NUUANU VALLEY PEOPLE AGAIN AFRAID OF THE DAM

THE NUUANU DAM IS PRONOUNCED UNSAFE BY TWO RESIDENTS OF NUUANU VALLEY—STATE THAT THE DAM IS IN AS BAD A CONDITION AS IT WAS BEFORE AND RECONSTRUCTION IS A FARCE. PATTERSON FIGURES AGAIN.

It seems as if the Nuuanu Dam is bound to come again into the limelight. The people who reside in the Nuuanu Valley have received a new scare and yesterday an investigation was carried on which resulted in fortifying their fears. The affair may result in an exodus from the valley for there are a number who despair of having the matter bettered by the government and they do not wish to run the risk of living below the pent-up waters.

Yesterday afternoon J. I. Whittle and W. R. Patterson went up to the dam and spent some time in examining the structure. Patterson is the man whose complaints to Governor Carter brought about the first investigation. They both this morning stated that the dam is in as bad a condition as it was before the reconstruction began. They both say they will leave the valley if the dam is not remedied. They both this morning expressed their despair of ever having that done. They are both now advocating that the citizens of the Nuuanu valley appoint some man to go up there and keep his eyes open in behalf of the people. "That is the only way the people will get their interests looked after," said Mr. Patterson.

According to Whittle the dam is in a very bad state and is even worse than before.

"I am afraid to live below the dam," said Mr. Whittle this morning, "and that is the reason I am now looking into the matter. Yesterday I looked all over the dam, examined each and every part and I found many places that were patched over and needed fixing. The core of the dam is not any more solid than it was before.

"The worst place of all is where the repairs are being carried on on the concrete pipe through the dam. This is being done ten feet at a time and the pipe is settling in some places so that it is not even and in one instance I saw a large crack a foot long and two or three inches wide right in the concrete.

"The rawest thing I saw was in one place where mud had been daubed upon the concrete. I could see the prints of fingers and I wondered at it. Finally I cleaned the mud off and under it I found where paint from the red wood core had seeped through the concrete. Mud had been daubed on so that it could not be seen. If paint could seep through what could the water do and you know the result if the water does seep through.

"I do not consider the dam safe by any manner of means. What the people should do would be to have a man up there to look out for their interests."

Mr. Patterson was asked if he would take the job.

"Not much, I have had all the dam I want in mine. I am through and you can bet your life I am not going to lose any time in getting out of the valley."

"I wouldn't build a chicken coop in an slipshod a manner" concluded Mr. Patterson.

THE TERRITORIAL GRAND JURY TAKES THE KAKAOKO REGISTER-STUFFING AND HEARS THE STORIES OF THOSE WHO ARE SUPPOSED TO KNOW—"WHERE IS HOME?" MAY PROVE TO BE A PUZZLING QUESTION AS REGARDS SOME OF THOSE CONCERNED.

"Any Old Place Where I Hang My Hat, Is Home Sweet Home for Me," the latest Kakaako popular song, was sung to the Territorial Grand Jury this morning, in forma propria for such a body to listen to it, in the matter of the investigation of the alleged stuffing of the register in the vicinity of Queen and Richards streets. The question of "where is home?" has suddenly become very serious to about a dozen persons who registered from the precinct though, as is alleged, they do not live there, and one legal question that may come up in as to whether sleeping once in a while in the precinct is enough to make the locality a home for registration purposes.

Suppose a man is in the habit of frequenting some of the unglazed palaces of Kakaako and now and then when in the graveyard-yawning hour approaches he is unable to navigate, and is put to bed in the Magoon block? Does this give him a residence in Kakaako, to such an extent that he can legally register from there? This is the question as it may finally come before the courts, for it is said that some of those alleged to have wrongfully registered do now and then sleep in Kakaako, perhaps on the sawdust floor.

As witnesses this morning the Grand Jury had C. R. Buckland, chief clerk of the Secretary's office, who testified regarding the register, High Sheriff Henry, who served numerous subpoenas in Kakaako, but testified that he couldn't find some of the "residents" he was asked to bring up, Chester A. Doyle, J. P. Morton, manager of the Magoon block, who was asked about his tenants and Harry Klemme, who runs an establishment at Queen and Richards and was acquainted with some of the gentlemen who registered from the vicinity.

POLICE MADE A BIG GAMBLING RAID

CAUGHT 34 CHINESE IN A ROOM AND CHARGED THEM WITH GAMBLING FOR MONEY.

Thirty-four Chinese were before Judge Whitney this morning to answer to charges of having been present at a place where gambling had been conducted, to wit the second story of a building on Maunakea street near Hotel. They were fined $4 and costs each.

Notice of appeal was given by Charles F. Chillingworth who defended them. The defence put on no evidence. Officer Apana and his assistant who made the arrests, admitted that they had not seen the alleged gambling actually in progress, but had heard the noise of dominoes and money chinking.

BECKLEY ONCE MORE REFUSES

HOME RULERS TRY TO HAVE HIM RECONSIDER HIS WITHDRAWAL AS A CANDIDATE FOR THE SENATE BUT HE DECLINES TO DO SO—MAKAINAI MAY BE NAMED AND REPUBLICAN FAMILY ROW MAY RESULT.

Several Home Rulers were after Fred W. Beckley today to get him to reconsider his withdrawal as a candidate for the Senate, but they met with no success, and now they are looking for another man, as they propose to try to fill the place on the ticket. Beckley declined absolutely to reconsider his withdrawal.

It is said that Jesse P. Makainai is likely to be put up in place of Beckley, as the Home Rulers appear determined to have some one run.

In this connection there are reports of Republican influences behind the Home Rule scheme to nominate Beckley or some other Hawaiian, by way of beating Chillingworth. The latter is understood to have practically a Home Rule endorsement, and this makes him certain of election unless the endorsement is voided by the putting up of another man. If this is done there may be a big row in the Republican camp, according to some of Chillingworth's friends, who claim to have evidence of Republican backing of the Beckley scheme.

WITHINGTON AFTER PRESENT CONDITIONS

DAVID L. WITHINGTON MADE AN ADDRESS BEFORE THE MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION THIS MORNING IN WHICH HE TALKED ON PRESENT POLITICAL CONDITIONS—WHITE RACES SHOULD ASSIST THE ORIENTALS TO DO BETTER.

At a meeting of the Ministerial Association this morning held in the Central Union church David L. Withington made a speech in which he heavily scored the present conditions in this city.

Mr. Withington based his remarks upon the question of whether a low standard of the law should be in effect in Hawaii or whether there should be a high standard with all of the buying and selling of justice which he stated was going on today.

Mr. Withington said that this city was a very cosmopolitan place and that it was therefore the duty of all of the white people who have had a higher education to assist the other races in every way to rise to that plane of civilization. While he did not believe that all of the law breaking by these people could be stopped, he did not believe that it was right for justice and law to be bought and sold. He did not believe that Chinese gambling could be entirely wiped out but he did believe conditions could be improved.

Mr. Withington stated further that the pay for the office of sheriff should be raised so that one so fitted for the office would be further away from temptation.

The point of the entire address was that the white people in these islands should so carry on the government so that they would impress upon the Oriental mind the fact that Justice could neither be bought or sold.

Mr. Withington stated that he knew that immunity from the punishments of the law was purchased by the Chinese gamblers from the dealings he had had with them personally. On several times he had been approached by Chinamen who wished to retain a lawyer but he stated that their immunity was always arranged for by themselves. They employed the services of a lawyer merely as a matter of form.
