Sudden Death Of W. C. Peacock

Walter C. Peacock, head of the large liquor firm of W. C. Peacock & Company, died at his residence in Nuuanu valley at 1:30 this morning, aged 50 years and six months.

Deceased had not been well for six or seven years, having seen a frequent sufferer of a stomach disorder and liver trouble, the immediate cause of death being the latter. The change for the worse came unexpectedly and death was sudden.

Mr. Peacock was born in England and when quite young removed to Australia, where he lived until 1883 when he came to Honolulu. He was accompanied to the Islands by Wm. W. Wright, head of the W. W. Wright Co., Ltd., carriage makers, who then was and has since remained one of his staunchest friends. They arrived here in the old steamer Zealandia on September 5 of that year.

At first Mr. Peacock obtained odd jobs as bookkeeper and then entered the employ of F. G. Lanahan, wholesale liquor dealer on Nuuanu street near King, present site of the Irwin building, as bookkeeper. Upon the death of Mr. Lanahan, he and "Governor" Freeth bought the business, Freeth retiring, however, after a few years. When the Melvenny building was completed, Mr. Peacock moved into the present quarters of the Peacock Company on Merchant street near Fort.

In 1896, the firm of Peacock & Company was incorporated and branched out into its present large proportions. About the same time Mr. Peacock conceived the idea of a large, modern hotel at the Walkiki beach, and laid the first plans for the Moana hotel, which was built a short time later by Peacock & Company and their friends. In October, 1896, Mr. Peacock went to Australia and established there the firm of Peacock Bros. After visits to Honolulu, he returned here in 1901 to remain permanently; and although he was traveled a number of times since, this has been his home.

Deceased leaves in Honolulu a widow, daughter and mother. His sister, Mrs. Buchly, and a nephew, Rudolph J. Buchly, vice president of Peacock & Company, are also here. C. A. Peacock, brother of deceased, who formerly resided here, is in business in San Francisco.

The funeral will take place under the auspices of Hawaiian Lodge No. 21, Masons, this afternoon, the lodge meeting for the purpose at the Masonic Temple at 3:15 o'clock. Interment will be in Nuuanu cemetery.

The pall-bearers selected for the funeral of the late Walter C. Peacock, which will take place from the Nuuanu valley residence at 4 o'clock this afternoon, are as follows: T. F. Lunsin, J. H. Hirsche, R. L. Auerbach, C. W. Ashford, C. G. Bartlett and J. Lucas.

MEMORIAL.

The following Memorial Resolution was adopted by the Board of Directors of The Wholesale Liquor Dealers Association of Hawaii:

"With unfeigned sorrow we meet today to pay our earnest tribute to the memory of Walter C. Peacock, in whose death we have, indeed, suffered a keen personal loss. It was a pleasure not given many to know Walter C. Peacock, the man, as we, his friends of many years, have known him. To us his life has always been an open book—a book with no stained or sullied page; and as we read from day to day, we learned not only to cherish that gentleness of nature, that true feeling of friendship, but, better yet, to honor the man.

"When such a man passes away, when old friendships are severed and business ties of long standing are broken, it is meet that we should honor his memory with this brief and simple eulogy; and while we realize full well its inadequacy as an expression of the loss which we have sustained in his death, yet we feel, indeed, that it is none the less a true and most heartfelt tribute to his great worth." Honolulu, T. H., March 8th, 1909.

MAN HURT IN AUTO WRECK

D. B. Maconachie, a salesman in the employ of Theo. H. Davies & Company, and Mr. and Mrs. David Haugha met with an automobile accident about 8:30 o'clock last evening which might easily have proved of a most serious character. As it turned out a fine machine is badly battered and Mr. Maconachie is laid up, suffering from a severe body jolting and bad bruises.

At the time of the accident the machine was being driven towardward on the road between Kaimuki and Punahou. Near the Harrison rock quarry at the Kapanalu road something went wrong with the steering gear and the machine, turning almost to right angles, dashed into the rocks near the driveway.

The machine stopped by the impact and turned completely over. Mr. Haugha, who was on the small, rear seat, toppled off at the first jolt and escaped injury. Mrs. Haugha went over with the machine and was bruised but not severely. Mr. Maconachie, who was running the machine, was thrown forward upon the steering wheel, receiving a jab in the breast that knocked him out for a considerable time and composed his worst injury. As soon as assistance could be procured by Mr. Haugha, Mr. Maconachie was removed to his home where he was given early medical attention. Today he is abed and suffering considerable pain, but expects to be around again the last of the week.

Passengers on the Kaimuki cars early this morning saw the wrecked car and, assuming that something serious had happened, piled newspapers offices and the police station for information of the accident. The battered car was "towed" in during the forenoon.

Mr. Bontine this morning took moving pictures of the drill of the marine battalion at Atkinson park. In a few days the expert will leave for Molokai to set going the moving picture machine at Kalanapapa. He will while there, teach someone how to run the machine in future.

THE HOUSE

amendment to read twelve instead of fourteen. House bill to make two counties out of the County of Hawaii was referred to the Hawaii delegation. Senate bill relating to witness fees and mileage went to the Judiciary Committee. Also Senate bills relating to bonds of city and county officers and relating to bonds of county officers.

NEW BUSINESS.

House bill to amend the law relating to persons exempt from taxes passed first reading.

