MAUNA KEA EXCURSION

The inter-island wharf at the foot of Nuuanu street last night, was filled with large crowds to see the departure of S. S. Mauna Kea with about 150 invited guests for a trip to Kaula, and Niha'u.

Berger and his band were stationed at the Ewa side of the dock and played up to the time the Mauna Kea left the harbor.

Several policemen under the command of Captain Parker were stationed at the foot of the gangway, and no one was allowed on board unless they could show a pass.

Several of the wives of the directors and stockholders of the company asked permission to go on board before the ship sailed but the rule was ironclad. The only one who got aboard (as a stowaway) was little Evelyn the charming daughter of R. W. Breckons, United States District Attorney. She surprised papa.

SHOT BY THOT KILLS HIMSELF

The Japanese who was shot Thursday night, while trying to burglarize the postoffice at Wahiawa, committed suicide yesterday afternoon at Wahiawa. When it was found out that he had been dangerously wounded he was at once sent to the Wahiawa Hospital and, managing to get hold of a pair of scissors yesterday afternoon, while the attendant was away, committed harakari, after the most approved fashion. The scissors which he had obtained were only a small pair, but, with a sudden thrust, he tore open his abdomen till his entrails were exposed and died almost immediately. In all probability he would have been able to survive the bullet wounds which he received at Wahiawa and also the self-inflicted wound in the throat, which was made with a knife, but the desire to commit suicide was too strong and the last effort was successful.

Up to this time the police have been unable to find out the name of the dead man or where he worked. In fact his identity is shrouded in mystery. He does not appear to be known to the other Japanese who are working on the pineapple plantations at Wahiawa, nor was he identified when taken to Wahiawa. A coroner's inquest will be held Monday evening at Wahiawa.

Accommodations. The big vessels will connect with the Canadian-Pacific Railway sailing from Yokohama to Vancouver direct.

According to advices received this morning the American-Hawaiian steamship Virginia left Kahului for Kaanapali last night. She should arrive in Hilo Monday morning, sailing for Salina Cruz on Wednesday.

The Kinua, on the last trip which she will make on the regular run between this city and Hilo, arrived this morning shortly after 10 o'clock. She brought back Governor Frear and his party from Maui and had a large passenger list from Hawaii. Purser Phillips reports that the Barker Albert left Hilo for Kaanapali with part of a load of sugar on Thursday. She will complete her cargo at the Maui port. The Annie Johnson reached Hilo Monday and is discharging her cargo.

The inter-island steamer Maui, with a full load of Papa'oa sugar and cattle from Kawaihae should arrive in this port early tomorrow morning. The Likelike, also bringing sugar, will be in later in the day. She will stop at Kalaupapa to discharge cattle before coming here.

The following sugar is reported on hand on Hawaii: Oia, 18,300; Waiakoa, 11,000; Hawaii Mill, 1500; Waiakoa, 14,000; Onomea, 11,000; Pepeekeo, 11,000; Honoumouhu, 13,300; Hakalau, 18,000; Laupahoehoe, 3000; Ooikaia, 1000; Kukialau, 4800; Hamakua, 4000; Paauhau, 14,000; Honokaa, 5500; Kukuluae, 1900; Punaluu, 7000; Honouapo, 10,000.

READY FOR PRIMARIES

REPUBLICAN PRECINCT CLUBS NAME MEN FOR TERRITORIAL CONVENTION.

In many precincts last night there were contests for attendance, upon the Territorial Republican convention, to be voted on at the primaries next Saturday. The Territorial Republican convention occurs on April 12, when six, more or less, delegates to the National convention will be elected.

In most precincts there was very evident harmony; in a few the argument was as to whether or not delegates for Chicago should be instructed.

In the Third of the Fourth the matter was left to be voted at the primaries, next Saturday. In this precinct those nominated were R. W. Breckons, J. H. Fisher, C. F. Chillingworth, J. M. Little, R. W. Aylett, C. H. Cooke, F. J. Kruger and J. Behrard, from whom five will be elected. Norman Watkins moved that the delegates to the convention be instructed to vote for uninstructed delegates to the National convention. Clarence Cooke amended to the effect that two ballots be prepared, one for instructed and one for uninstructed delegates and the ballots take their choice. With the amendment the motion of Watkins carried. Many wished to send an uninstructed delegation.

