

Castle & Cooke, LIMITED.

Honolulu, T. H.

SHIPPING AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS.

SUGAR FACTORS and GENERAL INSURANCE AGENTS.

Representing—

- Ewa Plantation Co.
- Waiialua Agricultural Co., Ltd.
- Kohala Sugar Co.
- Apokaa Sugar Mill Co.
- Fulton Iron Works of St. Louis.
- Westons Centrifugals
- Babcock & Wilcox Boilers.
- Green's Fuel Economizer.
- Matson Navigation Co.
- New England Mutual Life Insurance Company of Boston.
- Aetna Insurance Co.
- National Fire Insurance Co.
- Citizen's Insurance Co. (Hartford Fire Insurance Co.)
- The London Assurance Corporation.

Woodlawn

MANOA VALLEY.

See CHAS. S. DESKY.

Forcegrowth

WILL DO IT.

Consolidated Soda Water

Is Absolutely Pure

TELEPHONE 2171.

A CLEAN HOUSE AND

Pau ka Hana

ARE FAST FRIENDS.

Drink

MAY'S OLD KONA COFFEE.

Best in the Market.

HENRY MAY & CO.

Phone 1271.

Dress Goods

Men's Furnishings

YAT HING, - 127 Hotel St.

THE GREAT BENJAMIN COMPOUND

HERBALO

Cures Constipation. Makes New, Rich Blood. Stomach and Liver Regulator. Cures the Kidneys.

SUN CHUNG KWOCK BO LTD

CHINESE NEWSPAPER PUBLISHING AND JOB PRINTING.

No. 48 Cor. of Smith and Hotel Sts

Empire Chop House

(Lately Palace Grill.)

Bethel St. Opp. Empire Theatre.

Open Day and Night, Cuisine Unsurpassed.

BEST MEALS AT ALL HOURS.

Automobile Livery

Two Five Seated E. M. F's.

Beretania and Maunakea Streets.

S. KURIHARA

Phone 2085.

BEFORE

taking a policy of life insurance in any other company ask to see the

CONTRACT

— IN THE —

New England Mutual Life Insurance Company Of Boston, Mass.

and compare the many advantages it offers with those of other companies

Castle & Cooke, Ltd.

GENERAL AGENTS

STOWAWAYS ON ATLANTIC

Stowaways being usually considered rather interesting personages to read about, the London Answers has waited upon a certain big steamship company to learn something about the methods of the passengers who don't pay.

Although he was not actually referred downstairs to "our stowaways department," the visitor was at once taken up in a lift to a gentleman who might almost claim to have made a lifelong study of stowaways.

"Stowaways things of the past!" he ejaculated, in response to the caller's suggestion. "I should rather describe them as being decidedly of the present. Personally, I believe stowing away has become more popular of recent years. The reason? The South African War; the rush to the Cape. No work there; so on to Australasia, anywhere, then home again.

"Even today, after the boats leave Cape Town, there is always a stow-away hunt—a kind of 'spy' for the crew.

"Stowaways are of two kinds. There are those who smuggle themselves on board anyhow, and hide amongst the cargo in the more usual, unsophisticated way. The others saunter aboard with the passengers' friends, and, ignoring the cry of 'All ashore,' pose comfortably as passengers themselves, trusting to luck and cool cheek to dodge the ticket-taker.

"Look at one of the Castle boats. Thirteen days at sea, twenty hours from Southampton, a well-groomed individual inquired of the chief officer if he could be provided with a railway ticket to London, instead of continuing the voyage to its end. It was finely done, but bluff, nothing else. The man had no right on board at all, and was given into custody.

"One stowaway went to New York in a packing case. He was penned up for sixteen days, lying upon hay, with two dozen soda-water bottles of sweetened coffee and a packet of letters from his young lady with him. The man nearly lost his reason.

"The West Coast of Africa is a terror for colored stowaways, constant watch having to be kept on the steamers. Recently a mail boat arrived at Plymouth with twelve Krooby stowaways on board, one of them bringing with him his tall silk hat.

"At some ports now dogs are kept and trained to run loose among the cargo ere the vessel sails and nose out stowaways. The sailors call them 'blige hounds.' One dog could not be induced to quit, so the ship sailed with him, and next day he dragged to light a man's wooden leg. There was a one-legged stowaway in hiding.

"Aboard liners a stowaway is signed on as an assistant steerage steward. Placed under the orders of the chief steward it depends a great deal on his own demeanor and shrewdness whether he is handed over to the police or given a proper discharge at the finish of the trip.

"I have known stowaways to depart in the best of spirits and bodily condition, and with two or three sovereigns jingling in their pockets."

