ROOSEVELT RECOMMENDS ITALIANS

The Board of Immigration held a meeting this morning in the Stangenwald Building. All of the members of the board were present. A cablegram was received from E. H. Stackable, the special representative of the board, from Washington. This cablegram, dated at Washington was as follows:

"Roosevelt Sargent support; goes the limit. Roosevelt recommends Italians."

This is understood to mean that both President Roosevelt and Commissioner General Sargent support the plans of the Board to bring white settlers here, and that each goes the limit in this support. Roosevelt apparently recommends that the Board seek to secure Italians.

The original plans of the Board were to seek first to secure Portuguese from the Azores and Madiera, as already there are many Portuguese from these islands here, and they have proved themselves excellent citizens and workers. Failing in securing as many as are desired of this class it was the intention of the Board to seek settlers from among the peasant class of northern Italy.

A number of reports from Stackable were received and considered. These relate to transportation and kindred matters which are still under consideration with no completed results as yet to be given out.

The meeting was held in the Stangenwald Building as being more convenient for the members than the office of Secretary Atkinson.

The Board feels very much encouraged both over the written reports of transportation matters sent by Mr. Stackable and also because of the undoubted enthusiastic support given to the plans of the Board by the President and the Commissioner General of Immigration.

WITNESS INVITED TO TAKE A CHEW

FEDERAL COURT INVESTIGATING THE QUALITY OF TOBACCO AND OTHER THINGS SUPPLIED TO SAILORS FROM THE SLOP CHEST OF THE SHIP HAWAIIAN ISLES—DAVIS ASKS WITNESS TO SAMPLE CHEWING TOBACCO.

Experts on tobacco and other supplies furnished to the sailors of the ship Hawaiian Isles were called as witnesses before United States Judge Dole this morning, in the suit of Soderman, for wages. The ship has charged Soderman with certain supplies which he secured on the voyage and his attorney is seeking to show that there were overcharges.

A. Wirtz, head of the liquor and tobacco department of Hackfeld and Company, was called as an expert to testify regarding a plug of the tobacco supplied to Soderman from the slop chest. He said it was fairly good tobacco, fit for either chewing or smoking.

Davis invited him to take a chew, Wirtz having stated that he sometimes chewed, but the invitation was not accepted. A cut was made in the plug and after examining it Wirtz said the tobacco was good.

Similar inquiries were made as to the quality and value of other supplies furnished to the sailors.

HAWAIIAN CONGREGATION SUPPORT THE BISHOP

THE HAWAIIAN CONGREGATION LAST EVENING MET AND ACCEPTED THE REPLY OF THE BISHOP—TESTA AND NOTLEY SUPPORTED TWO DIFFERENT IDEAS—TESTA CHANGED TO ALL APPEARANCES BY THE QUEEN AS REGARDED HIS VIEWS

The Hawaiian Congregation of St. Andrew's Cathedral met last evening to consider the reply of the Bishop Restarick in regard to the petition presented to the Bishop and signed by 73 members of the congregation asking that Rev. Frank Fitz be allowed to remain as their pastor. Before the meeting was over the congregation had almost to a person switched to the Bishop's side and decided that the Bishop was the one for them to follow. They realized that the Bishop had the good of the work at heart.

There were only six Hawaiian men present at the meeting. Two haole members were present together with a number of women among whom was the Queen. The members of the congregation who had expressed themselves as friendly to the Bishop were not present.

After the meeting was called to order James Boyd was elected chairman and S. Meheula secretary. The reply of the Bishop was then read both in Hawaiian and in English.

Charles Notley was on the floor as soon as the reply was read and urged the congregation not to accept the reply of the Bishop. He wished it thrown out. He then made a strong attack on the workers that the Bishop had brought here and stated that he did not wish to hear of their sins in connection with Mr. Fitz and the church.

Mr. Boyd then took the floor and spoke of the work of Mr. Fitz. He stated to the congregation though they might wish to ignore the Bishop they could not do so. Mr. Boyd again and again throughout his discourse said that the Bishop's decision was final and that the Bishop had acted according to his best judgement and that the priest who had been selected for the work to succeed Mr. Fitz was an excellent man. He stated that the church did not depend upon Mr. Fitz who might die but upon the Bishop whose office would always be filled. He stated that the thing to do was to loyally work with the Bishop.