A communication from W. B. Oison, secretary Hawaiian Evangelical Association, conveying a resolution of that body passed at its annual session in Hilo last July against any change in the liquor law 1907 was referred to the Ways and Means Committee.

NUUANU DAM INQUISITION.

Chillingworth moved and Knudsen called a resolution that the president appoint a committee of three members to investigate the construction of the Nuuanu dam. Coelho observed that it seemed to him a limit ought to be put on the expenditure the committee might incur. It cost $3000 last session. He did not press the caution.

The resolution was adopted and the chair appointed Chillingworth, Knudsen and Fairchild as the investigators.

At 11:20 the Senate took recess till 2 p. m.

Recommending that Cohens resolution, to urge the passage in Congress of Lillookalani's claim, be made a concurrent resolution and adopted.

Recommending the tabling at the request of the introducer, of Castro's H. B. 14 relating to divorce and separation.

Recommending passage of the Senate Judiciary committee's S. B. 52, relating to divorce.

Recommending the tabling of Carley's H. B. 83, relating to suspension of sentences. The general object of the bill is good but it may cause abuse of power by district magistrates or other judges.

Recommending passage of Knudsen's S. B. 33, relating to substitute justices of the Supreme Court.

paper passed third reading after Fairchild had explained that he introduced it at the instance of people of this town. There was no dissenting vote.

Senate bill defining anew the boundaries of judicial circuits passed third reading 14 to 0.

On House bill to protect the purchasers of real estate from fraudulent conveyances, on third reading, Knudsen moved an amendment to strike out the minimum of one year's imprisonment and make the penalty not more than five years' imprisonment. This would leave the minimum sentence in the discretion of the court to fit the gravity of the case. It carried and the bill passed unanimously.

House bill providing for payment by the Territory of a counsel fee to an attorney for an impecunious person accused of crime passed third reading, only Kalama voting against it.

House bill to provide a fleet of $5 for each boat engaging in fishing for commercial purposes came up for third reading.

Makekau moved it be indefinitely postponed.

McCarthy asked why. The committee had reported the bill favorably, explaining that the only change from the present law was to exempt persons going out to fish for pleasure.

Fairchild told of his investigation of the bill which showed him that the Hawaiians were not opposed to it. Representative Coney, himself a fisherman, favored it and the House had passed it. The 30-inch beam condition protected the Hawaiians who caught fish for their own sustenance.

Knudsen wanted to know why a difference was made between the sportsman who went out with a gun and one who went out in a boat with hook and line.

Fairchild explained again that it was a protection to the man who fished for his family.

Baker seconded the motion to indefinitely postpone the bill. It first dealt with persons and further along with boats. According to his reading every man going out in a boat of more than 30 inches beam, as one of the crew, was subject to payment of the $5 fee.

Fairchild made a reply, after which Knudsen, on the ground of uncertainty regarding the probable effect of the measure, moved that the bill be laid on the table. Carried.

House bill to reduce the price of the Revised Laws to $5 a volume passed third reading.

On House bill defining taxation and judicial districts, for third reading, Robinson moved an amendment to place the Island of Kahoolawe after Honolulu.

President Smith asked if it was not more convenient for the people of Kahoolawe to go to Makawao instead of Wailuku.

Robinson said it would provide they landed at Makana.

Coelho said the bill was amended by the Senate on second reading. Kahoolawe had always been a part of Wailuku. They polted at Kihel but for judicial purposes they went to Wailuku.

Chillingworth took a hand in a general talk, which ended in Robinson's acceptance of an amendment to the amendment, to make its subject clearer, which carried and the bill, with a verbal amendment relating to Oahu, passed third reading without opposition.

House bill relieving the Secretary of Hawaii from the work of issuing certificates of Hawaiian birth, which is now attended to by the Federal authorities, passed third reading unanimously.

House bill relating to the bonds of public officers came up for third reading. It makes the bond of one whose duties may not be defined by statute or ordinance hold as well as that of one whose duties are so defined. On motion of Baker it was deferred till tomorrow.

House bill to authorize certain public officials to designate persons to act in their absence and to define the powers of persons so designated was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

TEACHERS' MEETING.

The Territorial Teachers' Association will meet this evening at 7:30 at the McKinley High School. Mrs. A. F. Knudsen will address the meeting on "Conservation of Our Natural Resources." Forester Hosmer and others will also speak on this subject. All are cordially invited.

VERY GOOD SHOW

A very creditable performance of "A Modern Annals" was given to a small house by the senior class of McKinley High School at the Opera House Saturday evening. Miss Daisy Colburn took the part of Nellie Goldengate, Marcus Monsarrat that of Derby Dashwood, Miss Edith E. Smith that of Prudence Mayflower, Daniel H. King that of Lysander Lyon, M. D., J. Roy Douglas that of Francisco, Miss Florence C. Towse that of Kitty, Edward R. Tracy that of Baby and Edward B. Blanchard, the commercial teacher, that of Colonel Lyon.

Hearty applause was elicited in every act, and roars of laughter at the more comical situations. Nothing was lacking in stage setting and management. The presentation as a whole reflected fresh luster on the ability of Mrs. McLennan, who trained the cast, as a dramatic instructor.

The boxes were mostly occupied by the Liliupitans of the Pollard company, who generously applauded the young amateurs.