Examiner: That the United States is inviting disaster and defeat by refusing to prepare for war with Japan, was a warning sounded by Burr McIntosh in his address before the Commonwealth Club at its weekly luncheon in the Palace Hotel yesterday.

McIntosh said he was not voicing his opinions alone, but those of men high in the affairs of the nation, who were in a position to know what they were talking about.

"The politicians and orators of Japan," said McIntosh, "are going about that country telling the people that all the country west of the Rocky Mountains belongs to Japan by divine right, and that the United States is discriminating only against the Japanese in the matter of immigration. This is creating a tremendous feeling of hostility against the United States in that country, and Japan is making active preparations for war in accordance with public clamor.

"At the same time the United States is remaining quiescent, and our politicians and demagogues are preaching the propaganda of peace, and declaring that war with Japan is an absurdity.

"When Japan does strike, it will be at a moment's notice. It is liable to be at any moment now, and when it happens the Philippines, Hawaii and Dutch Harbor will fall.

"There are 60,000 armed Japanese soldiers in California; 2,200 Colt revolvers were sold by one firm in Los Angeles last year to Japanese; the mountain passes would be blown up the first thing; only 8,000 troops could be mobilized at San Antonio a few weeks ago, whereas, it takes 13,000 to make a full division, only thirty per cent of the militia can be relied upon for actual war service; soldiers cannot be made in a week, any more than mechanics can; of the 100,886 men applying for enlistment last year 81,876 had to be rejected, and this shows the class of men applying for enlistment in the regular army."

Speaking of ship subsidy, he said that about a year before E. H. Harriman died, a prominent Japanese called upon him and offered him $500,000 a year and part of the profits if he would fly the Japanese flag on the Pacific Mail steamers, but Harriman refused, saying he was too good an American.

"The United States today," he said, "is like a great, big, beautifully plumbed ostrich that raises its head high in the air, surveys wonderfully its plumage, and then with a gratified grunt sticks its head deep in the sands of self satisfaction, while a band of dancing politicians from the Middle West keep plucking plumage with one hand, while with the other they saturate the sand with perfume from a bottle labeled 'sleep on.'"

"The reason the people of the Middle West are so apathetic about ship subsidy is because they say that even if the coast was attacked the cannon balls could not hit them, so why should they vote money for war preparations?"

Fine Job Printing, Star Office.

STILL ANOTHER WAR WARNING

Examiner: That the United States is inviting disaster and defeat by refusing to prepare for war with Japan, was a warning sounded by Burr McIntosh in his address before the Commonwealth Club at its weekly luncheon in the Palace Hotel yesterday.

McIntosh said he was not voicing his opinions alone, but those of men high in the affairs of the nation, who were in a position to know what they were talking about.

"The politicians and orators of Japan," said McIntosh, "are going about that country telling the people that all the country west of the Rocky Mountains belongs to Japan by divine right, and that the United States is discriminating only against the Japanese in the matter of immigration. This is creating a tremendous feeling of hostility against the United States in that country, and Japan is making active preparations for war in accordance with public clamor.

"At the same time the United States is remaining quiescent, and our politicians and demagogues are preaching the propaganda of peace, and declaring that war with Japan is an absurdity.

"When Japan does strike, it will be at a moment's notice. It is liable to be at any moment now, and when it happens the Philippines, Hawaii and Dutch Harbor will fall.

"There are 60,000 armed Japanese soldiers in California; 2,200 Colt revolvers were sold by one firm in Los Angeles last year to Japanese; the mountain passes would be blown up the first thing; only 8,000 troops could be mobilized at San Antonio a few weeks ago, whereas, it takes 13,000 to make a full division, only thirty per cent of the militia can be relied upon for actual war service; soldiers cannot be made in a week, any more than mechanics can; of the 100,886 men applying for enlistment last year 81,876 had to be rejected, and this shows the class of men applying for enlistment in the regular army."

Speaking of ship subsidy, he said that about a year before E. H. Harriman died, a prominent Japanese called upon him and offered him $500,000 a year and part of the profits if he would fly the Japanese flag on the Pacific Mail steamers, but Harriman refused, saying he was too good an American.

"The United States today," he said, "is like a great, big, beautifully plumbed ostrich that raises its head high in the air, surveys wonderfully its plumage, and then with a gratified grunt sticks its head deep in the sands of self satisfaction, while a band of dancing politicians from the Middle West keep plucking plumage with one hand, while with the other they saturate the sand with perfume from a bottle labeled 'sleep on.'"

"The reason the people of the Middle West are so apathetic about ship subsidy is because they say that even if the coast was attacked the cannon balls could not hit them, so why should they vote money for war preparations?"

Examiner: That the United States is inviting disaster and defeat by refusing to prepare for war with Japan, was a warning sounded by Burr McIntosh in his address before the Commonwealth Club at its weekly luncheon in the Palace Hotel yesterday.

