ed and while he did not decline to undertake the job, he is said to have expressed his disposition to refuse owing to other engagements. It is regarded as almost certain that either Carter or W. O. MISS GLADYS VANDERBILT AND COUNT SZECHENYI AT NEWPORT.

More than seventeen millions of dollars in cash will leave America next month when Miss Gladys Vanderbilt becomes the wife of Count Ladislaus Szechenyi and goes to take up her residence in Hungary, where the Count is a member of hereditary of the Upper House of the Hungarian Parliament. Miss Vanderbilt's personal fortune, inherited from her father, the late Cornelius Vanderbilt, is $12,500,000 to which is to be added a check to the Count for $5,000,000 from his bride's family. In further addition there will be many thousands of dollars expended for gifts to the bride, all of which will find their way to Hungary. The family of the Count is said to be old. Miss Vanderbilt's is well known to Americans, having originated with the old Commodore early in the last century.

WORLD STAMPS TO RAISE THE PAY

NEW INTERNATIONAL STAMPS TO BE ON SALE AT POSTOFFICE HERE.

Acting Consul Marques received yesterday's mail from France the first International Postal Coupon authorized and adopted by the Postal Convention recently held in Rome. A supply has been ordered and will shortly be on sale in Honolulu postoffice. The stamp was designed by M. Eugene Grasset of Paris, and is being printed in Switzerland. The stamp is really a coupon, measuring nearly four by three inches. The vignette represents the figure of a goddess as a messenger of peace from one hemisphere to the other. The coupon may be exchanged for a regular 5-cent stamp or one of equivalent value in any of the countries that have accepted the agreement. This will allow any one writing to a foreign country to inclose a stamp for return postage. There is no doubt that it will also be used in a small way as an international money order.

The countries that have entered into the agreement are: The United States, Great Britain, France, Germany, Austria, Belgium, Spain, British colonies, French colonies, Egypt, Mexico, Bolivia-Herzegovina, Sweden, Switzerland, Roumania, Japan, Siam, Korea, Greece, Italy, Chile, Costa Rica, Crete, Denmark, Luxembourg, and Norway.

KAPAA LANDS.
The conference yesterday between Col. Z. S. Spalding and Manager Fairchild, of the Mahee Sugar Company, and Secretary Mott-Smith, over the lease of the Kapa lands, resulted in its being settled that the Government is to get the rentals on the rice and taro lands of the district which amount to about $10,000 per year, instead of this going to Spalding during the extension of time which the Government has given him on his lease, pending the maturing of the cane crop now growing. Spalding has been paying about $300 per year for all of the Kapa lands on a lease secured thirty years ago, and now has been getting a good many times that amount in sub-rentals, not to speak of the profits of the sugar lands, for which the tract was originally leased.

High Sheriff Henry feels very good over his capture of these two prisoners inasmuch as so much effort was put forth to keep them out of jail. He is especially pleased because they were the two pet clients of Attorney General Hemenway, District Attorney R. W. Breckons and Wade Warren Thayer as in the Ching Tai case, an effort will possibly be made to get Ah Wal out on habeas corpus.

Ah Wal is said to be one of the shrewdest professional gamblers in the Territory, and within the past two weeks to have made between two and three hundred dollars from the plantation laborers.

JACK LONDON'S CHECKS RETURNED

HILO MERCHANTS GET A SHOCK IN MAILS FROM THE COAST—AUTHOR PAID HIS BILLS WITH CHECKS ON AN OAKLAND BANK IN WHICH HE HAD NOT FUNDS SUFFICIENT TO MEET THEM.

The Kinau this morning brought news from Hilo that Jack London's checks given to Hilo merchants in payment of bills, were being returned from his Oakland bank, endorsed "not sufficient funds." The receipt of the checks was quite a shock to the Hilo men. London is now far away and off the ordinary line of travel, and he may not be heard from for a long time. It is generally supposed that he passed the bad checks by mistake in his calculations, but that theory doesn't supply the Hilo men with the missing coin. London left Hilo for the Marquesas and may be there by this time, if he used his auxiliary engine. The Tribune says: "Considerable interest was aroused in Hilo yesterday by the knowledge which was pretty generally distributed, that a number of checks given by Jack London of the Snark, had come back to town dishonored and with notice of protests by a Berkeley notary. The checks were all drawn on an Oakland, Cal., bank. It is indicative of the confidence of London's friends in Hilo to note that those who cashed the checks, or took them for services or for goods, express the utmost confidence in him and believe that the trouble has arisen through some mistake by which funds he expected for different of his literary efforts by some oversight, have not been placed to his credit. Meanwhile the Snark is presumably heading for the South with all sail set and the gasoline engine chugging away merrily." The Herald of the 19th has the following: "Yesterday's mail from the coast, received by the Claudine, brought to several business men in Hilo news that checks paid them by Jack London, before he left here, were returned by the Central Bank of Oakland on which they had been drawn, marked "Not Sufficient Funds." Checks that had been issued earlier by Mr. London during his stay here, have been paid and there is a disposition to believe that the trouble arises through lax business methods on the part of the author and globe trotter, as he is known to have drawn checks without filling in the stubs and it is supposed that amounts due him may not have been placed to his credit as promptly as he expected.

"In one case a check was paid for some handsome koa furniture, but the furniture was not shipped pending return from the check. As there are no returns there will be no furniture in the London household. There has not yet been time to hear from the latest checks that he issued.

HAWAII TO HAVE A TAPIOCA FARM

ANOTHER NEW INDUSTRY BEING ESTABLISHED IN THE DISTRICT OF HAMAKUA.

HILO, Oct. 31.—Another new industry will begin on the Island of Hawaii next year, when the District of Hamakua will have the honor of starting a small factory for the manufacture of tapioca starch, the pioneer in the enterprising being J. W. Conradt of Hilo. For more than two years Mr. Conradt has been quietly collecting tapioca seed from all the islands of the Territory, getting some from far away Kaula. He has kept the best and resown it until he had enough to plant on three acres of land, one of which is close to Hilo, the other two acres of the growing crop being at Kalawa, near Papakou, where the mill will be erected.

Samples of the tapioca root, over two feet long, also of arrowroot grown by Mr. Conradt have been left at the Herald office. The plants grow to a height of 6 feet, the roots averaging from 10 to 20 inches long and 2 to 6 inches diameter. In January the construction of the little mill, with a capacity of one ton of tapioca a day, will begin, and by March it is expected to be in operation and grinding the root.

The machinery is simple, consisting of a grater, a mixer where the ground root is cleaned in water. There the powder settles and the water passes off leaving the tapioca to be carried to a centrifugal for drying. The tapioca starch has a flavor superior to that of corn starch and it can be used for domestic culinary purposes as well as for the laundry. It is claimed, from experiments made with small lots that have already been manufactured here, that one-half a pound of the tapioca product is equal to one pound of the corn starch. Encouragement has been received from the local trade as to the disposal of the crop and Mr. Conradt feels confident of success in his venture.
