There is just this much about it: Dandruff is a germ disease, is most untidy, annoying, and leads to baldness.

SPORT NEWS

GILMORE AND HOAO ARE READY FOR THE GONG TO SOUND TONIGHT

Boxing is to have another inning at the Orpheum Theater tonight, and on tonight's exhibition hinges the future of the sport in Honolulu.

If the main event is well and cleanly contested there is no reason why there should not be a revival of the sport which was once so popular here.

If, however, there is any funny business tonight or the least indication that all is not straight and above board, there will follow a storm of criticism which will knock the game higher than Gilderoy's kite.

Dick Sullivan will referee the main event and he may be relied on to see that both men do their best and give the public a run for their money.

There is no reason to believe that the bouts tonight will not be fought out to the bitter end. Both Gilmore and Hoao have all to lose and nothing to gain by flinching fight patrons, and the winner tonight may feel reasonably assured of at least a couple of good matches in the near future.

Hoao the Heavier. Jimmy Hoao is well known here. He defeated Richards, Terrain and McCullough in Honolulu and was regarded as a comer until Joe McGurn flattened him. Joe is a right handy man with his dukes, however, and it was no disgrace, taking everything into consideration, for the native to have lost to him.

The Hawaiian boxer has been getting ready for the fray in Kakaia and has had competent tutelage. He will probably enter the ring tonight weighing in the neighborhood of 165 pounds. Gilmore will tip the beam at close to 160 pounds.

Gilmore's Record. George Gilmore will be making his fourth round game on the Coast.

Woodward hails from Fort Shafter, while Clarke is from the U. S. S. Navajo. Both men are water-worriers.

Prince hails from Fort Shafter and Wright from Camp Very. The former won the gold medal in the lightweight class at the recent amateur tournament and Wright took the silver medal, emblematic of second prize.

All in all the card has an attractive look and Promoter Lemon should be rewarded with a bumper house.

JIM HOAO. Fights 12 rounds with George Gilmore at the Orpheum tonight.

His first appearance in a local ring. He has been in the four-round game in San Francisco, meeting with fair success, but he is a type of boxer who requires a longer route in order to show his quality. The twelve-round bout tonight will afford him ample opportunity of doing this.

He is a bustling aggressive fighter, once he gets started, and has gained his knowledge of ringcraft first hand by knocking around the training camps of champions and near champions in and about San Francisco. He has had contests with George Gruber, Larry Stokes, Joe Elliott, Red Parker, Slick Merrill, Cyclone Wright, Bob Allen, George Enwright, Pat Cornyn, Carl Hansen, George Honnet, Mush Combs, Luple Caranza, Kid Vance, Harry Andrews and Kid Martinez.

The Probable Winner. Gilmore, out of the ring, is a straightforward, decent sort of a chap, but once inside the ropes he is on business strictly bent.

Tonight's contest should be a good one. Hoao says that he is in better shape than ever before, and Gilmore expects to win in about seven rounds. Taking everything into consideration, the mainlander looks to be a good bet.

The Preliminaries. The preliminaries tonight will be four rounds between Mussy Blanch and Harry School, six rounds between Woodward and Sailor Clarke, and four rounds between Prince and Wright. School has been looking for a fight at the featherweight limit for some time. He is reputed to be a shifty boxer. Blanch arrived by the last

SOLDIER KING WILL RUN FORWARD IN TOMORROW'S GREAT MARATHON

The greatest marathon that has ever been run in Hawaii will take place tomorrow afternoon at the Athletic Park, starting at 1:30 o'clock.

The probable starters are Anton Kao, Jimmy Fitzgerald, Soldier King, Frank Scharach, C. K. Charley, Frank Barabozza, Sailor Woodward, Nigel Jackson, and possibly Tsukamoto.

The track at the Athletic Park has been put in very good shape indeed, and the race should be run in very fair time, say round about 3:12.

Great interest is being taken in the event and the attendance promises to be large.

The Contestants.

Anton Kao is so well known that, as far as residents of Honolulu are concerned, he needs little mention. Suffice it then to say that he is one of the most wonderful athletes alive today, considering his age, which is near 50 than 40. He has been a runner all his life and had received the benefit of proper training when a young man he would undoubtedly have developed into a champion among champions. During the last three years Kao has met and defeated all comers at distances from ten miles to the full marathon distance, and is today the undisputed long-distance champion of the Territory.

Jimmy Fitzgerald has a world-wide reputation as a long-distance runner. Fifteen miles is perhaps his best distance though he is confident that he can cover the full marathon distance at a rate of speed that will win the big end of the purse for him. In the last Olympiad, Fitzgerald represented the United States in the five miles run. Since coming to Honolulu, although not well suited by the climate, he has several times shown his quality on the track.

King's Record.