McIntosh said he was not voicing his opinions alone, but those of men high in the affairs of the nation, who were in a position to know what they were talking about.

"The politicians and orators of Japan," said McIntosh, "are going about that country telling the people that all the country west of the Rocky Mountains belongs to Japan by divine right, and that the United States is discriminating only against the Japanese in the matter of immigration. This is creating a tremendous feeling of hostility against the United States in that country, and Japan is making active preparations for war in accordance with public clamor.

"At the same time the United States is remaining quiescent, and our politicians and demagogues are preaching the propaganda of peace, and declaring that war with Japan is an absurdity.

"When Japan does strike, it will be at a moment's notice. It is liable to be at any moment now, and when it happens the Philippines, Hawaii and Dutch Harbor will fall.

"There are 60,000 armed Japanese soldiers in California; 2,200 Colt revolvers were sold by one firm in Los Angeles last year to Japanese; the mountain passes would be blown up the first thing; only 8,000 troops could be mobilized at San Antonio a few weeks ago, whereas, it takes 13,000 to make a full division, only thirty per cent of the militia can be relied upon for actual war service; soldiers cannot be made in a week, any more than mechanics can; of the 100,886 men applying for enlistment last year 81,876 had to be rejected, and this shows the class of men applying for enlistment in the regular army."

Speaking of ship subsidy, he said that about a year before E. H. Harriman died, a prominent Japanese called upon him and offered him $500,000 a year and part of the profits if he would fly the Japanese flag on the Pacific Mail steamers, but Harriman refused, saying he was too good an American.

"The United States today," he said, "is like a great, big, beautifully plumbed ostrich that raises its head high in the air, surveys wonderfully its plumage, and then with a gratified grunt sticks its head deep in the sands of self satisfaction, while a band of dancing politicians from the Middle West keep plucking plumage with one hand, while with the other they saturate the sand with perfume from a bottle labeled 'sleep on.'"

"The reason the people of the Middle West are so apathetic about ship subsidy is because they say that even if the coast was attacked the cannon balls could not hit them, so why should they vote money for war preparations?"

Examiner: That the United States is inviting disaster and defeat by refusing to prepare for war with Japan, was a warning sounded by Burr McIntosh in his address before the Commonwealth Club at its weekly luncheon in the Palace Hotel yesterday.

McIntosh said he was not voicing his opinions alone, but those of men high in the affairs of the nation, who were in a position to know what they were talking about.

"The politicians and orators of Japan," said McIntosh, "are going about that country telling the people that all the country west of the Rocky Mountains belongs to Japan by divine right, and that the United States is discriminating only against the Japanese in the matter of immigration. This is creating a tremendous feeling of hostility against the United States in that country, and Japan is making active preparations for war in accordance with public clamor.

"At the same time the United States is remaining quiescent, and our politicians and demagogues are preaching the propaganda of peace, and declaring that war with Japan is an absurdity.

"When Japan does strike, it will be at a moment's notice. It is liable to be at any moment now, and when it happens the Philippines, Hawaii and Dutch Harbor will fall.

"There are 60,000 armed Japanese soldiers in California; 2,200 Colt revolvers were sold by one firm in Los Angeles last year to Japanese; the mountain passes would be blown up the first thing; only 8,000 troops could be mobilized at San Antonio a few weeks ago, whereas, it takes 13,000 to make a full division, only thirty per cent of the militia can be relied upon for actual war service; soldiers cannot be made in a week, any more than mechanics can; of the 100,886 men applying for enlistment last year 81,876 had to be rejected, and this shows the class of men applying for enlistment in the regular army."

Speaking of ship subsidy, he said that about a year before E. H. Harriman died, a prominent Japanese called upon him and offered him $500,000 a year and part of the profits if he would fly the Japanese flag on the Pacific Mail steamers, but Harriman refused, saying he was too good an American.

"The United States today," he said, "is like a great, big, beautifully plumbed ostrich that raises its head high in the air, surveys wonderfully its plumage, and then with a gratified grunt sticks its head deep in the sands of self satisfaction, while a band of dancing politicians from the Middle West keep plucking plumage with one hand, while with the other they saturate the sand with perfume from a bottle labeled 'sleep on.'"

"The reason the people of the Middle West are so apathetic about ship subsidy is because they say that even if the coast was attacked the cannon balls could not hit them, so why should they vote money for war preparations?"

Examiner: That the United States is inviting disaster and defeat by refusing to prepare for war with Japan, was a warning sounded by Burr McIntosh in his address before the Commonwealth Club at its weekly luncheon in the Palace Hotel yesterday.

McIntosh said he was not voicing his opinions alone, but those of men high in the affairs of the nation, who were in a position to know what they were talking about.

