

Weakened Vitality Impoverished Blood

Read what Ayer's Sarsaparilla did for a well-known city missionary, who writes: "I was for many years a sufferer from boils and other eruptions of a like nature, caused by the impoverished state of my blood. My appetite was poor and my system a good deal run down. Knowing the value of by observation of the good it had done to others, I began taking it. My appetite improved almost from the first dose; then my general health improved, and now it is excellent. I feel a hundred per cent. stronger, and I attribute this result to Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which I recommend with all confidence as the best blood medicine ever devised."

As now made, Ayer's Sarsaparilla contains no alcohol.

There are many imitations Sarsaparillas. Be sure you get "Ayer's."

SOCIAL EVENTS OF THE WEEK

As there is nothing else in particular going on upon that festive occasion, Thanksgiving eve it is safe to say that the dance to be given by the Elks will be one which will long be remembered. The Moana Hotel should be the scene of one of the prettiest and jolliest dances seen in this city for many a day. The Elks have grown in this city, from a rather small beginning, till their lodge now has its own club, which stands comparison very well with the other social clubs of the city.

The dance and powwow to be given on the evening of December 5, by the Myrtle Boat Club will be an evening of festivity. In the long history of sport in Hawaii no club has done a tenth part toward the elevation of the best principle of honest, clean athletics that has been done by this organization. It is composed of members from the best families of the town who have done their utmost to keep up the standard of sport to the nearest to perfection possible.

Those who have been guests of the Myrtles at the dances, smokers and other good times which have been given at their clubhouse know the free and openhanded hospitality which is always dispensed on these occasions. The coming dance at the Moana will be a departure from the usual custom. More room is needed and a crowd which will equal the throng present when the float balls were given will surely be on hand.

Captain and Mrs. Fay, the former ranking officer of the U. S. Marine Service in this city, have returned from the Coast, where they were much entertained by the naval set. They are staying at the Pleasanton, where the naval headquarters seems to be located at present.

No football game, at least none that amounts to anything, for Thanksgiving Day. That does seem a pity. To those who have lived in the East a Thanksgiving Day without its attendant game of the greatest of all college sports, which whetted the appetite for the cranberry sauce, the turkey and the other good things of the season, seems like the traditional drama with out its title character.

The holidays in this city seem to be going into disrepute. Even the Fourth of July, which was once a day of days, has lost much of its glory in Honolulu. Let some of us get together a bit and see if we cannot wake the old spirit, get back towards childhood again and celebrate each and every day that gives us an excuse.

Governor Frear has left us for the mainland, accompanied by two of the pleasantest people whom Honolulu society has ever greeted, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Newell. Mr. Newell has shown himself in this city not only to be an expert engineer, and one with a peculiar capacity for the understanding of immense problems at a few minutes' notice, but also to be a most charming social companion. His wife has made friends in this city who will always remember her visit in Honolulu with pleasure and who certainly hope to see her once more.

Mine Host Bldgood, from Haleiwa, left on the Claudine yesterday for Maui. He was accompanied by J. S. Orme, the head luna of the Waiatua plantation. The two will spend a ten days vacation in the wilds of Wailuku.

The wedding of Mr. Harold Giffard and Miss Julia Damon, which will take place a week from today, will be very quiet with few invitations issued except to the members of the immediate family. The wedding presents should be unusually fine, for there are few more popular couples in the city.

The Miser's Mill, which will be given at the Opera House on Friday and Saturday, should be well worth seeing. Honolulu has called upon Hilo for talent this time and the response in the person of Mrs. Garret Lewis has been a most welcome one. There are few people in the Territory whose musical taste can equal that of Mrs. Lewis and none who can excel her in executive ability, when it comes to the staging of operettas, particularly where there are children involved.

The Harvest Home Festival which takes place at the Hawaiian Hotel on Wednesday, under the auspices of the ladies of St. Andrew's Guild, will be a great boon for many who desire extra delicacies for Thanksgiving Day. The following will be in charge.

General Chairman of the Harvest Home Festival—Mrs. C. M. Cooke, Jr. General Treasurer—H. M. Von Holt, Esq.

Fancy Table Mrs. Arthur Wall, chairman; Mrs. F. A. Saylor, Mrs. T. G. Wall, Mrs. J. P. Howatt, Mrs. J. C. Lorenzen, Mrs. C. M. V. Forster, Mrs. W. A. Wall, Mrs. Clifford Kimball, Mrs. E. D. Tenney, Mrs. J. Melanphy,

Mr. and Mrs. A. Lindsay expect to sail from Liverpool by the Lusitania on November 21. They will probably reach Hilo by the December Enterprise—Hilo Tribune.

Mrs. Osborne begs to announce that the reception to be given on Tuesday, November 24, in honor of Mr. Claude Osborne's marriage, will be held at the "Chiffs," Diamond Head, instead of at the rectory. Vehicles will meet the cars to convey guests to and from the house, and every convenience will be provided.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Fleming are expected home in the steamer Hiltonian and will stay at the home of J. F. Morgan for the present.

Dr. Brinckerhoff returned from Maui on the Mauna Loa on Friday, and was seen in his automobile yesterday. His saddle horse seems to have become rather the favorite over the machine of late.

Mrs. Cornwallis West, better known as Lady Randolph Churchill, is quick to enter the lists in defense of society from the attack of Mrs. Astor. She has nothing startling new to say. She dismisses "smart sets" from all consideration on the ground that they do not belong to society and she asks us not to judge a caste or a class from the antics of a few people who would like to belong to it, but who do not actually find themselves within the charmed circle. Society, the true society, is made up of very exclusive and very cultured people, who detest seeing their names in print and frown severely upon whatever smacks of publicity.