C. F. Chillingworth read correspondence received from Kuluhi in which the Delegate to Congress advised against sending instructed delegates.

Numerous precincts voted to endorse A. G. M. Robertson as National Committeeman again, although the Ninth of the Fourth was an exception. Here Judge Humphreys moved for Robertson's endorsement and Charles Booth successfully counter-motivated for W. O. Smith. The "Fighting Seventh" agreed to acclaim, as did a number of other precincts. There was no meeting of the First of the Fourth. John Waterhouse, vice Q. H. Berry, was voted precinct judge of the Third of the Fourth, and J. P. Cooke was voted a member of the executive committee vice J. A. Riggs. Robertson was, in this precinct unanimously endorsed as National Committeeman.

The Fourth of the Fourth nominated by acclamation, George W. Smith, John Lucas and Charles Hustace, Jr. No instructions.

In the Sixth of the Fourth the presidency was voted to Jim Quinn. The nominees for delegates chosen were Phillips, Kakalia, W. Drake, H. Klemme, Keohokoi and Joe Monaghan. National Committeeman Robertson was endorsed.

In the Seventh of the Fourth those named were A. D. Castro, W. R. Riley, E. W. Quinn, John C. Lane and J. E. Eckardt.

Eighth of the Fourth proposed Clarence L. Crabbe, H. J. Baldwin, H. C. Murray and John Marcellino.

Ninth of the Fourth proposed for convention delegates, and their election was unanimous, C. W. Booth, John Wise and William Ahloia.

J. K. Kalana, Solomon Mahelona and Ell J. Crawford were nominated as delegates in the Seventh of the Fifth, uninstructed. Sol. Mahelona was made club secretary. Henry Alapai was appointed on the executive committee in place of Henry Vida.

In the Eighth of the Fifth, Ben Zablau, president, announced his resignation, leaving the precinct. Those nominated for delegates were K. R. G. Wallace, C. R. Dement, A. K. Kekai, Geo. Markham, J. C. Cluney and D. K. Kanuha. Two will be elected.

The Eleventh of the Fifth nominated A. Lewis, Jr., W. O. Smith, S. P. Correa, George C. Sea, William E. Pakulii, J. G. Pratt and M. C. Amama. Three will be chosen.

The Twelfth of the Fifth named B. H. Kelekolio, Charles E. Clark, Wm. H. Crawford, Lyle A. Dickey, Charles Opunui, A. K. Vierra, C. Kaneoka and C. P. Maloua. Four will be elected.

POLICE WINK AT GAMBLING SPLIT WITH AN O

That's what they will have to do on the night of the production of the "Masco" in spite of the fact that it will be carried on under their very noses! Truth to tell it will be of the lamblike variety and will take place in the village green. Princes, peasants, soldiers and courtiers will all participate.

As the time approaches it seems to those who are in a position to judge that the Masco will be far in advance of any amateur performance yet produced locally.

Several of the principles have lately returned from the coast. Whilst there they carefully noted the many innovations in vaudeville and have brought the most telling ones back with them, all of which will be introduced in the "Masco."

Such well known amateurs as Mrs. L. R. Crook, "Sonny" Cunha, Hugo Herzer and J. D. Dougherty will figure prominently in the cast and the chorus is made up of many well known to the stage.

The scenery and costumes will be a great surprise. A special feature will

LIQUOR IS ON GUARD

WHOLESALE DEALERS DRAW INCORPORATION ARTICLES FOR BENEFIT OF THEMSELVES.

The wholesale liquor dealers of the Territory have drawn up and submitted articles of incorporation for the approval of the Treasurer, to be known as the "Wholesale Liquor Dealers' Association of Hawaii, Incorporated." Its incorporators are named, with official position they are to hold, as follows: W. Lishman, President; C. G. Bartlett, Vice President; H. J. Buchly, Secretary; D. H. Lewis, Treasurer; R. F. Lange, A. Wirtz, G. C. Sayres, J. G. Serrao and C. W. Spitz, together with the first named officers and directors.