"The politicians and orators of Japan," said McIntosh, "are going about that country telling the people that all the country west of the Rocky Mountains belongs to Japan by divine right, and that the United States is discriminating only against the Japanese in the matter of immigration. This is creating a tremendous feeling of hostility against the United States in that country, and Japan is making active preparations for war in accordance with public clamor.

"At the same time the United States is remaining quiescent, and our politicians and demagogues are preaching the propaganda of peace, and declaring that war with Japan is an absurdity.

"When Japan does strike, it will be at a moment's notice. It is liable to be at any moment now, and when it happens the Philippines, Hawaii and Dutch Harbor will fall.

"There are 60,000 armed Japanese soldiers in California; 2,200 Colt revolvers were sold by one firm in Los Angeles last year to Japanese; the mountain passes would be blown up the first thing; only 8,000 troops could be mobilized at San Antonio a few weeks ago, whereas, it takes 13,000 to make a full division, only thirty per cent of the militia can be relied upon for actual war service; soldiers cannot be made in a week, any more than mechanics can; of the 100,886 men applying for enlistment last year 81,876 had to be rejected, and this shows the class of men applying for enlistment in the regular army."

Speaking of ship subsidy, he said that about a year before E. H. Harriman died, a prominent Japanese called upon him and offered him $500,000 a year and part of the profits if he would fly the Japanese flag on the Pacific Mail steamers, but Harriman refused, saying he was too good an American.

"The United States today," he said, "is like a great, big, beautifully plumbed ostrich that raises its head high in the air, surveys wonderfully its plumage, and then with a gratified grunt sticks its head deep in the sands of self satisfaction, while a band of dancing politicians from the Middle West keep plucking plumage with one hand, while with the other they saturate the sand with perfume from a bottle labeled 'sleep on.'"

"The reason the people of the Middle West are so apathetic about ship subsidy is because they say that even if the coast was attacked the cannon balls could not hit them, so why should they vote money for war preparations?"

Examiner: That the United States is inviting disaster and defeat by refusing to prepare for war with Japan, was a warning sounded by Burr McIntosh in his address before the Commonwealth Club at its weekly luncheon in the Palace Hotel yesterday.

McIntosh said he was not voicing his opinions alone, but those of men high in the affairs of the nation, who were in a position to know what they were talking about.

"The politicians and orators of Japan," said McIntosh, "are going about that country telling the people that all the country west of the Rocky Mountains belongs to Japan by divine right, and that the United States is discriminating only against the Japanese in the matter of immigration. This is creating a tremendous feeling of hostility against the United States in that country, and Japan is making active preparations for war in accordance with public clamor.

"At the same time the United States is remaining quiescent, and our politicians and demagogues are preaching the propaganda of peace, and declaring that war with Japan is an absurdity.

"When Japan does strike, it will be at a moment's notice. It is liable to be at any moment now, and when it happens the Philippines, Hawaii and Dutch Harbor will fall.

"There are 60,000 armed Japanese soldiers in California; 2,200 Colt revolvers were sold by one firm in Los Angeles last year to Japanese; the mountain passes would be blown up the first thing; only 8,000 troops could be mobilized at San Antonio a few weeks ago, whereas, it takes 13,000 to make a full division, only thirty per cent of the militia can be relied upon for actual war service; soldiers cannot be made in a week, any more than mechanics can; of the 100,886 men applying for enlistment last year 81,876 had to be rejected, and this shows the class of men applying for enlistment in the regular army."

Speaking of ship subsidy, he said that about a year before E. H. Harriman died, a prominent Japanese called upon him and offered him $500,000 a year and part of the profits if he would fly the Japanese flag on the Pacific Mail steamers, but Harriman refused, saying he was too good an American.

"The United States today," he said, "is like a great, big, beautifully plumbed ostrich that raises its head high in the air, surveys wonderfully its plumage, and then with a gratified grunt sticks its head deep in the sands of self satisfaction, while a band of dancing politicians from the Middle West keep plucking plumage with one hand, while with the other they saturate the sand with perfume from a bottle labeled 'sleep on.'"

"The reason the people of the Middle West are so apathetic about ship subsidy is because they say that even if the coast was attacked the cannon balls could not hit them, so why should they vote money for war preparations?"

Examiner: That the United States is inviting disaster and defeat by refusing to prepare for war with Japan, was a warning sounded by Burr McIntosh in his address before the Commonwealth Club at its weekly luncheon in the Palace Hotel yesterday.

McIntosh said he was not voicing his opinions alone, but those of men high in the affairs of the nation, who were in a position to know what they were talking about.