Soldier King is another athlete of almost international repute. After making a great name for himself on the Coast in amateur and professional circles, he came to Hawaii, and on October 30 of last year beat Kao by a mile in a fifteen-mile race. On February 2 of this year Kao easily beat him over the marathon distance, King stopping when he had covered twenty-five miles. The ex-soldier claims that if he had used his head he could have beaten the native on that occasion.

His next race was a twenty-mile affair with Tsukamoto, the Japanese runner, whom he beat by four laps. This race was run on March 26 of this year.

He next ran a relay race against Kid George, Patsy McKenna and Nigel Jackson. He was to run ten miles against three miles each run by the relay team. The best he could do under the handicap was to gain half a mile on the trio.

On July 2 Fitzgerald beat King at fifteen miles by five laps.

This race was followed by another relay in which Fitzgerald ran ten miles against Scharach and Jackson running two and a half miles each, and King doing five miles. The relay team won.

King's last appearance on the track in Honolulu was on Regatta Day, when he defeated Fitzgerald in a five-mile race. He claims to be better today than ever before.

The Field.

Frank Scharach was at one time mile champion of the Hawaiian Islands. He has not shown any liking for a distance over ten miles, and if he stays the Marathon route it will be a surprise to everybody. He is running in good form, however, and the leg which bothered him in the past is said to be right again.

C. K. Charley is a plodding Chinaman who can go the distance, but not fast enough to finish in the money.

Frank Barabozza is a Filipino whose running ability is unknown.

Sailor Woodward hails from the U. S. S. Colorado, and is a runner of great endurance. He can run the distance within three hours and a half.

Nigel Jackson, winner of three Marathons, will make another attempt to "come back." He doesn't expect to win, but thinks that he can finish in the first four.

Tsukamoto is a speedy Japanese sprinter, whose chief fault is a dislike for the rigors of training. If he runs tomorrow he will hardly be a factor.

Probable Outcome.

The contest appears to narrow down to Kao, King, Fitzgerald and Woodward.

On his present form, and provided he does not lose his head, Soldier King appears to have an excellent chance to win, with Kao furnishing the runner up. Fitzgerald will hardly get the distance. Woodward is the dark horse of the race and should be well up at the finish.

HISTORY OF HEALANI ROWING CLUB

The Healanis Boat Club was organized in November, 1889, by about ten oarsmen, and King Kalakaua gave the club permission to use part of his boathouse, that stood where the naval wharves now stand. The club purchased three of the race boats belonging to the old Honolulu Yacht and Boat Club, and made a good showing in the early races. In 1894 the club was reorganized and incorporated under the name of Healanis Yacht and Boat Club, Ltd., and the present clubhouse was built the following year. From its organization the club has been an important factor in the water sports. The fact that two records were broken by the Healanis crews last Regatta Day is sufficient proof that it has regained its old-time form.

During the past two years the membership has increased from about fifty to two hundred and twenty-five, all of whom are in good standing. A great many improvements have been made around the club recently, and altogether it is the best equipped athletic club in Honolulu. A few racing barges were purchased last year, the first since 1898, and it is proposed to get another next year, as well as a new pair-oared skiff. In addition to rowing and swimming, the club has entered a team in the soccer league, and expects to go in for water polo, boxing, wrestling and track athletics.

Regatta Day has always been a big sporting day for the people of Honolulu, and this year it was exceptionally interesting on account of the entry of the Punene Athletic Club, making three clubs. Next year there should be four crews in the race for the championship of the Pacific Coast. Bringing a championship crew from the Pacific Coast to compete in annual regatta in Honolulu is the biggest promotion work ever undertaken by the local oarsmen, and if successful will make next Regatta Day one to be remembered for many years to come.

The Alameda Boat Club of Alameda Point, California, whose senior crew have been champions of the Pacific Coast since 1905, will send their championship crew down next year in response to the Healanis' invitation. Tonight's minstrel show is given to start the fund necessary for bringing the Alameda crew to Honolulu. Although the Healanis Yacht and Boat Club is taking a leading part in promoting this project, all the rowing clubs belonging to the Hawaii Rowing Association will, of course, meet the Pacific coast champions and are invited to help make this undertaking a success.

The Alameda boys expect to enter in the pair-oared events, as well as the six-oared barge race, and as all the clubs here will probably have new pair-oared boats, this race should be the best of its kind ever rowed in Honolulu.

Besides being the largest promotion project ever undertaken by any amateur athletic organization for the free entertainment of the public, a race with the Alameda championship crew would give Hawaii a prominent place among the rowing clubs of the mainland, particularly the Pacific Coast. The rowing clubs of the Pacific Coast are going to have a big regatta in connection with the Panama-Pacific Exposition in 1915, and it is hoped that Hawaii will be represented.