Mr. Boyd stated further that of the 73 church members who had signed the petition nearly one half had not been to church for years. Others had signed in good faith out of personal liking for Mr. Fitz or at the wish of other Hawaiians. Many of these had assured the Bishop of willing submission to his decision. The committee of the church who had presented the Bishop with the petition and to whom the Bishop gave his answer assured the Bishop at the time that they were satisfied that he had done what was right. Mr. Boyd believed that the Bishop should be trusted but further that the reply could not be ignored for it would be a branch of respect.

No sooner had Mr. Boyd taken his

THE FEAR OF FLOOD IN NUUANU

SUPERINTENDENT HOLLOWAY SUGGESTS SENDING ABROAD FOR AN ENGINEER WHO IS AN EXPERT REGARDING DAMS AND RESERVOIRS AND HAVING A THOROUGH INVESTIGATION MADE RESPONSIBILITY FOR WORK LIES WITH THE INSPECTORS.

Bringing an engineer here from the mainland to make a thorough investigation of the Nuuanu dam and give an authoritative opinion as to its safety, is the latest suggestion to relieve the doubts of those who are discussing the possibility of a disastrous break at the head of the valley when the new reservoir is filled. The suggestion comes from Superintendent Holloway and is not at all unlikely to be carried out.

"The work is a very important one," said the superintendent this morning, "and perhaps it would be just as well to have an engineer here from the coast, who is an expert in such matters, make an examination of the dam and report upon it. I do not know that there is anyone here who is especially fitted for this line of work. If people are nervous about the dam, such a report might settle their fears, if it was to the effect that the dam is all right."

A typographical error in The Star last night caused the statement that the dam is 50 feet wide at the base, the real figures being about 500 and the intention having been yesterday to say 500 instead of 50. These are the figures given by Superintendent Holloway as approximately correct. Inspector W. H. Patterson, who started the kicks, gives the basic width as 350 feet. A wall of this width at the base,—about 127 yards,—is regarded as a pretty substantial proposition, especially with a concrete wall in its midst, but there is undoubtedly much uneasiness among residents of the valley, and a rigid scientific investigation will have to be made to allay their fears.

As a result of the complaints made

Governor Carter went to visit the dam on Monday and interviewed the engineers. Patterson communicated his fears to the governor, and complained that the work was not being done in a satisfactory manner. This means a careful inquiry into the nature of the work done. Patterson is exceedingly worried about the proposition, and is quoted as saying that he fears the worst if the big reservoir is ever filled. He has been inspecting the pipe work at the reservoir for the government.

The specifications upon which the contract for the dam was awarded leave almost everything aside from the general scheme outlined to the individual inspectors in charge. Many details of the work depend upon results shown by the excavations, hence it was regarded as impossible to pin the contractors down to definite materials or dimensions. The general tenor of the specifications is shown by the following paragraph which relates to the character of the dam:

"The dam is to consist essentially of an earthen embankment formed of suitable materials satisfactorily disposed and containing a core-wall composed of plank and timbers, carried down to a proper depth as determined by the engineer. Such probable depth is shown on the plans, but the depth as shown is not to be considered exact or final, as it will be varied according to the character of the formation encountered in the specification."

The final upshot of the discussion will probably be sending for an engineer who is an expert on such matters and having him visit the scene and make an investigation.

PACIFIC CLUB WAS SUPPLYING SALOON

CHINESE BAR ATTENDANT FOUND TO HAVE BEEN STOCKING HIS LITTLE STORE WITH FANCY LIQUORS FROM THE CLUB—A VERY CLEVER SCHEME BY WHICH HE NEARLY GOT CLEAR AFTER ARREST.

The Pacific Club has a new Chinese bar steward, thereby hangs a tale of clever grafting and equally clever efforts to cheat the law after discovery came. The discharged man is one Ah Lin, well known to the members of the club and long thought to be a faithful attendant. He was quietly running a liquor store of his own on the other side of the island, and supplying its stock with stuff from the Pacific Club.

He is now awaiting trial for a violation of his license and will probably be prosecuted for larceny. Lin had a nice assortment of expensive liquors on hand when raided and arrested. There were several kinds of good whiskey, some liquors, absinthe, gin, etc., all of the best. It was a remarkable line of goods to be carried