"The politicians and orators of Japan," said McIntosh, "are going about that country telling the people that all the country west of the Rocky Mountains belongs to Japan by divine right, and that the United States is discriminating only against the Japanese in the matter of immigration. This is creating a tremendous feeling of hostility against the United States in that country, and Japan is making active preparations for war in accordance with public clamor.

"At the same time the United States is remaining quiescent, and our politicians and demagogues are preaching the propaganda of peace, and declaring that war with Japan is an absurdity.

"When Japan does strike, it will be at a moment's notice. It is liable to be at any moment now, and when it happens the Philippines, Hawaii and Dutch Harbor will fall.

"There are 60,000 armed Japanese soldiers in California; 2,200 Colt revolvers were sold by one firm in Los Angeles last year to Japanese; the mountain passes would be blown up the first thing; only 8,000 troops could be mobilized at San Antonio a few weeks ago, whereas, it takes 13,000 to make a full division, only thirty per cent of the militia can be relied upon for actual war service; soldiers cannot be made in a week, any more than mechanics can; of the 100,886 men applying for enlistment last year 81,876 had to be rejected, and this shows the class of men applying for enlistment in the regular army."

Speaking of ship subsidy, he said that about a year before E. H. Harriman died, a prominent Japanese called upon him and offered him $500,000 a year and part of the profits if he would fly the Japanese flag on the Pacific Mail steamers, but Harriman refused, saying he was too good an American.

"The United States today," he said, "is like a great, big, beautifully plumbed ostrich that raises its head high in the air, surveys wonderfully its plumage, and then with a gratified grunt sticks its head deep in the sands of self satisfaction, while a band of dancing politicians from the Middle West keep plucking plumage with one hand, while with the other they saturate the sand with perfume from a bottle labeled 'sleep on.'"

"The reason the people of the Middle West are so apathetic about ship subsidy is because they say that even if the coast was attacked the cannon balls could not hit them, so why should they vote money for war preparations?"

Examiner: That the United States is inviting disaster and defeat by refusing to prepare for war with Japan, was a warning sounded by Burr McIntosh in his address before the Commonwealth Club at its weekly luncheon in the Palace Hotel yesterday.

McIntosh said he was not voicing his opinions alone, but those of men high in the affairs of the nation, who were in a position to know what they were talking about.

"The politicians and orators of Japan," said McIntosh, "are going about that country telling the people that all the country west of the Rocky Mountains belongs to Japan by divine right, and that the United States is discriminating only against the Japanese in the matter of immigration. This is creating a tremendous feeling of hostility against the United States in that country, and Japan is making active preparations for war in accordance with public clamor.

"At the same time the United States is remaining quiescent, and our politicians and demagogues are preaching the propaganda of peace, and declaring that war with Japan is an absurdity.

"When Japan does strike, it will be at a moment's notice. It is liable to be at any moment now, and when it happens the Philippines, Hawaii and Dutch Harbor will fall.

"There are 60,000 armed Japanese soldiers in California; 2,200 Colt revolvers were sold by one firm in Los Angeles last year to Japanese; the mountain passes would be blown up the first thing; only 8,000 troops could be mobilized at San Antonio a few weeks ago, whereas, it takes 13,000 to make a full division, only thirty per cent of the militia can be relied upon for actual war service; soldiers cannot be made in a week, any more than mechanics can; of the 100,886 men applying for enlistment last year 81,876 had to be rejected, and this shows the class of men applying for enlistment in the regular army."

Speaking of ship subsidy, he said that about a year before E. H. Harriman died, a prominent Japanese called upon him and offered him $500,000 a year and part of the profits if he would fly the Japanese flag on the Pacific Mail steamers, but Harriman refused, saying he was too good an American.

"The United States today," he said, "is like a great, big, beautifully plumbed ostrich that raises its head high in the air, surveys wonderfully its plumage, and then with a gratified grunt sticks its head deep in the sands of self satisfaction, while a band of dancing politicians from the Middle West keep plucking plumage with one hand, while with the other they saturate the sand with perfume from a bottle labeled 'sleep on.'"

"The reason the people of the Middle West are so apathetic about ship subsidy is because they say that even if the coast was attacked the cannon balls could not hit them, so why should they vote money for war preparations?"

Examiner: That the United States is inviting disaster and defeat by refusing to prepare for war with Japan, was a warning sounded by Burr McIntosh in his address before the Commonwealth Club at its weekly luncheon in the Palace Hotel yesterday.

McIntosh said he was not voicing his opinions alone, but those of men high in the affairs of the nation, who were in a position to know what they were talking about.

"The politicians and orators of Japan," said McIntosh, "are going about that country telling the people that all the country west of the Rocky Mountains belongs to Japan by divine right, and that the United States is discriminating only against the Japanese in the matter of immigration. This is creating a tremendous feeling of hostility against the United States in that country, and Japan is making active preparations for war in accordance with public clamor.

