

ELOQUENT FAREWELL

ELLA WHEELER WILCOX WRITES WELL OF US ALOHA OE

(Written for The Star by Ella Wheeler Wilcox.)

Au revoir, but not good by to the Islands of Peace.
He who comes once, returns again, and is prone to linger; as the thirsty traveler over burning deserts, is loth to leave the oasis where cooling waters flow.

You who have lived your lives in this Paradise of the Pacific can not understand what it means to the strife-weary denizens of the Mainland, accustomed to bleak and biting winters and the strain of competitive life. At first we think only of the physical delight of basking in your golden sunshine; of gazing on your opulence of tropic scenery, and we wonder if we are just dreaming a beautiful dream.

Then as day after day we take our morning meal, without seeing startling headlines, or reading detailed accounts of financial panics, awful murders and terrible scandals in "high life," and as we go forth in your streets, and hear no hard luck tales, no stories of strikes, meet no beggars, and see no sights of heart breaking misery, we begin to feel that a cloud has lifted from our brains, and that the light of heaven is shining on our minds. Again as we come to know you personally, and hear your conversation and see your harmonious mingling of race with race, we grow to believe that the much abused word "Brotherhood" is something beside an expression; that it is a religion.

And as too brief days melt into short weeks, we ask ourselves if this is not the true life which the Creator meant man to live; and if this wild struggle, the fierce competitions, the morbid excitement, and the false standards set by wealth, are not nightmares of a diseased imagination.

And we wonder why we should go back to it all, why we should ever leave you; and we are certain we shall return; return to your glorious climate, to your splendid men, to your beautiful and cultured women with hearts of gold.

Aloha Oe,
ELLA WHEELER WILCOX.

Ella Wheeler Wilcox, attended by a host of Honolulu-made friends, bade aloha to Honolulu on the Hackfeld wharf at noon today and sailed away for the mainland after a month of delight.

Robert M. Wilcox and his wife, Ella Wheeler Wilcox, in all their many travels,—and they themselves say so,—have never trod a shore where there seemed more fascination than here.

"We are coming back next winter," they said, and all who heard wished that it may be so.

Ella Wheeler Wilcox was almost hidden in leis. She saw here flowers she had seldom or never seen before and she loves flowers. Only yesterday a

EDWARD SEWALL ENDS A LONG TRIP

BIG SHIP HERE AFTER A TRIP OF 152 DAYS FROM BALTIMORE—IS RECEIVED WITH THE HONORS OF A NAVAL COLLIER—MANY DAYS OF CALM CAUSED THE LENGTH OF THE VOYAGE.

There was once a skipper named Quick Who came into port with a kick; The wind wouldn't blow And they said he was slow; Said the lubbers, that's surely not quick.

White-winged, white-sparred and beautiful, with decks immaculate and brasswork gleaming, the splendid American ship Edward Sewall, Captain Quick, early this morning was sighted off port, docking at Naval wharf No. 1 at 10 o'clock.

She is 152 days from Baltimore with a full load of coal for the U. S. Naval Station here and for the last week or two shipping people were beginning to get anxious as to the wad-jammer's fate, for the Astral had made such a good passage that it was expected the Edward Sewall would do nearly as well. There was great relief, therefore, when today brought her in.

Calm and more calm delayed the Edward Sewall; she passed through no trying times, but suffer the dull monotony of light winds and calm coming up the Pacific after rounding the Horn. She was reported on January 2, it will be remembered, as sighted off the Horn.

An unusual and amusing spectacle was observed when the Sewall docked. There were eight men outside the Naval wharf gates who desired to go on the wharf and one, apparently a workman, started to open the gate which he did not observe was padlocked.

"Get out of there!" shouted a United States Marine, going double-quick across the esplanade, and he got.

No one was allowed on the wharf while the United States ship Edward Sewall was maneuvering to the wharf. After the gate was opened and until the vessel was moored an armed Marine guarded the gate. Captain Carter of U. S. S. Iroquois, superintended the docking, assisted by another officer.

Of course the Sewall is loaded with coal for the Navy and is under charter by Uncle Sam, but the innocent bystanders were not acquainted with the fact that a chartered private collier was to be received with naval honors, hence the amusement. It was all serious enough with the Navy men, apparently.