The objects of the association are for the general benefit of the wholesale liquor men of the Territory; to protect the rights and property interest of its members; to protect them from bad debtors; to protect them from injury from outside dealers; to "devise, recommend and promote such legislative, municipal and other measures as to the corporation may seem wise and expedient;" etc.

Under its charter the Corporation may hold property to the extent of $25,000, but has no capital stock. Admission fee for members is $50, with dues of $2 per month. The usual officers, together with a directorate of nine members shall manage the business of the organization.

LATEST PRICELIST OF KISSES

CHICAGO, March 5.—Municipal Judge Torrison has posted an official price list on hugs and kisses where the hugger has no legal right to the caresses and the girl hugged objects. Harry Brittendale, a traveling salesman, was the first person to pay the official toll on the following scale of prices:

First hug.....$50
Subsequent hugs.....10
First kiss.....50
Second kiss.....25
Subsequent kisses.....5

The objecting girl was Miss Bessie Gallop, 15 years old, who ran away from her home in Janesville Wis., with two other girls, Sella Laughlin, 15 years old and her sister Emma, 13 years old. The three girls were found in a room in a hotel at 74 Clark street by the police, who had been notified by the parents of the girls to look for them.

They told the police that they had met Brittendale on the train and he had taken them to the hotel, and he, too, was arrested.

When arraigned before Judge Torrison the Gallop girl said that they started out to find a career on the stage.

"We met this man on the train," she said. "He told us he was an actor and would get a place for us. He hugged me."

"Fifty dollars," said Judge Torrison, looking at Brittendale. "Oh, he hugged me—well, five times," said the girl.

"Fifty more" said the court. "And he kissed me," added the girl.

"How many times?" asked Assistant States' Attorney Zander.

"About seven times before I got away from him."

"Two hundred dollars fine altogether," said the court.

The girls were sent home.

MAUI TRIP TO WORK FOR GOOD

GOVERNOR AND PARTY BACK FROM TRIP—GRASP OF LAND MATTERS.

Governor Frear and the other Territorial officials who arrived here from a two weeks tour of duty by the Kinua this morning, paid brief visits to their respective offices after their arrival and they went home, to take up routine business next Monday.

Governor Frear is looking particularly well, the fortnight of life in the open country to have benefited him very much. He stated that he is feeling as well as he looks.

The past week of the trip has been an especially active one, a great deal of land having been traveled over on horse back and otherwise for purposes of examination, besides a large number of more or less formal social affairs being sandwiched in. The big entertainment took place at Wailuku, where a very large crowd turned out to greet the Governor and his party last Tuesday evening at the armory. The building had been elaborately decorated, an immense amount of eatables provided, and a dance that lasted well into the following morning wound up the festivities. The governor made a number of addresses at this place, including one at the Wailuku high school, where a very pretty reception was accorded him by the pupils of the school.

At Lahaina, from which port the party embarked for home about 2:30 o'clock this morning, a large amount of entertainment and speechmaking took place. The governor visited the Lahaina Seminary twice, attending chapel yesterday morning, and addressing the students. He also visited the site of the proposed park and recreation grounds at Lahaina, and last night attended a public meeting largely attended, at which he made another address. Later at the hotel the party was entertained at an elaborate luau.

Governor Frear feels that the trip has been time well spent as it has given him a grasp of land matters which he could not otherwise have secured, and at the same time has brought the various heads of the departments, who accompanied him, into close touch with conditions affecting their particular offices. The social features of the trip were largely impromptu in character, as it had been announced that the party was out for business and not for entertainment. So well had this been understood by the party that the members of the party almost without exception had to send home for dress clothes after it was learned that a certain amount of social entertainment was inevitable.

The Governor will probably leave the latter part of next month for Washington in response to the President's invitation to governors of the various states and territories to a conference, but on his return he expects to make a trip to Hawaii, and go over the Big Island in a similar manner to what he has just done on Maui. This trip will occupy probably three weeks or more.