"At the same time the United States is remaining quiescent, and our politicians and demagogues are preaching the propaganda of peace, and declaring that war with Japan is an absurdity.

"When Japan does strike, it will be at a moment's notice. It is liable to be at any moment now, and when it happens the Philippines, Hawaii and Dutch Harbor will fall.

"There are 60,000 armed Japanese soldiers in California; 2,200 Colt revolvers were sold by one firm in Los Angeles last year to Japanese; the mountain passes would be blown up the first thing; only 8,000 troops could be mobilized at San Antonio a few weeks ago, whereas, it takes 13,000 to make a full division, only thirty per cent of the militia can be relied upon for actual war service; soldiers cannot be made in a week, any more than mechanics can; of the 100,886 men applying for enlistment last year 81,876 had to be rejected, and this shows the class of men applying for enlistment in the regular army."

Speaking of ship subsidy, he said that about a year before E. H. Harriman died, a prominent Japanese called upon him and offered him $500,000 a year and part of the profits if he would fly the Japanese flag on the Pacific Mail steamers, but Harriman refused, saying he was too good an American.

"The United States today," he said, "is like a great, big, beautifully plumbed ostrich that raises its head high in the air, surveys wonderfully its plumage, and then with a gratified grunt sticks its head deep in the sands of self satisfaction, while a band of dancing politicians from the Middle West keep plucking plumage with one hand, while with the other they saturate the sand with perfume from a bottle labeled 'sleep on.'"

"The reason the people of the Middle West are so apathetic about ship subsidy is because they say that even if the coast was attacked the cannon balls could not hit them, so why should they vote money for war preparations?"

Fine Job Printing at Star Office.

ELKS SUCCEED AS ENTERTAINERS

The Elks' Lodge, No. 616, last night entertained at a vaudeville performance at the Empire Theater those ladies who assisted them at the recent successful carnival. The theater was almost filled by a very fashionable crowd, and the performance was enjoyed in every way. Of course, the prevailing colors were white and purple. The interior of the house was decorated with Elks' flags, the Stars and Stripes and other emblems, while nearly all the performers wore costumes that were conspicuous for the purple that predominated.

The entertainment began with a motion picture of the great assemblage of Elks from all over the mainland. This showed some excellent evolutions on the part of the participants as well as a variety of original costumes. The crowds that lined the streets were also shown, and it was indeed an interesting picture of a great event.

The vaudeville section was undoubtedly led by Foley and Earl. These two sing a song and dance throughout, but the piece de resistance is the dope fiend dance by Foley, the male member of the duo. This is a masterly execution. He is undoubtedly the finest dancer that has ever been seen in Honolulu, and he derives much assistance from Miss Earl. The double dancing also deserves mention, for it was undoubtedly good, and they thoroughly merited the loud applause that was extended to them. The Youngren Brothers also established themselves as firm favorites, for they are a pair of clever hand balancers and strong men. The ease with which the bigger man handles his smaller partner is remarkable. Their work is along the same lines as Willis and Hassan, who were brought here by Congdon some time ago. The Youngrens should have a successful season here. Among the others who materially assisted in the carrying out of the excellent program were the Hidaigos, real Spanish dancers; Miss Hilda Carl, Henry Vierra, Ted Vaughn, Jordan and Gervaise and the Anker Sisters.

At the conclusion of the performance an adjournment was made to the Elks' club rooms on King street, where supper was served.

Examiner: That the United States is inviting disaster and defeat by refusing to prepare for war with Japan, was a warning sounded by Burr McIntosh in his address before the Commonwealth Club at its weekly luncheon in the Palace Hotel yesterday.

McIntosh said he was not voicing his opinions alone, but those of men high in the affairs of the nation, who were in a position to know what they were talking about.

"The politicians and orators of Japan," said McIntosh, "are going about that country telling the people that all the country west of the Rocky Mountains belongs to Japan by divine right, and that the United States is discriminating only against the Japanese in the matter of immigration. This is creating a tremendous feeling of hostility against the United States in that country, and Japan is making active preparations for war in accordance with public clamor.

"At the same time the United States is remaining quiescent, and our politicians and demagogues are preaching the propaganda of peace, and declaring that war with Japan is an absurdity.

"When Japan does strike, it will be at a moment's notice. It is liable to be at any moment now, and when it happens the Philippines, Hawaii and Dutch Harbor will fall.

"There are 60,000 armed Japanese soldiers in California; 2,200 Colt revolvers were sold by one firm in Los Angeles last year to Japanese; the mountain passes would be blown up the first thing; only 8,000 troops could be mobilized at San Antonio a few weeks ago, whereas, it takes 13,000 to make a full division, only thirty per cent of the militia can be relied upon for actual war service; soldiers cannot be made in a week, any more than mechanics can; of the 100,886 men applying for enlistment last year 81,876 had to be rejected, and this shows the class of men applying for enlistment in the regular army."

