FIENDISH ATTACK ON BLIND GIRL AT KEALIA, KAUAI

A blind Japanese girl named Omachi Suehiro, daughter of a mill hand at Kealia plantation, Kauai, was attacked by a Korean last Monday afternoon and battled successfully for her honor. She was seventeen years old and had been blind from birth. The Korean seized her from behind and finally forced her into a room but she fought her way out into the presence of her dog that was tied in the yard. A Portuguese boy, who was up a tree near by, came down to help the blind girl, whose strength was about gone, and the Korean ran away. He was later caught and bound over to await the action of the grand jury.

SPANIARDS

(Continued from Page One.) der territorial quarantine, the colony of thirty-six Russians is camped some distance from them and communication is forbidden. The members of the latter camp, however, would not fraternize with the new arrivals if they could say, holding themselves to be a better race. Also the language differences would forbid any attempts at making acquaintances, but the way the Spaniards eyed enviously at the guitars in possession of several of the Russian women it is probable that they could unite on the common ground of music and musical instruments.

The immigration officials expect to distribute the 162 young men to the plantations before the women and the families are brought over from quarantine. It is probable that no more will be landed for several days.

COURT ITEMS

Helalia Nawahie has filed suit for divorce from K. Nawahie, whom she charges with gambling, cruelty and desertion.

Bruno Ayres has brought suit for divorce from his wife Francisca, charging her with having left his bed and board and taken up with another man.

In the matter of Maurice R. Carey versus the Hawaiian Lumber Mills Co., Ltd., Judge Cooper this morning overruled defendant's demurrer pro forma and allowed ten days in which to file an answer to the complaint.

The argument in the case of the Kapiolani Estate versus Mrs. Mary Atcherley was set by Judge Whitney this morning for May 8.

THREE CASES IN BANKRUPTCY

Judge Clemons this morning adjudged John D. Holt, Jr., a bankrupt. Tokuzo Shibayama was given his discharge in bankruptcy this morning in the United States district court.

Lun Kan also petitioned for his discharge in bankruptcy, but on motion of one of his creditors the petition was dismissed on the ground that it was filed several years ago, but that Lun Kan did not prosecute it until a few days ago, when judgment was given against him in the district court on a suit brought against him.

ORIENTALS UNFIT TO KEEP SALOONS

At the meeting of the liquor commissioners that was held yesterday afternoon, it was the sense of the members that, after June 1, no licenses should be allowed to people who cannot speak, and thoroughly understand, the English language.

The commissioners found out yesterday that a number of license holders could not understand English properly, and that their knowledge of the liquor law was almost nil. If the board thinks as it does now, when the time comes for renewing licenses, there will be a lot of Oriental saloons cut out.

At the meeting yesterday there was a discussion on the question of whether or not the Young and Moana hotels should be allowed some extra privileges. The hotel managers wanted permission to serve liquor in the rooms of the hotels. It was decided to postpone action regarding this matter till the end of the fiscal year, when the renewing of licenses will come up before the board.

When a man's wife is away on a vacation he may enjoy his. The average woman couldn't keep a secret by putting it on ice.

The Whites spent several months with the Castles a few years ago. Mr. Castle received a cablegram this morning saying that Mr. White and son were not on the Carpathia. A published statement that it was Percy White, who attended school at Punahou here, that was with his father is erroneous.

TWO NOTABLE WOMEN DEAD

Mrs. Elizabeth Hart, a well-known part-Hawaiian woman of Waimea, Kauai, died Saturday morning of pneumonia. She was a very kindly member of society and was respected by everyone. She left five married children, including Miss Lena Vida of Honolulu. The funeral was held in the Catholic church at Lihue.

Mrs. Mahoe, aged seventy-two years, a Hawaiian woman, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Pimoku, in Koloa, Tuesday. Her death was due to heart failure. She was the widow of a former pastor of Koloa. Mrs. Mahoe was a woman of missionary service and spirit, her husband having spent twelve years in the Gilbert Island Mission. She leaves two children. Funeral services were held Wednesday.

And if some girls never married they would never get over being romantic. When the average man's ship finally comes in the silent boatman is in charge.

SUGAR ADVANCES IN NEW YORK

Alexander & Baldwin received a cable this morning to the effect that refiners are bidding 4.11 cents for raws, while another private cable reports a sale at 4.17.

The general tendency seems to be toward better prices. The quotation of the Planters' Association of 4.08 cents, of yesterday, still stands, but European beet has declined an equivalent of about $1 per ton, being 13 shillings 6 1/2 pence, or a parity of 4.88.

GOOD TONE BUT DEMAND LIGHT

There was practically no change in prices on the local stock exchange today, and no sales of especial importance were recorded. Hawaiian Commercial at close dropped to 45 cent from 45 1/2, but only for 5 shares. McDryde is off 1/4. Demand was rather light, though there is a good tone to the market generally, helped probably by general belief that sugar prices are to rule higher in the near future.
