BOSTON BANDITS DEAL OUT DEATH

HAWAIIANS FOR AMERICAN NAVY

BIG FLEET INTELLIGENCE OFFICERS RECOMMEND NAVAL TRAINING SHIP FOR HONOLULU AND BELIEVE HAWAIIAN-AMERICANS AND PORTUGUESE-AMERICANS OFFER SPLENDID MATERIAL—MIGHT ORGANIZE TO SHOW THEIR DESIRE.

Aboard vessels of the big fleet which yesterday resumed its world voyage, heading hence for Auckland, New Zealand, there are men of the government intelligence system who make careful reports to Washington relative to all things of import concerning the fleet and the places visited and conditions of peoples and things thereat.

Embodied in the recommendations going to Washington from here will be one of great interest to Hawaiians and others in these islands, for it is suggested that Honolulu is an ideal place for the stationing of a Naval training ship and that there are here hundreds of Hawaiian-Americans, Portuguese-American and other young men who would make most excellent material for the United States navy, a large proportion of whom have apparently no very definite aim in life.

Should there be a move here, say the coming together of a few hundred young men desiring to join the navy, the declaration of their intentions would materially assist in the movement for a training ship in these waters. They might organize here and make it known that they are ready to join the navy. Any amount of literature on the subject can be obtained free by addressing the Bureau of Navigation, Washington.

The Navy is advertising for men and this is what is contained in one of the calls for men:

"There is plenty of work for the ambitious young American in the United States Navy. The Navy is a liberal teacher, whose first care is to help every young man find out what he can do best—then to help him learn how to do it.

"Life in the Navy is healthful and interesting. There are lessons, drills and work; there are also hours free for recreation, sports and study. The training you get makes you an all-round, efficient man—smart, quick and practical. This country is proud of the men on board its warships.

"Whether you stay, with the Navy or go back to civil life, you are better equipped to make your way than before you entered the service. If you know a trade, you get higher wages to begin with and quicker advancement. In the Navy the apprentice has the chance to make himself master of his trade. There are many opportunities for men who will go good work in the Navy—new ships building every year.

"The navy particularly wants young men who are ambitious to build a future for themselves in the Service. You may get one or two friends to go in with you and be together."

Intelligence officers aboard the battleships of the big fleet studied conditions while here and heartily recommend this port as a station for a naval training ship. There are available vessels not now assigned, any one of which could be and may be sent here as a result of the recommendations which have gone forward.

Hobron Roasts Skipper Harris

BALLAST SHOULD HAVE BEEN TAKEN OUT OF CUP RACER—CAPTAIN HAD NO EXPERIENCE EXCEPT ON FREIGHT-CARRYING SCHOONER—EX-HAWAII YACHTSMAN FORETOLD EXACT ORDER OF THE FINISH.

T. W. Hobron, the local yachtsman, and former owner of the "Gladys," who is now on the Coast, was a wonder at picking the winners of the trans-Pacific race. He wrote a letter to T. V. King, of this city, who is one of the hull which bought the "Gladys," in which he made his prediction of the finish and also gave his reasons for saying that he thought the Hawaii would lose.

Besides this Mr. Hobron gives his opinion in regard to the Hawaii, which should certainly be of interest here, after the race and the comments which have appeared on its result. The following extracts from the letter, which arrived by the Matson steamer "Lurline," before the racers came in, tell the story:

"It would seem to me, from the showing at the start, the order of their arrival off Diamond Head would be, Lurline, Gwendolyn, Lady Maud, Hawaii. Harris made rather a poor start when he had such a quick working boat as the Hawaii to handle. Of course, he may understand the game, but if I were going into a running race like this, all inside ballast possible would come out. The boat with least displacement off the wind will be fastest. She does not require stability, for all heavy pressure is directly fore and aft. From all accounts she is slow and sluggish, and must be carrying excessive ballast. A skipper from a beamy freight-carrying schooner, always used to sailing on her bottom, cannot understand that a modern yacht's lines are such, she sails fastest when heeled down to her rail. Then she gets the big leverage that the deep outside keel gives.

"Bacon, designer of the Gladys, said she would be best when heeled down to her rail. Then her diagonals become longest and easiest. This is not so with old types like La Paloma and the Lurline, for their hollow lines forward cause a big lump near the fore rigging that hinders rapid progress through the water."

CASH FOR FORESTS

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT GIVES $1,000 TO PLANT MOUNTAIN TREES IN HAWAII.

Forester Hosmer was in good humor this morning as the result of a letter received by him from the Federal Bureau of Forestry. He has been notified of the fact that the Federal department has set aside $2,000 to be utilized in this Territory for the planting of forest trees at high altitudes on the mountain slopes.