Speaking of ship subsidy, he said that about a year before E. H. Harriman died, a prominent Japanese called upon him and offered him $500,000 a year and part of the profits if he would fly the Japanese flag on the Pacific Mail steamers, but Harriman refused, saying he was too good an American.

"The United States today," he said, "is like a great, big, beautifully plumbed ostrich that raises its head high in the air, surveys wonderfully its plumage, and then with a gratified grunt sticks its head deep in the sands of self satisfaction, while a band of dancing politicians from the Middle West keep plucking plumage with one hand, while with the other they saturate the sand with perfume from a bottle labeled 'sleep on.'"

"The reason the people of the Middle West are so apathetic about ship subsidy is because they say that even if the coast was attacked the cannon balls could not hit them, so why should they vote money for war preparations?"

Examiner: That the United States is inviting disaster and defeat by refusing to prepare for war with Japan, was a warning sounded by Burr McIntosh in his address before the Commonwealth Club at its weekly luncheon in the Palace Hotel yesterday.

McIntosh said he was not voicing his opinions alone, but those of men high in the affairs of the nation, who were in a position to know what they were talking about.

"The politicians and orators of Japan," said McIntosh, "are going about that country telling the people that all the country west of the Rocky Mountains belongs to Japan by divine right, and that the United States is discriminating only against the Japanese in the matter of immigration. This is creating a tremendous feeling of hostility against the United States in that country, and Japan is making active preparations for war in accordance with public clamor.

"At the same time the United States is remaining quiescent, and our politicians and demagogues are preaching the propaganda of peace, and declaring that war with Japan is an absurdity.

"When Japan does strike, it will be at a moment's notice. It is liable to be at any moment now, and when it happens the Philippines, Hawaii and Dutch Harbor will fall.

"There are 60,000 armed Japanese soldiers in California; 2,200 Colt revolvers were sold by one firm in Los Angeles last year to Japanese; the mountain passes would be blown up the first thing; only 8,000 troops could be mobilized at San Antonio a few weeks ago, whereas, it takes 13,000 to make a full division, only thirty per cent of the militia can be relied upon for actual war service; soldiers cannot be made in a week, any more than mechanics can; of the 100,886 men applying for enlistment last year 81,876 had to be rejected, and this shows the class of men applying for enlistment in the regular army."

Speaking of ship subsidy, he said that about a year before E. H. Harriman died, a prominent Japanese called upon him and offered him $500,000 a year and part of the profits if he would fly the Japanese flag on the Pacific Mail steamers, but Harriman refused, saying he was too good an American.

"The United States today," he said, "is like a great, big, beautifully plumbed ostrich that raises its head high in the air, surveys wonderfully its plumage, and then with a gratified grunt sticks its head deep in the sands of self satisfaction, while a band of dancing politicians from the Middle West keep plucking plumage with one hand, while with the other they saturate the sand with perfume from a bottle labeled 'sleep on.'"

"The reason the people of the Middle West are so apathetic about ship subsidy is because they say that even if the coast was attacked the cannon balls could not hit them, so why should they vote money for war preparations?"

Examiner: That the United States is inviting disaster and defeat by refusing to prepare for war with Japan, was a warning sounded by Burr McIntosh in his address before the Commonwealth Club at its weekly luncheon in the Palace Hotel yesterday.

McIntosh said he was not voicing his opinions alone, but those of men high in the affairs of the nation, who were in a position to know what they were talking about.

"The politicians and orators of Japan," said McIntosh, "are going about that country telling the people that all the country west of the Rocky Mountains belongs to Japan by divine right, and that the United States is discriminating only against the Japanese in the matter of immigration. This is creating a tremendous feeling of hostility against the United States in that country, and Japan is making active preparations for war in accordance with public clamor.

"At the same time the United States is remaining quiescent, and our politicians and demagogues are preaching the propaganda of peace, and declaring that war with Japan is an absurdity.

"When Japan does strike, it will be at a moment's notice. It is liable to be at any moment now, and when it happens the Philippines, Hawaii and Dutch Harbor will fall.

"There are 60,000 armed Japanese soldiers in California; 2,200 Colt revolvers were sold by one firm in Los Angeles last year to Japanese; the mountain passes would be blown up the first thing; only 8,000 troops could be mobilized at San Antonio a few weeks ago, whereas, it takes 13,000 to make a full division, only thirty per cent of the militia can be relied upon for actual war service; soldiers cannot be made in a week, any more than mechanics can; of the 100,886 men applying for enlistment last year 81,876 had to be rejected, and this shows the class of men applying for enlistment in the regular army."

