul Chang Tso Fan and the jurors and attorneys in the trial of Dai Fook Tai, who is charged with bigamy and is apparently making the defense that her alleged first marriage was not a legal marriage at all, but merely a transaction by which she became a concubine. The case attracted a large crowd of Chinese, who listened with attention to the testimony of their consul.

The consul explained all about the jumping over fire, pecking up duck eggs with chop sticks, worship of heavens and earth and ancestors, and other interesting features of Chinese marriages as he understood them, but it appeared from his testimony that the ceremonies differed in different places, and he said he would not say what were the details of the ceremonies in Hahaione, which is the province from which the defendant comes.

The court and jurors asked many questions as to whether these ceremonies were all gone through with in the case of a concubine. The consul replied that they were not. Juror Lehigh wanted to know if a man could take a concubine first, without having any legal wife.

"The concubine comes after the wife" was the substance of the reply. "A man has to have a wife before he takes a concubine."

As to the general scheme, Chang Tso

Fan said that the husband who wanted a concubine, first got the consent of the girl interested. Then he notified her friends and his and set a date for the ceremony of a sort of second marriage.

Another juror wanted to know how about taking slaves, and the consul said that there was no ceremony at all about that. However, if a man wanted to elevate a slave to the high rank of a concubine he could do so, but not without some sort of ceremony.

"Can a man take a concubine and in monies he goes through in taking a legal wife?" was one of the last questions put to the consul.

"He can," was the answer, "if he has no legal wife, but there is a law to punish him for that."

The consul's evidence went to show that a Chinese man's first ceremony of the kind under discussion was necessarily a legal marriage, it being impossible to take a concubine until there was a wife. His examination was not concluded when the noon recess arrived, and Judge Dole requested him to return this afternoon. The consul, as befitting a person of his rank, did not remove his hat in the court room, but sat in the witness stand with his cap on, bearing its signet of his degree as a mandarin. In answer to questions he said that Li Cheung, his secretary, the former interpreter of the circuit court, was a Hahaione man and knew about Hahaione marriage customs and Li Cheung is also to appear and take the stand.

HAWAII PROMOTION COMMITTEE NOTES

MANY BABY CLOTHES BEING FORWARDED—BANANAS ON EXHIBIT LITERATURE BEING SENT.

Secretary Wood of the Promotion Committee has placed on exhibit two large bunches of bananas which were sent to him from the Government experiment station. The bananas are very large and make a very attractive exhibit.

A very large box of baby clothes was made ready this morning to be sent to Miss Ethel Moore in Oakland for the San Francisco babies. The box which is a large one is packed very tightly and weighs a great deal. The box is carried free by the steamship company.

A large box of Promotion literature is being sent to Oakland for distribution.

The Promotion Committee with the Editors' Committee will meet Thursday afternoon in the Committee's rooms.

MANY FLOWERS SOLD TODAY

FLOWER GIRLS BROUGHT LARGE NUMBER OF FLOWERS TO MARKET THIS MORNING.

The flower girls of the city are doing a rushing business today and will probably do more tomorrow. The streets were thronged with buyers all the morning. Many a dollar was spent today for flowers with which to decorate graves tomorrow.

The flower girls brought to town this morning nearly four times as many white flowers as is customary, for they knew that the buyers would be plentiful. High baskets of lilies and marguerites and white carnations blocked the different sidewalks all of the morning.

"Plenty is going today," remarked one dusky daughter of Hawaii this morning. "Haoles like put on graves tomorrow. All go wikipiki."

A number of tourists took advantage of the great number of flowers in the streets and took many snap shots of the girls peddling their wares. Always a unique sight to the malahini, today the girls proved more attractive than ever.

DESERTED AFTER MANY YEARS

SUIT TO DISSOLVE A MARRIAGE CONTRACTED THIRTY-ONE YEARS AGO.

Suit has been filed to dissolve the bonds of matrimony entered into thirty-one years ago on Maui, by a woman named Rita and a Chinese named Ah Fook. The plaintiff alleges desertion of her in 1875, after twenty-three years of married life, and the summons in the case has been returned by High Sheriff Henry as served, as the libel is said to be in China.

Rita Ah Fook's petition sets forth that her marriage took place on Maui in 1875 and that she lived with her husband up to July, 1898, when he deserted her. Since then, it is claimed, he has failed to support her. J. L. Coke is libellant's attorney.

base their kicks principally upon the results of the last fusion. Rightly or wrongly, they are convinced that they were "thrown down" by the Democrats in the supposed fusion here last time. Notley and others have made up tables of precinct figures which they claim demonstrate clearly that while the Democrats "fused" last time, many of them in Honolulu really voted for A. M. Brown for sheriff, and this is the secret of the opposition to trying fusion again.

