man, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Sheedy, Mrs. Winters, Mrs. Wilcox and the gracious hostess.

Many dainty notes of sympathy, and fragrant flowers are finding their way into the home of Captain and Mrs. W. H. Winters, where Mrs. D. J. Durney, the mother of Mrs. Winters is confined to her room by illness.

One of the real musical events of the week was the semi-annual open meeting of the Morning Music Club which was enjoyed on Thursday evening by about one hundred members and invited guests at the home of Mrs. J. R. Galt on Liliha street who had graciously acceded the courteous offer of her residence for the evening.

The invitations had read for eight o'clock but owing to the inclement weather it was half after eight before the programme began.

The large music room of this artistic home was beautifully adorned by huge containers filled with fragrant white roses which grow in profusion about the spacious grounds.

The officers of the club received the guests in the drawing room and at the opening of the splendid programme the music room was well filled with an appreciative audience.

The numbers were all wonderfully beautiful and exquisitely rendered, the quartette deserving especial mention. The piano solo by Mrs. D. Howard Hitchcock was rendered in a masterful manner and won high praise and warm appreciation.

Mrs. Low's rendition of two songs was wonderfully well done and showed the true artistic touch of this talented vocalist. Her brilliant soprano voice, flexible, true, and vibrant with feeling moved all present to great applause.

Mrs. Westervelt's "Arabesque" was as usual worthy of that clever musician, who has gained a reputation for artistic work, while the evening's gem in the opinion of most of those present was the trio "In My Garden," and "Spring Song" by Miss Ward, Mrs. Weight and Mrs. Walbridge with an exquisite violin obligato by Mrs. C. B. Cooper who as an artist is above criticism.

The programme of the evening follows:

An Evening With Robert Schumann. Quartette—Scherso Andante Mrs. Arthur Burdette Ingalls, Miss Elsie Werthmiller, Mr. Marx Dr. Carl Ramus.

A Reading of the Life of Robert Schumann, compiled by Miss Margaret Hopper. Read by Mrs. Theodore Richards.

Two Songs— (a) Thou Ring Upon My Finger. Mrs. Charles Weight.

Piano solo—"Foschingschwank" Mrs. D. Howard Hitchcock.

Two Songs— (a) Widmung Mrs. W. W. Low.

Piano solo—"Arabesque" Mrs. Westervelt.

Two part songs— (a) In My Garden Miss Kulamann Ward, Mrs. Charles Weight, Mrs. Bernice Walbridge.

Violin obligato. Mrs. Charles Bryant Cooper.

Governor and Mrs. Walter F. Frear returned to town yesterday after a delightful trip on Hawaii.

On Tuesday evening an elaborate banquet was given at the Union Grill by his fellow workers in honor of and as a farewell to Mr. Stephen A. Sewall.

Many humorous speeches were made and toasts proffered and farewells drunk to the guest of honor who is leaving for Denver, Colorado.

The menu read as follows:

The Honolulu Gas Men's farewell banquet to Stephen A. Sewall, Esq., Tuesday, December 6th, 1910. Trouble! Phone 1584 (nobody there), Union Grill.

For He's a Jolly Good Fellow!

On Monday Major and Mrs. Baldwin passed through Honolulu en route to the orient.

Major Baldwin was made the guest of honor at a luncheon given at the Alexander Young Hotel by Mr. S. A. Sewall.

The table bore a pretty centerpiece of red carnations and maidenhair and the place card depicted tropical scenes.

Among those present were Mr. H. S. Strange, Mr. King, Mr. Hampton, Major Baldwin and the host.

Returning home in the Siberia Monday after a very remarkable tour of Europe and the United States, Mrs. A. G. Hawes, Jr., was warmly welcomed by a bevy of friends.

Mrs. Hawes was arrayed in the height of fashion, and looked very modish in a dark green shadow-striped tailored suit with extreme hobble skirt and a turban worn low over the forehead made of black taffeta faced with a white lace frill.

Miss Lady Macfarlane, a popular member of the younger set in Honolulu left in the Wilhelmina on Wednesday for San Francisco and Oakland California, where she will remain for about a year.

Miss Macfarlane was the motif of a large gathering of her friends and relatives and was entirely concealed in a wealth of leis.

Mr. Green of San Francisco and his daughter Miss Green who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Maurie Phillips for a month departed for their home in the Wilhelmina Wednesday.

The friends of Dr. George D. Graham, Dental Corps, U. S. A., are rejoicing over his recent orders from Washington.

Dr. Graham had been ordered to the Philippines by the December transport but later orders have extended his tour of duty here till April 1911.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Knudsen returned to their home on Kawai on Tuesday in the Kinau after having been greatly entertained while in this city.

Mrs. Henry Williams presided as a charming hostess on Wednesday evening when fourteen guests were accorded a very merry time at Mrs. Williams' home on King street.

