MEAGER ACCOUNT

HOW MRS. KAAE COMPLIES WITH ORDERS—CRUELTY OF WIVES IN TWO CASES

Jessie K. Kaae, after being thereto ordered and cited to show cause why not at various times in eighteen months, has rendered accounts as administratrix and as executrix of the estate of the late Margaret V. Carter. In the capacity of administratrix she shows no receipts against payments of $395.65, and in that of executrix she puts down the same amount of outlay and charges herself with $63.50.

The accounts are ridiculed by Edgar Henriques, guardian of the minor children of decedent, as being manifestly absurd for a comparatively large estate. Judge Robinson granted E. Morita a divorce against Kiku Morita for cruelty in throwing chairs, tables and other furniture at her loving husband for the last year and a half.

In the divorce suit of Manuel Torres against Rosalina Torres, in which he charges her with cruelty shown in abusive language and refused to cook meals for him, Judge Robinson granted the wife temporary alimony of $20 a month and $25 for Clem K. Quinn, her counsel.

In the divorce case of Ah Lum against her husband, Wong Kum See, Judge Robinson sustained a demurrer and dismissed the bill. The woman had complained that her parents forced her to marry the libellee, an old man of over fifty-three years, and that her husband compelled her to live with him besides subjecting her to abuse. The demurrer was to the effect that facts had not been shown constituting grounds for the annulment of the marriage.

Judge Robinson admitted the will of James Steward to probate. It leaves all personal property to his wife, and real estate to his wife to enjoy the net income for life, with remainder to the children in equal shares. Mary Steward, widow, is appointed executrix without bond as directed in the will.

Judge Robinson, after hearing divorce cases, resumed the trial of the Lazarus will contest.

SUPPLY FROM GUAM ISLAND

The naval supply transport Supply, Commander Richard M. Hughes, arrived in port this morning, sixteen days from Agana, Guam. She came off port last night, but did not come in, preferring to wait for daylight. About 150 tons of coal will be taken on her, the work of coaling beginning on Friday. In about five days the vessel will sail for Bremerton, where she will be laid up for an overhauling.

The Supply has been station ship at Guam for two or three years, and during that time her machinery has suffered—probably for want of exercise—and she is otherwise in need of a brushing up. She was relieved there by the little gunboat Concord, which belonged to Dewey's fleet. Most of the officers and all of the short time men of the Concord were transferred to the Supply, bringing the complement of the vessel now here up to 260 men.

All is quiet at Guam, according to Lieutenant D. P. Mannix, of the Supply. The voyage of the station ship over was very pleasant except for the past three days during which showers arrested for illicitly selling liquor at Wahiawa, will be given a hearing tomorrow.

A native named Nawaiwaleha was this morning committed to the insane asylum. He had been acting strangely for some time and yesterday stood around Davies & Co.'s store for an hour with a large knife with which he threatened several people. He was arrested by Officer Pearce.

High Sheriff Henry will have a surplus of $4000 from the appropriation of $96,000 for the care and maintenance of prisoners. The average daily total of prisoners in Oahu prison and Honolulu jail for the two years has been 272, against 216 for the biennial period before. There was $13,440 paid by the United States for the keep of Federal prisoners.

and rather heavy seas have been met with. No mail was brought for Honolulu and the vessel has only four bags for the east. This will be transferred here to the regular mail steamer sailing on Saturday. After receiving her overhauling the Supply will return to Guam to relieve the Concord, the latter vessel then proceeding via Honolulu to the Coast to have her boilers fixed up.

Commander Hughes, of the Supply, visited Honolulu about eight years ago in the Concord. Lieutenant D. P. Mannix is a hero of the battle of Santiago and the West Indian campaign. He carries two medals for distinguished service during the Spanish war. Dr. A. J. Geiger was here about two years ago on the transport Thomas and met a number of people at that time. The full roster of officers aboard the Supply is as follows:

Commander R. M. Hughes, Lieutenant D. P. Mannix, Ensign H. L. Irwin, Ensign F. L. Reichmuth, Ensign A. W. Fitch, Ensign L. B. Bernheim, P. A. Surgeon A. W. Balch, P. A. Paymaster W. L. F. Simonpietri, Boatswain, J. N. Huxford, Pharmacist C. E. Alexander, Paymaster's Clerk G. P. Seifert, P. A. Surgeon A. J. Geiger, Warrant Machinist J. I. Ballinger.

special attention to the comfort of those who presented themselves.

Among the callers were Governor W. F. Frear and Secretary Mott-Smith, U. S. District Attorney Breckons, U. S. Marshal Hendry, Internal Revenue Collector Drake, Customs Collector E. H. Stackble, Deputy Collector Stackable, officers of the Fifth Cavalry at Leli-hua, officers of the Twentieth Infantry at Fort Shafter, officers of the Engineer Corps, officers of the Marines, Commandant Corwin P. Rees of the U. S. Naval Station and staff, Captain Moses of the U. S. S. Iroquois, officers of the U. S. S. Buffalo, officers of the National Guard, officers and men of the German ship Marie Hackfeld, officers of French and other vessels in port, consular representatives of all nations having consulates here, British, Dutch, French, Japanese, Chinese, etc., United States Federal and Hawaiian Territorial and City and County officials, including Mayor Fern and his secretary, and the various heads of local departments, prominent bankers, brokers, clergymen, judges, lawyers, newspapermen, educators, business men, tradesmen and citizens generally.

There was a register book for signatures and many of those who called inscribed their names therein.

The Hawaiian band was stationed in the rear of the room where the consular reception was held and German and American airs were played throughout the reception.

For forty years and more this form of reception in honor of the anniversary of the birthday of the Emperor of Germany has been observed.

The presence of Mr. Hackfeld in person, he who on these occasions is sometimes absent in the old country, added much to the joy and significance of today's celebration, than which, it is safe to say, there has seldom or never been so splendid a gathering and representation, or so delightful an exhibition of well wishing and good fellowship.

THE CENSUS JOB

C. R. Backland, editor of the Hawaii Herald, and Clarence L. Crabbe are the leading candidates for the job of director of the census here.

The census taking is to begin next year and it is expected that the salary will be $6,000 a year while it lasts, a little over a year.
