Wood at five dollars a month and a hot kitchen from morning to night. By economy you may burn gas for a shade under three dollars for the same period and have a cool kitchen and better cooked meats and bread. These figures are based on the actual cost to a number of consumers here.

THE CONSOLIDATED PINEAPPLE CO.

LIMITED AMOUNT OF CAPITAL STOCK TO BE SOLD AT PAR VALUE—CHANCE FOR INVESTORS.

This paper contains a capital stock prospectus of the just incorporated Wahlawah-Consolidated Pineapple Co., Ltd., in connection with the company's offer to the public of $500,000 of its stock at par. The document will no doubt be carefully perused by everyone disposed to invest in the pineapple business, which may now be safely regarded as one of the established industries of Hawaii.

It is to be noted that the property on which the stock is based is a going enterprise, one that has been built up by the success of two hitherto separate concerns. It is unencumbered with debt. There is therefore nothing of the speculative about it, in the objectionable significance that word often bears.

The total stock issue is $400,000, divided into 20,000 shares of $20 par value each. Of the stock already taken—$300,000—the holders with number of shares respectively are as follows: L. G. Kellogg, 6000; Alice S. Kellogg, 100; P. M. Pond, for Mrs. Anna Eldredge and others, 100; George Rounitz, 500; Henry Waterhouse Trust Co., Ltd., by R. W. Shingle, trustee, 700; Robert W. Shingle, 1000; Geo. W. Lycurgus, 250; Wm. Williamson, 500; L. B. Nevin, 250; Adeline C. Nevin, 250; Mary C. Nevin, 250; Margaret D. Nevin, 50; Mary E. Clark, 1150; Byron O. Clark, 125; Leslie C. Clark, 50; E. K. Ellsworth, 100; Mrs. Mary C. Ellsworth, 200; Jungun Thott, 250; Jas. L. McLean, 25; California Feed Co., by T. J. King, trustee, 100; F. C. Enos, 115; L. A. Thurston, 25; Charles M. Cooke, Ltd., 25; Mrs. C. D. Westervelt, 25; Henry G. Ghacat, 225; George P. Thielen, trustee for H. G. Ghinan, 500; Ruth Kellogg, 125; Seldon B. Kingsbury, 5; S. B. Kingsbury, trustee, 845.

Officers for the first year are L. G. Kellogg, president; Wm. Williamson, secretary; R. W. Shingle, treasurer. The board of directors consists of L. G. Kellogg, P. M. Pond, R. W. Shingle, Wm. Williamson, S. B. Kingsbury, J. L. McLean and T. J. King.

PLANTERS HEAR DIFFERENT REPORTS

AFTERNOON SESSION WAS SPENT IN THE HEARING OF REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

The Planters' Association spent yesterday afternoon in hearing the reports of the Committees on cultivation, fertilization and manufactures.

The report on cultivation was to have been read by Manager Fairchild of Kona but owing to his absence the paper on cultivation was not read but instead David Forbes, manager of the Pacific Sugar Mill was asked to read his report on fertilization.

At the close of Mr. Forbes' paper Mr. Eckart of the experiment station took exception to certain statements in the report made by Mr. Donald, and Mr. Eckart said he did not believe he had gone far enough into the matter. He said he did not favor the use of insoluble fertilizers to the extent recommended by Mr. Donald. The recommendations for the use of green manure were correct and he added that much should be used. Some soils showed only ten per cent organic matter in the soil and this is being constantly drawn upon and unless it was added it would be impossible to keep up the yield of cane. The committee report was accepted and filed.

After the report of the committee on Manufactures was read there was a lengthy discussion on the sizes of sacks for use in sacking the sugar and another discussion on denatured alcohol.

W. O. Smith spoke of the desirability of managers calling on each other and having an interchange of ideas. These meetings were productive of great good but he thought that in addition to the annual gatherings the managers should visit each other during the year. The Hawaii planters could exchange visits with those on Maui and Oahu and vice versa. New ideas might be obtained, not only as to field matters but as to the manufacturing departments.