Speaking of ship subsidy, he said that about a year before E. H. Harriman died, a prominent Japanese called upon him and offered him $500,000 a year and part of the profits if he would fly the Japanese flag on the Pacific Mail steamers, but Harriman refused, saying he was too good an American.

"The United States today," he said, "is like a great, big, beautifully plumbed ostrich that raises its head high in the air, surveys wonderfully its plumage, and then with a gratified grunt sticks its head deep in the sands of self satisfaction, while a band of dancing politicians from the Middle West keep plucking plumage with one hand, while with the other they saturate the sand with perfume from a bottle labeled 'sleep on.'"

"The reason the people of the Middle West are so apathetic about ship subsidy is because they say that even if the coast was attacked the cannon balls could not hit them, so why should they vote money for war preparations?"

Examiner: That the United States is inviting disaster and defeat by refusing to prepare for war with Japan, was a warning sounded by Burr McIntosh in his address before the Commonwealth Club at its weekly luncheon in the Palace Hotel yesterday.

McIntosh said he was not voicing his opinions alone, but those of men high in the affairs of the nation, who were in a position to know what they were talking about.

"The politicians and orators of Japan," said McIntosh, "are going about that country telling the people that all the country west of the Rocky Mountains belongs to Japan by divine right, and that the United States is discriminating only against the Japanese in the matter of immigration. This is creating a tremendous feeling of hostility against the United States in that country, and Japan is making active preparations for war in accordance with public clamor.

"At the same time the United States is remaining quiescent, and our politicians and demagogues are preaching the propaganda of peace, and declaring that war with Japan is an absurdity.

"When Japan does strike, it will be at a moment's notice. It is liable to be at any moment now, and when it happens the Philippines, Hawaii and Dutch Harbor will fall.

"There are 60,000 armed Japanese soldiers in California; 2,200 Colt revolvers were sold by one firm in Los Angeles last year to Japanese; the mountain passes would be blown up the first thing; only 8,000 troops could be mobilized at San Antonio a few weeks ago, whereas, it takes 13,000 to make a full division, only thirty per cent of the militia can be relied upon for actual war service; soldiers cannot be made in a week, any more than mechanics can; of the 100,886 men applying for enlistment last year 81,876 had to be rejected, and this shows the class of men applying for enlistment in the regular army."

Speaking of ship subsidy, he said that about a year before E. H. Harriman died, a prominent Japanese called upon him and offered him $500,000 a year and part of the profits if he would fly the Japanese flag on the Pacific Mail steamers, but Harriman refused, saying he was too good an American.

"The United States today," he said, "is like a great, big, beautifully plumbed ostrich that raises its head high in the air, surveys wonderfully its plumage, and then with a gratified grunt sticks its head deep in the sands of self satisfaction, while a band of dancing politicians from the Middle West keep plucking plumage with one hand, while with the other they saturate the sand with perfume from a bottle labeled 'sleep on.'"

"The reason the people of the Middle West are so apathetic about ship subsidy is because they say that even if the coast was attacked the cannon balls could not hit them, so why should they vote money for war preparations?"

Examiner: That the United States is inviting disaster and defeat by refusing to prepare for war with Japan, was a warning sounded by Burr McIntosh in his address before the Commonwealth Club at its weekly luncheon in the Palace Hotel yesterday.

McIntosh said he was not voicing his opinions alone, but those of men high in the affairs of the nation, who were in a position to know what they were talking about.

"The politicians and orators of Japan," said McIntosh, "are going about that country telling the people that all the country west of the Rocky Mountains belongs to Japan by divine right, and that the United States is discriminating only against the Japanese in the matter of immigration. This is creating a tremendous feeling of hostility against the United States in that country, and Japan is making active preparations for war in accordance with public clamor.

"At the same time the United States is remaining quiescent, and our politicians and demagogues are preaching the propaganda of peace, and declaring that war with Japan is an absurdity.

"When Japan does strike, it will be at a moment's notice. It is liable to be at any moment now, and when it happens the Philippines, Hawaii and Dutch Harbor will fall.

"There are 60,000 armed Japanese soldiers in California; 2,200 Colt revolvers were sold by one firm in Los Angeles last year to Japanese; the mountain passes would be blown up the first thing; only 8,000 troops could be mobilized at San Antonio a few weeks ago, whereas, it takes 13,000 to make a full division, only thirty per cent of the militia can be relied upon for actual war service; soldiers cannot be made in a week, any more than mechanics can; of the 100,886 men applying for enlistment last year 81,876 had to be rejected, and this shows the class of men applying for enlistment in the regular army."

Speaking of ship subsidy, he said that about a year before E. H. Harriman died, a prominent Japanese called upon him and offered him $