As far as Kuhio alone is concerned, the fusion on all islands will be easily accomplished if the Republicans will make it unanimous. Kuhio was a sort of a Democrat, also a sort of a Home Ruler, when he was named by the Republicans, and he is regarded as well fitted to run for all parties at once. The discussions held by leaders in various districts up to this time, indicate that he is satisfactory to the Home Rule and Democratic parties and can run alone if the Republicans will let him. "The haoles has the governorship and the secretaryship," say the Hawaiians, "and Hawaiians should retain the delegateship," and this argument is relied upon to carry for Kuhio, if, however, the Republicans name some other man, there may be three or four candidates in the field.

The Home Rulers distrust Democratic fusion and will run their own man, perhaps Notley, if they can't have Kuhio as a Republican, and the Democrats will have to put up someone or endorse the Notley man, and Kuhio may run independent.

Senator Palmer Woods of Hawaii who is visiting in Honolulu, has stated that he will not run for another term. Woods has his district "in his vest pocket" as far as votes are concerned, but says his own business will not allow him time for another term. It is said that O. W. Shipman, supervisor of Kau, is likely to run in Wood's place. The district elected a "one Democrat" before and is regarded as likely to stay Democratic.

EARTHQUAKE WAS FELT ON LAYSAN

Captain Max Schlemmer, the "King of Laysan," that vast quantities of pumice stone together with pieces of charred wood had been cast on the beach at that island. The pumice on Laysan was much larger than that of French Frigate, some measuring about the size of a man's fist. Captain Schlemmer said that this had been cast on the beach in the greatest quantity on March 23. A slight shock of earthquake had also been felt on the island. From the direction in which the pumice came, it is thought that it must have originated in the vicinity of Fornosa Island. The pumice appeared for its character to have originated under the water. The earthquake occurred about March 10.

No other islands were visited by the Lavinia but it is regarded as certain that the pumice floated ashore on other islands and reefs in the chain of which Laysan and French Frigate are a part. The vessel stood as far north as 20 degrees latitude on her homeward trip and the pumice stone in large quantity was found floating on the water.

THE PAUL ISENBERG IS LABELLED

HOFFSCHLAGER & COMPANY CLAIMS DAMAGES FOR ALLEGED INJURY TO CARGO.

The German bark Paul Isenberg was libelled today by Holmes & Stanley in behalf of Hoffschlaeger & Company, for $965.26, claimed to be due for damage to cargo shipped here for libellants from New London. The libel sets forth that the vessel left London on July 29, 1905, having aboard of her 113 packages of merchandise for the libellants, and arrived here on May 6, 1906. The merchandise, it is alleged, was damaged as a result of the unseaworthiness of the vessel, careless packing, etc., hence damages in the sum of $965.26 are asked.

BAR ELECTION AND BANQUET

ANNUAL MEETING TOMORROW AND DINNER AT THE YOUNG SATURDAY EVENING.

The annual meeting of the Hawaiian Bar Association will be held at nine o'clock tomorrow morning and the annual banquet of the association will take place next Saturday evening at the Young hotel. W. T. Rawlins, F. E. Thompson and C. R. Hemenway, the committee in charge, have made arrangements for the banquet, which promises to be a very successful affair.

Among the speakers at the dinner will be Judge S. B. Kingsbury, Col. Tom Fitch, Justice Wilder, George A. Davis and others.

At the meeting of the association to be held tomorrow morning, officers are to be elected for the ensuing year.

BUSH RETIRES

John E. Bush, for many years Hawaiian interpreter of the Circuit Courts, has retired from duty and will sever his connection with the Judiciary Department at the end of the present month. His place will probably be taken by Fred W. Beckley, former speaker of the House of Representatives.

Bush has held many important positions in the government and has been interpreter most of the time since annexation, having a fluent command of both English and Hawaiian. Beckley also is a good speaker of both languages.

TOOK THE ALBERTS' SAILS

AUTHORITIES SENT BARK OUT OF SAN FRANCISCO SHORT OF CANVAS.

The bark Albert which arrived here Sunday from San Francisco, had to come along short of sails and with an improvised set of canvas. She had been robbed of a large number of her sails by the authorities at San Francisco. It occurred during the disaster.

There were thousands of refugees in the parks and with no adequate protection. The authorities went on the bark Albert which happened to be in San Francisco at the time, and coolly took the main sail, sparker sail, a royal sail, two lower topsails and the fore sail and later they returned and carried off a lower topsail. They needed the sails and that was all there was to it. They took the greater part of Captain Turner's stores too. The sails taken were worth $1,200. They were used as tents and awnings.

Captain Turner had to improvise sails to make up for the missing ones but even then he could not get enough canvas to have a complete set. His vessel had no topsails nor sparker during her trip. He is having Cashman the local sail man make a new suit of sails for his vessel. In spite of the fact that the vessel had to partially drift along, she came down in the excellent time of 15 days.

The S. S. Alameda will take 12,000 bags of raw sugar, 1000 bags of rice, 2000 hides, 500 bags of coffee, 200 boxes of pineapples and 5,000 bunches of bananas.