In speaking of the matter Mr. Hosmer stated that the appropriation had been made last year but that the Comptroller of the Treasury had decided that it could not be used in Hawaii. While Governor Frear was in Washington during the spring, he and Mr. Hosmer took the matter up and as the result of their work the Comptroller has reversed his decision.

Pine, fir and spruce trees will be planted and the slopes of Mauna Kea, back of Waimea, and of Haleakala will be utilized for the work. The planting will be experimental and will be done in small patches of a few acres each. If it should prove to be successful larger areas will then be utilized. The experiment will be tried at various elevations and will be made thorough in every way.

TWO PLAYS TONIGHT

There are two choice plays on at the Opera House this evening, Lady Fortune and Second Thoughts, both of which are creating a great deal of pleasant anticipation. The players in each are well known and their special talents are often discussed as responsible for much real entertainment to theatergoers in this community.

Dr. and Mrs. Humphris, whom Ella Wheeler Wilcox thought were the two cleverest amateurs this side of the Rockies, are the main attractions in Lady Fortune, while Miss Grace, Miss de l'Artigue and Edmund Arnold are the spirits of Second Thoughts. Miss de l'Artigue's beautiful hair is all her own, so don't strain the opera glasses.

The sale of seats for these Kiloheua Art League plays tonight has been very good and a large house is promised. There are still many good seats left in the gallery which ought to be taken by school children, as the Art League plays are always educational. The rehearsal last night went very smoothly. Mr. Harvey has been a great find for the League. Lady Fortune and Second Thoughts will both be the better for his guidance. The bill will be repeated Saturday night.

CRUISER COMING

Six hundred miles out, Kahuku last evening heard the U. S. S. Milwaukee wireless to Honolulu.

At the Naval station it is reported that the Milwaukee is expected here Saturday from the Coast.

The Milwaukee is a protected cruiser of fourteen guns, commanded by Commander Charles A. Gove and is a vessel of the third division, second squadron of the Pacific fleet.

Consul General Saito has been ordered home to Japan and will leave with Mrs. Saito on August 8. It is supposed he will be appointed head of the immigration section of the Foreign office.

SPERRY ASKED TO CALL MEN BACK AT MIDNIGHT

The orders of Admiral Sperry ending all shore leave at one o'clock in the morning, were, it is stated, in response to a request from Honolulu. The request received by the admiral was that he call his men in at midnight while they were here, but he extended the time an hour. The letter sent to the admiral put the request on the ground that the men should not be allowed out after midnight, as they would be a menace to Hawaiians if out all night. According to reports of the fleet the letter did not at all please the admiral. It is regarded by some members of the fleet committees here as responsible for the cutting short of the visit and the unusually strict limits on shore leave and paying off here.

A FINE AD

The following is one of a number of similar expressions made by local business men:

"Honolulu, July 23, 1908.

"HAWAIIAN STAR, Honolulu.

"Dear Sirs:—We take pleasure in letting you know that on the first day that the fleet men were ashore a large number of them called at our store to make purchases of Regal shoes and many of them mentioned having on their way down, seen our advertisement in The Star's fleet edition distributed in San Francisco. This was repeated from day to day while the fleet was here. We feel that the Regal Ad in the fleet edition was one of the best paying Ads we ever had. Yours very truly,

POLICE FIZZLE

ARRESTS WITHOUT PROPER EVIDENCE AND POOR PROSECUTION OF WOMEN.

A lot of valuable time was wasted in police court this morning because of lack of evidence and lack of prosecution in the matter of charges against a bevy of Japanese women from the region of the gas-tanks.

Frank Thompson defended and Lyle Dickey was down for the prosecution which did not come off unless the proving of the fact that a woman had sat in the doorway of a room of a house that once had a poor reputation was prosecution.

Judge Andrade declared that there was no evidence and discharged the first woman arraigned.

Then Dickey started in on a line of ten, one by one.

Officer Townsend, Chief of Detectives Kalakela, Board of Health Agent M. I. Silva and others testified to old conditions, but threw no certain light on alleged recent or present conditions in the district which has of late occasioned talk.

The women were charged with violation of the moral code, but absolutely nothing was shown in the evidence of any violation.

Thompson, summing up, drew the Court's attention to the law which required proof and suggested that it was a question of fact and not a matter of possibility; it was a matter of substantiation, not of appearances.

M. I. Silva testified "by the registry card," a system to which Attorney Thompson referred as being a graft that had been abolished about six months ago.

The defendants were not even properly charged and the trouble of the police, who had made the arrests, apparently, at inauspicious moments, was in vain.
