IS NOT "WANTED" FAVOR OF ORIENTALS

GUY H. TUTTLE, A MAN EASILY FOUND IN HONOLULU, THE SUBJECT OF A LOS ANGELES YARN REGARDING IMMIGRATION FRAUDS—THE STORY OF HIS EXPERIENCE AS A FEDERAL OFFICER.

Friends of Guy H. Tuttle were surprised at the publication this morning of an article saying that he was "wanted" by detectives in connection with an immigration exposure in Los Angeles. Tuttle has a number of friends here who have long known him, and his address here is well known in Los Angeles. He is cashier of the Sugar Planters' Experiment station. When seen this morning he gave the following statement regarding the publication in this morning's Advertiser:

"The article appearing under prominent headlines in this morning's Advertiser, in which it is implied that I am a much wanted man, appears to me on the face of it to be so preposterous as to hardly merit a reply. When a man is 'wanted' by the Government, it is hardly likely that he will receive his first intimation of the fact through the columns of an 'Examiner.'"

"It is true that from January 15, 1905, to September 12, 1907, I was stationed at Los Angeles, California, in the U. S. Immigration Service. It is also true that during that same period, under the jurisdiction of Mr. J. H. Jenkins, formerly Inspector in Charge at Los Angeles, I personally effected, directed or assisted in effecting the arrest and deportation of more than a hundred aliens than the office had done for the entire period from 1893 until the time Mr. Jenkins took charge of the office in 1904. One of the officers at that station, an interpreter, was dismissed about a year ago, and since that time has made repeated threats to secure the dismissal of both Mr. Jenkins and myself, and it is doubtless a fact that this whole article was the result of his agitation and false reports."

"In May, of the present year, Mr. Jenkins, whom I will take occasion to say is one of the most honorable, upright and lovable men I ever had the pleasure of meeting, was summarily dismissed from the service, with one day's notice, and with no specific charges laid at his door. During the interim, and pending the arrival of the new Inspector in Charge, I was on duty as Acting Inspector in Charge. The arbitrary action of the department, however, against a man whom I loved and admired as much as I did my chief, made me very much dissatisfied, and I determined to accept any good position which might offer itself outside the government service."

"Just at this time, through the kindly services of Mr. W. L. Hopper, one of Honolulu's well known business men there was offered to me the position I now occupy of cashier, in the Experiment Station of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association, the offer being on the condition that I leave Los Angeles within a week. My resignation was immediately telegraphed to Washington, and a letter written on the same date embodying a copy of the cablegram received from Honolulu, advising them of the position I was to occupy, my post office address, and expressing myself as ready and willing at any future time to give the Department the benefit of any assistance or information they might wish if it were in my power to give. Further, my final pay accounts were made after arriving in Honolulu, and were mailed to the department on the 4th of October. These also contained my post-office address, and place of business, so there is certainly no reason in the world why if any search should be made, it should result in failure, or even an hour's delay."

"Referring to the statement clipped from the Examiner that Chinese are being smuggled into Southern California, it need only be said that any one who takes enough interest in such matters to read the papers knows it is true. Where, also, could the Los Angeles officers find a constant stream of newcomers who were liable to arrest and deportation. The Immigration laws are violated, of course, but I venture to say that if Inspector in Charge Jenkins had been left at Los Angeles conditions would have been immeasurably better than they are today."

"As to the implication that I was engaged in or connived at the smuggling of Chinese, I have only to say that it is absolutely false, and a statement to that effect is hardly worth a denial. The records of the Los Angeles office will speak for themselves."

"The smugglers and their allies are after the positions of every efficient and wide-awake immigration officer in California, and if they are listened to there will be many vacancies in the present staff of men, and the service will be absolutely crippled and helpless."

"It is a very disagreeable matter to deny an article from such a source as the one above referred to, but consideration for the gentlemen who were responsible for my coming to Honolulu would seem to demand something of the kind, and the day will never come when I will be guilty of such treachery to those who have been and are, so kind to me."

INCOME TOO SMALL TO BUY A DUKE

Miss Mathilde Townsend, Washington's most celebrated beauty and heiress, will not become the Duchess d'Alba unless her wealthy mother deigns to give up $200,000 a year to the Spanish nobleman whose name has been linked with that of Miss Townsend for more than a year.

The Duke, while desperately in love with the beautiful American girl, has tearfully informed her mother that nothing less than $200,000 a year would suffice to maintain the dignity and splendor of his home and titles.

The Duke d'Alba is only twenty-six years old, but he is one of the first grandees of Spanish and a direct descendant of that ferocious Duke of Alba who carried death and destruction into the Netherlands, and who proudly boasted that he had in his time put 13,000 men to death.

Mrs. Townsend entertains lavishly. It is reported that her income is about $250,000 a year. She is a splendid hostess, and all her entertainments are planned on the most elaborate scale. She is the daughter of the late William M. Scott, the railroad king of Pennsylvania, from whom she inherited her fortune.

It is said that the will of Mr. Scott tied up the income of his daughter to such an extent that it would be impossible for Mrs. Townsend to give the Spanish Duke or any other impetuous young nobleman sufficient fund to make that an object in espousing his granddaughter.

It is understood that the dividend will be increased when affairs in the money market improve.

CANON MACKINTOSH MARRIED.

(Communicated.)
The sun came out for a few minutes on a very gloomy day in November last to shine upon a very quiet wedding in the Parish Church of St. Luke's Richmond, Surrey, when Canon Alex. Mackintosh of St. Andrew's Cathedral, Honolulu was united in holy matrimony to Maud Edith, daughter of Mr. J. Witherby of London. The ceremony was performed in a most earnest manner by the Vicar, the Rev. Paul M. Chamney in the presence of a goodly number of the relatives and friends of the bride and bridegroom. Canon and Mrs. Mackintosh on leaving the church proceeded at once to Paddington where they took the Plymouth Express for Torquay.

FORTUNATELY SITUATED.

Search Traces Of Strychnine

DR. JORDAN WRITES THAT HE HAS NOT RECEIVED RESULTS OF THE ANALYSIS OF THE HEART AND OTHER ORGANS TAKEN FROM HERE FOR FURTHER EXAMINATION TO EXPLAIN DEATH OF MRS. STANFORD.

Dr. David Starr Jordan, president of Stanford University, is still awaiting a final report to back up his conclusions as to the cause of the death of Mrs. Jane L. Stanford in Honolulu several years ago. It appears from the last letter received from the university president and author, that he had not yet been furnished the result of the scientific examination of the organs of the deceased, which were taken from Honolulu to be analyzed, in an effort to disprove the Honolulu verdict of strychnine poisoning.

The Honolulu physicians who had to do with the case have waited long to hear from Jordan's scientists. Dr. Day, one of the autopsists, has died since the tragedy. The doctor might have been a witness in a very sensational controversy if he had lived, for the Honolulu physicians if attacked a bit more, would have come out with accusations that they had tentative offers of big fees to change their opinion and say that the old lady died of indigestion.

Dr. F. H. Humphris, the attending physician and one of those who took part in the autopsy, recently returned from a trip to Europe. He has a letter from President Jordan, advising him that the final report had not yet been made on the organs taken from here for further analysis.

Mrs. Stanford's death will probably always remain one of the strangest mysteries the San Francisco and Hawaii police, or any others have ever had to deal with. It brought here Dr.
