morning from the Orient and will probably sail in the afternoon for San Francisco.

COPENHAGEN.

"Copenhagen" he repeats, "Copenhagen. Do I know what that means? Why, of course. That's the capital of Denmark, where the Danes come from, you know."

"Wrong again," answers the Mrs., who is up with the times. "Copenhagen now means the newest shade in millinery, a blue somewhat on the order of previous blues, blues that have gone before, sometimes under the name of cadet, electric and Alice, but still its different, just a wee darker, in fact, just enough darker to make it Copenhagen. Now you know, don't you?"

"And dear," she continues, "I see you are so much interested. I really must tell you more about this season's hats. Rough straw saltors in all colors are to be very popular, while The Merry Widow will undoubtedly be the go in Tuscan and horsehair shapes. What's the Merry Widow like? Why it's fetching, it's just as catchy as the music. A wide brim, you know, turned up in front and down behind. Oh, no, not the same way that our Colonial cousins wear their Panamas. Nobody ever said that was fetching. And dear, this is going to be a tawny season. Yes, I know it usually is in Honolulu, but not so always on the mainland.

"Now dear, I really did not intend to ask it, but as I see you are so interested in the new hats, I must go down to Ehlers' tomorrow and select one that I know will just please you like everything. Their milliner, you know, is just home from a two months visit to the millinery market and will show for the first time, tomorrow, nearly one hundred of the dearest hats that have ever been shown in Honolulu.

BIG CROWD AT THE ALAMEDA

A procession three blocks long and made up of gay and brave, bright eyed and wet-eyed, marched up Fort street from the sailing or the Alameda for the coast this morning. The crowds at the Alameda departures show no signs of decrease and today it was even somewhat larger than usual.

The Oceanic liner left her wharf on the dot of ten o'clock for San Francisco with 28 cabin and 19 steerage passengers and a large cargo, 1750 tons, including the following shipments: 2,000 bags of refined sugar, 4,484 bags of raw sugar, 3,400 bunches of bananas, 15 bales of wool, 500 bundles of hides, 750 cases of fresh pine, 507 cases of canned pine, 505 cases or 34 tons of Garden Island Honey Company's product, 951 bags of coffee, 200 empty cases, 150 bags of potatoes condemned and not allowed entry here, and 23 cases of lemons also condemned.

The sale of property under a foreclosure of mortgage in the case of Bathsheba M. Allen, et al, vs. Hawaii Land Co., at commissioner's sale, was this morning confirmed by Judge Lindsay. The sale realized $1600, while the debt amounted to $3,018.16, plus the costs, leaving a deficiency of $1,708.91.

The American-Hawaiian S. S. Co. will equip its vessels as soon as there is promise of a long-distance power station here and the Pacific Mail is merely holding back to see what is going to become of the ship-aiding bill.

The Chinese deportation case which has been on before U. S. Commissioner Hatch for the past week, developed something of a sensation yesterday afternoon in a heated tilt between Attorney A. S. Humphreys and the Rev. E. W. Thwing, a witness in the case as well as an interested spectator in all the proceedings.

It appears that immediately after the noon recess had been announced, Humphreys overheard Thwing in conversation with one of the Chinese witnesses, Goo Kim, say something which he understood to be in the nature of instruction to the witness as to what he should state on the stand. During the afternoon, the Rev. Thwing "butted in" while a Chinese woman was testifying, criticizing the translation as given by the interpreter. The interruption immediately aroused Humphreys' ire and he began by referring to the incident of some hours before.

"I wish to make a definite statement to go on record," said Humphreys. "At noon today when Goo Kim was leaving the courtroom, I overheard the Rev. Mr. Thwing tell him to say that he didn't remember if certain questions should be put to him on the stand. I consider it a reprehensible thing for a minister of the gospel to do, and it should damn him in the opinion of every right-thinking man. And he tells him to say he doesn't remember, because he is going to follow him on the stand."

Mr. Thwing jumped to his feet to defend himself: "I would say this," he began. "This witness in question is an old man and easily confused. I simply said to him, 'if you don't know, tell the court you don't know.' If no way would I influence any witness to tell anything that is not true."

Humphreys followed the matter up by declaring that if Thwing had done what he believed he had done he should be kicked out of the court. Thwing offered to leave, but Humphreys declared that he desired him to remain. A little later, and then again when the court adjourned, the attorney and witness discussed the matter between themselves, and it is understood that they will ask that the matter be not made a part of the records of the court.

Mr. Thwing later reiterated that his object in talking to Goo Kim was simply to tell him to not to try to answer questions when he did not know, and that he had no intention whatever to influence him in what to say.

EXTEND WIRELESS

EXPERT COMING HERE TO TAKE UP THE PROBLEM OF LOCATING LARGE STATION.

A wireless expert will arrive here next month to study Oahu's topography and to select a site for the erection of two 200-foot poles at intervals, from 200 to 250 feet apart, for the spread of wires for a wireless station, the U. S. W. plant of which will put this island in the foreground of aerial telegraph development and enable this metropolis to talk to Orient and Occident, eventually, and will at least put Oahu in practical communication at long distances from the hub of the Pacific, speaking along the spokes, as it were, to vessels north, south, east, west and otherwise.