Mr. Mead read an invitation to the members of the association to a luncheon at the Young at noon today and then Mr. Moir moved an adjournment to this morning at 9:30 which was carried.

SEATTLE AND HAWAII

SEATTLE, November 3.—C. W. Cook, agent of the American-Hawaiian Line, states that the trade between Seattle and Honolulu and other ports in the Hawaiian Islands is constantly increasing, and that in order to handle the business his company had placed on the route the steamship Nebraskan, in place of the steamship Nebraskan. The Nebraskan is capable of carrying 14,000 tons, while the Nebraskan takes only 7,000.

"I cannot understand the statements of Mr. H. P. Wood, secretary of the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce, when he says that Seattle should get a portion of the Hawaiian trade. We already have it, and quite a part of it, too. There is a chance for it increasing, but that does not alter the fact that there is a large part of the Hawaiian trade which already goes from Seattle. The American-Hawaiian ships are the only ones which run direct from Seattle to the islands, and we are therefore in a position to know what is shipped there. Altho, I admit it should be far larger, the Hawaiian trade from this port is now of fair size and is constantly increasing."

The Seattle Post-Intelligence of November 3 says editorially: "For some reason or other which is not obvious or satisfactory, Seattle is not doing as much business with Hawaii as it should. The secretary of the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Wood, who is also secretary of the Hawaiian Promotion Committee, declares with emphasis that this city has an opportunity to build up a large trade with Hawaii, and also, by becoming acquainted with residents of the islands, to attract here capital which is ready for investment. He also says that there is no reason why Seattle cannot get a large proportion of the business in commodities which she is able to handle on a competitive basis."

According to the Monthly Summary of Commerce and Finance for August of this year, for the eight months ending with August, the shipments of domestic merchandise from San Francisco to Hawaii amounted to $2,49,671, while the total shipments from Puget Sound were only $938,729. During that same period, Hawaii imported from Japan nearly as much as she did from Puget Sound, the total amount of Japanese imports being $863,010, while more than half a million dollars were imported into Hawaii from the United Kingdom. The British colonies in the East exported to Hawaii nearly half a million dollars.

With this large market in sight so near at hand, and so much of it in possession of San Francisco, there is no reason why Seattle should not make a strenuous effort to get a larger share of the business than it does. The secretary of the Hawaiian Promotion Committee and of the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce, who ought to be in a position to know, says that Seattle can get more of their trade if it will go after it. If the merchants of this city won't go after trade that they are told they can have, they don't deserve any more than they actually have now.

WELCH LINE CHANGES.

Captain Drew of the bark Andrew Welch, who will be succeeded by Captain Kelly, will be given command of the bark R. P. Rihet. The Andrew Welch and the R. P. Rihet, both iron vessels, may be the only ones kept on the Hawaiian run next season. The bigger wooden vessels of the line, the George Curtis and the Gerard C. Tuhey may be disposed of or placed on another run.

APPRECIATE ROBERTSON

A meeting of the executive committee of the Republican Territorial Central Committee was called by Vice-Chairman John C. Lane for last night, at Republican headquarters on Merchant street, but a quorum could not be secured. The idea of the meeting was to show an appreciation of the work done for the party by Chairman A. G. M. Robertson who yesterday left for the coast in the S. S. Siberia and to go on record as not wishing to accept Mr. Robertson's resignation as chairman of the Territorial Central Committee. A meeting will be called later for this purpose.

DID NOT ACCEPT SERVICE.

Deputy High Sheriff George Sea yesterday returned the papers in the reopened judgment case of C. E. Camp vs. L. K. Kentwell and J. D. Holt Jr. A judgment had been secured but the judgment had not been satisfied so the plaintiff is to have the matter brought up again. Sea reported that Irwin H. Beadle the reputed agent of Kentwell, declined to accept the service of the petition for alias writ of seque facias, so Sea laid the copy and the original as near as possible to him. Beadle is employed in the office of County Treasurer Trent.
