$1600 BID FOR AYLETT'S VOTE FLIES FROM NEW YORK TO PHILADELPHIA

JUDGE AND ATTORNEY MAY HAVE IT OUT

Judge Andrade in police court this morning, sentenced Tom Quinn to pay a fine of $15 for an alleged offence connected with the chauffeur's driving an auto and mixing in an accident in which were involved a Rapid Transit car, a Chinese wagon, a water buffalo, and Tom's benzine buggy.

The court stated that Quinn was not guilty of furious or heedless driving, but he was guilty of $15 worth of fine, or facts to that effect. In any event, Lightfoot, representing the genial Tom, who says water buffalos as well as Chinese wagons should be compelled to carry side-lights, appealed the case to the higher court.

This is not all that's coming out of the Quinn case, if report of an authoritative nature has things correct.

Andrade and Lightfoot have not been friendly for some reason, Andrade having roasted Lightfoot's interpreters and shut him out of processes of interrogation during proceedings which Lightfoot considered he had a right to pursue.

It is known that Andrade and Lightfoot have "had words," and that Lightfoot has as much as told Andrade that he feels that Andrade's court is not a place where he prefers to practice, though he intimates it is a place where certain other attorneys have little difficulty in obtaining dismissals or light sentences.

The situation is very strained, and Lightfoot has reached a point where he seeks an explanation.

Lightfoot resents Andrade's treatment of him when the former undertook to examine British Consul Forster as he would examine any other witness, in the Quinn case, and if Andrade was not a magistrate there would probably be a passage at arms or the request for an apology.

FEDERAL PROBES REPORT JUNE 15

Federal grand jury was in earnest session this morning, with United States District Attorney Breckons attending thereon, he being armed with several new and important cases developed over the holidays, Saturday and Sunday.

Breckons put in his Kamehameha Day celebration, for the most part, in the secrecy of his private office, examining witnesses in more than one matter which is likely to result in an indictment.

Federal court took recess this morning until Wednesday morning next at 10 o'clock, during the interval no cases being heard or tried, and at which time, Wednesday morning next, at 10 o'clock, it is assured that the Federal grand jury will file a report with U. S. Judge Robertson, embracing the fruit of their labors within the past few weeks.

While, of course, it is uncertain as to what results will be from investigations indulged in by the United States Inquisition, it is known that the following matters have been under that body's consideration.

1. Bigamy.
2. Adultery.
3. Violations of opium law.
4. Sending of indecent literature through the mails.
5. Illegal presence of aliens in the Territory (Orientals.)
6. Immorality in certain city blocks, with possible indictments against some of the owners of property involved.
7. Charges against Vastleff, leader of the Russian immigrants, as anarchist.

There are other matters which have been under consideration, all of which will be noted in the grand jury report, either as deserving "true bills," or calling for "no bills" in the matter of indictment or otherwise.

SUPERVISOR OFFERED BRIBE

A leading financier this morning informed a representative of The Star that Supervisor Aylett had informed him that he had been offered sixteen hundred dollars to vote for the bitulithic pavement ordinance for Fort street, recently vetoed by the Mayor.

Aylett was asked why he did not at once expose the matter before the board of supervisors, whereupon Aylett is said to have replied that he was advised by his attorneys not to say a word about it at this time.

The matter has been brought to the attention of other members of the supervisorial board and there will be a special investigation at once.

"No one but myself has the right to make an offer directly or indirectly relative to the paving contrary, and I have never offered or authorized anyone to make any offer to any of the supervisors for their vote, and I do not intend to," said J. A. Gilman, the local agent of the bitulithic patent, this afternoon.

It is reported that another Supervisor claims to have been offered a substantial bribe.

"HARD A-LEE" MAY GO TO WASHINGTON

As a result of the trouble in obtaining a lee of the Siberia on Friday from Captain Zeeder when the Siberia arrived from Yokohama, Dr. Ramus, chief doctor of the U. S. Quarantine Service, will take the matter up with the officials in Washington; and there is likely to be some trouble coming for the captain of the ship who claimed that the lee was perfectly satisfactory from a seaman's standpoint.

When the Customs launch went out to meet the ship, Dr. Sinclair refused to board until either the captain or pilot gave him a lee, the result being that nearly two hours were wasted in getting aboard.

Dr. Sinclair after he had boarded the ship on the port side by a Jacob's ladder, told Captain Zeeder that if he did not give a lee so that the quarantine nurse could board the ship he would send in for Dr. Ramus.

After another hour's wait, Dr. Ramus arrived and the ship was maneuvered so that Miss Smith could get aboard.

From what can be learned from the proper officials, every captain coming into Honolulu has been ordered to give the doctors a proper lee before they will board the ships, and the reason for the long delay on Friday was Zeeder's refusal to comply with the regulations.

MURDERER SENTENCED TO BE HANGED ON A LEGALIZED HOLIDAY

John Wynne, the man who brutally murdered Officer McKinnon of the oil steamship Rosecrans in this port several years ago, and who has been in jail ever since, was this morning before U. S. Judge Robertson to be sentenced.

He was to have been hanged some time ago, but the Sailors' Union and other institutions and individuals interested themselves to stay execution, with the result that the slayer of his shipmate, while the perpetrator of the foul deed was in a beastly state of intoxication, has at the same time had the agony prolonged, and hope drawn out.

Wynne doesn't know whether he is to live or die. He professes to have been so drunk at the time of the murder that he doesn't know what he did or how he did it. He had come ashore, in a state of unkindness against his victim, had gotten "tank-ed up" and had returned to the ship, lying at the Ewa end of the harbor, to seek and procure a heavy hammer with which he crushed out the brains of McKinnon as the latter slept soundly on a lounge in his cabin.

Judge Robertson this morning set the date for hanging for September 5, of this year. However Attorney Clemmons made the statement that the matter had been taken to Washington on a prayer for commutation of sentence and that there was likely to be some word from Washington as to the disposition of the case before the day of sentence arrived.

The peculiar fact of the case is that the new day set for the execution happens to fall on a legal holiday, on the fifth day of September, which happens to be Labor Day, and the very much argued question among the legal fraternity is whether or not a convict may be hanged on a legal holiday.

It is just possible that Judge Robertson lost sight of the fact that the day he set for execution is a legal holiday.

The question is: Is the sentence legal?