But Mrs. Cornwallis West has something to say in the way of gentle stricture. She does not like the various social "sets," each one being a law unto itself and looking down upon all others as inferior. Then, again, she thinks that American society women should take an interest in politics and serious occupations of that kind.

It is said that exclusiveness is peculiarly necessary to American society if it is not to be quite overrun by the parvenu, and to this Mrs. Cornwallis West says:

Perhaps if they opened their doors a little wider their influence, not to say example, might be felt. In England society is easier of access than in any other place in the world, being built on broader and more solid foundations, and a long-established order of things has made people less apprehensive of having their privileges encroached upon or their position shaken, and they can afford to receive whom they please.

English society being less exclusive, "individual merit is more appreciated than rank or fortune," and "beauty and charm in a woman and brains and good-fellowship in a man take them where dull duchesses and rich bores seek in vain to enter."—Argonaut.

The Christmas sale at the Art League closes at five o'clock. It has been a great success, artistically, financially and socially. The building presented at many times the appearance of the scene of a tea or reception in action.

A very pretty dance was given last night at the Diamond Head home of the William Smiths by Miss Mildred Smith to about fifty couples of the younger set of the city. Dainty refreshments were served during the evening. The Smith home is one of the most beautiful in the city, with its broad lanais near the water, that form a perfect place for dancing.

The coming concert of Miss Katherine Goodson, who will arrive by the Canadian-Australian steamer Makura on December 8 and give the music lovers of the city a chance to hear her wonderful art expressed through the piano, is exciting a great deal of interest. Miss Goodson's reputation is such that a crowded audience has already been ensured by the advance sale at the Bergstrom Music Company. Miss Goodson will give the following program:

- Sonata, C sharp minor, Op. 27, No. 2. Beethoven
Adagio Sostenuto.

MAKIKI PEOPLE IN SELF-DEFENSE

At a well attended meeting last night, the Kaahumanu Improvement Club decided to ask the Central Improvement Club to call a mass meeting of members of all city improvement clubs to take action in the matter of the Japanese camp nuisance; to secure legal assistance and have a measure drafted to present to the Legislature when it meets in February next, prohibiting the encroachment into residential districts of undesirable tenements. It was also resolved to start a movement among the Makiki property-holders to pledge them not to dispose of their property without making it a condition of the sale that the property is not to be used or disposed of for tenement-house purposes.

Information was given that Mr. Ito, the builder of the intercepted Pilkoil street labor camp, was backed by white capitalists. He had paid E. C. Peters an attorney's fee of $800 to fight his case.

S. Sheba, editor of the Hawaii Shinpo, the paper that lately charged Rev. E. W. Thwing with having by his action caused a scattering of Iwilei densens over town, was present by request to represent the Japanese community, being introduced by Allan Herbert. His Thwing roast was read to the meeting by James L. McLean. Mr. Sheba stated that the Japanese press agreed with the people of Makiki in objecting to the building of tenements in the parklike suburbs of the city, but stated also that the determined fight now being made by the Pilkoil street builder was being urged upon him by certain white partners he had in the enterprise, the ones who were putting up the money. Mr. Ito himself was reluctant to go ahead with his plans in the face of the opposition of the residents. He stated, however, that it was not a question of establishing another Iwilei on Pilkoil street, but one of having quarters for the Japanese servants of the Makiki district.

E. C. Rowe reported the hauling of lumber to build another labor camp in the section close to Col. McCarthy's property on Beretania avenue. C. W. Ashford, the volunteer attorney of the club, was assured of his expenses in the campaign. Mr. McLean reported he had been assured by Assistant County Attorney Milverton that the talk of damage suits against the club was a bluff. John Walker reported for the committee on the sewer catch-basin nuisance, in effect that nothing but barren assurances and misleading statements from the authorities had been gained. The nuisance was as bad as ever. It was decided to keep after the Board of Supervisors and the Board of Health in the matter.

A GOOD HOUSEHOLD LINIMENT. When a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm is kept in the house, the pains of burns and scalds may be promptly relieved, cuts and bruises quickly healed, swellings promptly reduced and rheumatism and neuralgia robbed of their terrors. In fact, for the household ills, it is just such a liniment as every family should be provided with. For sale by all dealers, Benson, Smith & Co., agents for Hawaii.

FREE EDUCATION NOT APPRECIATED

The afternoon courses at the College of Hawaii are not so well attended as they should be. This is an opportunity for teachers in the public schools and others not engaged in the afternoon after 3 p. m. to get instruction in subjects that will be interesting and helpful. They have been designed to afford instruction in subjects of immediate and practical interest.

There is no expense connected with these courses and the members of the faculty have spent considerable time and pains in arranging them. They are given in addition to the other regular work of the college and comprise courses in nature study, domestic science, chemistry and physics, German literature and mathematics.

DON'T BLAME HER

For she cannot help it. Women are often cross, irritable, hysterical, and declare they are driven to distraction at the slightest provocation.

Men cannot understand why this should be so. To them it is a mystery because in nine times out of ten this condition is caused by a serious feminine derangement.

A remedy is necessary which acts directly upon the organs afflicted, restoring a healthy normal condition to the feminine system, which will quickly dispel all hysterical, nervous and irritable conditions. Such is LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

The following letter serves to prove this fact. Mrs. Mattie Copenhagen, 315 So. 21st St., Parsons, Kans., writes: "For two years I suffered from the worst forms of feminine ills, until I was almost driven frantic. Nothing but morphine would relieve me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought me health and happiness and made me a well woman."
