LOST THEIR RIGHTS BY MARRYING CHINESE

THREE HAWAIIAN WOMEN WHO HAVE BECOME LEGAL ALIENS AND CANNOT ACQUIRE PUBLIC LANDS HERE—ATTORNEY GENERAL'S ANSWER TO QUESTIONS SUBMITTED BY LAND COMMISSIONER PRATT REGARDING WOULD-BE SETTLERS.

In answer to questions asked by Land Commissioner Pratt, Attorney General Peters and Deputy Milverton have furnished an interesting opinion regarding the rights of certain Chinese to take up public lands in Hawaii. Pratt asked regarding Tam Mau Hin, a Chinese born here and having a Chinese father and a Hawaiian mother, also regarding three women, born here and of Hawaiian parents but now married to orientals. The latter are held to have lost their citizenship.

As to Tam Mau Hin, the opinion says that Chinese born here are American citizens, and that Tam has a right to take up lands. With regard to the three women the opinion says:

"As to the other three persons named in your communication, namely, Ah Moe Opullili, Anna Kuramoto, and Rose Tamloo, it appears that though they were born in Hawaii of Hawaiian parents, yet they have in each instance married Orientals. It is not entirely clear whether a citizen woman by marriage with a resident alien loses her citizenship and takes on the citizenship of her husband. At one time it appears to have been held that a female citizen of the United States did not lose her citizenship by marrying with an alien. In recent years, however, the right of expatriation has been very fully recognized and since it has been declared that an alien woman, by marriage with an American citizen, becomes a citizen of the United States, the converse of the proposition that a woman's marriage with a foreigner would give to such woman the citizenship of her husband would naturally follow, the act of marriage being considered to be an act of expatriation.

"In a federal case decided by Judge Brown, now Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court, it was held that a native French woman who married a citizen of the United States and thereby became an American citizen, resumed her allegiance of her native country by a second marriage to a French citizen after a divorce from her first husband and that by such second marriage she became an alien. In that case there was not any residence abroad or intention of residence abroad during the period of the second marriage.

"I am therefore of the opinion that Ah Moe Opullili, Anna Kuramoto and Rose Tamloo have no right to acquire lands from the Territory of Hawaii under the provisions of the land act relating to right of purchase leases.

"Very truly yours,
"FRED W. MILVERTON,
"Deputy Attorney General.

WAIANAE OUT IN FORCE TO GREET REPUBLICANS

WAIANAE GREETED THE REPUBLICAN SPEAKERS LAST EVENING VERY HEARTILY—LARGE CROWD ON HAND TO LISTEN TO THE SPELLBINDERS—NO DISORDER OR DRUNKENNESS OF ANY KIND. WATERHOUSE AND HIS SHARK STORY.

If the rousing reception tendered the Republican speakers last evening in Waianae is any criterion that district will go Republican solid on November 6 next. Last night each speaker was cheered to the echo by a crowd, the like of which is said never to have gathered in the small village near the sea. Men, women and children gathered and it was remarkable how many wore campaign buttons bearing the likeness of the Republican candidate for sheriff. Another remarkable thing is the different style of stories one hears in regard to Arthur M. Brown in the country than in the city.

It was 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon when a party of Republican spellbinders dropped off of the train at Waianae and was greeted by the reception committee. From the crowd on hand it seemed as if the entire population of that district had turned out to bid them welcome. Prominent among those who met the party were Judge Mahaula of Waialua, Deputy Sheriff Chris Holt, Manager Myres of the plantation, Leleo the Republican candidate for the deputy sheriffship of that district, Supervisor Oscar Cox. Those in the party who went down were A. M. Brown, Charles F. Chillingworth, Fred T. P. Waterhouse, Solomon Kalelepu, John Lane and Bernard Kelekolio.

After chatting for a few moments to the crowd at the station the party of speakers accompanied by the reception committee went to the residence of Holt where a luncheon was served. Liquor was conspicuous by its absence and there was positively no disorder of any kind during the time the party was at Waianae. Mr. and Mrs. Holt proved capital hosts and placed their home at the disposal of the party. A number of slugs were on hand and the time passed quickly until the time for the meeting which was held at the court house. The grounds of the court house were lighted up by a number of torches and seats were provided for the crowd which soon began to gather. The Waianae land was on hand and make a remarkable showing although it has only organized for about two months.

Burglar Making Big Record

KAHAWAI TAKES HIS SEVENTH SENTENCE FOR CRIME AND GETS FIVE YEARS. Kahawai took his seventh sentence today in the Circuit Court, getting five years at hard labor for burglary in the second degree. He appears to be of the sort that cannot keep out of trouble, for since 1888 his life has been a long series of sentences to jail. Judge Lindsay's sentence of this morning, five years, is the longest he has yet had. Kahawai was caught in the act of burglarizing a Japanese store and pleaded guilty. The burglar's record is now as follows:

April 22, 1898, 30 days for larceny.
March 3, 1899, 3 months for larceny.
August 19, 1901, 30 days for assault and battery.
February 26, 1902, 1 month for assault and battery.
March 4, 1903, 1 year for larceny in the second degree.
March 5, 1904, 2 years for burglary.
October 26, 1905, 5 years for burglary.

Helen Wilder to E. D. Tenney, transferring 800 shares of stock in the estate of S. G. Wilder, Ltd. The complaint and answer were filed together, the suit being evidently a friendly one. In fact, the answer is dated October 27 and the suit was only filed yesterday afternoon, October 25. The date of the complaint is the 22nd, however, so that the mistake of having the answer antedate the complaint was avoided. The answer is a formal one, making no issue for trial.

The suit is against E. D. Tenney as trustee. It sets forth that the property was bequeathed in trust to Tenney in September, 1897, under a deed which provided that he should pay the income to Helen Wilder during her life and at her death one-third should go to her husband if he was living and the remainder to her children if there were any surviving children. If the husband was dead and there were children, they were to have all. If neither husband nor children were living, the property was to be disposed of according to will, or if there was no will, it was to go to the heirs at law.

Miss Wilder says that when she made this instrument she was single, and no consideration passed. She signed it under the belief and impression that she could revoke it at any time while she was unmarried and without children. It was not in accordance with her desires and she now wishes to cancel it.

The complaint further says that at the time of the execution of the trust plaintiff was engaged to be married, but the marriage was never consummated. The prospective marriage was the sole and only consideration for the execution of the deed. This is supposed to refer to Miss Wilder's reported engagement to Frank Unger, in 1897. She did not marry him, but two years later was married to Horace J. Craft, from whom she separated several years ago.

"WILLIE" SENT TO REFORM SCHOOL

A MAUI BAD BOY BROUGHT TO SHERIFF HENRY ON THE MAUNA LOA. "Willie" came from Maui this morning. He is ten years of age and was in custody, to be turned over to High Sheriff Henry and by him taken to the Reform School, there to remain until he reaches the age limit for discharge therefrom. Willie has been a bad boy on Maui and when he stole about $4 from a Chinese, the police decided that he had better be gathered in.

The mittimus in the case gives only the name of "Willie," and Willie is apparently free to choose his own last name. At the Reform School he will be taught a trade and trained in good habits, and an effort will be made to transform him into a good citizen who will vote a straight ticket some day.