American Beauty roses, long stemmed, and issuing from cut glass vases formed the center of decoration and potted ferns added a graceful complement.

A delicious buffet supper was served after a few hours of music and cards of coffee, sandwiches, sherbet and cake at a round table made attractive by pink roses.

Miss Bernice Hartwell and Mr. and Mrs. C. Hedeman were returning passengers from the mainland during the week after several enjoyable months spent abroad.

An enjoyable dance was given at the Moana Hotel on Tuesday evening for the officers of the Buffalo, which a number of service and townspeople attended.

Captain and Mrs. W. W. Low, U. S. M. C., entertained at a very charming little dinner party at their pretty home in Nuuanu valley on Tuesday evening in compliment to Major Davis who arrived in the Buffalo.

A large cluster of scarlet Ixora blooms formed a graceful centerpiece; set on an elaborate lace cloth, and the crimson silk candelabra added a soft touch of color.

Those who were present at this dainty dinner were Major Davis, Captain and Mrs. Arthur Marx, U. S. M. C., and Dr. and Mrs. James Judd.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pierce Danzig and Mr. David Center are expected to arrive Monday in the China from San Francisco to participate in the nuptials of Miss Nadine Louise Center and Mr. Edward Ellis Bodge.

Plans for the wedding have not been completed but it is expected it will be solemnized at St. Andrew's Cathedral the first of the year.

Mrs. Willis, the charming young wife of Lieutenant Willis, U. S. M. C. has issued cards for bridge next Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Macfarlane entertained for Admiral and Mrs. Corwin P. Rees, U. S. N., on Thursday evening at their home at Walkiki at a very handsome dinner party, the color tone of which was carried out in red.

The dinner table was adorned by a large centerpiece of Hawaiian holly berries sprigs of the same being strewn over the cloth.

The place cards depicted the berries in natural coloring and to these were attached clusters of berries.

The evening was devoted to bridge. Those present at this elaborate dinner were: Admiral and Mrs. Corwin P. Rees, U. S. N., Major and Mrs. Dunning, U. S. A., of Fort Shafter, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Tenney, Mrs. E. Faxon Bishop, Miss Alice Macfarlane, Mr. H. Walker and Mr. Paul Muhlendorf.

An elaborate reception was given at the Alexander Young Hotel on Monday evening by Mr. Theodore Wores under the auspices of the Aloha Art League at which an exhibition of this far famed artist's pictures was displayed.

One of the banquet rooms of the hotel had been wonderfully and artistically transformed into a salon and here were on view the marvellous results of the brush and palette which have won Mr. Wores fame.

Scenes of Spain, California, Samoa, Honolulu and Japan were exhibited and many wonderfully clever portraits of "characters" and of prominent people in San Francisco, the artist's home city.

In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Wores, Miss Frances Lawrence, Mr. Edgar Nowcomb, Mrs. Nowcomb and Mr. and Mrs. D. Howard Hitchcock.

All the members of the Art League were in attendance with many of their friends the elite of Honolulu society being in evidence.

Over two hundred guests called to view the pictures and departed during the hours of receiving murmurs of praise being heard on every hand.

Mrs. Wores looked very beautiful in a turquoise satin gown trimmed with passanterie of turquoise and pearl ornaments, the corsage being adorned by rose point lace.

Miss Lawrence was dainty in white China silk trimmed with old Maltese lace.

Mrs. Hitchcock wore a regal gown of black crepe de chine trimmed with heavy motifs of black embroidery, and Mrs. Nowcomb was handsome in a black jet gown and wearing antique turquoise jewels.

Among the large number of guests were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Frederick Wichman, Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Cox, Mrs. C. B. Cooper, Miss Lawrence, Mrs. Hitchcock, Mrs. Newcomb, Mrs. Bodge, Reverend and Mrs. Hall, Canon and

Mrs. Osborne, Mr. and Mrs. Frank

Damon, Dr. and Mrs. C. B. High, Miss Cooper, Mrs. Newby, Mr. and Mrs. Gilmore, Mrs. Gardner Wilder, Miss Ehrhorn, Judge and Mrs. S. M. Ballou, Mr. and Mrs. Dulsenberg, Mr. and Mrs. Fritch of California and many others.

Mrs. Gardner Wilder attracted attention in an evening robe of black satin made hobble effect and a fetching black hat to match.

Mrs. Fritch was remarkably handsome in grey silk crepe elaborately embroidered and wearing a stunning necklace of opals and diamonds.

There were innumerable handsome gowns worn on this occasion too beautiful and elaborate for description.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Francis Dillingham have issued invitations for a bridge supper at which they will preside on Monday evening next in honor of Admiral and Mrs. Corwin P. Rees, U. S. N.

Ella Wheeler Wilcox the world famed poet and author with her husband Robert L. Wilcox passed through in the Siberia Monday en route to China, Japan, Java and other remote lands.

Plain velvet, also hairline stripes, small checks, and corduroys, are very much in the mode.