A Chinese washman got over the fence to beat his competitors, but was fired out. He explained to his comrades that the gentlemen in uniform on the wharf were afraid a line might break and take his head off; still he wondered why these same gentlemen themselves posed with their hands on the lines.

Captain Quick was glad to make port, but inclined to feel that the powers that be had put up a job to keep him 152 days at sea. In this connection, when a captain has made a good passage he may be seen, almost, up aloft as his wheel approaches port, with a spy-glass looking for reporters.

He wants the world to know that he has made a splendid passage. But let the captain be long on a voyage and he's busy as a flea on a cat when the press sticks its pencil through a scupperhole.

C. J. Schoening boarded the Edward Sewall to tell young Werninghaus, cabin boy, that his mother in Chicago was worrying for him to return home. "Is that so?" remarked Werninghaus.

The lad's father has authorized Schoening to send him home, as reported in detail in The Star last Saturday.

WIRELESS COMPANY DECIDES TO ARRANGE AT ONCE FOR LONG DISTANCE PLANT.

The Wireless Telegraph Company has determined,—and this is absolute,—that it will establish a long distance wireless station here, securing power from the Hawaiian Electric Company with the probability that the station will be erected and in operation by the time the big fleet is due to arrive from its visit to the Pacific Coast.

Wireless Expert Isabel is expected to arrive early next week at Hilo aboard the Matson S. S. Enterprise from San Francisco and he will come to Honolulu as soon as possible and begin a series of thorough tests with a view to establishing the best site for a station.

The new station may be on a mountain, or on the reef. It will be wherever the best results are obtained and, the site once settled, the material will be on hand for erection.

With the score or more American ships of war, divided into squadrons, relaying from the Coast to Hawaii and so on, perhaps to the Philippines, the Wireless Telegraph Company confidently expects to be taking this summer across the Pacific both ways, thousands of miles.

DECLARATION OF PRINCIPLES BY NEW ORGANIZATION OF WORKMEN ON HAWAII.

HILO, March 5.—The committee of Hawaiian laborers, appointed to prepare a constitution and by-laws for the new organization has held several meetings within the past week, and evidently means business. The preamble sets forth:

"It is evident that to protect ourselves we must combine! There is hope for us only in unity and organization! We must form a union broad enough to embrace every competent American citizen laborer on Hawaii—one that will protect every man in his labor and in wages. There we have adopted the following:

"First—It is imperatively the duty of every member to do all in his power to secure, through organization and Unity of action among the American citizen laborers of Hawaii.

"Second—in obedience to that duty and to accomplish our purpose set forth in the constitution, we have formed a Union of American Citizen Laborers.

"Third—We must compete with Asiatic labor. In some cases there are some of the unions that may have to work with Asiatics but, in such case, it is our duty to prove our superiority and demonstrate that the members of this organization, may be depended upon under all circumstances.

"Fourth—Whatever we undertake we must perform. If we begin a job we must complete it, unless called off by a just cause.

"Therefore any member who acts in violation of this obligation, or violates any article of the constitution or by-laws of this union shall be fined, suspended or expelled at the discretion of the union.

FOO STRONG A BLUFF.

Frederick Sterry was talking about the rush that restaurants experience on New Year's eve Washington's birthday and other holidays.

"But I must not boast," said Mr. Sterry. "It is bad luck. A grocer in my boyhood told me that.

"The grocer said that he had once engaged a new boy and had exhorted the boy always to give customers the impression that they were very busy.

"Whether we are actually busy or not, say so, the grocer said. 'Tell people we are, for they like to deal with brisk, go-ahead firms, that do a large trade.'

"Well, an hour or so later a brougham drove up and the rich judge's wife entered. She did not stay long. The boy looked after her. And on her departure the grocer said to the boy:

"Did Mrs. Judge Brown leave a very large order, James?"

"She was 'g'ol' to," said the boy. "She had a list as long as yer arm. But I looked mad, and told her we was so busy I hardly seed how I could stop to tend to her, so she said, 'bein' as she was in a hurry, she'd jest go next dopr.'"