It will require a careful study and a long series of tests to determine where on this island the station shall be located. The volcanic formation of the island makes it difficult to satisfy wireless requirements on elevations and it has been found, as far as old experiments show, that the present plant works better on the sea level, there not being, perhaps, sufficient moisture on these fire-bore hills.

Were these sedimentary substances sites aloft there would be no problem, but as the situation is it becomes necessary to adopt tests to determine where can best be placed the aerial surface wires. The Wahiawa dip would give a straightway about northerly and southerly but might not meet requirements for connections with vessels westerly and easterly.

It may be some time before the new plant is installed by the local commercial wireless people and they will first get the assurances of the various steamship companies that their vessels will be wireless.

The American-Hawaiian S. S. Co. will equip its vessels as soon as there is promise of a long-distance power station here and the Pacific Mail is merely holding back to see what is going to become of the ship-aiding bill.

A LIVELY ROW IN COURTROOM

HUMPHREYS AND THE REV. THWING HAVE A MIX-UP BUT FINALLY MAKE PEACE.

The Chinese deportation case which has been on before U. S. Commissioner Hatch for the past week, developed something of a sensation yesterday afternoon in a heated tilt between Attorney A. S. WAIALAE SCHEDULE

GOVERNOR FREAR SETS THE MATTER FOR A GENERAL HEARING ON FRIDAY AFTERNOON.

Governor Frear this morning named for Friday at three o'clock as the time for a meeting in the office of the representatives of the Royal Trusts Company and the commission of Wahi-lae citizens having in charge the movement to secure a "last-fare" service. At that time the governor will listen to both sides on the proposition as to whether the company should be compelled to improve the service as asked for, or whether the governor should formally signify his approval of the present schedule, as the company wish.

C. W. Ashford, W. W. Thayer and Emil A. Berndt of the Wahi-lae committee called on the governor at noon today and asked for further time. It was stated to the governor that the committee was preparing a statement of its side of the case, and that there was considerable work involved in getting the necessary facts and figures. After a brief discussion, Governor Frear agreed to delay action in the matter of approving the present schedule, and to hear both sides on Friday.

FINAL PLANS FOR THE BIG PARADE

COMMITTEE IS TO HOLD A MEETING THIS AFTERNOON AT FOUR O'CLOCK.

The Floral Parade Committee meet at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the office of Chairman Gartley, Hawaiian Electric Company, to make the final plans for next Saturday. According to the chairman of subcommittees all report great interest in the event, and the parade will be the most elaborate yet.

It is important that those contemplating entering the parade send in their names at once to the heads of the particular committee that has charge of the section they propose entering, as final arrangements are nearly completed.

The following is a list of the committees:

In the comic section new features are being suggested every hour. Harry Murray, of the Associated Garage, and J. W. Doyle have been appointed a special committee to make suggestions and receive entries of this character and many surprises will result.

John Hughes has a proposed plan of arrangement to present to the committee this afternoon covering the formation at the Capitol and at Punahoa. A partial list of the judges has already been published, but the complete list is as follows:
Automobiles—Class A—R. G. E. Forster, Mrs. F. M. Swanny and Mrs. G. P. Wilder. Class B—Dr. L. E. Oler. Mrs. H. Forster, Mrs. S. G. Wilder. Class C—C. R. Henshaw, Mrs. W. A. Love, Mrs. A. Lewis.

A large portion of the parade will go in the non-competitive class, viz. the schools and all nations sections. The non-competitive participants will be presented with banners to be preserved as souvenirs of the parade.

Albert Afong is actively engaged in preparing these souvenirs and the awards in the shape of flags and rib-

THE THIRD TERM BOOM ON AGAIN

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S MESSAGE BEYOND THE TALK OF 31st CANDIDACY.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—A policy "President Roosevelt" message, has been started by the president's administration message to congress.

"Roosevelt has no special message to accept the nomination, against Representative Hays of California, for such a thing is possible, I should say to him. He would not be a candidate for president through additional nomination unless a certain class of people were of popular opinion, would they this fashion out of sight."

The message means there would be nothing to it but Roosevelt is not would concern to him, declared Senator Boies of Oregon.

"What, if anything would make the president change his mind?" I inquired of a regular correspondent known as a "strong Roosevelt" man.
"It is doubtful if he would change his mind at all," was the reply. "But if he should, I would imagine it would be under circumstances like this. It came to a point where it appeared certain some man generally hostile to his policy would secure the nomination. T. C.'s fighting spirit would be stirred so that he would jump in, take the nomination, and make the fight for his policies himself."

With Governor Frear's sanction, the Department of Public Works will at once place at the disposal of the persons interested in the matter a lot of four or five acres in extent in Kalihi to be converted into a children's playground. The lot in question is on the north side of Kua street and east of the Kaneohehale IV road.

This is the project which was suggested by Jack Atkinson and has been argued by him and the Kalihi Athletic Club. Governor Frear was in hearty accord with the plan and as a result the children of Kalihi will have a park which will no doubt be a source of great joy to the little ones of the district.

In setting aside the lot, the Department of Public Works does not make a formal transfer of the property, as certain parts of it may be needed later for road purposes, but it is possible that it will ultimately become a part of the County park system.

bones and the banners to be carried by the heralds accompanying the inter-island princesses.
Sam Walker and Harry Macfarlane have been exceedingly active in assisting Mr. Campbell with the carriage section, and their efforts show promise of some very novel and startling features for this portion of the parade.
